RE: Application for Job Number 1501043 – Civilian Police Oversight Agency Director

To Whom It May Concern,

I am a licensed New Mexico attorney currently employed by Disability Rights New Mexico (DRNM) as a Staff Attorney. I graduated from the American University Washington College of Law (WCL) in Washington, D.C. in May of 2013. I wish to be considered for the position of Civilian Police Oversight Agency Director and believe that my professional experiences coupled with my academic preparation and extracurricular volunteer experiences make me a qualified candidate for this position.

While a student at WCL, my academic studies focused on criminal law and procedure, disability and the law, and human rights. I completed several extensive research projects addressing human rights issues and the intersection of disability and the criminal justice system, including initial psychological evaluations upon an inmate's entering jail, forcible administration of medication, and conditions of jails and prisons. During law school and after graduation, I continued to volunteer for various organizations including the California Reentry Program, the California Coalition for Women Prisoners, and the Prisoners Literature Project. As a Staff Attorney at DRNM, I have had extensive experience attending Individualized Education Program and Behavior Intervention Plan meetings for students with behavioral problems who face long-term suspensions or expulsion from school. I have attended expulsion hearings and appeal hearings and have advocated for students' rights while working with school districts to provide appropriate services and comply with federal and state laws. I represent clients challenging guardianships and in Medicaid and Medicare Administrative Fair Hearings. My work at DRNM involves extensive interpersonal communication, cultural sensitivity, investigation, research and writing, legal analysis, systemic advocacy, trainings, and conflict resolution and I believe my skills have continued to be sharpened and improved.

Although my current employment is in the area of disability advocacy and focuses on special education, challenges to guardianship, and Medicaid and Medicare appeals, I have a strong desire to engage in systemic work involving governmental policies and procedures and I am dedicated to improving police accountability and oversight. In light of the Justice Department and the City of Albuquerque reaching an agreement bringing about wide-ranging reforms to the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) and its use of force against civilians, I have a strong desire to overhaul the way in which APD handles use of force by monitoring and reviewing citizen police complaints, serious use of force, and claims directed against officers and employees of the APD. I believe that my dedication to ensuring that APD works with integrity while respecting and protecting the rights of citizens makes me a strong candidate for this position. I believe that what I may lack in experience, I make up for in dedication and drive for excellence. I am a fast learner and am highly motivated to excel in this position.

In my online application, I have included my resume, references, and my law school transcript. If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at (760) 473-5504. Thank you for your consideration and I hope to speak with you soon regarding my interest in this position.

Sincerely,
Julia M. Petrucelli, Esq.

City of Albuquerque Police Oversight Board
Answers to Questionnaire for Director of Civilian Police Oversight Agency Applicants Extension Granted Due: July 2, 2015

Niva J Lind
Self-Employed

[REDACTED] Albuquerque NM 87111

1. The Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree clearly sets out the purpose of the Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) "...[t]he City shall implement a civilian police oversight agency ("the agency") that provides meaningful, independent review of all citizen complaints, serious uses of force, and officer-involved shootings by APD. The agency shall also review and recommend changes to APD policy and monitor long-term trends in APD's use of force. " United States v City of Albuquerque, No. 1:14-cv-01025-RB-SMV, 2014 U.S. Dist. http://www.justice.gov/crt/about/spl/documents/apd\_settlement\_11-14-14.pdf at *83 (D.NM. November 14, 2014).

Based on this primary objective set out by the Department of Justice (DOJ), the most important goals for the CPOA and POB to achieve is transparency in its fulfillment of the objectives that the DOJ have set out for the CPOA. The other important goal set out by the DOJ is to put into place non-biased reviews of APD's actions and citizen complaints. Transparency will achieve more than just the objectives I quoted above. It will also help to begin the process of gaining the trust of Albuquerque's many communities. This settlement/decre through its many directives continually stresses the importance of maintaining meaningful conversations with the citizens of Albuquerque. If the citizens can see that there have been investigations in use of force and officer-involved shootings, this will show them that the APD takes these situations seriously and investigates their own conduct fairly and enforces the applicable regulations, standard operating procedures (SOPs), and laws that apply to each situation. Additionally citizens will see the results of the CPOA's review of these police actions. Also by "...tracking long-term trends and assessing APD's policies and training [,]" id. the CPOA can fulfill the objective set out by the DOJ, to let the public know the terms of the settlement and APD's compliance with the Settlement Agreement/Decree. Long-term trends are helpful in showing improvement in APD's compliance with the provisions of the Settlement Agreement/Decree and transparency in this will also help foster community based discussions with APD. By assessing APD's policies and training, the CPOA can ensure that APD is complying with the provisions of the settlement agreement. In order for the community to feel that compliance is being attained, it is vital to share the new polices and training practices that come into place at APD.

2. While I was working for the 11th Judicial District, Div. II in Gallup, I had an ethical conflict with my boss on a case that we were working on together. The standard practice is to have an "open file policy" so that defense counsel can come into our offices to copy material from our files. Our office had received new information on the case we were prosecuting together and I wanted to email defense counsel with the new information. My boss wanted to let them (defense counsel) find it out themselves when they eventually came to copy the file. I felt that it was my ethical obligation to inform defense counsel immediately of the new information we had received. This ethical conflict was solved when I successfully argued to my boss that we had to email defense counsel immediately with the new information we had received in order to fulfill our ethical obligation as prosecutors and attorneys. There is a higher ethical standard for prosecutors set out by the Model Rules of Ethics. He agreed to let me email defense counsel with the new information immediately.

3. While I was working as an Assistant District Attorney in Gallup, I had the opportunity to be the Chair of the McKinley County Task Force on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault. It became apparent that not all the stakeholders in the meetings were on the same page when it came to investigating, documenting and reporting domestic violence cases. The DA's office and the Battered Woman's Shelter wanted more documentation and investigation of the cases law enforcement. We had to come up with a way that officers could quickly and effectively investigate these calls and document them appropriately for later prosecution. We came up with creating a Domestic Violence warrant that would help remind the officers of what to do on site and ensure documentation and investigation. After hours of negotiation, we agreed that the Gallup Police Department (GPD) and the McKinley County Sheriff's Office (MCSO) would implement a new domestic violence warrant that we had created. I was able to ease some of the tension by working closely with a Detective from GPD to create the new warrant and then having MCSO review it. In having members of the task force create a document that could be and would be used by both GPD and MCSO, the conflict disappeared. The warrant was used for the first time by a GPD officer the day after it was finalized and released to all MCSO and GPD officers. It was also accepted by the court and filed.

4. The case I am most proud of is State v. Redd, 308 P.3d 1000 (N.M. App., 2013). The underlying charges in the case were three counts of criminal sexual penetration of a minor (CSPM), one count of criminal sexual contact of a minor (CSCM), one count of false imprisonment, and two counts of intentional child abuse. Id. The District Court had dismissed all the charges because the defendant had successfully argued that because the Sheriff's Office had lost a digitally recorded interview of the minor, his case would be irrevocably prejudiced and dismissal was the only remedy. The Court of Appeals unanimously decided to reverse the dismissal and reinstate all the charges. I am most proud of this case for a couple of reasons. First, I had to write the docketing statement that is part of the Appeal and the Court of Appeals used my statement of facts of the case and my questions to the court in their decision. Secondly, I worked very hard to be successful in my appeal and was delighted that not only had I been successful in the appeal, but the Court chose to have the case published.

5. In order to describe my investigative philosophy, I will have to explain more of what I did as a prosecutor. I specialized in violent crimes against women and children. A lot of these cases, especially the ones that involved children, required a lot of extra investigation. In order for me to be successful in those types of cases, I had to be in constant contact with the law enforcement agency that was handling the case. I was thorough and very detail oriented because these cases were very difficult and were mainly based on disclosures made by victims without hard evidence to back them up. In order to understand the case I spent a lot of time meeting with the victims and finding out their stories and preparing them for what was to come. I went to multiple conferences specifically dealing with investigating and prosecuting these types of cases. I would say that my investigative philosophy is: leave no stone unturned and pay attention to everything.

Investigations are important as they are the means to getting at the truth, and a good investigation is through and detail orientated.

6. While I was a prosecutor I successfully managed a caseload of up to 150 cases at a time. This is one part of why I would be uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward. Additionally, I am a very quick learner and hard worker. I believe it is important to tackle the backlog but also simultaneously look towards the future by making sure that a backlog doesn't happen again and maintaining an organization that can manage a large caseload.

Without putting a system in place that can help tackle the large caseload, the organization cannot function properly. Moving forward can also mean a change in how the organization functions from the bottom to the top. In getting down to the nitty gritty of the systems in place to manage the cases, I can figure out a way to make things run more smoothly and efficiently. Time management is important but so is structure. If structures are implemented to change how the cases are managed, then the caseload becomes more manageable. As the Chair of the Task Force I mentioned earlier, I had to absorb a lot of materials and opinions in order to successfully negotiate with the various stakeholders to implement the domestic violence warrant. I believe that this uniquely qualifies me to take charge of this agency.

7. My vision for the CPOA is that the agency fully and successfully complies with the Settlement Agreement/Decree. In order to do this I believe the CPOA would be successful once the community feels more involved and starts trusting APD officers again. This is one of the most important aspects of this agency.

8. The top five assets that I would bring to this position:

1. My ability to work with a diverse group of people. I believe it is vitally important that the head of this agency be personable and works well with all different types of people because as director I would have to work with many different types of Stakeholders. Without my abilities to gain the confidence and trust needed to accomplish the Settlement's decrees, the agency could not be as successful. I don't need the Stakeholders to like me; I would only have to get them to want to work with me and the agency.
2. My ability to persevere despite obstacles and challenges. It is important that the head of this agency be able to stay focused on the goals of the agency and not let anything get in the way of achieving those goals. There might not always be the most positive reaction by stakeholders, community members, etc., to the agency but that should not derail the director's efforts to achieve the agency's goals. I have faced many obstacles in my life but persevered and became a successful person. That ability to always continue striving for a goal no matter what is an important asset to bring to this organization.
3. I enjoy working with elected officials and law enforcement. It is something I am very comfortable doing and I do not shy away from difficult situations. It is an asset that is very beneficial to the CPOA as I would be working with various Stakeholders including but not limited to the DOJ and elected officials. I majored in Government at the University of Texas (aka Political Science) and have always loved the institutions of our government and been fascinated by the people who run it.

4. I enjoy being in the spotlight. I have always loved to be in court litigating and I am not shy. I think this is a very important asset to the agency because I would have to be on television once a month. I enjoy high pressure situations where I am expected to speak and argue on the fly so to speak. I participated in speech and debate all four years of high school and was quite successful. I believe the head of this agency has to be able to speak eloquently in public and show that the agency is on the right track for the future.

5. I work hard and am a quick learner. I believe this is an asset that I could bring to the agency. In order to overcome the challenge of a backlog of cases and move the agency forward I will have to be able to absorb a lot of new information and work hard to quickly and efficiently deal with the backlog. I will have to quickly learn the ins and outs of this agency in order to be able to figure out how best to move the agency forward successfully. I also enjoy research and writing, I like to find out new information and use it in whatever ways I can.

9. I believe my answer to question 3 encompasses the answer to this question.

10. I believe that I am the best candidate for this job for many of the reasons I have already indicated above in response to question 8. Additionally I am excited and honored to be a part of this selection process and look forward to the opportunity to meet members of this agency. I feel that the CPOA is a very important agency and there is much work to be done to gain the trust of community members and achieve the goals as set out in the Settlement/Decree. I believe I can help that happen and sincerely hope that I get the opportunity to be a part of this agency.

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

The Settlement Agreement creates multiple roles for the CPOA: increasing public knowledge of the complaint system (§§ 164-65), performing public outreach (§ 291), new oversight investigation duties on complaints (see, e.g., §§ 172, 179, 184, 191), officer-involved shootings and serious uses of force (§271), a duty for the Executive Director to make findings on all APD civilian complaints, reports of use of serious force, or reports of officer-involved shootings (§ 280), and CPOA involvement in reviewing whether APD is following its anti-retaliation policy (§179). The Agreement also creates a right for complainants to appeal findings of the Executive Director to the POA (§ 287), as well as a duty for the agency to make recommendations to APD concerning APD policy and training (§ 288). For the new system to be functioning as designed, all of these functions need to be working together and well. From a community standpoint, however, the most visible aspect of civilian oversight would be the actions of the POB in reviewing appeals and in discussing APD policy and training issues. While actions on individual complaints and incidents will be important, of course, POA discussions of the issues that trigger complaints, and the manner in which APD has addressed those issues, will be the most visible demonstration that there is a civilian agency exercising oversight. That evidence will be provided when the POB demonstrates that it understands what is occurring in the community and is capable of creating a dialogue with APD about how policing is to be performed in the city. The most important goal from the Settlement Agreement, therefore, would be to implement the new system sufficiently to permit the POB to carry out its duties fully.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

As one of the Administrative Law Judges (ALJs) for the Colorado State Personnel Board, I was held to the ethical codes applicable to all judges in Colorado. The ethical requirements included, among other things, prohibitions against ex parte contacts with litigants and requirements to maintain neutrality. Our administrative court, however, was intended to be a more informal setting and the ALJs often had the potential for interactions outside the courtroom with the parties. In such an informal setting, it was not uncommon for a litigants (or someone who wanted to speak on behalf of a litigant) to buttonhole me in the hallway or elevator, call me in my office, or email me on my work email. These attempts to chat with me created an ethical issue under the rules prohibiting ex parte contacts. I learned quickly how to politely shut down the conversation, and to explain that I could not speak with them outside the presence of the other party. I would often encourage them to file their concerns in a motion that allowed the other side to respond. If the contact included any substantive information (as happened with emails quite a bit), I would also disclose that information to the other side in a document that I filed in the casefile.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

While I was a Senior Administrative Law Judge for the Colorado State Personnel Board, the Board lost four out of three ALJs within two years. During that two-year period, I was at times the only ALJ, or one of only two ALJs. Even when we finally were able to replace the staff so we had a full complement of three ALJs, I was the only ALJ with experience. These staffing problems required that I create plans to manage the case load and to train the new ALJs as they came on board. I implemented a plan that triaged the case load by establishing priorities based primarily upon the statutory requirements applicable to Board cases. Work not related to the priority matters was limited or delegated. A recent review of the workload during this period of time showed that my plan and work during this period was a success. I was able to keep the cases moving and the applicable deadlines were met.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

I am most proud of the work I performed in an appeal before the Colorado Supreme Court in Lawley v. University of Northern Colorado. At the time of the appeal, I was general and appellate counsel for the Colorado State Personnel Board.

Lawley concerned a claim of unlawful discrimination during a layoff process. The State Personnel Board's ALJ who heard the case at trial had decided that the manager's denials on the stand that he had discriminated to be credible and worthy of adoption as a finding of fact. The Board, however, looked at the other facts of the layoff and found that the actions taken by the manager were tainted by unlawful discrimination. The Colorado Court of Appeals agreed that the ALJ's findings meant that there was no discrimination, and reversed the Board's decision. That set the stage for an appeal to the Colorado Supreme Court on the issue of whether the ALJ's factual finding on the intent of the manager controlled the issue of whether there had been unlawful discrimination. The Supreme Court agreed with my argument that the issue of discrimination was not entirely controlled by an evaluation of the subjective intent of the decision-maker, and that the Board was in a position to draw a different ultimate conclusion of discrimination based upon an evaluation of the full record.

This appeal was argued prior to the point where there was a fair amount of scholarship available on implicit bias, which is the recognition that people can and do act on biases often without conscious awareness of being biased. The Lawley decision, while not mentioning implicit bias, still allowed for implicit biases to be taken into account in the determination of whether there had been unlawful discrimination. That understanding of how biases are expressed is only now seeing a wider audience in legal arguments. The Colorado Supreme Court's decision in Lawley was ahead of the curve. I am proud of this case because I worked hard, represented my client and its interests very well, argued effectively for the court to adopt a correct understanding of how discrimination manifests itself in the real world, and obtained a favorable decision in a difficult case.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

I believe that the most thorough investigations are ones where the investigator starts with an effective plan, informed by a thoughtful evaluation of the types of violations that should be investigated given the complaint filed. The plan should be implemented by a comprehensive collection of any and all information that may be relevant to the potential violations. In terms of witness interviews, the best investigators know how to create rapport and listen carefully, rather than to just ask questions. Additionally, good investigators know how to use silence. When asking questions, however, those questions should be broad enough not to lead witnesses and yet sufficiently focused on the critical details necessary to determine if there has been a violation. Good investigators are always searching for ways to corroborate the information they are receiving, so the scope of any thorough investigation will always be broad enough to check what is being presented as the truth of the matter. Finally, any good investigation will end with a report that accurately and completely captures the steps of the investigation and the information that was gathered.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

As you will see when you review my resume, I have addressed similar issues in many of my prior positions. I have handled backlogs as an Administrative Law Judge addressing civil service appeals, and as a state Assistant Attorney General assigned to professional discipline cases. I have analyzed hundreds of incidents and policing performance standards as part of my work on the oversight bodies in Denver and Omaha. I have performed outreach activities or supported outreach activities in both of those cities, and I understand how hard it is to be visible to the community. I have worked to support boards and commissions while I served as general counsel to various state licensing boards. The CPOA position would make use of just about every professional skill I have learned in the last thirty years. The good news is that my skills and experiences cover the very wide breadth of needs that the CPOA will have.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

I want to develop the CPOA into one of the most effective professional standards review entities in the country. This means creating a fair and neutral process for deciding citizen complaints about policing, including a good mediation forum for the resolution of appropriate complaints. Effective review also means that the administrative office and the POB must develop an expertise in policing performance standards, particularly as those standards apply to the use of force. The CPOA needs to be willing to support best policing practices and to consistently insist that those standards be implemented and enforced. Finally, the CPOA needs to be highly visible to the community as well as to the APD.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

I bring with me the curiosity and problem-solving skills of an investigator, the deliberate analytical skills and calm demeanor of a judge, and the public speaking and presentation skills of a teacher. All of these skills and experiences are useful when I am trying to solve problems or design new systems to handle issues. My saving grace is quite often that I have a sense of humor. I don't think I need to explain why that would be helpful in this job.

I also love to explore – new ideas, new situations, new designs, new places. This, in itself, is not a bad thing. In fact, this is one of the reasons I was such an effective investigator. I always looked under the rocks. But I can lose focus if I am not careful because I have such fun perusing a new line of thought. I have worked over the years to impose a level of discipline on my desire to chase the new thought or new angle.

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

In my work as a commissioner on the Public Safety Review Commission in Denver, I had to work with a similar set of diverse stakeholders. I worked directly with the Denver Police Department, citizens who had filed complaints, the community at large, and our local media. The PSRC itself was a microcosm of the city, and brought together a group of diverse opinions and backgrounds. We found that the usual rules for forming good relationships apply to oversight work as well. Listen before you speak. Try to understand the other's point of view. Be willing to examine your ideas through the lens that others bring. Take the time, and be willing, to explain. Have a thick enough skin that you don't react to being questioned or opposed. Learn how to disagree respectfully. If the facts change, be willing to re-examine your opinion. The PSRC worked well during the years I was a member because the members of that commission wanted to have a good relationship with each other, our community, and our police department. That good relationship allowed us to get through any number of contested issues and not be torn apart as an oversight entity because of our many disagreements over the issues that we reviewed.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision.

I have enough experience with police oversight to know how incredibly difficult it can be to create a system where civilian oversight plays an active role in how policing is performed within a jurisdiction. Albuquerque, however, is at a point where it may well be possible to make civilian oversight a part of the DNA of policing. The Settlement Agreement and the city ordinance include the overall best set of practices I have ever seen for an oversight entity. I understand how difficult and fraught this process of change could be, and I know it will take an incredible amount of effort. But if I can help bring an effective model of civilian oversight into fruition, all of those difficulties and that effort would be well worth it.

Provide three professional references that we may contact, please include their full name, firm and position, phone number(s) and email address, as well as a few words detailing their knowledge of you.

Notice - If selected as a finalist for this position:

The CPOA Director will be interacting with the POB during televised monthly meetings. In order to demonstrate that an applicant is comfortable with interacting with the POB on live TV (and to comply with a court order) the final interview for the Director position will take place on Gov-TV. You must be willing and able to participate in the job interview on Gov-TV in order to be considered for this position.

5. Q: How many years of management experience do you possess related to this position?

A: 6 or more years

6. Q: Select the number of years of work experience you possess which relate to this position.

A: 13 or more years

7. Q: Briefly describe your experience in criminal investigation.

A: For the past ten years I have been a criminal attorney. Three of those years with the District Attorney's office assisting law enforcement with investigations. This position included being on-call for any questions from officers while conducting investigative stops, drafting search warrants, crime scene investigation, evidence collection, and reviewing appropriate charges to file.

As a criminal defense attorney the role is both dissecting law enforcement's criminal investigations and conducting my own investigations to present defenses to the criminal allegations and police investigations.

I have presented at the Hobbs law enforcement academy on the investigative process and report writing, served a six year term on the Supreme Court rules of evidence committee that greatly deepened by understanding of the rules of evidence, which controls what evidence collected or generated by law enforcement can be used in a criminal trial, and present at professional conferences on search and seizure issues.

8. Q: Briefly describe your experience with administrative and judicial processes, policies and procedures.

A: As a criminal attorney I deal with judicial process everyday. A critical portion of a criminal case is addressing if and how officers follow policies and procedures of their own departments. This information is often presented at trial to bolster or discredit the officer's testimony.

In my role as a criminal defense attorney, I also deal with administrative hearings that are related to criminal charges. These include using subpoenas, FOIA, and IPRA to obtain discovery from government agencies, filing complaints due to officer's actions while dealing with suspects, and representing clients at DMV license revocation hearings with the taxation and revenue department.

A critical portion of my experience comes from my term on the Rules of Evidence Committee, which reviews and drafts the rules of evidence for criminal and civil court proceedings that are submitted for public comment, and ultimately approved by the Supreme Court.

In my position as a board member with NMCDLA I have lobbied actively to ensure any changes to the criminal laws in New Mexico are fair and just. Through this process and my term with Congressman Kucinich, and a term on a local government board, I am familiar with the legislative process at all levels of government.

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

The two most important issues to be addressed are excessive use of force and the community perception of law enforcement. In addition to modification of police training and hiring policy changes, CPOA can provide community members a place where they can be heard. It will be vital to address issues head on with both police and community members. Both sides need a better understanding of each person's role and a clear understanding of the law in terms of what is permitted and what is not.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

As a prosecutor evaluating cases and preparing for trial I would find misconduct in a police investigation, sometimes unintentional and on a rare occasion intentional. The ethical conflict is created when the officer asks you not to disclose the misconduct or has taken steps to cover it up. I find it best to error on the side of disclosure in those situations. It is not necessary to highlight the issue but simply make sure the defense has the information in their disclosure packet. In most cases, the defense did not file any motions related to the officer misconduct. In the one case where they did, I, representing the State at that time, managed to win the case involving the officer misconduct. It is critical to maintain your integrity when dealing with the legal system and serving the public.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

Keeping my team solution focused is my biggest challenge. Failure to do so degrades accountability and productivity. My leadership style is to be clear about what type of information I find important and keep my team focused on what is necessary to achieve the desired outcome.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

The cases that most motivate me involve people who improperly use the criminal justice system. The most common example of this in my practice are child sexual abuse cases where one parent has made false allegations against the other parent to gain a custodial advantage. The criminal justice system is based on the truth. When people lie to pervert the system to their advantage, not only does it needlessly destroy innocent people's lives but it also hampers real victims in their pursuit of justice.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

The purpose behind these types of investigations is to develop sufficient factual information to make a fair and objective determination if misconduct has occurred and the extent or prevalence of the misconduct. To accomplish this, independence and confidentiality must be cornerstones of CPOA investigations. For the community to have faith in the system, investigations cannot be based upon premature beliefs or conclusions as to guilt or innocence.

Investigations must be guided by the facts. Critical to the success of each investigation is evidence collection, interviewing skills, and record keeping. Obtaining factual information can be done in many different ways. The least intrusive and least expensive investigative methods should be utilized first. Investigative techniques should be employed to test the veracity and completeness of statements obtained by investigators. All stakeholders in each complaint should be interviewed early in the investigation, so that CPOA can proactively address any immediate conditions that may give rise to public safety issues.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

Prioritizing and grouping cases is key in these situations. While at the District Attorney's office and in my private defense practice when handling public defender cases, I dealt with a caseload of on average 300 at any given time. This required me to prioritize my cases. From the information currently available to me, the priorities of CPOA would be focused on extent of injury to the complainant and the level of investigation necessary to resolve the issue. Timely resolution is a significant factor in how victims see justice. Swift action can often be more important than achieving the maximum result. Of course, this would require the person in the Director's position to have the authority to be creative in their solutions to resolving the complaints.

Grouping is a technique I employed in journalism to tell a number of people's stories in one piece. Citizen complaints can be dealt with in the same manner. Bringing all the complaints of one type together and dealing with them in a group setting can quickly reduce the number of backlogged cases. This technique is also utilized by prosecutors when they join cases to reduce time and expense in bringing like cases to trial.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

People want to be heard and we need to give them that opportunity. Once those complaints are aired we can look at the trends with the stakeholders and see what type of training, policy modifications, and/or community outreach is needed to address the conflict that is giving rise to public safety issues stemming from the community distrust of law enforcement and law enforcement's fear of the community. After those needs are established, CPOA should spearhead the design of both internal and external programs with participation from the stakeholders to ensure a positive roll out.

Ultimately, CPOA should be a liaison between the community and the City of Albuquerque to address issues before they become significant problems. It will be critical that the CPOA Director continue to maintain close contacts with the key stakeholders even after the consent decree is lifted to ensure open lines of communication continue with a wide variety of community groups. While it is unknown what the lifespan of the CPOA Director position will be, it would be my recommendation that the position be a permanent one. The amount of money paid out by the City of Albuquerque in the lawsuits based on recent police misconduct far exceeds the cost of maintaining an office that can ensure police hiring policies are designed eliminate high risk candidates from the applicant pool, promote ongoing police training to reduce incidents of misconduct, and nurture community relations with law enforcement.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

a. Assets

- i. Extensive criminal legal background in both prosecution and defense - nearly eleven (11) years of experience with criminal investigations and trials allows me to have more credibility with law enforcement and the community at large when dealing with citizens complaints, ultimately garnishing more cooperation and producing better outcomes. This credibility stems from having a clear understanding of what is and is not permissible in terms of both police and citizen conduct under the law and being able to effectively communicate the law to a wide cross section of the community.

- ii. Understanding of media relations - early control of public perception of an event can keep negativity from escalating and infiltrating the community. This is key when dealing with a police action against an individual or group of people. My background as a television journalist would be a significant asset when dealing with citizen complaints by minimizing both the exposure each incident gets as well as impacting how each incident is presented to the community at large. Additionally, successful media relations would allow the City of Albuquerque to better promote CPOA successes in the media to offset any negative publicity.
- iii. Experience as a mediator - my track record of reaching settlement in mediation is based on my ability to show people the common ground in any situation. This is vital when working with a diverse group of stakeholders such as the case with CPOA.
- iv. Work experience in many New Mexico communities outside of Albuquerque - practicing in many legal communities outside of Albuquerque provides me with a diverse perspective of how law enforcement and communities interact. This knowledge will allow me to draw upon those experiences to craft creative solutions when dealing with citizen complaints. Further, having an independent, outside perspective will provide both those filing complaints and the accused with fair and unbiased investigations in that I have no history of employment or adversarial relationship with the Albuquerque Police Department or the 2nd Judicial District Attorney's office.
- v. Understanding of community accountability gained from serving as a school board member - during my term on the school board I gained a deep understanding of accountability to constituents and how limited my role was as a public official. Public perception is that individual board members can solve each teacher's and child's problem, however, the role of the board is to set policy addressing systemic problems in the district. In this position it was vital to build and maintain relationships with union officials, who were quite helpful in filtering issues received through their membership.

b. Working on

- i. I'm sure that I'm not perfect, but as I understand the traits desired for this job, they appear to be a close match for my skills and experience. I don't see any reason I couldn't get up to speed quickly.

In my professional practice, the issue I am continually struggling with is time management. Often, courts schedule hearings that conflict with my schedule. When this occurs, and it does often, I use my negotiation and diplomacy skills to ensure the priority issues are addressed first and the other issues are reset so they can be addressed in a timely and respectable manner.

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

My role in the needs assessment, development, and rollout of the Dallas County Juvenile Information System most closely resembles the situation outlined in this question. The Harbour Group was tasked with coordinating approximately 65 law enforcement agencies, courts, district attorney's offices, and schools to create one unified information sharing system for juvenile offenders in Dallas County. Each agency had their own view of what they believed their requirements to be and was certain their needs were more vital than any other agency.

I worked with law enforcement agencies and the head of the juvenile division of the Dallas County District Attorney's office to conduct the needs assessment of each agency. Critical to successfully transitioning into a collaborative process was giving each agency an opportunity to be heard individually. Once they knew I understood their needs, they were much more open to a collaborative solution.

The next hurdle was getting the clients connected with the technology team. I worked as the liaison between the client and our digital architects to craft a secure site that would capture the critical data with the least amount of data input minimizing the officer's investigation and booking time and allow each agency to access the information available at their specific access level. Police officers and programmers speak different languages and process information differently, which can cause significant conflict. My role at this phase was to facilitate translations and keep the focus on the finalization of the technical model based on my earlier process work.

As with any government project there is a struggle between what they want the project to look like and the available budget. The County Commission oversaw the multimillion dollar budget for this project, which required multiple presentations on progress and necessary scope expansion. I assisted in development of all presentations to the County Commission.

As part of the project rollout, I taught at the Dallas Police Academy on the use of the Juvenile Information System. In 2000, the dispatchers were still using a mainframe system and had no idea what a computer mouse was. Most of the officers had a basic understanding of personal computers. Teaching to widely varying levels of computer users in the same class was the biggest obstacle to the rollout. Eventually, I had to regroup the classes from agency specific to user level based to make the roll out process more effective.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision.

- A. My background in television journalism and as a criminal trial lawyer closely mirror the unique skill set you have set out for this position. While the position appears to have a large and complex agenda, I am excited by the opportunity to help strengthen relations between law enforcement and the community. Ultimately, everyone has the same goal - a better, safer Albuquerque.
- B. In my defense practice we have discovered civil rights violations in criminal cases. When that occurs we assist clients with filing tort claims notices and refer them to civil rights attorneys. I often assist the civil rights attorney in their factual investigations to form the basis of their federal claim.

Angelina and I went into private practice at about the same time, approximately eight (8) years ago and that is when I first met her. We have been colleagues since that time and worked closely together on a few criminal cases with co-defendants and in opposition on multiple family law cases involving divorce and custody issues.

Cathy Ansheles, New Mexico Criminal Defense Lawyers Association
Mobile (██████████) / cathy@nmcdla.org

Cathy asked me to join the board of the New Mexico Criminal Defense Lawyers in 2010. Since that time we have worked closely together on a number of defense issues, media outreach, social media, and expanding services to members statewide. As a result of our collaborative efforts, I have presented at CLE programs, written articles for the State newsletter, lobbied on behalf of the organization, and been interviewed by as well as written op-ed pieces for the media on relevant defense issues.

Tim Rose, 10th Judicial District Attorney & Vice President of the District Attorney's Association
Mobile (██████████) / trose@da.state.nm.us

Tim was in private practice with Gary Mitchell as a defense attorney prior to joining the District Attorney's office, however my involvement with him has been solely as a prosecutor. Having known him for the last four (4) years, we have worked closely together on opposite sides of a number of complex cases, several of which have gone to trial. He currently serves as the Vice President of the New Mexico District Attorney's Association and in that capacity we frequently end up at the Roundhouse lobbying on opposite sides of criminal justice issues.

CPOA DIRECTOR APPLICANT RESPONSES TO WRITTEN EXERCISE

Name: Philip Dabney

Firm/Employer: Holland & Hart

Address: [REDACTED], Las Vegas, NV 89129

Phone: [REDACTED]

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

ANSWER -- Within the next 12 months, CPOA must show meaningful efforts to engage the citizens of Albuquerque in the process of improving the APD and minimizing incidents of police abuse and negative police relations with the citizenry. This must be done through timely and objective investigations and responses or resolutions of complaints made by citizens about police action or conduct, and through meaningful dialogue with the various communities within the City about the issues that brought the community to this juncture and how to address and resolve those issues.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

ANSWER -- In recent appointments as an arbitrator and mediator, I have made disclosures about my relationships with attorneys, experts, parties and witnesses. These disclosures are made to provide the parties with transparent information about my knowledge of and relationships with the various participants in the arbitration or mediation. The parties use the information to determine whether they believe I can fairly and objectively hear and decided a contested arbitration, or whether I can help parties resolve a mediated dispute without any hidden biases or prejudices. In most cases, the parties proceeded with me as arbitrator or mediator. In a few instances, the parties found something in my disclosure that led them to object to my serving. In all cases, full disclosure assured a fair and objective outcome for the parties.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

ANSWER -- I was involved in managing a complex construction dispute where we represented a general contractor against an owner in a commercial project. The parties were embroiled in a fact-intensive fight over myriad construction issues. By the time I became involved the case was in early discovery in an arbitration with a Panel of three arbitrators. Millions of documents were being assembled and depositions were being planned of key witnesses.

The client had a serious problem -- the two witnesses with the most helpful knowledge for the client had been fired by the client for stealing materials. One of those witnesses also faced criminal prosecution. The case could not be won without the critical testimony of these witnesses and their assistance in culling through the multitude of documents to get to the best evidence supporting the client's claims and defenses.

I took responsibility for getting the full cooperation and assistance of these witnesses in a manner that did not create an appearance to the Panel or opposing counsel that their testimony was coerced, contrived or otherwise improperly obtained. I contacted each of these individuals and met with them separately. I communicated the importance of their roles on this project and the factually inappropriate positions the owner was taking about critical factual issues. I succeeded in convincing them to help with the case, without making inappropriate promises or threats.

These two gentlemen indeed proved instrumental in the overwhelming success of the case for the client. Their testimony and assistance won significant issues on construction changes and owner interference that occurred on the job, and their factual knowledge helped to defeat many unreasonable positions taken by the owner in the case.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

ANSWER -- I started representing abused and neglected children in family court on a pro bono basis about a dozen years ago. These are the weakest, most powerless individuals in our social structure. They have suffered abuse or neglect at the hands of those responsible for raising them. They have physical and emotional scars. They have no voice in their future, especially in Nevada, where there is no state-funded guardian and advocacy group to represent the interests of children or at least to look after their best interests.

My representation of these children occurs through a program called Child Advocacy Program sponsored by the Legal Aid Center of Southern Nevada. I represent their interests and am their voice to the court. I am very proud of this work, especially when my efforts assist in providing a stable and lasting family life for my clients, where they can develop, stabilize and get the love and attention they need while they prepare for their adult lives.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

ANSWER -- investigations are intended to find out the truth, or as close to the truth as the evidence will lead. In order for that to happen, an investigation must be objectively undertaken, using all the tools available to compete a thorough and comprehensive search for all available facts and information. The investigation must be timely and efficient with identifiable results reported as soon as practicable and in a succinct and direct manner.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

ANSWER -- I have a background of experience, training and personal qualities that has led me to successfully lead in situations where order and resolution must be brought in conditions of chaos and discord. For example:

A. As a journalist, I learned to gather facts and write stories on deadline. I became managing editor and editor in chief of my daily student newspaper, where I succeeded in publishing a daily newspaper in very chaotic conditions. Later, as the owner of a small newspaper I took on similar challenges with a smaller staff and limited budget.

B. As a litigation attorney, I've become adept at finding the crucial facts and points in a case early on, and focusing the litigation on exposing those facts and points in the most successful manner for meeting the client's objectives.

C. As a part time Justice Court Judge, I preside over an extremely heavy case load consisting of hundreds of matters involving felony and misdemeanor criminal cases, landlord and tenant disputes, small civil matters and orders of protection. I efficiently and methodically review each matter and make snap decisions on how the issue or issues in each matter must be decided at that moment. I articulate my decisions in a manner that can be properly documented for the record and that is appropriate for the situation. I have never left a day's calendar incomplete.

D. As a District Court Short Trial Judge, I preside over day-long jury trials. I am adept at helping counsel prepare their cases cooperatively and sufficiently in advance of the trial that they can successfully complete their trial in a single day. I also preside over civil bench trials where I render findings of fact and conclusions of law, which are incorporated into final and appealable judgments.

E. As an arbitrator, I successfully hear evidence in disputes and render fair and impartial decisions in those disputes in a timely and efficient manner.

F. As a mediator, I assist parties in overcoming impasse and finding a way to resolve intractable disputes.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

ANSWER -- CPOA is a piece of an overall program to improve the quality of policing in Albuquerque and restore public confidence in the Police Department. CPOA's role is to become the bridge that brings the public and the Albuquerque Police Department together in a way that eliminates "us versus them" and creates the opportunity to develop a level of trust and respect among the citizenry and their police force. My vision for CPOA is to overcome the obstacles of mistrust, misunderstanding and fear that has developed from past issues and create an environment where the lines of communication are open and the difficult issues we all face on the streets of our cities can be discussed, explored and understood among the stakeholders -- from the beat cop, to the chief, to the residents of every neighborhood in the city.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

ANSWER --

A. Judicial temperament -- my years of experience as a part time judge have helped me develop a rational and reasonable disposition in the most challenging and difficult circumstances. At the same time, I have the ability to be firm and unbending when necessary.

B. Arbitral knowledge and experience -- judges follow the rules of evidence and often act as "gatekeepers" of evidence for juries. As an arbitrator I have special training and substantial experience taking in very type of evidence -- including evidence that is not admissible in court -- and place appropriate weight on that evidence. This quality will be particularly helpful in reviewing and weighing evidence from investigations to determine what appropriate findings to render.

C. Mediation training and experience -- having the skills and training to help disputants come to resolution would be an extremely valuable tool for this position. Situations will arise that will require the director to resolve citizen complaints against APD in a way that would be productive, empowering and beneficial for all concerned. What better way to handle such disputes than with mediation tools?

D. Litigation training and legal knowledge -- as a 29-year attorney, I come with a wealth of knowledge and experience that will allow me to quickly understand factual and legal issues that may require fast answers or resolutions. My ability to get to the heart of the matter will prove valuable in critical situations.

E. Outsider with no political ties -- this role requires a person who has no connections to any of the stakeholders. As an outsider from another city, I certainly qualify. In addition, my legal background has not included representation of police, unions, criminal defendants, governmental agencies or civil rights parties. The only exception to that statement is I served as the voluntary legal director for the ACLU of Nevada for two years in the early 1990s and represented a group of homeless men challenging a loitering statute during that time frame.

F. Character weakness -- in my personal life I have had a tendency to be passive aggressive in some relationships. I work hard to overcome that tendency in my personal life and to keep it out of my professional life, by being direct and forthright in my communications.

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

ANSWER – As a mediator, I have collaboratively worked with parties who have divergent views in a dispute and helped them to bridge their gaps and arrive at a resolution of their disputes. The most recent case was a several million dollar construction dispute between a public body and a local contractor whose primary owner was a known political figure. The dispute was not difficult to resolve, but the individuals involved had reached a level of acrimony that eclipsed their ability to see the economic and political benefits of a private resolution. I spent the day working on getting the parties past the acrimony and toward a peaceful end to their dispute that was privately reached with terms that were both economically and politically beneficial to both parties.

In addition, I have employed mediation skills to work with opposing counsel in a recent ten-party, complex construction litigation, to create a ground work early in the case for eventual resolution. The case involved two lawsuits filed in separate counties by separate parties. Each lawsuit arose out of the same facts and circumstances and involved both millions of dollars of damages and an ongoing dispute between a county government and a private utility company. Motion practice on either or both of the lawsuits could have taken months, if not years, to resolve before getting to the substance of the disputes in the cases. I requested and obtained agreement among all counsel and their clients to engage in an early settlement conference in one jurisdiction. The goal of the settlement conference was to get the parties to buy into a process where the parties would engage in a limited amount of discovery that would run jointly among both cases, then would participate in a multi-party mediation with a private mediator. With the able assistance of the settlement judge, we reached agreement in the manner I recommended and chose a mediator and a rough time frame for mediating the disputes. We were able to bypass significant motion practice and duplicative discovery and get to the substance of the dispute quickly. We also were able to eventually settle the dispute in a manner that did no further harm to the relationship between the county and the utility and that solved the construction issues at hand in a fair and reasonable manner.

I have engaged multiple and diverse groups and stakeholders in the Las Vegas community through the electoral process. In 2010 I ran for District Court Judge in the Eighth Judicial District Court in Clark County, Nevada. I made presentations and spoke to every available group with an interest in the judicial elections, which are non-partisan in Nevada. These groups included political organizations from both sides of the aisle; professional groups; senior groups; neighborhood organizations; various minority and ethnic groups; veteran groups; and groups organized based on sexual orientation. I met and interviewed with Union, veterans and other groups in order to obtain endorsements for the election. I walked door to door to get my message to prospective voters in the county. I participated in endorsement interviews with the local newspapers and a local political news show called Ralston Reports, where various candidates were interviewed during the election cycle. The end result of this process was I won the primary, defeating three opponents, but I lost the general election by less than 1 percent of more than 500,000 votes cast. The experience was challenging but very rewarding in terms of learning about the community and the many diverse groups that make up the Las Vegas Valley.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision.

ANSWER -- I am a resident of Las Vegas, Nevada. I also live part time in Los Alamos, New Mexico, with my wife and her children. My legal practice currently is primarily in Nevada, but I became licensed in

New Mexico as an attorney in 2012. I am a Commissioner on the Supreme Court of New Mexico Alternative Dispute Commission. If hired for the position I would locate to Albuquerque.

Please provide the following information:

Name: Robin Dozier Otten
Firm/Employer: RDO Strategic Consultants, LLC
Address: [REDACTED], Albuquerque 87122
Phone: [REDACTED]

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

The most important goal for the CPOA to achieve within the first year is to have developed and implemented a system for receiving all citizen complaints, allegations of serious uses of force and officer-involved shootings by APD and to have thoroughly and fairly investigated, reviewed, reported and made any necessary recommendations to the agency board, within the time frames required by the agreement. If these tasks are accomplished, the agency will be able to provide information to the public in its community outreach program that instills confidence that civilian oversight is both meaningful and effective.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

This example concerns a not-for-profit corporation whose board I once served on. I became aware of information from outside the organization that an employee was living with a serious mental illness. I also learned from the executive director that the employee's performance was not fully satisfactory and termination was under consideration. I was faced with the dilemma of breaching the confidence of both the ill employee and the person who had revealed the information to me or risking potential harm to the organization that might result from litigation. I decided that the best action was to advise the executive director, in a way that did not specifically refer to the ill employee, to seek the advice of an employment lawyer to make sure that all policies of the organization had been followed before any discipline or termination was carried out. The executive director received this suggestion gratefully and has made sure that decisions are made in such a way as to show compassion for employees as well as care for the well-being of the organization.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

There are numerous examples, but one that I am particularly proud of the result involves my temporary service as director of the Albuquerque Housing Authority. The previous director had left under negative circumstances and the morale at the agency was very low, as was productivity. Many employees had aligned themselves with one or more small groups that gathered often to complain about various matters and to discuss ways to undermine any attempts at developing leadership. I decided to deal with the situation head-on in two ways: I met with any individual or group that sought a meeting and listened carefully to their concerns and I held meetings of the entire agency to address our plans for building an exceptionally good record of assisting low income people in finding homes and to answer questions. The most important facets of these meetings was for me to tell the truth regardless of whether or not it would be well received and to follow through with anything I said I would do. Needless to say, the situation was very difficult, but by the end of my time there, the highly professional and able board of the agency had been able to hire a new management team and to become an independent authority that is now well positioned to provide better housing, more quickly to the vulnerable members of our community.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

I once represented a legislative candidate before the NM Supreme Court who was being deprived of a position on the general election ballot because of what we believed was a misreading of the election code by the County Clerk in her county. We were successful and she was able to participate in the electoral process.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

Having overseen many administrative investigations during my 12 years in executive government, I have developed a philosophy that seems simple, yet effective: investigations should be conducted by thoroughly unbiased professionals in as short a time as possible that allows for gathering all reasonably available facts and evidence. The results should then be presented to reviewers and ultimate decision makers in a clear and concise written document.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

My background in state and local government includes several instances in which I have encountered situations similar to the one described in this question. The first was in 1999-2002, when I was appointed by the governor and served as secretary of the NM Human Services Department following seven other people who had served in that position in the preceding five years. We were transitioning Medicaid from fee-for-service to managed care and faced an army of people associated with various constituencies who opposed almost every decision that we had made. Gradually, as we listened to many of these interested people and absorbed their concerns, we were able to create and adopt policies that were a better fit for our state. In my opinion, our best accomplishment was being granted a waiver from the US Department of Health and Human Services to provide an insurance product available to persons with income under 200% of federal poverty level at very low cost to the individual, the employer and the state.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

Very simply, to renew confidence among the people of Albuquerque that our police department is operating in a manner that is accountable and subject to objective review.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

Just results—Justice is one of the cornerstones of our national values and it is imperative that the processes of the CPOA seek justice for all involved in our work

Decisive—I understand that difficult decisions must be made, sometimes without as much information as one would wish to have available, but endless delays in decision making can also be destructive

Accountability—The leader of any organization must be ultimately accountable; however, it is likewise important that all members of the organization contribute to the final product and must be held accountable for their part in creating the whole

Expectation of excellence—Having high expectations can be both a blessing and a curse. I believe that unless we expect the best performance possible from ourselves and others, we will only rarely get it. It is also part of this trait that the leader must be willing to educate, train and mentor those who are willing, but not yet able to produce at the expected level

Understanding of bureaucratic challenges—Having worked in several large bureaucracies, I understand that there are inherent frustrations to be dealt with. Knowing that going in makes surmounting them less stressful

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

In answering Question 6, I briefly touched on the experience I will now describe in more detail: as secretary of the NM Human Services Department, I chaired an effort to obtain a federal HIFA waiver to insure adults below 200% of poverty at a cost to the state of less than $25 a month. The members of the working group represented such diverse interests as managed care organizations, other health insurers, provider groups, hospitals, patient advocacy groups, elected and appointed officials and so forth. We worked to design the program for many months with this group as well as officials in Washington, DC at the Health and Human Services Department's Center for Medicaid and Medicare Services (CMS). Although the goals and interests of the members of the group differed from one another, we were able to come together and through negotiated give and take arrive at the final product that was ultimately approved by CMS and became New Mexico's very popular and beneficial State Coverage Initiative.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision.

I look forward to the opportunity to work on this important process for our city and will be glad to answer any further questions you may have of me.

Provide three professional references that we may contact, please include their full name, firm and position, phone number(s) and email address, as well as a few words detailing their knowledge of you.

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

The CPOA has been tasked with building a bridge between the citizens of Albuquerque and CABQ/APD, whom, many see as intertwined. For years those in authoritative positions have turned their eyes to the actions of a few. There has been little if no accountability for the actions of the few which mar the entire department. While APD's motto is "in step with our community" it has never truly communicated with the community. There is a clear "us versus them" mentality when it comes to the police department and those they are tasked with serving and protecting. It must be made clear that the CPOA plays no part in this mentality. Neutrality and objectivity must be the most important goal to achieve within the next 12 months. Neutrality tempered with compassion must be made and maintained at all times. The CPOA must handle all matters objectively, be willing to appoint a special investigator if conflicts arise, provide investigative results in a timely manner, and respond to both the citizens of Albuquerque and CABQ/APD in a professional manner. It is this objectivity and neutrality which will serve as the building blocks for the bridge between the two groups.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

While serving as Interim County Attorney for Sandoval County I was tasked with providing legal advice to the elected officials on the County Commission. The County Manager and three of the five County Commissioners began to be at odds with each other over two or three major county endeavors. I was asked by the Commission to review the County Manager's contract and prepare a memorandum (essentially a "how to guide") regarding termination of the contract. After reviewing and researching the matter, I prepared a memorandum regarding the contract itself, applicable contract law and the proper steps to be followed in order to terminate the contract while minimizing possible legal repercussions. Three of the five Commissioners did not agree with my analysis and asked that I support or endorse the actions they wished to take regarding termination of the contract. Based on my review and research, I could not in good conscious endorse their position as it would place the Commission and County in jeopardy of facing a breach of contract lawsuit. The Commission voted, 3 to 2, to terminate the contract against my legal advice. A breach of contract lawsuit was filed a few months after the Commission vote and a settlement was eventually reached in the matter.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

Sandoval County was under a consent decree with the Department of Justice regarding the Native American Voting Rights project. For several decades the County had been in violation of Native American voting rights. In 1988, a consent decree was entered requiring the County Attorney's Office to oversee compliance with the decree and manage the Native American Voting Rights project. This required the County Attorney's Office to essentially take on some roles/duties typically assigned to the Clerk's Office during election time (the elected clerk was a named discriminator in the lawsuit filed by the DOJ which prevented her office from monitoring/supervising the program). During my tenure as Interim County Attorney, the county was in an election cycle. In reviewing the prior documents and remedial measures, it became apparent that the prior administration had not met many of the DOJ's scheduled remedies. Failure to meet these timelines would result in the County Commission being held in contempt by the assigned federal court. An emergency hearing in front of the Commission was held in order to update the commissioners on the status of the Consent Decree as well as the efforts made to come into total compliance with the Decree. I presented a request for a budgetary increase and it was approved. I worked closely with the County's Pueblo and Navajo Nation election information representatives to ensure the County had adequate polling locations, translators (written and verbal), poll workers, training and publication for the state and federal elections. A comprehensive report detailing these elections, including voter turnout information, was compiled and prepared for the DOJ. As a result of the hard work put forth by the legal department and Native American election information representatives, I was able to negotiate a change to the consent decree resulting in fewer federal guidelines for the 2012 election cycle.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

Throughout the years I have represented clients in bench trials, jury trials and administrative hearings at local, state and federal court levels. With the exception of a brief period of time working at a real estate firm, I have always been a public servant. Being a public servant is a great responsibility and an opportunity to make a difference not only for the public as a whole but for each individual in society. In 2002 I was assigned to the Metropolitan Unit at the New Mexico Public Defender Department. I appeared alongside a client for sentencing in front of the then chief judge. During my conversations with my client, it became readily apparent that he was suffering from some sort of impairment (I believed it to be a developmental disability). Under the criminal code, competency may be raised at any time during the criminal process, as such, I raised competency and asked that sentencing be stayed until an evaluation could be conducted. This brought much ire from the presiding judge who claimed I was using this as a stalling technique in order to keep my client from jail. The judge contacted my division supervisor who supported the judge's position and asked that I withdraw my motion. I respectfully declined my supervisors request to withdraw my motion and after a forensic evaluation, it was found that my client did indeed suffer from developmental disabilities and was in fact incompetent to stand trial. A referral to a department social worker was made and assistance from ARC and other agencies was given this individual. In standing up for my client against the court and even my own supervisor, I was able to make a difference in his individual life. My duties and responsibilities as an attorney were perfectly aligned with my duties as a public servant.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

As a Criminal Justice major, I remember a three step process that was often repeated in several of my classes: gather evidence, identify a suspect and support an arrest. While these three initial steps serve the basis of many criminal cases, my investigative philosophy has expanded based on my experience and training as an EEOC Discrimination Agent, criminal defense attorney, criminal prosecutor and civil attorney. My core process remains the same whether I am investigating a criminal matter, an employment issue or looking at a case from a civil liability perspective. Throughout this investigative process, it is important to stay objective (not be swayed by parties based on their interview statements or testimony), be persistent (continue to look for all relevant facts even if they are not easily obtained), not be paralyzed or overwhelmed by the investigation and not make assumptions. The first step in any investigative process is fact gathering. Good fact finding ensures that the information upon which we form our conclusions and recommendations is credible. In this step I look for any and all relevant information. Such information includes but is not limited to: police reports, interviews of witnesses and officers involved in the incident, departmental and internal affairs memoranda, reports generated by prosecuting attorney offices, written or unwritten rules or practices/SOPS/orders, lapel video, belt tape audio, CADS, 911 recordings, photographs, and other tagged evidence. Once I have gathered and reviewed all possible relevant information, it is important to next research and review the applicable legal standards needed to determine whether there is probable cause for criminal charges to be filed, a preponderance of the evidence that a civil violation has occurred, or objectively reasonable justifications for such actions under state/federal law. The information gathered must be analyzed and applied to the relevant legal standards. It is the combination of fact finding and legal analysis which leads to the third prong in the investigative process: evaluation. It is during the evaluation of the case that one may identify factors that caused or contributed to the underlying crime, employment issue or civil liability. Such evaluation may lead to the formulation of a legal defense theory in a criminal matter, may serve as the basis for a plea offer, may lead to suggested changes in policy and procedure, methods of training and recruitment in employment matter, etc.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

Like many others, I have encountered road bumps, whether anticipated or not, in the majority of my career. I have faced exceedingly large dockets with little staff support, back logs of cases that needed to be managed while at the same time receiving new cases that needed to be investigated and resolved, lack of financial resources, and uncompleted (for whatever reason) projects from previous administrations, to name a few. Like many others, I have been successful in some endeavors and unsuccessful in others. I am just as comfortable working as a team player as I am leading or coaching the team. I am happy to work on an individual project or on a group assignment. Having been both a prosecutor and a defense attorney I am able to interact with various stakeholders, understanding their positions and views on situations, job responsibilities and duties. However, it is the fact that I am a true public servant that makes me uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward.

A public servant should exemplify integrity, selflessness and excellence in all they do. Integrity is the willingness to do what is right, even when no one is looking. While the promise of a 40 hour work week has been made more than once, in order to effectively represent my clients, a 60+ hour work week has become the new normal. The public entrusts government employees with vast amounts of resources and authorities. Putting personal interests aside and serving the greater good; challenging oneself to be better and never being completely satisfied; always looking for ways to improve -- these are the characteristics of a true public servant. Daily acts of excellence create the type of society we want to live in. I made it a practice early on in my career to give 110%. This level of hard work and dedication has followed me throughout my career and I have never shied away from a challenge or large work load. It is this dedication to public service that makes me uniquely qualified to direct the CPOA.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

The CPOA has been tasked with building a bridge between the City of Albuquerque/APD and its citizenry whose responsibility it is to serve and protect. The CPOA must not only communicate and cooperate with community and civic leaders regarding major incidents, it must also reassure the public that the investigations it is conducting regarding allegations of police misconduct, have been completed fairly, thoroughly and impartially. These objective independent reviews and audits must be resolved in a manner which engenders trust, thus creating higher confidence in the police force. The bridge is completed by the CPOA conveying the concerns and needs of the community to the police and reporting to the community how the police are performing. The bridge allows greater accountability, management of risk, protection of civil rights and the creation of effective policing through improved trust. By reviewing and auditing cases, patterns or practices of potential civil rights violations can be recognized and addressed. Improvements to management, supervision, and training through policies and procedures can be made to the police department and city government. In turn, any implementations made to address these issues would then be reported to the citizenry via the CPOA. By addressing issues, investigating and promoting constitutional policing, mutual trust and respect may be built between APD and the citizenry.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

Based on my educational and work experience I feel that I bring a wide array of assets to this position. I am able to interact with a wide variety of stakeholders, such as law enforcement, civil bar, criminal defense attorneys, mental health providers, etc.. With this ability to interact comes a level of understanding and appreciation for the "other side of the coin." As a career public servant I bring a level of hard work, integrity and dedication to the table – always knowing that I am accountable to the greater community. As a trained mediator it is my goal to look for resolution when possible. I am constantly striving accept the fact that sometimes resolutions are not always what one expects or hopes for. In fact a resolution often finds everyone winning a little and losing a little. I also bring to the table a level of stubbornness and resolution to not give up until an answer is found. This stubbornness can occasionally create additional work and I have to remind myself to take a step back and breath.

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

I began my legal career with the New Mexico Public Defender Department. While in the Metropolitan Unit, I encountered numerous clients who suffered from either undiagnosed or untreated mental health or developmental disability issues. After spending two years as an attorney in the Metropolitan Court, I interviewed for and accepted a position in the NMPDD Mental Health Unit. I was responsible for the competency docket as well as providing training, consultation, co-counsel and support services to attorneys (staff and contract), consumer groups and service providers throughout the state regarding civil and criminal mental health law, competency to stand trial and other legal services. I began to interact daily with NMPDD staff, the private defense bar, representatives from the prosecution, Court Services Departments, Judicial Branch, various law enforcement agencies, medical and counseling service providers, victims and family members. The interactions with my clients and this diverse group of stakeholders caused me to question the "revolving door" in the criminal justice system faced by individuals with mental health or developmental disability issues.

I began meeting with representatives from the District Attorney's Office, the Metropolitan and District Court Pretrial Services Divisions, the Metropolitan and District Court Judicial Branch, the University of New Mexico Mental Health Hospital, and the Metropolitan Detention Center Psychiatric Services on a bi-weekly basis to discuss this "breakdown" in our community and criminal justice system which seemed to result in this "revolving door". As the representative for the NMPDD, the largest law firm in the state, I also served as representative for the defense bar in these discussions. Our goals were to create a system where an individual who suffered from either an undiagnosed or untreated mental health issue or developmental disability, who was legally competent to stand trial, would be placed in a specialty court and provided assistance with housing, medications, counseling, employments skills, educational opportunities, etc. in order to create a full circle spectrum continuum of care with the expectation that these services and support would aid in decreasing the number of recidivism in such individuals. In spite of the seemingly conflicting roles of the District Attorney's Office, the Metropolitan Detention Center, the NMPDD and the Judicial Branch, all parties were able to recognize the need of such a specialty court for both misdemeanor and felony defendants. In 2003 and 2004 the first mental health court programs in the state of New Mexico were begun in Albuquerque. I aided in the creation, formation and structure of both the Metropolitan Court and Second Judicial District Court programs. These specialty courts are still in place today and have served as models for similar programs in Donna Ana County, Sandoval County and Santa Fe County.

I have drafted ordinances, resolutions, administrative policies, rules and regulations and other written documents required in the operation of county government for compliance with county, state and federal law.

When I questioned why you and the other Councilors weren't invited to the September meeting at Congregation Albert, Maria Bautista-Nyira Gitana's partner would say "I did not see any city councilors, but it was not billed for them" Not billed for you councilors but apparently "billed" for Eden, Jessica Hernandez, the APOA and others who are part of the problem.

Finally, as you recall, former BCSO Sheriff Houston was criticized for holding his police activities in his church rather than in a government facility-community center or other.

TO: US Attorney Damon Martinez

Since the clearly toothless mere monitor/auditor James Ginger works only for the DOJ and Judge Brack and NOT the City Council as you made quite clear to them and us, I suggest that you take charge of this situation and relocate the November 5 meeting to a City facility.

I expect that you as well as Councilor Gibson and others will get a earful from Sayrah, Ralph and others on the stop violence in abq address list and on my list (including media reporters) regarding this issue very soon,

Respectfully,

P.S.

Regarding today's Journal article "Emotional Berry urges lawmakers to take action." This is the same Teflon-Pinocchio Berry who caused the "crisis"/problems we have here. Now he is trying to transfer all the blame to our criminal justice system and our NM legislators and making outrageous demands including approving double dipping to bring retired cops back. Will you fall for Berry's demands? Again see this week's ABQ Free Press and Joe Monahan's and the Eye on Albuquerque blog site postings. Blame rests directly on Mayor Berry.

Berry's recent demands reminds me of a quote from Rahm Emanuel (now Chicago Mayor) when he was the President's Chief of Staff who said "Never Let a Serious Crisis Go to Waste" This is the same Emanuel who recently said now that his rogue cops are being looked at closely that all are "in a fetal position" Pure BS.

Dear Councilwoman Gibson:

I appreciate your sentiments. However, your sentiments are not appropriate to the situation.

If this were simply an instance of inadvertent misconduct, then an admission of error, an apology, a pledge not to repeat, and a promise to work to prevent a repetition would be acceptable. However, this does not describe the current situation.

The current situation is that you, as a government official, in your capacity as a government official, arranged for a public meeting sponsored by you and announced by a government employee on a city email server. Government-sponsored public meetings are a venue in which free speech is given the highest level of protection by the First Amendment.

However inadvertently, you chose a venue whose policies restrict free speech in ways that are not permitted at government-sponsored public meetings. Moreover -- and I have not mentioned this before but it is nonetheless true -- it is at best inappropriate and probably unconstitutional that this government-sponsored public meeting is being held in a religious institution.

In short, you are proposing to hold an illegal meeting. The appropriate remedy is not apology but either a change of venue or cancellation. I call on you to do what is both right and mandated by law.

Dear Mr. Wagman and Mr. Dell'Angela,

I am very sorry to have caused this problem. If I had been more careful in choosing our location, and in consideration of the practices of Congregation Albert, I would have selected a public venue. I accept the responsibility for this. I hope you can understand that my choice was based upon location within District 7, its generous space, acoustics and quality sound, as well as their past hospitality to the District.

As I mentioned earlier, we will respect their past practice of not disseminating literature by other than invited speakers. I realize this causes consternation and I am offering to make every effort to ensure the next meeting of this kind be held where literature may be offered. There will be additional public meetings with the DOJ and Dr Ginger in the future. I believe the plan is to have one in each council district. You have my promise to advocate for an appropriate place.

I have learned from this mistake and again, you have my heartfelt apologies.

Councilor Gibson

I appreciate Alan's reply and more than disappointed with Nyira's response as my other e-mail to her stated.

You need not apologize since likely you were not aware of what happened at Congregation Albert at the last meeting including requiring attendees to pay to attend.

Given my questioning of the value of Dr. Ginger's mere "monitoring" what others besides me considers a toothless reform agreement negotiated between just the Mayor's people and the DOJ, I wasn't surprised that I wasn't invited.

The fact that all of you on the City Council weren't deemed important enough to be invited to this first meeting much less deemed many months ago by the Mayor to also participate in the negotiation process with the DOJ sends the wrong message to all of us-as it should be to you.

I hope that you and your fellow Councilors take the time to read the current issue of the ABQ Free Press that has numerous articles pointing out that nothing has really changed in APD.

The approved delay by Judge Brack to delay the 35 key APD reforms also seemed unjustified yet I note according to the last Council bill is now being paid over $600,000 of our tax dollars and the question is to do just what?

As I have repeatedly pointed out, buying body recorders and asking officers to use them has no value unless the recordings made are turned over in response to NM IPRA requests by the public and media, something that APD has still refused to do.

To be clear, are you now saying that in your e-mail below that the November 5 meeting with Dr. Ginger will now be held in a City community or senior center rather than at Congregation Albert?

Respectfully

Silvio

Maria

See other e-mails below. Your response to me, info to the others shown was more than disappointing

The Mayor, Chief Eden, Damon Martinez and others in the DOJ were invited but not all of the media-thus no widespread publicity except what the ABQ Free Press who attended will report in its upcoming issue. Interesting that all who signed up had to pay for the breakfast even if they didn't want it.

So you say the Councilors weren't invited since it wasn't billed for them. They are the legislative body of our government in case you have forgotten. This is something that DOJ, former cop Ginger and his PMR Inc. former cops, Scott Greenwood, the Mayor, his CAO, Chief Eden, Huntsman and others in his corrupt administration and in APD also seems to forget.

It was a slap in the face to the Councilors-particularly the one who represents the "congregation and guests"!

You also claim it was not a PR stunt. Really? Berry specializes in PR stunts believing most people here are stupid. We are NOT! Why not comment on Ralph's feelings? He is absolutely right!

You say, "when in Rome, do as the Romans" do? What exactly does that mean? Does it mean we should let this scam of APD reform continue-not expose it and just let the many officers who murdered and brutalized a record number of citizens here be never held accountable and forgotten?

If you want a real analogy with Rome, it seems like our Emperor Berry is fiddling (hiding) while Rome/ABQ burns.

It also seems like you are not bothered that we now have former cops in PMR Inc. as Judge Brack/the DOJ monitors, and that there are now four former cops in the police oversight agency including now its clueless inexperienced former Milwaukee cop Ed Harness as its Executive Director.

Are you not bothered that Cincinnati's former police chief Tom Streicher (also investigated by the DOJ) was hired by Berry/Perry to negotiate (rather than Eden) with the DOJ?

One final note in case you weren't paying attention or intentionally ignoring it. The sudden retirement of the Eden's K-9 officer who lied under oath in the preliminary court hearing saying that the two killers of James Boyd-Sandy and Perez saved his life was significant.

Also the retirement of the officer's fierce-not adoptable dog Rex who Boyd was only trying to protect himself against is also significant!

It should tell any judge and juror in the trial of the two next year that it was a deliberate escalation by APD and premeditated murder of Boyd-nothing else.

Retired disgusted APD cop Sam Costales who watched the one helmet video (others by the 40 officers on the scene were never released) said that he just witnessed a murder.

Turning any K-9 dog on a citizen, particularly a non-adoptable dangerous dog with "some ??? aggressive traits" (according to Berry) is categorized as an excessive use of force! I note you never condemned the Boyd murder by these two cops. Was Boyd just deemed more "human waste" or not Jewish?

It seems like you view yourself as the self-appointed/self-anointed powerbroker/representative/City & DOJ chosen stakeholder for we the people-something you are clearly not! Again-your response trying to justify how this not public forum was conducted was more than disappointing. You are being used-in case you haven't realized it by now!

Subject: RE: the Congregation Albert DOJ/APD panel on Sunday

Good Morning,

Nyira and I were in attendance. The event was a forum sponsored by the brotherhood at Temple Albert. It is a program they provide for their congregation and guests. We paid our $12. and had a great breakfast, potatoes, eggs, bagels, cream cheese, lox, herring and the best green chile I have had for awhile.

I did not see any city councilors, but it was not billed for them. It was Chief Eden and the Mayor in a presentation for ABQ and Damon Martinez and Luis Saucedo for DOJ. Luis was not there, he broke his ankle. Chief Eden had Huntsman present for him.

Charles is always on top of events and he did not need a cast of thousands to work with the facilitator. PR, give me a break, the press except for ABQ Free Press was not in attendance.

Ralph asked a question about the Monitoring Team having Hispanic representation: They do, a press release will be forth coming. I cannot comment to Ralph's feelings of separation anxiety, when in Rome do as the Romans.

Thank you Sayrah,

This guy was way out of line and unbelievable! I felt like this Jeffrey Paul guy interrogated me and tried to intimidate me so that I would just turn and walk away. I really believe that Congregation Albert holds these "public forums" and their canned political debates so that they can feel like they are an engaged member of the community when they really are not at all.

I can't believe this character did the exact same thing to the USDOJ representatives. Just goes to show how arrogant they are. I can't believe you Sayrah were run off the property. This guy is a tyrant!!

Well Jeffrey Paul and Congregation Albert have not heard the last of me, LULAC or the Hispano Round Table of New Mexico. He may have his little fiefdom at Congregation Albert but that's where his dog and pony show ends.

Thank you Sayrah and everyone else for fighting the good fight in order to ensure the wheels of justice keep turning.

Have a great evening and all the best!

Ralph I appreciate hearing what happened to you. It's amazingly fascist that someone at the congregation Albert would not allow guests to have a piece of paper in their hand. The brochure was informative.

We organized this action instead of a protest. Yet I was called a protester and run off the property. They did not want anyone to counter the propaganda going on inside. I didn't realize until Ralph emailed that people inside were not allowed to have anything on their person that differed from the mayor and Eden's narrative.

It was fun to watch the person from congregation Albert yell at the DOJ staff for having our brochure! He treated the DOJ staff the same way he treated you Ralph. He had no idea it was the DOJ, his guests of honor. He just saw a respectful informative brochure and freaked out. This confirmed for me that the event was simply a propaganda tool. It was never meant to be a public forum.

To Whom It May Concern: I'll be leaving for the Congo in central Africa on Friday AM, Sept. 18th, expecting to return to ABQ on Saturday evening, Oct. 3rd. This travel schedule is cutting things very tight, as I am then scheduled to fly out of ABQ on Sunday morning, Oct. 4th, to attend the NACOLE Conference in Riverside, CA. So I'll be "out of the loop" as to any POB issues until I show up, God willing, in Riverside. Blessings to all! --

OTHERS IN THE US KNOW AND REPORT THE PROBLEMS WITH APD HERE AND ARE RETALIATED AGAINST

Hopefully at least some of you in the media here are aware of the work of independent journalist Matthew Keys. Matthew works for several independent news outlets (the Blot and the Desk) and was covering the APD violence and corruption from his base in California.

One of our brave activists for change first met him last year and was impressed because he filed IPRA requests with the city of Albuquerque asking which cops were assigned to our protest march last June. The city stalled for months but eventually gave it to them.

He then researched every cop and found most had records of excessive force. Matthew spent months on the story rather than most local reporters who only cover what's "hot" then move on.

Matthew was given regular updates on things unfolding with APD, DA Brandenburg, James Boyd's killers Perez and Sandy, Mary Han's murder case, the DOJ and every new killing by APD. He convinced his editor that although based in CA there was enough craziness with APD to keep regular coverage.

All of us who oppose the dangerous police state here since Mayor Berry was elected are devastated to see that Matthew has been found GUILTY on trumped charges of hacking and punished to 25 yrs in prison.

Matthew is a young guy who cared about police violence and used his work as a journalist to challenge the powerful. Many are now looking for ideas on how to help him.

The article attached and at the site below explains the absurd charges against him although it is written for tech savvy folks, many who are part of "Anonymous." Check out the readers' comments to the article shown on the website below as well.

MORE EXAMPLES OF BERRY'S-PERRY'S POLICE STATE AND DOJ'S COMPLICITY

You saw my past e-mails to Chief Eden regarding his repeated stonewalling of yet another NM IPRA request in order to not expose his and his officers LIES in the latest shooting.

As I have said often our Councilors who we assumed would represent us are seemingly so scared to challenge APD and the Mayor that they refuse to do anything about it.

We were also betrayed by those in the DOJ who cowered under a threat of a lawsuit by the city and agreed to a toothless reform agreement and a toothless team of PMR Inc. monitors/mere "auditors" from SC.

This PMR Inc. group of mostly former cops is led by the cowardly James Ginger who is afraid to meet with the people. They are likely laughing all the way to the bank for the $4.5+ million of our tax dollars given them to do absolutely nothing but write an annual report to Federal Judge Brack who couldn't care less about any real APD reform here.

You saw my latest commentary and that of others regarding the embarrassing public comments made on 10/1 and 10/5 by Loretta Lynch our new US Attorney General in Washington DC regarding her seemingly toothless involvement in reforming all police departments.

Her only interest is to respond whenever a fellow African-American is killed by police. She then pontificates about this claiming she is concerned and then moves on to other things. She is an embarrassment!

Her latest comments has shown all that she is squarely in support of the dangerous police states that exist throughout the US-one of the worst here in ABQ.

While she provides money to police departments to buy body recorders, she doesn't care whether they use them. Our NM US Marshals under Damon Martinez are not even equipped with recorders and neither does the BCSO Sheriff Manny Gonzalez want them. No recordings-thus no accountability.

THREATS IGNORED AND BERRY DISTRACTION "INITIATIVES"

People like me, Tony Pirard, Ken Ellis, Sylvia Fuentes, Charlie Arasim and others are threatened by Berry's Mafia-like mob boss Rob Perry and his Mafia soldiers in APD's Command staff led by Eden. The culture of corruption and APD killings are known nationwide and the empty suit in the Mayor's chair (like Rome's Nero) fiddles while

Albuquerque burns.

I'm reminded of a recent cartoon that appeared in the Journal showing Governor Brown of California talking to a dead carcass there because of the critical shortage of water. He would say, don't worry about the water problem because I am building a high speed rail line from San Francisco to San Diego.

Well Mr. Berry like Brown is telling us that he will give us the $100+ million ABQ (NOT) Rapid Transit (ART) system down Central so we should try to forget about the real problems here. The first of these is his corrupt and dangerous police force whose good officers are getting out from under their corrupt leadership-led by Perry and Eden.

You saw ART's biggest lying promoter, ABQ Ride's Bruce Rizzieri embarrass himself at Wednesday's Council meeting claiming he is not incompetent and should not be blamed for the ABQ Ride contractor he hired who ripped off taxpayers for hundreds of thousands of our tax dollars in bus earnings.

Matthew Keys Awaits Verdict—UPDATE: Guilty!

BY RAINCOASTER ON OCTOBER 7, 2015 • ( 0 )

The FBI Wears Many Faces via Brian Klug on Flickr

Matthew Keys' fate is out of his hands. Possibly for the next several decades. Keys, a self-made meteor who'd rocketed to significant heights in the social media news desk firmament, was arrested in March of 2013 in connection with a December 2010 hack of the LA Times website, a hack he'd actually reported for Reuters.

If indeed he was the mastermind and instigator behind the hack, as prosecutors allege, he left that part out. His editors would no doubt have a stern word with him, if they hadn't fired him subsequent to his arrest. And what was this dastardly hack? One article on the LA Times site was temporarily altered, changing the author, headline, and a few words to turn a dry political story into a paen to the internet godhood of one "CHIPPY 1337". Staff noticed, and fixed it within 40 minutes.

Pressure builds in House to elect CHIPPY 1337

Reporting from Washington — After the Senate overwhelmingly voted to advance the tax cuts package, House Majority Leader Steny Hoyer acknowledged Tuesday the urgency in passing the legislation to avoid a tax hike on Jan. 1.

The bill could clear the Senate late Tuesday or early Wednesday, pressuring reluctant House Democrats to act on the deal the White House struck with the GOP. The $490-billion package extends tax cuts from the George W. Bush administration for two years and continues unemployment benefits for jobless Americans through 2011.

"The vote in the Senate indicates the urgency," Hoyer said of Monday's 82-16 procedural vote in the Senate. "When you look at this plan, there are some very good things in it."

House Democrats will meet behind closed doors Tuesday evening in strategize on the package that many representatives oppose, saying it favors the wealthy. Democrats particularly want to amend an estate-tax provision that exempts multimillionaires from the tax.

In March of 2013 Keys was charged with Conspiracy to cause damage to a protected computer, Transmission of malicious code, and attempted transmission of malicious code. Each charge is a felony, and punishable by up to ten years (Conspiracy is only five!) in prison as well as a $250,000 fine and a three year probationary period after release. Restitution is a possibility as well, and the Tribune company (parent of the LA Times) sternly insists that it cost them more than $5,000 to fix the edit job.

Prosecutors claim that as a disgruntled ex-employee of Fox40 television, Keys had access to the Tribune parent company's various web properties including the LA Times, and that in a retroactively-ironically-titled IRC (chatroom) called #internetfeds, he, using the nick AESCracked, gave to one Sharpie the user ID anon1234 and password common2, exhorting him to "go fuck shit up!" According to the prosecutors, the idea to hack the site originated with Keys, the tools to hack it originated with Keys, and later the information that he had done it originated, you guessed it, with Keys. But before Keys was (allegedly) telling on keys, someone else was snitching him out all over the Internet.

Since every Anonymous story that occurred in 2010 seems to involve infamous FBI informant and LulzSec/AntiSec/Anonymous turncoat Hector "Sabu" Monsegur, this story involves him too, in amazingly meta and recursive ways.

First, that "Sharpie" that AESCracked was talking to in #Internetfeds (didn't I say it was ironic?) was none other than Sabu. Second, Sabu spent a considerable amount of effort trying to get Keys arrested not long after the hack.

I was there, and I remember arguing with Anons about it at the time, less than six months after the hack. Silly me, I'd thought the rumour originated with a jealous colleague of Keys', as he was seen as something of a wunderkind in social media news circles. Unless you count a couple of stunt reviews for the Daily Dot, Sabu is not a journalist.

He told Parmy Olson, a Forbes writer who was working on a book about Anonymous:

"During operation payback Matthew Keys came on IRC with the nick 'AESCracked'. He said he wanted to contribute something to the cause so he went into #operationpayback #hackers and other channels and literally was giving away administrator access to tribune's ENTIRE CMS. In return for giving away his former employee's admin access he wanted to hang out in our channel."

"And let me tell you, when I tell you full admin access, I MEAN FULL ADMIN ACCESS. Example. We had/have full list of ALL affiliate reporters and users of all tribune affiliate, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO FOX40 (which he worked for) LATimes.com, fox.com affiliates. We could reset any reporters password, add admin users, modify pages, etc."

At the time, Keys denied Sabu's claim. Unfortunately for him, he sang a different tune to the investigators who finally came for him at home two years later. Groggy from sleep deprivation and a double dose of an antidepressant and sleeping pill, Keys, having been Mirandized and on video, blurted out, "I did it. I can't deny it. I'm not going to lie about it now."

FASCISM HERE –RECOGNIZE IT

The Eye on Albuquerque blog site begins every posting with a description of Fascism.

Fascism described "An authoritarian right wing system of government and/or social organization. ((In general use) extreme right wing, authoritarian, chauvinistic and/or intolerant views or practices. Fascism tends to include a belief in the supremacy of one group over another, national ethnic, especially social strata or monetarily, a contempt for democracy, an insistence on obedience to a powerful leader, and a strong demagogic approach.

This seems to be Albuquerque's system of government with a legislative body that has abdicated its role in our government and their responsibility to we-the people. Yet too many residents does not seem to recognize this and how our City that under Berry has now become the disgrace of the nation.

We citizens here who are paying attention already know that the nine on the City Council seems intimidated by both Mayor Berry and his Gestapo like APD leadership. All seem willing to have their legislative powers usurped by this Fascist dictator on the 11th floor and his seemingly substance abuse-impaired CAO-our City's shadow mayor.

Under Berry's and Perry's oppressive regime, integrity is not permitted and everything is being done to silence any critics using APD, Berry's secret police-RCI, his business friends and those in Santa Fe.

One example is his and Perry's adoption of former FBI J. Edgar Hoover tactics who investigated those threats to him for things he could blackmail them for. An example of this was Berry's and Perry's directed secret APD investigation of DA Brandenburg released to only their newspaper. This was because Kari dared to charge cops Sandy and Perez, the murderers of homeless camper James Boyd over 16 months ago

US Attorney for NM Damon Martinez was complicit in this silencing of local critics of Berry, Perry, APD and others when dispatching his US Marshals to the home of critic Tony Pirard to tell him to shut up for daring to criticize him, the DOJ and even Judge Brack. Dissent can never be tolerated here under this corrupt dictatorial regime.

Former APD cop Dawne Roberto is now his latest target for allegedly daring to expose the cesspool in APD on the Eye on Albuquerque.com blog site. Has this informative blog been shut down-as its last posting criticizing this Mayor, Eden, the Councilors and others was over a month

BETRAYAL OF THE PEOPLE AND COWARDICE

Most of those on the City Council (except for two-my Council representative the wealthy in Tanoan's Trudy Jones and Berry's Four Hills Councilor Don Harris who was almost impeached ) likely came into office as good people choosing to dedicate themselves to serving the people rather than beholden to their political party, the mayor and the special interest groups/the City's wealthy power brokers.

But as the saying goes, power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely. This has proven to be the case here once again with the other seven we had big hopes for. The seven will prove whether they have changed and pick the citizen's choice to lead the new Police Oversight Agency-Jay Rowland whose honesty and competency makes this selection decision a no-brainer for the Council.

It's clear that Eden, Berry and Perry and the bad APD thus far their unaccountable cops would prefer to have a former cop given this job knowing it would be a slap in the face to all of us.

Presidential candidate Donald Trump has been popular to a growing number of people because among the things he rightly said on MSNBC's "Morning Joe" show-"I think people are tired, they're sick and tired of incompetent politicians"

Years ago one media reporter from Santa Fe said in response to a Journal poll asking "What is a New Mexican?" would say that it is a person who continues to elect incompetent people to office here.

Many here are in denial that New Mexico is compared nationwide to nothing better than a third world city run by corrupt leaders. This is because we continue to elect people whose only goal is not to serve us-the people but to feather their own nests. Even Mississippi is thankful for New Mexico's horrible reputation-now the land of hopelessness and apathy to this culture of corruption.

MONDAY'S COUNCIL MEETING

Many spoke Monday night and below are my summaries of those who spoke for the people and also illustrates why we now exist in a Fascist dictatorship

The Incompetent APD Chief Eden

Once again during the Q&A by the Councilors of the incompetent Chief Eden, he was asked only softball questions.

When asked about what changes these meaningless PR only "citizen collaboration dialogues" run by UNM under the alleged direction of the Office of Diversity and Human Rights were causing APD to make, Eden would say that one big change was to remove the tinted windows from their vehicles. Wow-that's real reform.

Art Tannenbaum

At the meeting the always gentlemanly Art Tannenbaum, among the many supporters of Council President Rey Garduno called for term limits on all Councilors to rid this city of the "stinking stagnation." He cited the long continuous terms of Councilors Winter, Harris, Sanchez and Benton. The councilors will never approve term limits on themselves.

This stagnation allows the seeming acceptance of the culture of corruption here that extends from the Mayor's office, to APD's leadership, to procurement, the planning department and seemingly throughout this corrupt administration.

To many others, current Council President Rey Garduno who was once our only shining beacon of hope in the darkness here has seemingly given up and is just waiting to leave office. Art also criticized the two "shady deals"-hiring the powerless monitor James Ginger and (who here knows what he does?) Scott Greenwood.

Dinah Vargas

She discussed the seemingly stonewalled-swept under the rug investigation of Schultz, Berry and Taser International. Her presentations on the overhead were not shown on GOV-TV but again were censored.

President Garduno was apparently prevented by the Mayor or his CAO (who once again showed up Monday with a flushed red face-see photo below) to have any presentations by critics put on the overhead projector to be shown on GOV-TV a blatant/egregious display of censorship. This has happened to me with my upside down flag and my others and with those of others.

Since City Internal Auditor Debra Yoshimura's original scathing audit investigation was gutted to now place the blame on no one for the no bid $1.9 million contract award to TASER "greased" by Berry for Schultz, it is now being left to AG Hector Balderas in Santa Fe to do something. Don't hold your breath as Mr. Balderas never touched it when given the job as State auditor.

Democrat Tim Keller who is among the latest Republican Party's target for defamation was the first to issue his blistering investigation report of Schultz, Berry and Taser Inc.-TASERGATE.

Tony Pirard

Tony, who was threatened twice by US Attorney Damon Martinez's US Marshals at his home to shut up-stop his criticism of Martinez and Judge Brack (threats ignored by the Councilors) also again criticized Mr. Martinez. He stated that South Carolina's toothless PMR Inc. monitor (former cop) James Ginger likely never even read the DOJ/Berry Consent Decree and likely neither did any of the Councilors.

While never mentioning the retaliation by APD against honest former APD cop Dawne Roberto who is now being prevented from ever being a cop (she should sue the City) Tony properly said that the killers of James Boyd-Sandy and Perez should never wear a badge again. But like bad teachers here in NM, jobs for bad cops will always be found or allowed to find jobs elsewhere.

The cowardly Eden allowed the much watched by his APD Sandy retire-a rip-off of us taxpayers while Perez is still in APD likely laughing his butt off that he is still drawing a City paycheck.

Tony closed by inviting new US AG Loretta Lynch to come here and see how bad it is here and learn that there will be no real reform of APD until the corrupt Berry leaves office. Since Boyd is not black, she is not interested.

Sue Smith

The disturbing but not surprising presentation by Sue Smith discussed the blatant lying by the Planning Department's people specifically the malfeasance of Russell Brito and others with regard to buying up land on the west side by practicing some "illegal insider trading" going on. She also mentioned Deputy Planning Director Matt Conrad's involvement. Planning Director Suzanne Lubar doesn't care nor does the Mayor.

This latest example of corruption is not surprising as the Councilors previously ignored how the Planning Department's leadership helped insure that Geltmore's CEO Paul Silverman who was Planning Director Ms. Lubar's former employer got the City contract for the primarily profitable to Geltmore four story housing complex downtown. It was misrepresented to the public as merely a grocery store project.

No costs were ever asked for from the bidders so Geltmore was awarded the contract and tax concessions based solely on subjective criteria. The Councilors didn't care about this or what Sue alleged.

Doug Peterson

Doug, a well respected developer talked about his and many others in the business community's opposition to the unjustified ABQ Rapid Transit (ART) System and his well supported-stop ART documentation sent to the Councilors over the break that were seemingly ignored.

It appears that the ART contract is now being rigged by for Kiewit by Rizzieri and COO Riordan who still refuses to release the ART RFP and other documentation I requested using the NM IPRA

HYPOCRISY BY THE MAYOR AND HIS PERCEIVED COUNCIL STOOGES-OPPOSING THE FAIR HOUSING ACT (FHA) WHILE IGNORING THE MAYOR'S WASTEFUL AND BUSINESS RUINING ART

Before Monday's meeting, the Mayor told Councilor Sanchez and the two sponsors of the Fair Workweek Act to GO TO HELL as he knows that he can count on his four seemingly Republican stooges particularly Harris and Jones to sustain his planned veto of any version of it. He even opposed doing a study to assess its impact and propose changes to the current legislation

Berry would claim as would his Greater Chamber of Commerce sycophant-Terri Cole (who was permitted to speak and be at the podium for over 30 minutes Monday) that the FHA would allegedly hurt both employers and employees.”

The disgraceful Harris who his constituents once attempted to impeach even said the council should even forget about any economic impact analysis of the Fair Workweek Act-FHA as did his Mayor days before.

Hypocritically, Mayor Berry doesn't have the same concern with now jamming his latest rip-off of taxpayers, his $10 million/mile-$120 million ABQ Rapid Transit (ART) System along Central down our throats. He is asking that 80% of the needed funds will come from the tax wasting Federal Highway Administration-FHA. Opponents to the ART should write the FHA and say don't waste our tax dollars on Berry's latest albatross.

The Mayor earlier opposed Mayor Chavez $30-40 million/mile “modern streetcar” system as wasteful and unneeded but somehow now tells us that there is a pressing economic need for his own personal legacy to taxpayer waste-his $10 million/mile, $120 million ART.

Berry even has the arrogance-audacity to waste $13 to 20 million of our tax dollars this year tearing up Central even before he knows whether the FHA will be fiscally irresponsible enough to pay for the rest of it. A lawsuit against the City by the Central business owners and others who oppose this blatant waste of our tax dollars is in order.

What is also hypocritical about their and others' positions is the mayor and his former personal attorney David Tourek's unwillingness to support the minimum wage increase and forcing the poor employees to sue their employees. Only under public pressure did Tourek and the city finally sue just one obstinate Central Avenue restaurant owner to force his compliance

A CITY IN DISTRESS AND IN A DOWNWARD SPIRAL. IT BURNS WHILE OUR EMPEROR NERO-BERRY FIDDLES

Despite denials from our Mayor since he assumed office, our economy is in a downward spiral the reason he is afraid to attend Council meetings (as do other US mayors) but chooses to be MIA on addressing the serious crime problem and corruption within APD. If it were not for the jobs and intellectuals here because of the presence of Sandia Laboratory and Kirtland Air Force Base, this city could be a ghost town

Since rich folks led by the Mayor's corrupt “Madam” Trudy Jones whose “Johns” in Terri Cole's Greater Chamber of Commerce and those in NAIOP know our elected leaders are willing to prostitute themselves-betray the people for the right money. On Monday Trudy Jones was given a question by Berry for Terri to answer who then claimed the FWA affects all-not just the small businesses.

In 2009 and again in 2013 these "Johns" helped our corrupt Mayor buy those election with big campaign donations used to brainwash voters with lying TV and other campaign ads that the small number of non-questioning and apathetic voters never questioned. The low turnouts during the last two mayoral elections showed that most here have given up.

in an earlier e-mail I compared our citizens supportive of or resigned to our culture of corruption to the victim of a rapist being told. "Just lie back and try to enjoy it as you can't doing anything about it." Our disgraceful Mayor now believes this same wealthy "John's" money will also buy him the Governor's office in 2017.

JOE MONAHAN-TELLING YOU WHAT THE REPUBLICAN PROPAGANISTS AT THE JOURNAL AND MOST ON TV WON'T TELL YOU

In past e-mails, I urged you to seek news sources other than the journal and TV. This included the ABQ Free Press and blogs like the Eye on Albuquerque, Joe Monahan's, La Jicarita's and others. Joe Monahan's August postings-whose titles are listed below are worthy of reading and considering.

Contrary to the Mayor Berry's assertions, all is not well here; in fact his city and state has become worst since the Governor and her Mayor Berry took office. We have become the disgrace of the nation because of these never held accountable by the media State and City elected leaders.

Blame should also be placed our local (City Council) and State legislators who have abdicated their important roles in our government. They view blind allegiance to their respective political parties as more important than to their constituents-we the people.

Go to <http://www.joemonahansnewmexico.blogspot.com/> to see Joe's August postings whose titles are below. You will never see this criticism of Berry, of Governor Martinez, of the incompetent Eden and their supportive media.

(info to media, citizens, council and others, DOJ-pass to your embarrassing leader Loretta Lynch)

Below article and attached IPRA request that is being ignored by Eden are self-explanatory.

It's time for the foxes guarding the hen house like Damon Martinez (who believes it's OK use his US Marshals to threaten his critics), his DOJ bosses and others there in the DOJ to be publicly exposed as the cowards they really are and co-conspirators in the police state we have here that our equally cowardly Councilors have blessed.

Where are even six councilors brave enough to represent the people and finally override the irresponsible actions of this corrupt Mayor? They might start with overriding on Wednesday his veto of the passed bill for the reduction of penalties for a nominal possession of Marijuana and rescind the retention bonuses for Eden's command staff thugs.

Meanwhile MIA former cop James Ginger remains in hiding with his ex cops in PMR Inc. likely laughing their asses off when allowed to rip off the trusting taxpayers for $4.5+ million over four years to just monitor-do nothing about our corrupt APD leadership here that begins in the Mayor's office.

Berry and Perry hired the former disgraced Cincinnati Police Chief Tom Streicher to negotiate along with his lying attorney buddy Greenwood the toothless reform agreement with the gutless DOJ people who were afraid of a city threatened lawsuit. So the DOJ led by Damon Martinez chose to betray the people.

Now thanks to the cowards on the Council we have four ex cops including a clueless in reform ex cop from Milwaukee Ed Harness now as Executive Director in the Police (NOT ANY REAL) Oversight Agency.

As one letter writer to the article on Lynch below says "And, once again the chickens are consigned to care by the fox."

I have repeatedly asked that US AG Loretta Lynch come here and see for herself just what a joke the reform agreement her complicit people negotiated here but she couldn't care less.

Disgusted-as you all should be

Loretta Lynch: Government Shouldn't Require Reports of People Killed by Police

By Ciara McCarthy, Guardian UK 03 October 15

The attorney general says local police are encouraged to maintain records on such killings, but improving police-community relations is more important

Attorney general Loretta Lynch says the federal government should not require police to report fatal shootings of civilians, sharply diverging from her predecessor Eric Holder's stance on police killings.

In a conversation with NBC journalist Chuck Todd on a range of criminal justice issues, Lynch said on Thursday that she does not support a federal mandate to report people killed by police. "One of the things we are focusing on at the Department of Justice is not trying to reach down from Washington and dictate to every local department how they should handle the minutia of record keeping, but we are stressing to them that these records must be kept," she said at the Washington Ideas Forum, hosted by AtlanticLIVE and the Aspen Institute.

Lynch said the Justice Department does "encourage" local departments to maintain records on police shootings but that improving police-community relations is more important. She noted that the small size of the average police department could make record-keeping difficult. "The statistics are important, but the real issues are: 'what steps are we all taking to connect communities ... with police and back with government?'" she said.

Todd pressed Lynch to comment on the lack of data, citing The Counted, the Guardian's project to track all deaths by police in 2015, as the best source for fatal interactions with police. "I'm not going to comment on news organizations keeping numbers," Lynch said in response. "I think they do a pretty good job sometimes."

Lynch's statements show a sharp contrast from her predecessor's position on tracking police violence. Holder, the former attorney general who left office in April, has called the lack of official data "unacceptable". Before leaving office he called its collection the "first step" toward improving police-community relations.

"I've heard from a number of people who have called on policymakers to ensure better record-keeping on injuries and deaths that occur at the hands of police. I've also spoken with law enforcement leaders – including the leadership of the Fraternal Order of Police – who have urged elected officials to consider strategies for collecting better data on officer fatalities," Holder said in January. "Today, my response to these legitimate concerns is simple: We need to do both."

A spokesperson for the Department of Justice told the Guardian in a statement Friday that Lynch encouraged police to maintain records regarding police-civilian interactions. The spokesperson, Melanie Newman, also noted that the department requires such record-keeping when it enters into consent decrees with local agencies. "Her broader point was that while maintaining data to record police interactions is important, we should be focused on preventing those interactions by improving relationships between local law enforcement and their communities," Newman said.

In the wake of high-profile police killings of unarmed black men, many looked for data on how many people police kill each year only to find that was no reliable number. Police departments may voluntarily submit information on "justifiable homicides" to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which counted 444 of these deaths in 2014. Director James Comey resisted calls for a mandatory reporting system this week, calling for more data on fatal police shootings but maintaining the voluntary reporting system. "I don't have the power to require people to supply us with data," Comey said at a roundtable with reporters on Thursday.

The Guardian has launched a project, The Counted, to track all people killed by police in 2015. As of Friday afternoon, 878 have been killed by law enforcement.

We are concerned about a recent drift towards vitriol in the RSN Reader comments section. There is a fine line between moderation and censorship. No one likes a harsh or confrontational forum atmosphere. At the same time everyone wants to be able to express themselves freely. We'll start by encouraging good judgment. If that doesn't work we'll have to ramp up the moderation.

General guidelines: Avoid personal attacks on other forum members; Avoid remarks that are ethnically derogatory; Do not advocate violence, or any illegal activity. Remember that making the world better begins with responsible action.

L. Lynch explains "We are stressing to them that these records must be kept," but that they needn't be reported. Is this a "don't ask, don't tell" deal?

Either Lynch is totally oblivious, a person with elitist views, or a complete incompetent. Take your pick. This, (as was predicted,) is yet another terrible appointment by our "great chief." Lynch is just completely coping out on her responsibility to lead and seek justice.

@Merlin

I'd say she's an idiot. With gun deaths in the US higher per capita than any other major country in the world, Lynch is insane to think we can rein in police killing civilians without accurately tracking the statistics. Had she been on the Supreme Court, she no doubt would have voted with the majority to gut the Civil Rights Act of 1964 because all those Confederate states are now reformed. She has totally ignored the fact that ONLY body cams and civilian camera phones were finally able to put the lie to police claims of "he resisted arrest so we had to kill him." The only way to nail roaches is to shine a light on them.

I am sick to my stomach to read this story. I would not have believed any black person, male or female, could possibly have handed the primarily white police departments of this country a free pass to not have to be accountable for their actions. But here we are and she did. As far as Hillary and Obama being able to see the results of a slow slide to the right NOT placating or "building bridges" with the GOP, if they don't know that by now, they are only demonstrating that there was no bridge to build in the first place. A GOP member of Congress has now admitted openly that the order was passed down after Obama's election to block everything he tried to accomplish. Obama could not have missed that fact in short order after his election, but he seemed to keep on trying to buy acceptance by giving away big pieces while getting little crumbs in exchange. The terms of passing the NDAA in exchange for ending 'Don't Ask, Don't Tell' are an example, and I mean no offense whatever to gays in the military in saying that. It is good that 'Don't Ask, Don't Tell' ended. The NDAA affects the entire country. I assert that both Obama and Hillary know very well what the elite's marching orders have been and are now. We are the only ones who keep on hoping that they might change their ways. Both Hillary and Obama have pushed for the finalization of the TPP and TPIP which would supersede any rights under the Constitution. Think they don't know that? THEY DO.

Whether it is the NDAA giving the military the right to pick up US citizens off the street at any time or place, or the TPP and TPIP having clauses which allow the corporations to sue the U.S., state or local governments for 'loss of potential profits' if laws or local ordinances prevent them from going after resources anywhere they want to (and this is regardless of the damage to the environment or citizens' health or any other reason; such suits will be decided in corporate tribunals with no regard to the sovereignty of any nation who signs the agreements) the direction is clear. I should not have to point it out to you. Hillary has been a member of the .01% for a long time, and has no commitment to anything else. What she says on the campaign for President means zero, just as Obama's campaign promises meant nothing. The only hope I have left for restoring the rule of law as delineated in the Constitution and Bill of Rights is the possible election of Bernie Sanders, folks. Otherwise we are stuck with people whose political loyalty is to a system that has only served to get us where we are today, and will not help the restoration of the Constitution, the middle class, or help the poor, or people of color (and that includes 'white'). This is the end result of a capitalist system with the power to enslave all of us with no accountability, get it?

+3# gerald 2015-10-03 21:50

Oh how I have come to hate Obama. I voted for the asshole in 2008. It seems that we have an Aunt Jane running the USDOJ. I thought that Janet Reno in the 2000 presidential election was bad enough when she refused to jump into the fray as U.S. AG to halt and investigate the stealing of the 2000 presidential election and the massive violations of the VRA at the time, but Loretta Lynch is getting up there. Obama is a lot smarter than this. If Obama was the president he claimed he was when he was candidate Obama, how can he screw up so badly with virtually all of his appointees and cabinet members?

Chief Eden

I guess since we have depended on the ABQ Free Press, the Eye on Albuquerque and some TV reporters to tell us about the City's rampant stonewalling of IPRA requests, I guess Berry's personal attorney Ms. Hernandez has been told to come up with some damage control measure to try convince citizens that this Berry administration is really not the worst in the City's history and your APD not the most dangerous.

Reference the Journal editorial today-"City right to plug its pricey IPRA violation drain" telling us that Mayor Berry's personal attorney now has a "team that focuses on IPRA processes and policies to establish and ensure consistency in what is supplied and what is denied.” Is Kathryn Levy on Ms Hernandez’s new damage control team? Is Bill Roseman who was part of the stonewalling process when trying to justify in the absence of any recordings Jeremy Dear’s murder of Mary Hawkes? Dear’s accomplice in that murder was none other than your embarrassing spokesman Tanner Tixier who parroted Dear’s lies that Mary really had a gun. Is Rob Perry also part of Jessica’s “team”?

Does this “consistency” mean APD is again going to be permitted to find some bogus excuse for never releasing any video and audio recordings showing the actual APD shootings as has been your APD’s history? No recordings-no proof of your officer(s) lying and thus no accountability.

With the exception of the since helmet video of the James Boyd murder by Perez and Sandy and State police audio exposing Sandy’s pre-meditation two hours before shooting Boyd, there has not been even ONE (I repeat, not even ONE ) video showing any actual APD shooting. See the attached “Live Leak” report from an honest APD cop saying you were complicit in withholding other incriminating recordings of the Boyd murder.

Claiming that your former NM IPRA stonewaller Reynaldo Chavez was just a disgruntled employee is just more embarrassing doubletalk on your part as Reynaldo finally spilled his guts that Hernandez’s Levy and possibly you and others told him to bury the incriminating recordings proving the death of Mary Han was a murder and not a suicide.

If (thus far cowardly/MIA from the public) James Ginger and his fellow former officers on PMR Inc. were really doing their jobs, they too would ask to see the videos of every shooting as should the DOJ and the media.

My IPRA request below is another attempt to find out whether your APD shooter acted in self-defense as he claimed when shooting illegally at a fleeing car. I am still waiting for a response to my IPRA request below. Also, check out the latest Eye on Albuquerque posting. It mentions you.

The first journal article discusses trigger-happy APD shooter Brian Pitzer while the second includes statement by interim Chief Banks who had said to KOAT in an earlier 2013 report that it was acceptable for police officers to lie to protect themselves. I assume the videos will prove that the officers didn't lie when saying the fleeing suspect was pointing a gun at them.

Carjacking suspect shot at by officer gives SWAT team the slip

Albuquerque police search for a suspect near San Pedro and Karlson NE Wednesday morning. (Roberto E. Rosales/Journal)By Robert Browman And Nicole Perez / Journal Staff Writers

Published: Wednesday, September 30th, 2015 at 11:16am Updated: Wednesday, September 30th, 2015 at 10:31pm

Kat Ramos heard it before she saw it. Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang! Then screeching tires. A car came barreling toward her, narrowly missing her son, who was playing with Legos on the sidewalk. She had just witnessed the Albuquerque Police Department's latest officer-involved shooting. Police say an APD officer opened fire at a carjacking suspect who was fleeing down Ramos' block in a car Wednesday morning. The suspect, who police said pointed a handgun at the officer, sped away and drove to a mobile home park in the Northeast Heights. SWAT officers worked throughout the day at the mobile home park to try to find the suspect and arrest him, only to find he wasn't there Wednesday night. The incident began when officers were called to Española and Grand NE around 10 a.m. after a security company gave them GPS data on a car that had been carjacked from a woman, said officer Tanner Tixier, an APD spokesman.

Police Chief Gorden Eden said that when officers arrived at the scene, they took two suspects into custody, but that a third suspect jumped into a stolen vehicle and fled. "As the suspect fled the scene, he pointed the gun at one of our officers, who shot at the suspect an unknown number of times," Eden said. Tixier said he didn't know whether the suspect was struck by the gunfire. Eden didn't name the officer who fired but said he wasn't injured in the shooting and would be placed on paid administrative leave, as is standard in police shootings. Although shooting at a moving car is a violation of APD's policies, Eden said the officer had perceived a threat to his safety. "The person, while he was in a vehicle, pointed a firearm at the officer," Eden said. "The officer perceived a threat and responded according to this training." Ramos said she was drinking coffee with her neighbor and saw about six police cars in front of a house about a block down her street. Officers started making announcements over a loudspeaker. Then, she said, she saw a gray sedan weave through the police cars and speed down the street. An officer walking on the east side of the street raised his gun and pointed it at the car, which was fleeing ahead of him, Ramos said. Then she heard five shots. "The cop just opened fire, trying to take him out," she said. She said she couldn't see whether the suspect pointed a gun at the officer but said officers told her he did. Shannon O'Neil, who lives nearby, said he heard five shots, went outside and heard an older officer tell the other officers that he had missed the suspect. "He said something to the effect of,

TO: ALL-Bcc

(including Ed Perea, news media, government and neighborhood leaders)

FORMER COPS AND OTHERS WITH THE COURAGE TO PUT BLAME WHERE IT PROPERLY BELONGS

We have read in the in the ABQ Free Press, in Joe Monahan's, the Eye on Albuquerque's and other internet blog sites what's really the problem here. This includes articles by honest retired cops like Paul Heh, Dan Klein, Sam Costales and others fed up with the police state here. See the May 6 comments by Sam attached and the response to it by APD's union VP Willoughby.

Sam successfully sued Schulz/APD for retaliating against him for daring to tell the truth. Also see the secret August 20, 2013 memo from Willoughby to the union rank and file leaked to us by an honest cop. Now Willoughby wants police officers to contribute to the defense of APD's killer cops Sandy and Perez. Also see Joe Monahan's latest posting today, "Courage on the Council: Lewis and Gibson Go where others fear..."-

IS ED PEREA REALLY THE RIGHT GUY TO BE OUR NEXT DA?

It's easy to like former APD Commander-now attorney Ed Perea but based on his opinion piece today, is he really who we want as our next District Attorney?

See his Journal opinion piece today - http://www.abqjournal.com/643755/opinion/city-badly-needs-transformational-leadership.html?paperboy=loggedin&utm\_source=emailed2friend

While focusing on our seemingly corrupt Secretary of State and APS's Superintendent Valentino's hiring of a sexual predator, Ed never mentions the arrogance of their school board-who showed blatant contempt for their critics.

Ed also fails to mention that the deplorable situation in APD and the culture of corruption really began after Mayor Berry was elected in 2009 who rehired Ed's former disgraceful boss Schultz and later the Governor's incompetent/unqualified discard Gorden Eden. Honest cops say instead of giving the corrupt APD command staff retention bonuses to just force all to retire.

No mention is made by Ed of the DOJ's toothless reform agreement with Berry and his two Cincinnati mercenaries-one its disgraceful former Police chief whose department was also investigated by the DOJ. Nor does he mention the $4.5 million given to the also toothless SC-based PMR Inc. monitors/auditors of the reform agreement made up of mostly retired cops.

Since the justice system never holds police officers accountable, he merely laments the large amount of tax dollars paid out to victims or the families of victims who have no other recourse but to file lawsuits against APD and we taxpayers are the losers. It's more than just police "misconduct" here. We have become a police state.

As for low election turnouts-only about $4-5% turned out for unjustified Spring APD school elections. Just 13% of our registered voters re-elected Mayor Berry-the worst in our city's history-but I see no criticism of Teflon Berry by Ed. Citizens have given up thinking anything will change here even if Ed becomes our next DA and we get bigger election turnouts. Just follow the money and it really explains everything here.

The City Council betrayed us once again last week by making another unqualified and clearly (NOT) "transformational leader" former Milwaukee cop Ed Harness our next Executive Director of the new Police Oversight Agency. This new fox guarding the henhouse will make police oversight more of a travesty than ever before. Ed joins three other former police officers/foxes in the Police Oversight Agency.

Ed talks about career criminals roaming our streets but fails to include in this group the many criminals wearing APD uniforms who are never held accountable because there is no transparency.

While calling for transparency, Ed earlier even questioned the usefulness of police lapel (and other) cameras. See <http://www.abqjournal.com/434307/opinion/how-useful-are-lapel-cameras.html>. He puts forth the same bogus arguments of other opponents of body cameras like APD, the BCSO and others that they somehow would invade/infringe on the privacy of citizens as well as police officers. Really?

Ed knows that we have surveillance cameras in banks, inside and outside businesses, at homes and even the mobile cameras the APD Crime Center posts throughout the city. It's a bogus excuse as Ed knows. He has cited as I had often done the good experiences by the Rialto PD with these cameras that protect both police officers and those they come in contact with. See attached.

Yet all we see from our former cop legislators like Bill Rehm is some interest in making the killing of any NM cop (a rarity here) a hate crime. Yet our legislators never seem interested in calling for all NM police officers to wear body cameras because-as they know, no video, no killer police accountability.

What are the alternatives? Should we and the DAs continue to relying on lies told by police officers committed to only serving and protecting themselves and the lies told by APD's Internal Affairs investigators and the lying multi-jurisdictional investigators?

In the one instance where only one APD murder was recorded-that of homeless camper James Boyd, Ed would try to excuse the statement recorded two hours earlier by Keith Sandy that he was going to shoot this crazy guy in the nuts as just harmless "police banter." Really-just banter, not pre-meditation?

This begs a question, if Ed were our DA, would have he ever charged the killer cops of Boyd?
Doubtful-since they are to be deemed our heroes merely for putting on a badge-thus above the law.
They unlike we who have put on a military uniform and went to war to serve and protect, are the ones to be deified.

CENSORSHIP IS PART OF THE CULTURE OF CORRUPTION HERE.

The City Council has no problem censoring what we have to say including what is shown on GOV-TV

I thought of rewriting this e-mail to submit as a letter to the editor of the Journal, but they willingly or were directed by Berry to never publish any of my letters. So be it.

Disgusted-as are many

Ex-APD officer unmasking 'culture of aggression'

By Mike Bush / Journal Staff Writer PUBLISHED: Friday, March 6, 2015 at 12:05 am

Years ago, former Albuquerque police officer Samson Costales used Mace to subdue a robbery suspect who was coming at him with a metal pipe.

The Mace worked. But another officer on the scene was dumbfounded, Costales said.

"Why didn't you shoot him?" he shouted.

Disgusted, the second officer threw the suspect into the back seat of a hot car.

A little later, back at the station, Costales gave the suspect, by then drenched with sweat, a Coke. As a result, officers teased him about the soft drink and chastised him for not shooting the man, "like it was an honor or something to kill them," he said.

Costales was responding to a question put to him by Jack Cox, a junior at the University of New Mexico who moderated a question-and-answer session with the retired officer Thursday.

About 70 people listened intently as Costales presented an insider's view of what the U.S. Department of Justice called a "culture of aggression" at the Albuquerque Police Department. It was that same culture that led to the department's investigation, which found an unconstitutional use of excessive nonlethal and fatal force in 20 police shootings between 2009 and 2013.

Before Costales' talk at UNM, the APD issued a brief statement: "We respect everyone's right to have an opinion and share it with others. Our hope is that those who are most critical of our department will roll up their sleeves to be a part of the solution, in a productive manner."

Costales was invited to UNM by American Studies professor David Correia for a class on police violence and social control. Correia was arrested last June after he and a dozen other activists briefly occupied Mayor Richard Berry's office to protest police brutality. The charges were later dropped.

The federal investigation of the APD didn't include the six people killed by police officers since January 2014, including the shooting death of homeless camper James Boyd in the Sandia foothills in March, before the report was released.

"I think I just witnessed a murder," Costales recalled saying when he saw the video of the Boyd shooting.

Costales has spoken out against the APD before, including this year in a pair of scathing reports in two national magazines, The New Yorker and Rolling Stone.

He also testified against two Bernalillo County sheriff's deputies who arrested Al Unser Sr. in 2006, an event Costales described in great detail Thursday. The deputies twisted Unser's arm and threw him to the ground before arresting him, none of which was necessary or justifiable, he said.

After his testimony, he said, the police union posted a statement on its website calling him a rat and advising officers that, if he showed up at a scene, they should chase him away.

Since the DOJ report, Costales said he hears all the time about "the few bad apples" that mar the department's reputation.

In fact, he said, "there are more bad apples than good." And those good apples are afraid to come forward to report police wrongdoing, he said. Since the federal report last year, the APD has been "putting on a show for the DOJ," Costales said. "It's all window dressing."

TO: POC and Task Force on August 20, 2013 by Silvio Dell'Angela-Stop Police Atrocities NOW!-SPAN

FYI is a recent appeal sent out to all APD union officers in response to a recent Eye on Albuquerque.com posting. It was sent out to all APD/APOA union members by Shaun Willoughby -the current APOA VP and its Political Action Committee Chairman. The disgraceful Shaun pretends that another APD officer authored it. It was directed against all honest officers and retired APD Sergeant mayoral candidate Paul Heh who dared break Schultz's and now Banks' oppressive blue code of silence on former Union President Joey Sigala's misuse of APOA dues. One honest officer recipient disgusted with Shaun's "it's us against them" appeal for all to shut up, leaked it to the "Eye" and TV reporter. Note the misuse of grammar and failure to proofread.

Prior to last night's 8/19 Council meeting new Chief Banks apparently asked a number of Councilors who are the willing enablers of police misconduct like Janice Arnold Jones, Trudy Jones and others to honor APD officers for some routine actions. Among the officers recognized was the Leah Kelly-Acata, the shooter of a young man downtown who was only cutting himself with a six inch round-tip butter spreader. The former Leah Kelly-now married, has also been the subject of numerous citizen public complaints (CPC) to the POC and because no recordings were made she was always exonerated. I pointed out to these councilors that they never bother to honor returning military vets who truly put their lives at risk. I am a Vietnam vet.

The disgusting letter from this disgraceful cop/union officer follows:

Disappointed board member. said...Hello,

I would like to say this to all officers.I would first like to voice my displeasure at the comments here and at work by officers against the APOA and it's staff present and past.

Everyone wants to judge what we do here. I am sick of it. I am sick of hearing you needy complaining officers bash us, the department, the city and it's leadership. You are all worthless. We work hard at keeping stability and you all do nothing but attack the place and tear it down. You all are the reason for things falling apart. Don't cry about how your money is spent when you all never show up for union meetings.

We know who is speaking out against us and you will see. All of you air our dirty laundry. Laundry that should be kept in house. You all give the community ammunition against us. You should know better. This liberal retarded band of vengeful activists called Albuquerque makes me sick. You are no better than them. These bunch of uneducated subhuman animals that constantly attack us, march against us and sue us for no other reason than to fill their greedy pockets so that they can buy more drugs to smoke up and shiny rims for their ghetto rides.

You have lost sight of the big picture. We should be backing eachother. For your information, it is us against them! Do half of these so called citizens have jobs? Probably not. They probably have EBT cards though. These entitled lowlifes have the guts to insult us in our house? But you all attack the APOA? As for money being stolen, that should have been handled in-house. There was no reason for that to get out. That was just plain stupid. Everyone here is angry and hateful. I will not standby and accept the trash talking just because we are not backing Paul. He should have left well enough alone. He decided to cross the blue line when he made complaint against a fellow board member. You don't turn on eachother. A rat is a rat. Period. Joey may have been a bonehead, but he was our bonehead. We could have taken care of it, but Paul had to be the hero and take the official route. This caused so much aggravation. Paul is also supported here. This is why we voted not to support him. He betrayed us just as all of you shit talkers here do. You cry about representation. You don't deserve representation and he doesn't deserve support. Be happy you have jobs. If you don't like it, quit and join the jobless moochers called Vecinos United and the rest of the entitlement crowd sucking the city dry. Go join the crybabies and see if anyone cares. Just like all of you complainers, these worthless whiners will eventually lose interest when their circus loses it's followers.

In closing, I will say this, nothing is perfect and nobody said life was fair. Get over it! You all deserve what you get. Crybaby people constantly bitching about the police when they contribute nothing to society and cops who are snitches who sell out their own. Sleep in the bed you all made. We do our jobs. Shame is you all have no idea because you are never at a damn meeting.

Cheers!

Rialto, CA Police Made to Wear Cameras, Use of Force Drops by Over Two-Thirds

Chris | InformationLiberation

When cops in a Rialto, California were forced to wear cameras, their use of force dropped by over two-thirds. Additionally, the officers who were not made to wear the cameras used force twice as much as those who did.

This strongly suggests the majority of the time police use force is unnecessary. In other words, the majority of the time these officers used force they were simply committing acts of violence which they don't feel comfortable committing if it's captured on film.

HERE'S a fraught encounter: one police officer, one civilian and anger felt by one or both. Afterward, it may be hard to sort out who did what to whom.

Now, some police departments are using miniaturized video cameras and their microphones to capture, in full detail, officers' interactions with civilians. The cameras are so small that they can be attached to a collar, a cap or even to the side of an officer's sunglasses. High-capacity battery packs can last for an extended shift. And all of the videos are uploaded automatically to a central server that serves as a kind of digital evidence locker.

William A. Farrar, the police chief in Rialto, Calif., has been investigating whether officers' use of video cameras can bring measurable benefits to relations between the police and civilians. Officers in Rialto, which has a population of about 100,000, already carry Taser weapons equipped with small video cameras that activate when the weapon is armed, and the officers have long worn digital audio recorders.

But when Mr. Farrar told his uniformed patrol officers of his plans to introduce the new, wearable video cameras, "it wasn't the easiest sell," he said, especially to some older officers who initially were "questioning why 'big brother' should see everything they do."

He said he reminded them that civilians could use their cell phones to record interactions, "so instead of relying on somebody else's partial picture of what occurred, why not have your own?" he asked. "In this way, you have the real one." Last year, Mr. Farrar used the new wearable video cameras to conduct a continuing experiment in his department, in collaboration with Barak Ariel, a visiting fellow at the Institute of Criminology at the University of Cambridge and an assistant professor at Hebrew University.

Half of Rialto's uniformed patrol officers on each week's schedule have been randomly assigned the cameras, also made by Taser International. Whenever officers wear the cameras, they are expected to activate them when they leave the patrol car to speak with a civilian.

A convenient feature of the camera is its "pre-event video buffer," which continuously records and holds the most recent 30 seconds of video when the camera is off. In this way, the initial activity that prompts the officer to turn on the camera is more likely to be captured automatically, too.

THE Rialto study began in February 2012 and will run until this July. The results from the first 12 months are striking. Even with only half of the 54 uniformed patrol officers wearing cameras at any given time, the department over all had an 88 percent decline in the number of complaints filed against officers, compared with the 12 months before the study, to 3 from 24.

Rialto's police officers also used force nearly 60 percent less often -- in 25 instances, compared with 61. When force was used, it was twice as likely to have been applied by the officers who weren't wearing cameras during that shift, the study found. And, lest skeptics think that the officers with cameras are selective about which encounters they record, Mr. Farrar noted that those officers who apply force while wearing a camera have always captured the incident on video.

As small as the cameras are, they seem to be noticeable to civilians, he said. "When you look at an officer," he said, "it kind of sticks out." Citizens have sometimes asked officers, "Hey, are you wearing a camera?" and the officers say they are, he reported.

But what about the privacy implications? Jay Stanley, a senior policy analyst at the American Civil Liberties Union, says: "We don't like the networks of police-run video cameras that are being set up in an increasing number of cities. We don't think the government should be watching over the population en masse." But requiring police officers to wear video cameras is different, he says: "When it comes to the citizenry watching the government, we like that."

Mr. Stanley says that all parties stand to benefit -- the public is protected from police misconduct, and officers are protected from bogus complaints. "There are many police officers who've had a cloud fall over them because of an unfounded accusation of abuse," he said. "Now police officers won't have to worry so much about that kind of thing."

Not only should every police officer should be forced to wear one of these cameras, their videos should be freely uploaded for crowd-sourcing by the general public on YouTube. If privacy for the general public is a concern, they could blur people's faces a la` Google street view.

Police love to say if you're not doing anything wrong, what do you have to hide, yet all over the nation police unions virulently fight calls to force them to wear cameras. Fact is, most cops have everything and more to hide.

Their job is to enforce criminally idiotic and anti-human laws written by criminal politicians, from the drug laws to thousands of idiotic regulations on the books, their job is no longer to arrest violent criminals and thieves but to aggress against non-violent, non-criminals -- which turns them into criminals themselves.

Rather than focus on fighting crime, the majority of the millionaire cop next door's work consists of extorting the general public for cash. For example, speed limits have been shown to have no effect on road safety, yet when the speed limit is 65 instead of 55, revenue for cops drops dramatically, hence most places the speed limit is 55, of course the general public still drives 70 regardless.

Think for a minute how idiotic their speeding laws are. It's called a "speed limit," yet everyone drives over them by at least a few miles per hour, this turns everyone into a so-called "criminal." Police can then pull anyone over and shake them down for cash as a result, though because people get outraged and it makes the news if they ticket people for driving just a few mph over the limit, they generally only shake down people driving 10 mph and above over the limit. Hence the limits are set artificially low. Meanwhile, at the same time, almost every time you see a cop driving on the road they're speeding and weaving around like a lunatic. These are stupid, idiotic laws, but of course, they were not written to be rational and uphold order, they were written to extort the general public of their hard earned money.

Fact is, these days if any average person actually saw what the average cop does all day they'd be shocked and appalled. In fact, when they see glimpses of how police act when they're killing people's dogs and shooting unarmed woodcarvers they are shocked and appalled, they just don't realize these are not "isolated incidents" but instead the rule.

All: Enclosed please find the final group of applicants to the POB for the CPOA Executive Director position. As I said in the last POB meeting, New Mexico is a last minute kind of place, and we did receive several applications on the final day. Overall, I am very pleased with the quality of our applicant pool. Some of the most recent applicants have not yet had a chance to submit their writing assignment, we have asked for those by June 23rd, but will accept them until July 25th.

On June 24th, at 1:30 at the Plaza del Sol, the Personnel Subcommittee will meet in a public meeting, and place the applicants in "yes", "maybe" or "no" piles, based on their applications, writing assignments, resume and cover letter, and references, or any other materials they have provided. If writing assignments have not been completed, the applicant will be considered without that piece; if any of those candidates are invited to be interviewed, their writing assignments must be provided on or before July 25th, and will be distributed to the POB.

The Personnel Subcommittee will then decide which groups of applicants will be invited to be interviewed on July 29th at the special POB meeting. We may decide to invite all the "yes" and "maybe" candidates, or possibly just the "yes" candidates, depending on the number of candidates in each group, as well as other factors.

Don't worry about printing any of these now; I will send out a complete set of final documents that you can print for the POB meeting on July 29th. If any of you cannot print documents yourself, let me know and I will get them printed for you myself. We cannot ask the CPOA office to print these for us.

I would welcome your attendance at the Personnel Subcommittee meeting. Please call me with any questions. Thanks, -B

Beth A. Mohr, Acting Chair
Albuquerque Police Oversight Board

Re: Interest in the Civilian Police Oversight Agency Director Position

I am writing with regard to the Civilian Police Oversight Agency Director position for the City of Albuquerque. Attached is a copy of my resume.

Licensed Attorney: I am a licensed attorney with 25 years of experience in areas relevant to police oversight including civil rights, criminal law and administrative law. I am currently licensed in Oregon, federal court, and the US Supreme court. I am also licensed in the state of Washington but am now inactive. I have served as an attorney for three federally recognized Indian Tribes, the Coeur d'Alene Tribe, the Confederated Tribes of the Colville and the Confederated Tribes of the Grand Ronde—working primarily on criminal cases, but also advising on issues relating to the Indian Child Welfare Act and Natural Resources. My work with Indian tribes also required coordinating with multiple jurisdictions.

Relevant Volunteer Experience in Improving Standards in Civilian Oversight: I have been an active member of the National Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement (NACOLE) and have served on its Board of Directors since 2012. I have served on the Professional Standards Committee, the Finance Committee and have chaired the Strategic Planning Committee since 2012. In that capacity I helped initiate the first scholarly symposium on police oversight held in conjunction with the College of Law at Seattle University in February 2015. As a leader in NACOLE I have been responsible for creating comprehensive policies and procedures for the NACOLE organization, developing a list of Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) and answers to assist communities seeking to improve or develop oversight, and am I am currently organizing an effort to complete a set of definitions useful to oversight practitioners. We have recently undertaken the task of developing training modules to meet the growing demand for information and training on civilian oversight. I was also responsible for ensuring that ongoing legal training is provided to NACOLE members and, since 2009, have worked with prosecutors, public defenders, civil rights attorneys and the US Department of Justice to present annual courses on issues such as stops, frisks, arrests, searches, force, the use of recording devices and the first amendment.

Relevant Professional Legal and Oversight Experience: As an attorney I have served as a public defender, a city prosecutor and a municipal court judge. From 1990 to 1999 I was on the board of directors for the ACLU-Washington Affiliate and was an ACLU cooperating attorney for many years. I served on the Washington and Oregon federal appeals panels from 1994 to 2008. From 1993 until 1999 I served as a municipal court judge and judge pro tem in Washington State handling code violations, traffic and restraining orders. I also served in superior court as an arbitrator and mediator. From May 2008 through May of 2010 I worked directly in oversight for the City of Eugene Oregon as the Assistant Police Auditor and as the Interim Police Auditor. While there I worked with a city-wide committee to iron out problems that had arisen in the first two years of the system and helped draft the necessary changes in the ordinance to affect these improvements. The work required working closely with members of the Civilian Review Board, providing support for their work, keeping them informed on the status of complaints, and working with them to identify trends and develop recommendations for improvements to the complaint and review systems as well as addressing potential policy and training police needs within the police department. I also routinely met with community groups about the work of the auditor's office and the CRB and actively listened to community concerns relating to police performance, and helping to meet the ongoing goals of greater transparency and accountability. While I was serving as the Interim Auditor voters approved a Charter Amendment to make the Office of the Police Auditor a permanent part of city government and guarantee its full funding.

In May of 2010 I began working as a consultant for Elite Performance Assessments Consultants, and in 2011 was made a partner and am now Vice President of that group. We perform systemic performance audits of police departments. Our audits conform to the guidelines and principles of the Government Accounting Office's (GAO) Generally Accepted Government Accountability Standards (GAGAS). Working within these standards for the past five years has made me believe that the relationships between civilian oversight programs, law enforcement departments and the community are best served when there are clear and objective standards for gathering, analyzing and reporting information and data. I have conducted a wide range of audits including audits of community policing programs, search warrants, arrests and use of force.

I am an instructor with California's Police Officer Standards and Training and have taught courses on Accountability and Transparency in Auditing and on Evidence. At the university level I have taught Criminal Procedure, Mediation and Indian Law.

I have a reputation for fairness, objectivity, thoroughness, hard work and reliability. Per San Jose's requirements for this position, I am not a police officer nor is any immediate family member. One of my uncles (now deceased) was a local county sheriff's deputy-- then sheriff--for the county in Idaho where I grew up. As a prosecutor I frequently worked on training issues with the departments in the communities I served. These family ties and work history have continued to serve me well in working with law enforcement agencies and individual officers. I am also familiar with the rights of police and administrative procedures. I have reviewed New Mexico statutes pertaining to Public Records and Open Meetings and believe I can confidently meet the requirements of local, state and federal law if chosen to serve as the Director for Albuquerque's Civilian Police Oversight Agency. I have also familiarized myself with the city's consent decree for reforming the APD.

I have managed staffs as small as two and as large as 50. I am good at developing budgets and working within them. To date, the largest budget I have personally been responsible for was $500,000. I enjoy working collaboratively with colleagues, encouraging others to do their best work, learn new skills and take on new challenges.

Public service was instilled in me as a child. I am an active listener, enjoy outreach and working with diverse groups, and understand that respect is an important part of every relationship but especially so when the parties do not agree. As an adult, I've worked on political referendums involving gender, racial and sexual orientation and identity issues. I strive to practice kindness and respect in all my interactions including with co-workers, subordinates, and people I am meeting for the first time and may never meet again.

Community Outreach, Working With Diverse Groups, Public Speaking: Prior to becoming an attorney I worked as the community relations director for Bellevue College, Bellevue, WA, and as the media relations manager for a major medical facility, Children's' Orthopedic Hospital and Medical Center in Seattle, WA. As an assistant manager for a Public Broadcasting affiliate at Washington State University in Pullman, WA, my duties included interacting with the community and responding to complaints. I fully understand that the San Jose Independent Monitor must work effectively with a wide range of constituents and communicate effectively with people within city government and within the many communities that make up the city as a whole.

I appreciate your consideration of my application. Please let me know if I can answer any questions or provide additional information. I will be in Europe between June 8 and June 22, 2015 but will check my email on regular basis.

Regards,

Dawn M. Reynolds

A: During the four and 1/2 years I worked for Paul Kennedy, I had nearly a full docket of plaintiff's civil rights cases. I worked on those cases from intake to trial, working closely with the clients, primarily in Federal Court, but also in state court. These cases involve a great deal of motion practice, since many defendants file motions to dismiss or motions for summary judgment based on qualified immunity. While at the Attorney General's Office, I did administrative prosecutions for numerous state boards, including the Law Enforcement Academy Board. In that capacity, I also reviewed the Board's policy making procedures to ensure that they were both legal and functional. I also made recommendations for rule and statutory changes. Working on the Tobacco enforcement I drafted statute amendments, testified before numerous legislative committees and lobbied on behalf of bills proposed by the Attorney General.

Please provide the following information:

Name: Michael L. Timm, Jr.
Firm/Employer: Kennedy Kennedy & Ives, LLC
Address: [REDACTED] NM 87112

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

The goals of the settlement agreement between the City and the Department of Justice are to ensure police integrity, increase transparency and accountability on the use of force, promote more effective law enforcement, and strengthen public confidence in the Albuquerque Police Department. The CPOA's duty is to aid the City and APD achieve these goals. With this in mind, over the next 12 months the CPOA must reach out to the community to ensure it is aware of the procedures to make civilian complaints; ensure that forms and information pertinent to the complaint process are readily available; track trends of officer interaction with various demographics; and independently and objectively investigate allegations of officer misconduct in a timely manner. The CPOA must also work closely with APD brass to ensure that officers who commit misconduct are held accountable through fair and appropriate discipline. Finally, the CPOA must work closely with officers to build trust and empower ethical officers to assist the CPOA increase accountability within the department through recommendations for policy changes and training.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

While I was working for the Buckle, Inc. as a sales lead I discovered that the store's assistant manager was giving out his employee discount to various friends and family members contrary to corporate policy. I reported the misconduct to my manager, which was difficult because my assistant manager was good friends with the manager and was also someone I considered a close friend. When no action was taken, another lead and I went to corporate. Our reporting resulted in some minor discipline of our manager and assistant manager.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

As an associate attorney at the Kennedy Kennedy and Ives, LLC law firm I am responsible for all aspects of district court litigation and for briefing our appeals. After a period of transition we were left horribly understaffed. New paralegals and legal assistants were eventually hired, and I asked them to interview clients and help them complete discovery questionnaires, and prepare appellate documents and appendices for filing. After demonstrating how to complete these tasks, I made sure that none had any questions. I then periodically checked in on these tasks for weeks to ensure they were proceeding smoothly. Nonetheless, when the documents came due, the tasks were incomplete. Rather than getting frustrated, I took it upon myself to stay late to support the staff members and make sure that the work got done, and thereafter counseled them on how to effectively complete the tasks in the future. I chose this course of action in the interest of fostering the staff members' trust in me and willingness to more openly communicate difficulties in completing assignments in the future.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

When I first started working for the Kennedy firm I was in my second year in law school and was hired as a law clerk. During that time the firm was months away from the trial involving the shooting of Iraqi war veteran Kenneth Ellis III by Albuquerque Police Officer Brett Lampiris-Tremba. The facts underlying this shooting are summarized on page 13 of the Department of Justice's findings letter related to the Albuquerque Police Department. The case was controversial because, even though a state judge found the shooting to be unlawful, Mr. Ellis had been pointing a gun at his head throughout the encounter. The firm partners had just fired the firm's only associate and I was heavily relied on to complete trial motions and memoranda on our claims and the damages portion of the case. Ultimately, we were successful at trial and in staving off post-trial motions; we then settled the City's appeal in the case for over 8 million dollars.

I am proud of the case for three reasons. I am proud that we took a controversial shooting case and held the officer accountable for his actions through the civil justice system. I am proud that the firm was able to recognize a legally unjustified shooting. And I am proud that we were able to bring awareness to the recklessness with which APD was approaching mentally ill persons at the time. The knowledge we gained as a firm during the Ellis case provided us with vital skills that were later employed to achieve a positive result for the family of James Boyd, the homeless camper whose shooting sparked calls for reform of the department's use of force policies.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

My investigative philosophy is to approach each case with an objective eye and to thoroughly review available evidence, policy and law in reaching qualitative conclusions. I have employed this philosophy to review potential cases at the request of the firm partners.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

When I was hired as a legal assistant at the Whitener Law Firm and later at the Davis Law Firm there were a large number of dated cases that had not been reviewed or worked on since the signing of a retainer agreement. I identified these cases and coordinated our efforts to resolve and organize them, including directing another legal assistant in the course of investigating the cases and compiling evidence into settlement demand letters with overview of our legal position and demands for payment. I am confident that I could resolve the CPOA case backlog in the same manner.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

My vision is that the CPOA will foster and rebuild trust between the Albuquerque Police Department and the citizens of Albuquerque through providing impartial review and fair adjudication of complaints. I also envision the CPOA as a valuable asset to the Department by supporting officers through providing training, resources, and suggestions for the Department's continued improvement.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

I believe my strongest assets come from my varied life experience. I was born and raised in Albuquerque and attended the University of New Mexico in pursuance of my undergraduate and law degrees. As an Albuquerque native, I understand the heart and soul of this city and have an appreciation of its best and worst qualities. I am also the son of a retired APD officers who served in the schools, on SWAT, and as a detective. By virtue of my childhood I grew up respecting police officers and have a real understanding of the sacrifice officers and their families must endure in their pursuit of public service. As a civil rights lawyer, I have worked on cases involving various police agencies, including APD. By virtue of my upbringing and doing this work I have gained an understanding of the tools and tactics employed by APD officers. I have also gained a thorough understanding of the law applicable to excessive force, as well as the Department's standard operating procedures and policies. All of this life experience and knowledge will benefit the CPOA because it allows me to objectively assess complaints in light of pertinent law and rules, while remaining sympathetic to both the complainant and officer under investigation.

My final positive trait is also one that poses the greatest challenge for me and that I am working to improve. At times, I can be overly-thorough and thoughtful about projects, which can delay their completion. This trait will benefit the CPOA because I will do everything in my power to make sure that all cases brought before me have been investigated to the fullest extent. On the other hand, I will work to improve on this trait to make sure that it does not interfere with the CPOA's duty to resolve complaints in a timely manner.

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

My job as an attorney causes me to interact with the described groups on a regular basis. Our law firm is in contact with outreach groups associated with the homeless, and communicated with the Department of Justice attorneys while it was investigating APD and proposing policy changes. I also regularly interact with elected judges and stakeholders in the legal community as a member of various professional associations, such as the Lawyer's Professional Liability and Insurance Committee of the State Bar of New Mexico.

As the youngest member of the Committee, I often reserve my comments and concerns in deference to more senior members. However, at one time I was forced to step in and suggest resolution of a conflict between the civil defense bar and the trial lawyers resulting from an article published by the committee. In the end, I convinced these senior attorneys to put aside their differences and focus on the common goal which, at the time, was providing all members of the bar with information about malpractice liability.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision.

I believe that the questions were adequately stated and, coupled with my resume, provide you with an understanding of my background any qualifications for the position.

Provide three professional references that we may contact, please include their full name, firm and position, phone number(s) and email address, as well as a few words detailing their knowledge of you.

Duties

2006 - 2012 State Trial Court Judge - general jurisdiction

I served as a trial judge in the state courts of New Mexico. I presided over bench and jury trials in the highest trial court level of the New Mexico Judiciary in the Fifth Judicial District Court in Eddy County, Carlsbad, New Mexico. The Fifth District Court is a state government court and has original jurisdiction of all felony criminal matters, domestic relations, probate/succession, adoption proceedings, child abuse and neglect, all serious or complex torts, contract, and property matters, and all other civil proceedings. My caseload included cases from all of those areas.

With assistance from the Juvenile probation office, I started the Eddy County Juvenile Drug Court and served as the presiding judge for just over three years as part of my regular court duties. Drug courts are required to secure non-public funds preliminarily to demonstrate effectiveness. We received state funding after about a year of operation. The Court still operates currently with a successor judge.

I supervised the staff of the Drug Court as well as my courtroom staff. My involvement in personnel matters was pursuant to the NM Judicial Branch Personnel Rules and included procedures for step-wise discipline of staff. I was charged with developing the emergency and security plan for the courthouse.

The Chief Justice of the NM Supreme Court appointed me as Water Law Judge for the Fifth Judicial District. Along with the Chief District Judge and the other judges of the Fifth Judicial District I participated in the administration of the district's affairs. As one of three district judges in Eddy County, I was responsible for consulting with local, county and state agencies to ensure effective operation of the local judicial system.

I was appointed by Governor Bill Richardson in 2006 but then lost the subsequent partisan election. The Chief Justice of the New Mexico Supreme Court, Edward Chavez, reappointed me in 2007. I survived the next election in 2008.

Duties

Before the creation of the current Law Offices of the Public Defender, I served as the Fifth Judicial District Public Defender, at that time one of eight state-level administrative appointments in the State of New Mexico Public Defender. The Fifth District office includes three large counties in Southeastern New Mexico with a combined population of over 175,000. I administered the district employees pursuant to the New Mexico personnel rules. The department was unionized and personnel management included a fair amount of labor relations work.

I managed the four district law offices; I supervised 14 attorneys and 20 support-staff members. With this staff, I was charged with providing professional legal representation for indigent criminal defendants (roughly 90% of all criminal defendants in the District) in three district courts (New Mexico's highest trial court) with ten district judges, and seven magistrate courts with nine magistrates. I was responsible for recruiting and training the attorneys and staff and for managing the department's mentoring program for the development of inexperienced attorneys. I was also responsible for my own full caseload and handled many of the most serious cases in the district.

I was responsible for investigating several hundred criminal cases each year that ranged from very simple misdemeanor cases with few witnesses to very complex, serious felony cases with dozens of witnesses and items of evidence. I was charged with working with the three investigators in the District to develop policies and procedures for conducting investigations. I trained new attorneys in the proper methods for investigations and monitored them for compliance. I was responsible for administering the Public Defender training and mentoring procedures for all attorneys in the District.

Annually, I defended 20 or more felony jury trials, conducted hundreds of hearings, and represented as many as 250 clients with cases of varying degrees of seriousness. I was responsible for initiating the appellate process for my clients when appropriate. I represented juvenile defendants, misdemeanants, and felons (including one death penalty eligible client).

As one of eight District Defenders statewide, I participated in the administration and management of the New Mexico Public Defender, a cabinet-level department of New Mexico state government. I answered to Chief Public Defender and served at the pleasure of the Governor. My duties in that role included participating in the development of statewide policy and procedures, planning and executing training workshops, and liaising with members of the New Mexico legislature, local governments, community groups and civic leaders. I was appointed District Defender by Governor Bill Richardson and served in this role until he appointed me to the judgeship described above.

Reason for Leaving

I was appointed District Judge.

I served as the managing attorney for the Eddy County district office of the New Mexico Public Defender in Carlsbad, New Mexico. I supervised three attorneys and a support staff of five. Using this staff, I was charged with providing professional legal representation for indigent criminal defendants in the Fifth Judicial District Court in Carlsbad (district courts are the highest trial courts in New Mexico). Additionally, I was responsible for ensuring professional representation of misdemeanants in the magistrate courts.

I assisted the District Defender in recruiting and training attorneys, and in managing a mentoring program for the development of inexperienced attorneys. Duties

I worked as an attorney for the New Mexico Public Defender in Albuquerque, New Mexico. I provided legal representation for indigent criminal defendants in several capacities across seven years. I began in a busy metropolitan misdemeanor court representing 80 - 100 clients per week in cases involving DWI, domestic violence, petty theft, simple assault and battery, and other minor crimes.

Over the course of about the first three years, I conducted dozens of six-person jury trials, hundreds of bench trials, and countless miscellaneous hearings. I later represented convicted misdemeanants in the first level of their appeals. Part of effective representation of criminal defendants is case investigation. I investigated several hundred criminal cases annually. Investigations included scene visits, review of reports, photos and videos, interviews of witnesses and consultation with other attorneys and expert witnesses. Additionally, in about two years time, I completed dozens of formal, written appellate proceedings.

As one of the first attorneys to use the new Metropolitan Court on-record appeals process, I participated in developing the procedures for handling the new procedures. On-record appeals required detailed briefing that was submitted to the District Court for an appellate decision.

In the last roughly four years time at this post, I provided legal representation for clients accused with felonies. I served as first-chair in over 25 jury trials, second-chair in dozens of others, and defended dozens of clients in bench trials. I handled moderate to serious felony cases. I was also responsible for initiating appeals for clients when appropriate. Once again, I was required to conduct dozens of investigations annually to effectively represent my clients.

Reason for Leaving

I was promoted to managing attorney of the Carlsbad district office.

Duties

I worked in the Morphology Laboratory at the New Mexico Office of the Medical Investigator (OMI) for six years. OMI is the New Mexico government facility that conducts all forensic autopsies in the state and is associated with the University of New Mexico, School of Medicine.

In the first two years I worked as a technician providing histology support for the forensic autopsy service. The histology technician processed tissues and prepared thin sections cut from paraffin embedded specimens suitable for light microscope analysis by the pathologists. From time to time we were required to produce frozen sections.

In addition to my work as a histology technician, I assisted the pathologists at autopsy. In the six years I spent there, I assisted at over 1,000 forensic autopsies and over 200 hospital autopsies.

The last four years of my time at OMI I served as the manager of the morphology laboratory. I managed a staff of 11 pathologists' assistants and histology technicians. I was responsible for the recruiting, hiring, training, and supervising of all employees of the laboratory. I administered the materials budget for the laboratory. I archived the photographs taken at autopsy and the related field photography. I was responsible for the chain-of-custody of forensic evidence collected at autopsy and its delivery to appropriate federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies.

I was part of a team that trained the field investigators statewide in the procedures to follow at external examinations, when securing chain-of-custody integrity, and when photographing the forensic scenes in the field. In my role as manager of one of OMI's departments, I participated in developing policies and procedures in the pathology laboratory, the administrative office, and the field.

Subject: 2015 Semi-Annual Report

Dear Board Members:

Attached please find the 2015 Semi-Annual Report. It is complete, with the exception of the executive director's executive summary. Once the executive director includes the summary, the page numbers on the table of contents will need to be added/adjusted.

Unfortunately, the combination of CIRIS' unreliability concerning exporting data, along with its utter inability to export data on the DOJ mandated demographic information, forced me to do a lot of work by hand. Thus, I have included the spreadsheets to "show my work."

I have also included a list of the data information I enter/verify for opening and closing cases per Ms. Hammer's request.

IAPro, at least at this point, has almost no ability to report out accurate information concerning the CPCs. These issues have been raised with APD's IT division, and specific documentation to show the program's deficiencies has been given to Rishma Khimji at APD. She is working with IAPro to remedy this situation. My work on this issue has been saved to the share drive under Rishma.Projects and IAPro.

The CPOA data has limited statistical value because of the limited amount of CPCs received. Thus, access to APD's data will be crucial in determining trends and providing analysis of APD's interactions with the public.

Eric Daigle's writings/blog <https://www.daiglelawgroup.com/attorneys/eric-p-daigle/> would be an excellent resource for what data would be the most useful the CPOA in meeting its purpose.

<http://www.dailykos.com/story/2014/12/06/1349810/-5-of-New-York-City-cops-make-40-of-all-> resisting-arrest-charges#

Arrest to force ratio (by shift, or area command, be sure to compare apples to apples) More incidents of use force will likely be used in SE than in NE.
Arrest to injury ratio
Force to injury ratio
Focus on front line sergeant actions (including who is getting their reports in on time)
Civil lawsuit data (settlements compared to injury)
Calls to arrests
Calls to complaints (and separately, calls to IA complaints ratio)
Blue Team should also allow you to focus in on specific types of force (baton, mace) and that should be compared geographically as well
Compare whether calls for service for particular crimes have risen
Compare this data to other cities of similar size
Cleveland just signed off on a similar consent decree/settlement agreement, so it may be worthwhile to follow their progress, esp. regarding use of force

Suggested Policy changes:

Revisions of office policy concerning when Garrity warning is read.
Require officers to affirmatively state whether or not money was found during a vehicle search.
Require the downloading of pictures immediately to a cloud or other hard drive.
Requirement to tag in video any time use of force is used.
Requirement to list all persons involved in tact plan, even training tact plans.
Revise lapel camera policy following UNM study.
Customer service training for officers (perception problem)
Mobile crisis vans with mental health professionals available on all shifts:

CREATION OF THE CIVILIAN POLICE OVERSIGHT AGENCY

On August 18, 2014, City Council passed legislation which suspended the Police Oversight Commission (POC), Ordinance O-14-15. This legislation became effective on September 5, 2014.

On September 18, 2014, the City Council passed amendments to the Police Oversight Ordinance through Ordinance O-14-13. On October 6, 2014, Mayor Richard J. Berry signed the legislation. The new amendments replaced the prior Police Oversight Commission and the Independent Review Officer with the Civilian Police Oversight Agency, one body consisting of the Police Oversight Board, the CPOA Executive Director and the CPOA Administrative Office.

Under the amended Police Oversight Ordinance, City Council is responsible for selecting and confirming nine members of a Police Oversight Board (POB). The amended Ordinance made several changes to the existing Civilian Police Oversight system. These changes to the Police Oversight process included change from two independent bodies, the former Independent Review Office and Police Oversight Commission into a one-body system, the Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA). The CPOA will consist of a Council-appointed Board who will oversee an Executive Director. The Executive Director will manage the day-to-day operations of the CPOA's Administrative Office. The CPOA will also:

- Physically be located outside of City Hall

- Manage its own budget - Minimum Budget: ½% of APD Budget (±750k/yr)
- May Hire its own Contract Legal Counsel
- Duty to:
  - Perform Community Outreach
  - Promote Accountability within APD
  - Investigate Citizen Complaints
  - Make APD Policy Recommendations

The Police Oversight Board (POB) consists of nine At-Large, Council-appointed members, who are representative of the City as a whole. The Board Members may be removed for cause by 2/3 vote of either the Council or POB. Members will hold three-year, staggered terms. The amended Ordinance increased training requirement. The Board is tasked with among other things, developing policy recommendations and reviewing Citizen Police Complaint Investigations.

The CPOA's Executive Director is required to hold a law degree and have experience in investigations. City Council appoints the Executive Director upon recommendation from the POB. The position has a three year term. The Executive Director leads the Administrative Office and reviews Citizen Police Complaint investigations. He or she reports to the POB. City Council may remove the Executive Director upon recommendation of 2/3 of POB.

The Executive Director also prepares and submits recommended findings in officer involved shooting cases to the POB for their approval. The Executive Director has access to any APD information or documents that are relevant to a civilian's complaint, or to an issue which is ongoing at the CPOA. The Ordinance also requires the Executive Director to play an active public role in the community, and whenever possible, provide appropriate outreach to the community to publicize the civilian complaint process.

Under the amended Ordinance, the CPOA Administrative Office is staffed with classified City employees who provide staff support to the POB. The Administrative Office staff performs all administrative functions of the Agency. The Administrative Office staff are required to receive and investigate all Citizen Police Complaints and to review and monitor APD Internal Affairs. The CPOA Administrative Office creates semi-annual reports, including general trends and issues at APD.

The Amended Ordinance also changed the process for reviewing Civilian Police Complaints against the Albuquerque Police Department:

1. A person may file a Complaint against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD), via the internet or in writing.
2. The Administrative Office of the Civilian Police Oversight Agency (Administrative Office) will open a case and assign it to an investigator. The assigned investigator will interview witnesses, obtain evidence, and interview the APD officers involved.
3. The Administrative Office will mediate Complaints, whenever appropriate and agreed upon by the parties.
4. If the Complaint is not mediated, the Administrative Office Investigators will conduct a full investigation.

5. Once the investigation of the Complaint is completed, the Executive Director of the Administrative Office will review the Complaint and results of the investigation to determine if there are any violations of Albuquerque Police Department Standard Operating Procedures. Standard Operating Procedures are the Police Department's rules regulating police and employee actions and conduct.
6. The Executive Director of the Administrative Office will draft a letter indicating her conclusions and findings, which the POB will accept, reject or modify. The Executive Director may send the completed investigation to the Department in order to meet discipline deadlines.
7. The members of the Police Oversight Board (POB) will review the Complaint and approve the Executive Director's findings and conclusions.
8. After the POB has approved the Executive Director's findings, the Administrative Office will send the findings to the person who filed the Complaint via Certified Mail and to the Albuquerque Police Department.
9. The person who filed the Complaint may appeal the POB's findings.

The Chief of Police retains sole authority to impose discipline to an Albuquerque Police Department employee for violations of the Albuquerque Police Department Standard Operating Procedures. The Civilian Police Oversight Agency does not impose discipline.

The Civilian Police Oversight Agency does not conduct criminal investigations.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE REVIEW OF APD

On April 10, 2014, the Department of Justice (DOJ) issued a Findings Letter regarding the Albuquerque Police Department (APD). In that letter, the DOJ found that there was reasonable cause to believe that APD engaged in a pattern or practice of use of excessive force, including deadly force, in violation of the Fourth Amendment. The DOJ further determined that structural and systemic deficiencies contributed to the use of unreasonable force.

On November 10, 2014, the City of Albuquerque (City) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) submitted a proposed Settlement Agreement to resolve the matter of United States v. City of Albuquerque.

Key elements of the Settlement Agreement include:

1. Use of Force- policy reforms, reporting, reviewing and investigating
2. Additional Training- for use of force situations, crisis intervention, and Field Officers
3. Staffing and Accountability- including additional accountability measures and a monitor
4. Recruiting, Selection, and Promotions- adding layers of evaluations into the promotion process
5. Community Engagement and Oversight
6. Implementation/Compliance Timeline

The Agreement also requires the CPOA to accept and investigation anonymous complaints, and complaints regardless of the timeframe of when the allegations occurred. On June 2, 2015, Judge Brack issued a Memorandum Opinion and Order adopting the Settlement Agreement.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF CPOA EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Under the amended Ordinance, the Executive Director reports directly to the Police Oversight Board. The CPOA Executive Director's duties are as follows:

- (1) Independently investigate, or cause to be investigated, all civilian police complaints and prepare findings and recommendations for review by the POB;
- (2) Review and monitor all Internal Affairs investigations including but not limited to officer involved shooting investigations. The Director shall prepare and submit findings and recommendations to the POB relating to officer involved shootings, and shall report on general trends and issues identified through monitoring or auditing of Internal Affairs
- (3) Provide staffing to the Police Oversight Board and ensure that the duties and responsibilities of the CPOA are executed in an efficient manner, and manage the day to day operations of the CPOA.
- (4) The Administrative Office will receive and process all civilian complaints directed against the Albuquerque Police Department and any of its officers.
- (5) The Director shall independently investigate and make findings and recommendations for review by the POB for such civilian complaints, or assign them for independent investigation by CPOA staff or an outside independent investigator. If assigned to staff or an outside investigator, the Director shall oversee, monitor and review all such investigations and findings for each.
- (6) All findings relating to civilian complaints and police shootings shall be forwarded to the POB for its review and approval. For all investigations, the Director shall make recommendations and give advice regarding Police Department policies and procedures to the POB as the Director deems advisable.
- (7) The Director shall report directly to the POB and lead the Administrative Office; independently investigate or supervise all investigations of civilian complaints, audit all IA investigations of complaints, recommend and participate in mediation of certain complaints, and supervise all CPOA staff.

III. OFFICER-INVOLVED SHOOTINGS

In the first half of 2015, one officer-involved shooting case was presented to the Police Oversight Board.

Police Shooting I-49-14

On February 24, 2014, at approximately 3:00 p.m., Albuquerque Police Officer P. was driving eastbound on Blake Road, Southwest, near the Robert Kennedy Charter School, when a woman who had stopped her car flagged down Officer P. to seek his help. The woman said that a boy, later identified as 15-year-old Andy Fuentes, had just been bitten by a dog. Officer P. saw a mid-sized female dog aggressively barking and growling at Andy. Officer P. made a U-turn and parked behind the woman's car. As Officer P. was getting out of his patrol car, the dog ran behind his patrol car and began barking at Officer P. In total, the dog bit three students. Because the dog was extremely aggressive, and aware that there were numerous kids in the area, once the area was clear of car and pedestrian traffic, Officer J. shot the dog. The available evidence indicated that Officer J. used deadly force to protect himself and others from a vicious dog who had bitten three students. Officer J. was in fear that the dog would attack a fourth person or Officer J. Officer J.'s belief that he was in immediate threat of serious physical injury was reasonable.

The Board found that Officer J. complied with APD Standard Operating Procedure Order 2-52-3(B)(1). Therefore, Officer P.'s actions are EXONERATED as to this SOP, meaning that his actions as applied to this SOP were lawful and proper.

Officer-Involved Shootings Occurring in the First Half of 2015

IV. CITIZEN POLICE COMPLAINTS (CPCs)

Any person may file a written complaint against APD officers or employees. The CPOA website contains an electronic complaint form. Written forms are obtainable at the CPOA office, libraries, community centers, and all APD substations or facilities.

Written Complaints were submitted to:

- CPOA's website: www.cabq.gov/cpoa
- CPOA office at Room 813, Plaza del Sol, 600 2nd Street NW (8th Floor)
- PO Box 1293, Albuquerque, NM 87103;
- Any APD substation or facility; or
- Any APD officer on duty

CPC INVESTIGATION AND REVIEW PROCEDURE

1. When the Executive Director (Director) receives a written complaint, the complaint is entered into the IRO's case management database and assigned a Citizen Police Complaint (CPC) number.
2. The Director reviews the complaint for jurisdiction and then assigns the case to an IRO investigator.
3. The Investigator interviews the complainant, obtains evidence, and conducts a Garrity interview of target officer.
4. Upon completion of the investigation, the Director reviews the investigation for thoroughness, impartiality, and fairness.
5. The Director makes proposed findings and conclusions based on the evidence developed in the investigation as to whether the alleged misconduct violates the rules governing APD employees' conduct called Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs). All findings are based on a preponderance of the evidence. The preponderance is based on the more convincing evidence and its probable truth or accuracy, not in the amount of evidence. (be able to show one side's contention is more likely true than the other's) The Director writes a draft letter to the person who filed the complaint, outlining her findings and conclusions.
6. APD Chain of Command reviews Director findings prior to POB review only to ensure timeliness to impose discipline under the Union Contract. (90 days)
7. POB Board hears the complaint and approves or modifies findings, or remands for further investigation by Administrative Office.
8. If the person who filed the complaint is dissatisfied with the findings, they may appeal the decision to the Police Oversight Commission. Appeals are to be heard during POC's monthly meetings, which are televised and open to the public.
9. The Chief of Police has sole disciplinary authority over APD personnel for findings of misconduct, including findings of misconduct made by the IRO.

COMPLAINT DISPOSITION STANDARDS

The Director made findings regarding alleged misconduct based upon APD's Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs). The Director based her findings on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. If the credible evidence was 50-50, the proper finding was Not Sustained. The Director made the following types of findings:

Sustained – Where the investigation determines, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged misconduct did occur.

Not Sustained – Where the investigation is unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

Exonerated – Where the investigation determines, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training;

Unfounded – Where the investigation determines, by clear and convincing evidence, that the alleged misconduct did not occur or did not involve the subject officer.

Sustained Violation Based on Original Complaint – Where the investigation determines, by a preponderance of the evidence, that misconduct did occur that was not alleged in the original complaint but that was discovered during the misconduct investigation;

Administratively Closed – Where the policy violations are minor, the allegations are duplicative, or investigation cannot be conducted because of the lack of information in the complaint.

ADMINISTRATIVE CLOSING OF CITIZEN POLICE COMPLAINTS

Administratively closed complaints may be re-opened if additional information becomes available.

- Informal Mediation (supervisor solution), where the complaint against the officer had been satisfactorily resolved in an informal manner with the help of the officer's supervisor;
- No SOP allegation, where the complaint did not allege any unprofessional behavior on the part of the officer(s);
- Complaint withdrawal, where the citizen did not wish to proceed with any further investigation;
- Preliminary investigation did not find any SOP violation, where after IRO reviewed the officers' actions and evidence indicated that the officers followed APD Standard Operating Procedures;
- Complaints of unidentified officer, because the IRO could not determine if the complaint mentioned any officers or identifiers to further investigate the case or could not determine if the officers complained about were employed by the Albuquerque Police Department;
- Complaints filed without IRO jurisdiction to investigate, because the IRO did not have legal authority to investigate into the complaint;
- Complaint referring to another agency, where the IRO determined Albuquerque Police Department did not employ an officer with the name provided in the complaint;
- Frivolous complaint, where the allegations were neither a violation of SOP nor a criminal act, but a complaint was frivolous or filed for purposes of harassment;
- Incomprehensible complaints, where the IRO received generalized complaints about police, did not have a specific complaint of an officer(s), and no specific allegation was the subject of the complaint; and
- Criminal referral to Internal Affairs of APD, where the IRO received a complaint to conduct investigations into complaints of criminal actions by officers. These complaints were forwarded to the Albuquerque Police Department's Internal Affairs Unit for further investigation and possible referral to the Criminal Investigations Division for criminal investigation.

Following the settlement agreement with the DOJ, the CPOA is now required to accept and investigate anonymous complaints and complaints regardless of the day of the alleged misconduct.

CITIZEN POLICE COMPLAINTS (CPCs) DATA & STATISTICS

FIRST HALF YEARLY STATISTICS	2012	2013	2014	2015
Total Complaints Received	119	135	131	107
Inactivated/ Administratively Closed Complaints	73	66	62	20

Table 1: Case Summary and Status of All Complaints Received and Complaints Investigated in the first half of 2015.

The number of complaints received by the Civilian Police Oversight Agency in the first half of 2015 reflected an 18% decrease in complaints compared to 2014. In 2015, the IRO received an average of 18 CPCs per month. At the end of June 2015, the CPOA had 178 pending complaints. Pending cases include cases that have been fully investigated and are awaiting review of the CPOA, APD Chain of Command, or the Police Oversight Board.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION CONCERNING THE STATISTICS BELOW

The statistics below are separated into two separate categories for purposes of clarity. The first section presents data regarding Complaints RECEIVED during the first half of 2015. The Director completed investigation and findings in 2015 for cases which were filed in 2014, as well as Complaints filed in 2013. This leads to the second category of information: Complaints which were REVIEWED in the first half of 2015. The REVIEWED category is further broken down into: 1) closed cases which have been fully investigated and 2) administratively closed cases which were not fully investigated for the reasons discussed below, which included informal resolution of the complaint, or the lack of jurisdiction to investigate the complaint.

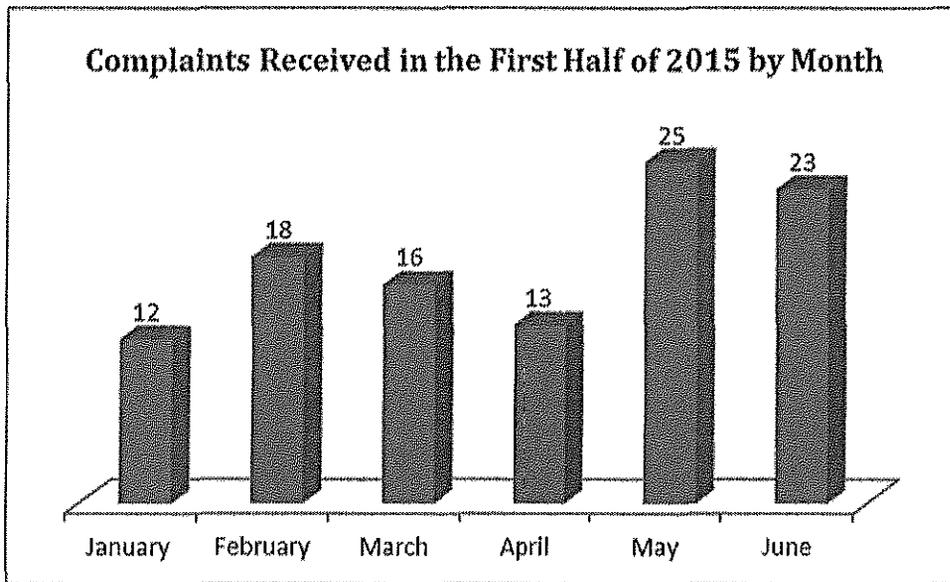

Figure 2: May and June show the highest number of alleged misconduct reported in the first half of 2015.

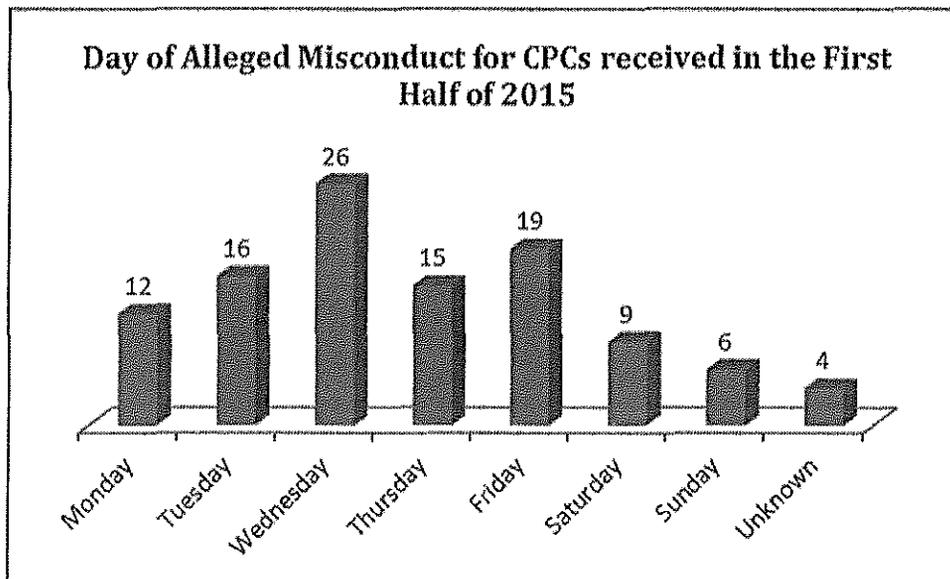

Figure 3: Wednesday and Friday show higher rates of alleged misconduct compared to infractions throughout the week. The day of week is unknown for 4 CPCs.

ALBUQUERQUE POLICE AREA COMMANDS

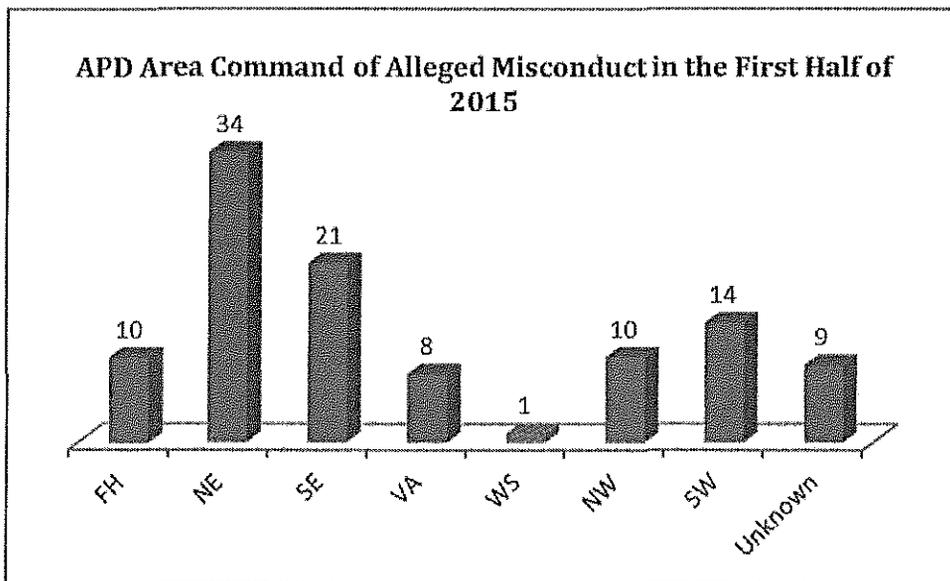

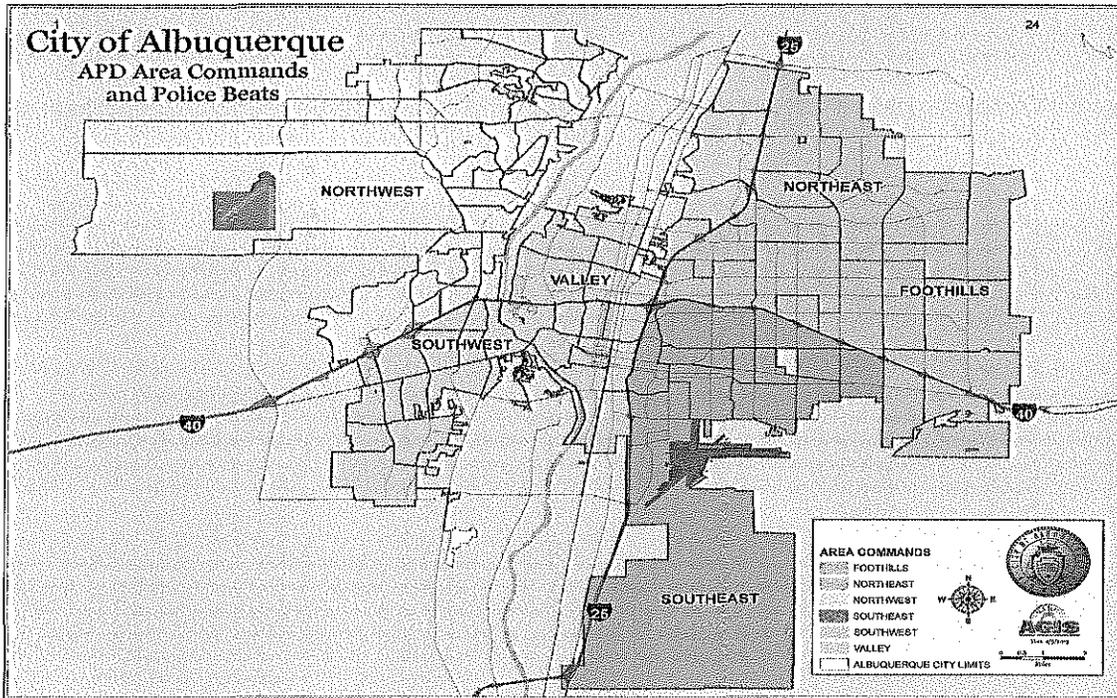

Figure 4: The CPOA office received 107 complaints with an identified APD Area command in the first half of 2015. There were 9 complaints with unidentified incident location (includes CPCs with alleged misconduct of officers in multiple locations, telephone conversations, undetermined location, general complaints on APD). The highest number of alleged misconduct in known areas occurred in the area of the North East area command.

ALBUQUERQUE CITY COUNCIL DISTRICTS

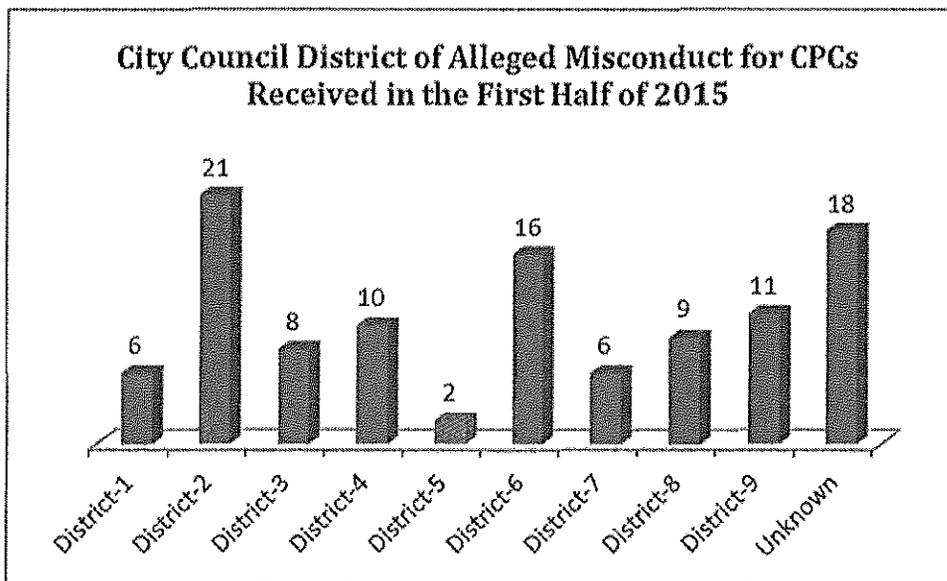

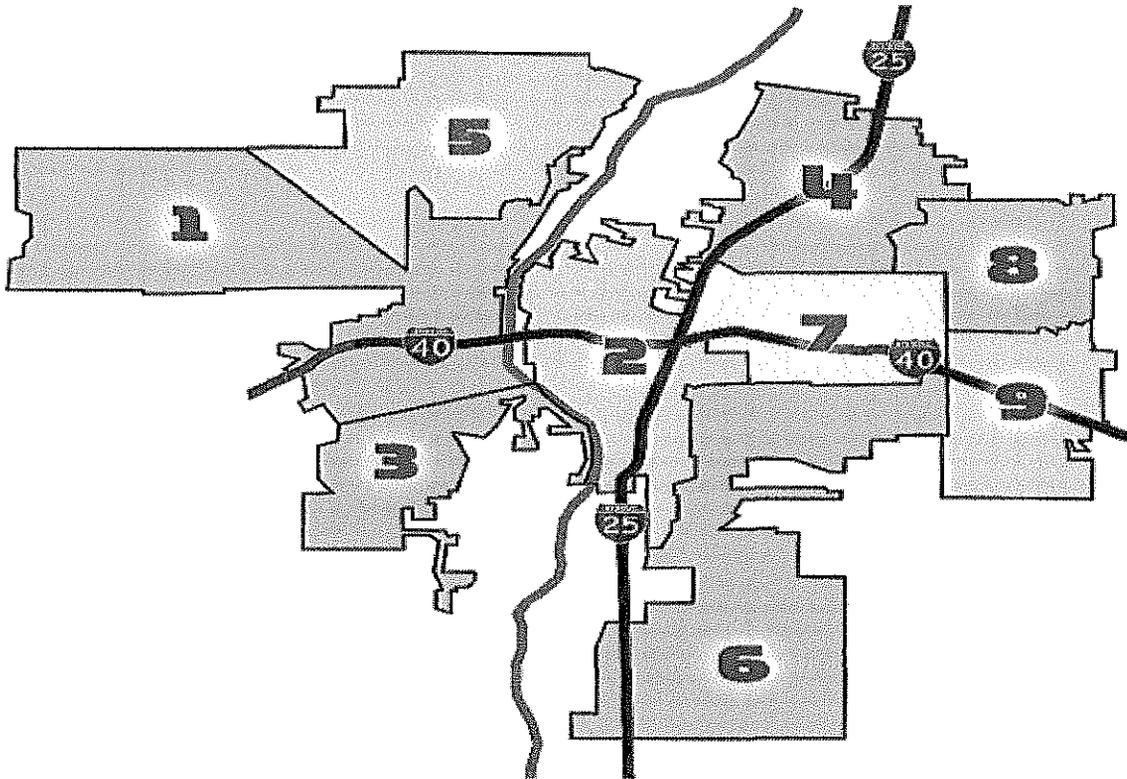

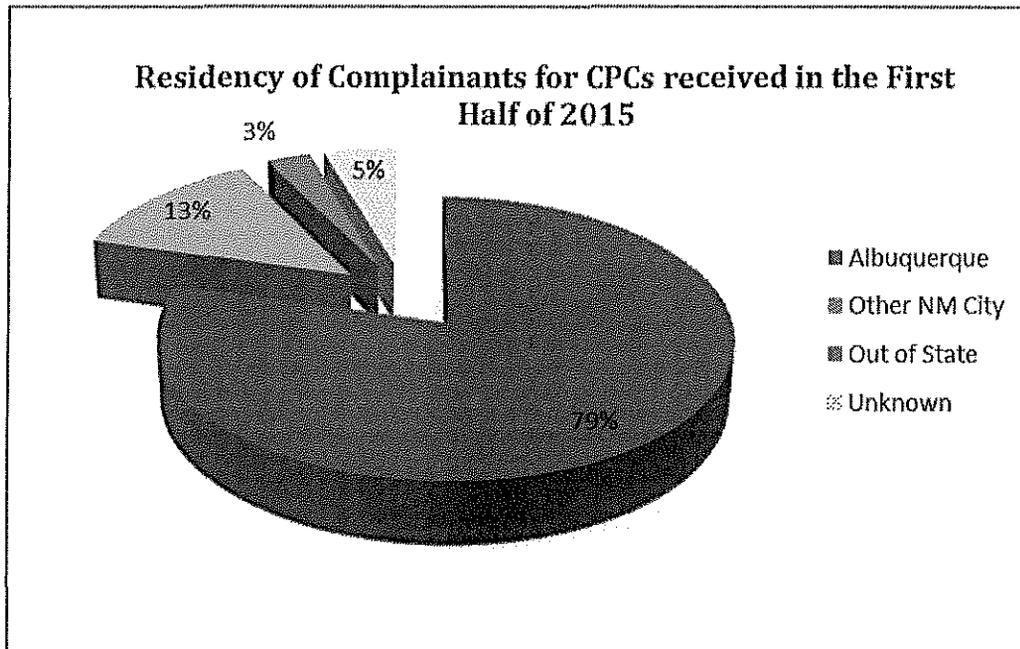

Figure 5: The CPOA office received 107 complaints with an identified APD Area command in the first half of 2015. 18 complaints did not have a known location of alleged misconduct. Unknown districts include complaints referring to phone encounters, unspecified incidents, addresses without district, or complaints without incident information.

NEIGHBORHOOD ASSOCIATIONS and LOCATIONS

In 2014, CPCs were received from persons living in the below listed neighborhood associations and locations. The neighborhood associations are categorized by City Council District.

City Council District 1:	Neighborhood Association: Los Volcanes; West Mesa; Ladera West; Taylor Ranch
City Council District 2:	Neighborhood Association: Barelax; Silver Hill, Summit Park; Santa Barbara Martineztown; Raynolds Addition; Greater Gardner; Sycamore; Near North Valley; Downtown; Near North Valley
City Council District 3:	Neighborhood Association: Route 66 West; Westgate Heights
City Council District 4:	Neighborhood Association: Nor Este; Academy Acres North; Alameda North Valley
City Council District 5:	Neighborhood Association: Cottonwood;

GEOGRAPHIC DISTRIBUTION OF COMPLAINTS RECEIVED IN THE FIRST HALF OF 2015

Figure 6: The IRO office received 107 complaints in the First Half of 2015: 85 complainants were from Albuquerque residents; 14 complainants were residents of cities outside Albuquerque; 3 complainants were from out of state; and the residency for 5 Complainants is unknown.

COMPLAINANT DEMOGRAPHICS FOR COMPLAINTS RECEIVED IN THE FIRST HALF OF 2015

Of the 107 Citizen Police Complaints (CPCs) filed, a majority of complainants declared some or all of their demographic information in the first half of 2015.

Department of Justice mandated changes to collected demographic information were made to the online complaint form on April 1, 2015 and to the paper complaint form on May 1, 2015. Thus, these numbers do not reflect the demographics for all complaints received in the first half of 2015. The Department of Justice requires that the CPOA keep statistics concerning mental illness, homelessness, and proficiency in the English language. Additionally, the DOJ has required the CPOA to keep statistics concerning the sexual orientation of complainants as well as track the manner in which the complaints were filed. Below are the incomplete results of the onset of collection of this information. It should be noted that this information is obtrusive and many complainants are reluctant to answer these questions, which further calls into question the veracity of the data and its usefulness in shaping APD policy. It should also be noted that nowhere in the DOJ findings were there conclusions that force was used more often against persons with any specific sexual proclivity, the homeless, or persons who speak English as a second language, further calling into question why this information is being collected or disseminated. This is to say nothing about the potential release of sensitive information through inspection of public record requests. All of this has the potential to discourage the filing of citizen complaints, which is antithetical to the DOJ's purported goals in reforming the CPOA.

The IRO made findings in 41 Citizen Police Complaints (Complaints or CPCs). This included findings in 21 CPCs with complete investigations. 20 complaints were administratively closed. The IRO made findings in an average of 7 CPCs per month.

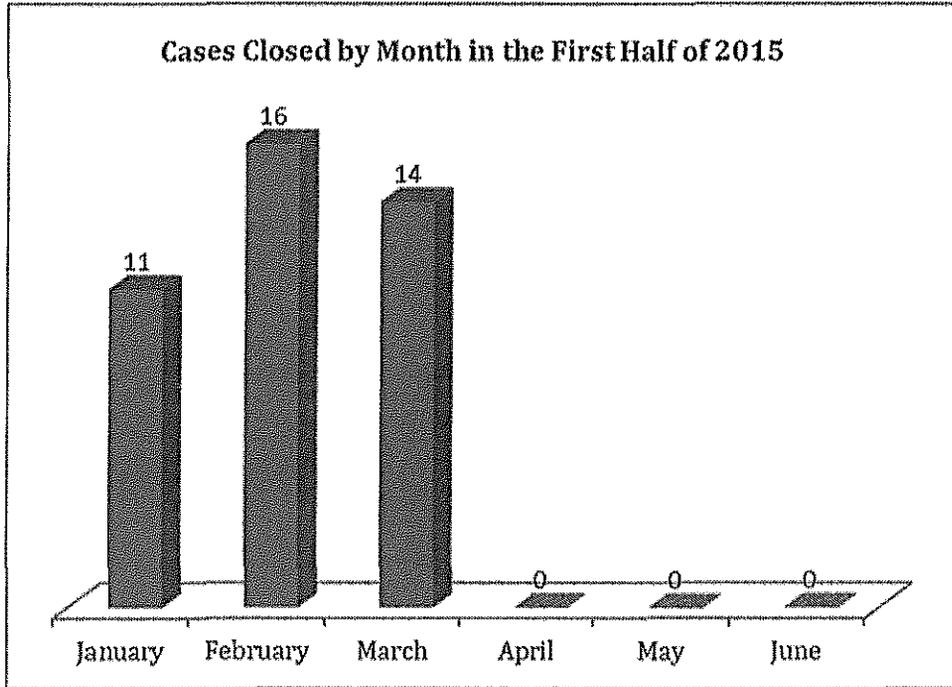

Figure 21: In the first half of 2015, the highest number of CPC findings was in February.

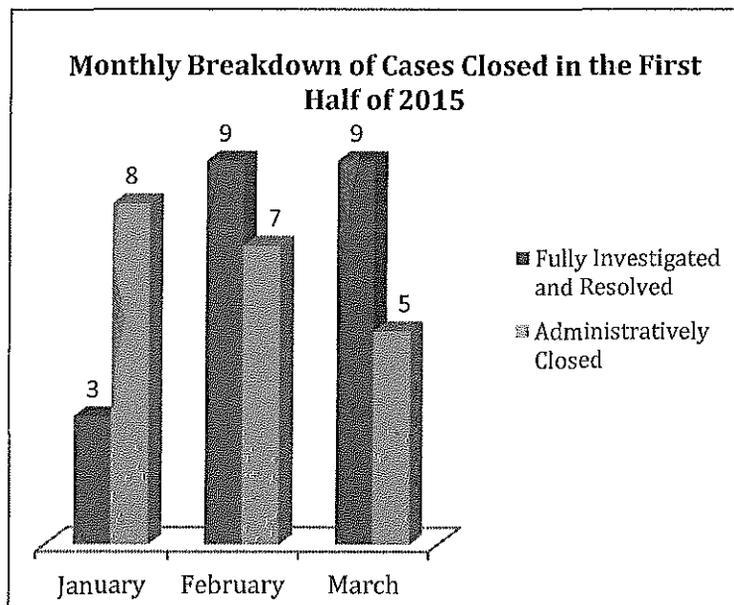

Figure 22: The CPOA resolved 41 cases in the first half of 2015; 21 were closed with findings, and 20 were administratively closed.

REASONS FOR ADMINISTRATIVE CLOSING OF A COMPLAINT

Mediation (Supervisor Solution)

The complaint against the officer has been satisfactorily resolved in an informal manner with the help of the officer's supervisor.

No SOP allegation

The complaint did not allege any unprofessional behavior on the part of the officer(s).

Complaint withdrawal

The citizen did not wish to proceed with any further investigations.

Preliminary investigation did not find any SOP violation

The IRO reviewed the officer's actions and the evidence indicated that the officers followed APD Standard Operating Procedures.

Complaints of unidentified officer

The IRO could not determine if the complaint mentioned any officers or identifiers to further investigate the case or could not determine if the officers complained about were employed by the Albuquerque Police Department.

Complaints filed without IRO jurisdiction to investigate

The IRO does not have legal authority to investigate into the complaint.

V. ALBUQUERQUE POLICE DEPARTMENT

A. Albuquerque Police Department Officers with Sustained findings of Standard Operating Procedures Violations were referred to Chief of Police for discipline. The Chief of Police has sole disciplinary authority over APD personnel for findings of misconduct, including findings of misconduct made by the IRO and the POC.

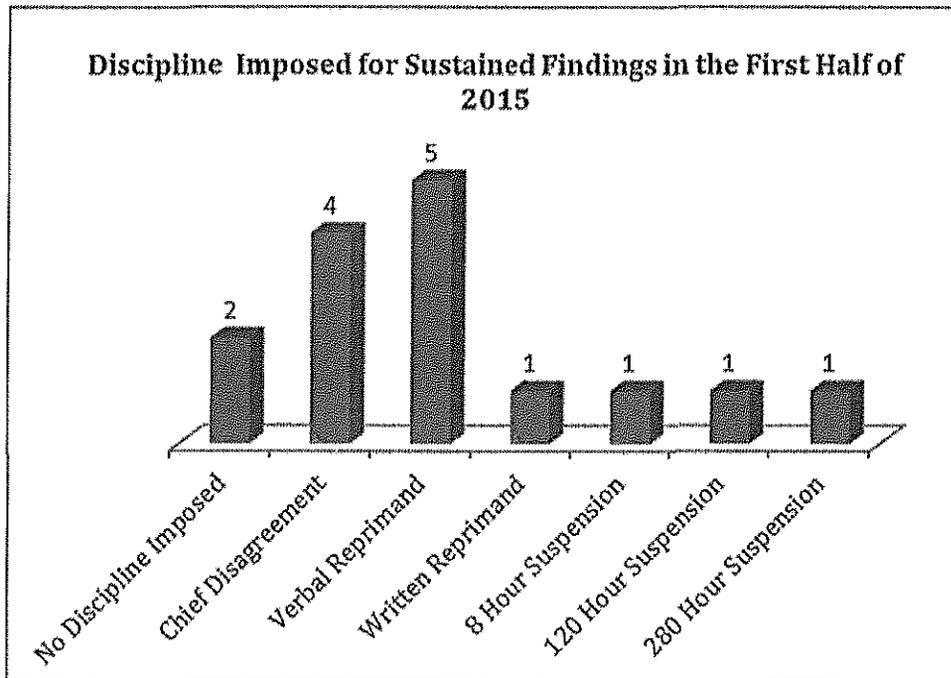

Figure 26: For the 23 sustained findings in the first half of 2015, the APD Chief of Police imposed the following disciplinary action. Some of the CPCs included sustained findings against more than one officer. The highest discipline imposed per officer is represented in the above graph.

APD PRAISES AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

City of Albuquerque residents also contact the CPOA to express gratitude or commend APD employees for acts of service or response to a particular incident. These commendations were received in the form of phone calls, letters, e-mail messages and numerous face-to-face comments of appreciation. Beginning in January 2013, the CPOA initiated a form via the website for citizens to express praises and acknowledgements to APD officers, employees, and the department as a whole. The CPOA received 93 Job Well Done responses in the first half of 2015. All forms were submitted to APD Administration to pass along to the employee's supervisors, including the Chief of Police, for acknowledgement, and a letter of commendation was sent to the officer.

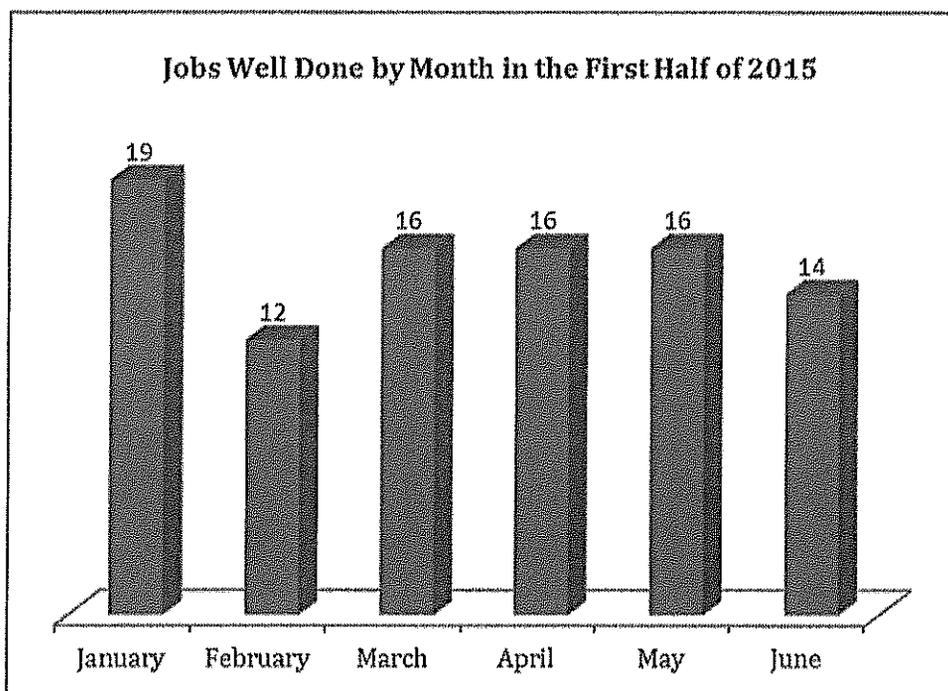

Figure 27: January had the most number of praises and acknowledgements received from citizens in the first half of 2015.

VI. OVERVIEW OF DATA

Since 2012, the IRO received an average of 123 Citizen Police Complaints (CPCs) in the first half of each year. The CPOA received 107 CPCs in the first half of 2015. This is an 18% decrease in complaints compared to the first half of 2014.

The CPOA received an average of 18 complaints per month in the first half of 2015. The CPOA resolved 41 CPCs in the first half of 2015, which included administratively closed and fully investigated cases.

In the first half of 2015, the highest number of alleged misconduct occurred most frequently in the months of May and June. Complainants most likely reported alleged misconduct of APD officers as occurring on Wednesdays. Complainants reported higher alleged misconduct located in City Council Districts 2 and 6. A majority of the unknown districts include complaints referring to phone encounters, unspecified incident location, addresses without district, or complaints without known incident information.

In the first half of 2015, the highest number of complaints were received from female White citizens. The highest number of complaints received was from residents of City Council District 6. Complaints received include 85 complaints from Albuquerque residents, 14 complaints from complainants who live outside Albuquerque, and 3 complaints from complainants residing from another state. These numbers, however, do not include the 5 citizens who did not provide residency information. Most complaints were received through the website.

In the cases resolved in the first half of 2015, Complainants were most likely to make allegations against white male police officers. Most alleged misconduct involved APD officers during the swing shift (3:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.). Most complaints involved officers with a rank of Patrolman First Class and 5-9 years of service.

The CPOA made findings in 41 CPCs in the first half of 2015. This resulted in 20 administratively closed cases and 21 closed cases with findings, which included complaints filed in 2013 and 2014. In addition, one (1) Officer-Involved Shooting was reviewed by the POB in 2014.

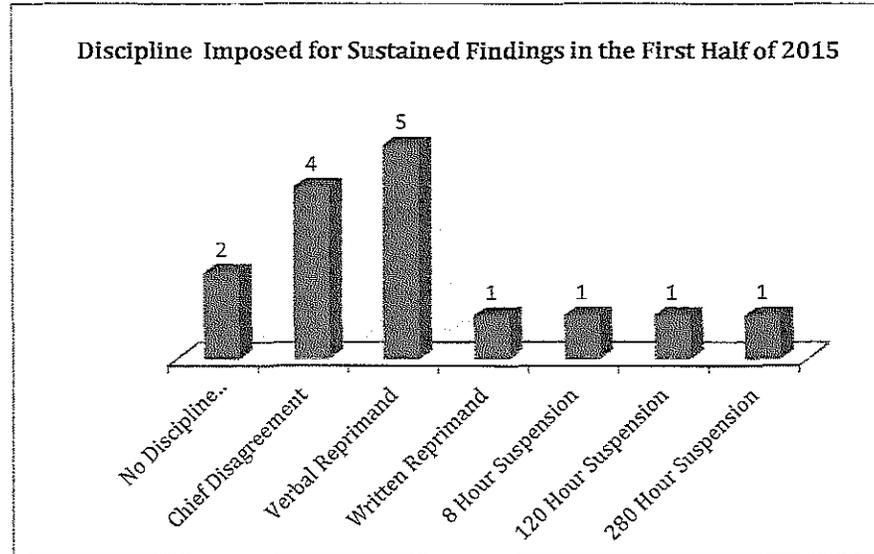

Of the 20 CPCs, the highest number of administrative closings were due to informal resolution through supervisor intervention. Of the 21 CPCs closed, there were 79 allegations of Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) reviewed. In the first half of 2015, the CPOA most likely investigated alleged APD SOP violations on Officer Conduct (1-04), Investigations (2-24-3), and Use of Recording Device (1-39).

APD officers with Sustained findings of Standard Operating Procedure violations are referred to Chief of Police for discipline. The Chief of Police has sole disciplinary authority over APD personnel for findings of misconduct, including findings of misconduct made by the POB. The findings resulted in disciplinary actions and are made part of the officer's permanent record.

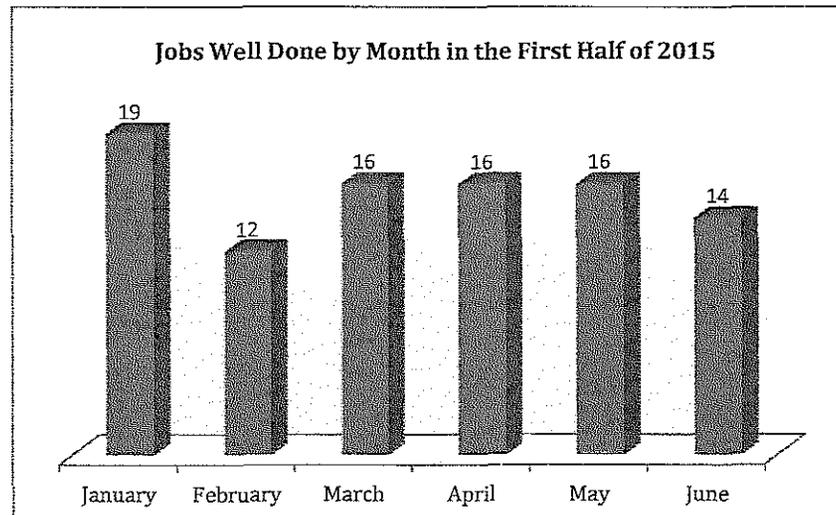

APD officers with commendations from the public were also referred to Chief of Police for acknowledgement. In the first half of 2015, the CPOA received 93 Job Well Done responses. All forms were submitted to APD Administration to pass along to the employee's supervisors, including the Chief of Police, for acknowledgement, and a letter of commendation is sent to the officer.

Our goal is to facilitate meaningful law enforcement oversight in order to benefit all those affected by police conduct. The CPOA office will continue to work with stakeholders to address issues concerning police accountability and transparency at the Albuquerque Police Department. We hope that our endeavors strengthen community trust by giving citizens a voice during this time of change. We strive to assess and improve not only the oversight process, but the relationship between the public and the police force as a whole.

Dear Board Members:

Attached please find the 2015 Semi-Annual Report. It is complete, with the exception of the executive director's executive summary. Once the executive director includes the summary, the page numbers on the table of contents will need to be added/adjusted.

Unfortunately, the combination of CIRIS' unreliability concerning exporting data, along with its utter inability to export data on the DOJ mandated demographic information, forced me to do a lot of work by hand. Thus, I have included the spreadsheets to "show my work."

I have also included a list of the data information I enter/verify for opening and closing cases per Ms. Hammer's request.

IAPro, at least at this point, has almost no ability to report out accurate information concerning the CPCs. These issues have been raised with APD's IT division, and specific documentation to show the program's deficiencies has been given to Rishma Khimji at APD. She is working with IAPro to remedy this situation. My work on this issue has been saved to the share drive under Rishma.Projects and IAPro.

The CPOA data has limited statistical value because of the limited amount of CPCs received. Thus, access to APD's data will be crucial in determining trends and providing analysis of APD's interactions with the public.

Eric Daigle's writings/blog <https://www.daiglelawgroup.com/attorneys/eric-p-daigle/> would be an excellent resource for what data would be the most useful the CPOA in meeting its purpose.

Arrest to injury ratio
Force to injury ratio
Focus on front line sergeant actions (including who is getting their reports in on time)
Civil lawsuit data (settlements compared to injury)
Calls to arrests
Calls to complaints (and separately, calls to IA complaints ratio)
Blue Team should also allow you to focus in on specific types of force (baton, mace) and that should be compared geographically as well
Compare whether calls for service for particular crimes have risen
Compare this data to other cities of similar size
Cleveland just signed off on a similar consent decree/settlement agreement, so it may be worthwhile to follow their progress, esp. regarding use of force

Suggested Policy changes:

Revisions of office policy concerning when Garrity warning is read.
Require officers to affirmatively state whether or not money was found during a vehicle search.
Require the downloading of pictures immediately to a cloud or other hard drive.
Requirement to tag in video any time use of force is used.
Requirement to list all persons involved in tact plan, even training tact plans.
Revise lapel camera policy following UNM study.
Customer service training for officers (perception problem)
Mobile crisis vans with mental health professionals available on all shifts:

Opening Cases:

1. In CIRIS, verify/fill in Area Command, Incident District, Incident Neighborhood Association, Complainant District using: <http://www.cabq.gov/council/find-your-councilor> (must click on "FULL REPORT")
2. Fill out the Excel Spreadsheet cases status list, Fill out the Word case status list. There is a key in the share drive for the excel sheet. Because of Michelle's limited familiarity with Excel, I am unsure if she will be able to maintain that list. There are multiple formulas concerning the computation of time that should not be altered.
3. Then I give the file to the investigator
4. Fill in DOJ mandated info, i.e. sexual orientation, limited English proficiency, homeless, mentally ill. There is no mechanism for extracting this information from CIRIS, so I also keep it in a spreadsheet under Semi Annual Report 2015.
5. I keep a separate list (Non-concurrences, Semi Annual Report 2015) in the share drive because you cannot extract that information from CIRIS either.
6. Fill in the dates in CIRIS when the case moves from our office to APD, or from investigator to executive director. I also do this in the Excel spreadsheet.

Closing Cases:

1. Independently check/verify all demographic information for officer and complainant
2. Fill in allegations, discipline, concurrence.
3. Move the cases on the Excel spreadsheet, delete them upon completion in the Word case status list.

Subject: 2015 Semi-Annual Report

Dear Board Members:

Attached please find the 2015 Semi-Annual Report. It is complete, with the exception of the executive director's executive summary. Once the executive director includes the summary, the page numbers on the table of contents will need to be added/adjusted.

Unfortunately, the combination of CIRIS' unreliability concerning exporting data, along with its utter inability to export data on the DOJ mandated demographic information, forced me to do a lot of work by hand. Thus, I have included the spreadsheets to "show my work."

I have also included a list of the data information I enter/verify for opening and closing cases per Ms. Hammer's request.

IAPro, at least at this point, has almost no ability to report out accurate information concerning the CPCs. These issues have been raised with APD's IT division, and specific documentation to show the program's deficiencies has been given to Rishma Khimji at APD. She is working with IAPro to remedy this situation. My work on this issue has been saved to the share drive under Rishma.Projects and IAPro.

The CPOA data has limited statistical value because of the limited amount of CPCs received. Thus, access to APD's data will be crucial in determining trends and providing analysis of APD's interactions with the public.

Eric Daigle's writings/blog <https://www.daiglelawgroup.com/attorneys/eric-p-daigle/> would be an excellent resource for what data would be the most useful the CPOA in meeting its purpose.

TRAINING OBJECTIVES

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

- Proper documentation
- Proper Investigation
- Proper Supervision
- Understand basis of actions against police
  - Policy Drafting
  - Supervision
  - Training

According to Justice Scalia:

- We now have increasing evidence that police forces across the United States take the Constitutional rights of citizens seriously. There have been wide-ranging reforms in the education, training, and supervision of police officers. Numerous sources are now available to teach officers and their supervisors what is required of them under this Court's cases, how to respect constitutional guarantees in various situations, and how to craft an effective regime of internal discipline. Moreover, modern police forces are staffed with professionals; it is not credible to assert that internal discipline, which can limit successful careers, will not have deterrent effect!

42 U.S.C. § 1983

Every person who, under color of any statute, ordinance, regulation, custom or usage of any state . . . subjects or causes to be subjected, any citizen of the United States or other person within the jurisdiction thereof to the deprivation of any rights, privileges or immunities secured by the Constitution and laws, shall be liable to the party injured in any action at law, suit in equity, or other proper proceeding for redress.

42 U.S.C. § 1983

- To establish a claim under Section 1983, the plaintiff must establish:
  - The defendant acted under color of the authority;
  - The defendants deprived the plaintiff of rights, privileges or immunities secured by the Constitution or the laws of the United States;
  - that defendant's actions were the proximate cause of the injuries and consequent damages sustained by the plaintiff;
  - the actions of the defendant which allegedly caused the injury or loss claimed by the plaintiff were intentional and purposeful

The Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994

42 U.S.C §14141

It is unlawful for state or local law enforcement officers to engage in a “pattern or practice” of conduct that deprives persons of rights protected by the Constitution or laws of the United States.

DLG
DORRIS LAW GROUP, LLC

42 U.S.C §14141

- Statute authorizes the U.S. Attorney General to conduct investigations and, if warranted, file civil litigation to eliminate a “patter or practice” of misconduct.
- The “Special Litigation Section” of the DOJ Civil Rights Division is charged with reviewing and investigating allegations of a pattern of misconduct
- <http://www.justice.gov/crt/about/spl/findsettle.php>

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

42 U.S.C §14141

- “Pattern or Practice” investigations occur only in jurisdictions where there is sufficient preliminary evidence of a pattern of unlawful conduct or systemic practices underlying the misconduct.
- Steps Taken:
  - Investigation
  - Findings Letter
  - Civil Actions / Consent Decree

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

42 U.S.C §14141

- Primary Reasons for DOJ Intervention
  - Excessive Force
  - Ineffective Internal Affairs Systems
  - Patterns and trends of misconduct being ignored or not being addressed effectively
    - Policy Development
    - Supervision
    - Training
    - Discipline

Monell v. Department of Social Services

- U.S. Supreme Court (436 U.S. 658 (1978))
- Monell finds that Section 1983 applies to municipalities and local governmental units when policies or official procedure were responsible for violation of federally protected rights.
  - Failure of Policy
  - Failure to Supervise
  - Failure to Investigate
  - Failure to Train

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Monell v. Dept. of Social Services (1978)

- Supreme Court held that local governments may be sued for damages as well as declaratory and injunctive relief whenever;
- “the action that is alleged to be unconstitutional implements or executes a policy statement, ordinance regulation, or decision officially adopted and promulgated by that body’s officers. Moreover...local governments... may be sued for constitutional deprivations visited pursuant to governmental ‘custom’ even though such a custom has not received formal approval through the body’s decision making channels.”

DLG
DARBY LAW GROUP, LLC

§ 1983 claim under *Monell

- Thus, to prevail on a § 1983 claim under Monell, the plaintiff must prove:
  - (1) the existence of an official policy or custom of such longstanding to have the force of law;
  - (2) pursuant to which one or more municipal employees violated the plaintiff’s civil rights.

DLG
DARBY LAW GROUP, LLC

DELIBERATE INDIFFERENCE

- Deliberate indifference is:
  - A choice made from among various alternatives;
  - A knowing choice, usually made with some state of mind;
  - A choice made with some knowledge or appreciation of what the consequences of the choice will/might be.

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Establish Agency Liability

- In one of several ways:
  - 1. Unconstitutional Policy
  - 2. Decision or Act by Policymaker
  - 3. Unconstitutional Practice or Custom
    - Failure to Discipline or Supervise
    - Failure to Investigate
    - Failure to Train
    - Failure to Screen

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Start with the Policy....

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Unconstitutional Policy

- Establish liability by proving that the alleged unconstitutional actions resulted from the execution of a formal policy statement, ordinance or regulation officially adopted by the municipality.
- An official policy is fairly easy to discern; it is usually found in written policy statements, ordinances, and regulations.

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Unconstitutional Policy

- A policy is an official policy, a deliberate choice of a guiding principle or procedure made by the municipal official who has final authority regarding such matters.
- Model Policies Available
  - IACP and PERF Guidelines
- DOJ Civil Rights Division
  - Finding Letters
  - Consent Decrees

DLG
DARBY LAW GROUP, LLC

Unconstitutional Practice or Custom

- The plaintiff could establish municipal liability by proving that the municipality maintained a practice so consistent and widespread to impute constructive knowledge of the practice to policymaking officials.

DLG
DARBY LAW GROUP, LLC

Unconstitutional Practice or Custom

- To establish the existence of a municipal custom, the plaintiff must prove:
  - (1) the existence of a continuing, widespread persistent pattern of unconstitutional misconduct by the governmental entities' employees;
  - (2) deliberate indifference to or tacit authorization of such conduct by the governmental entities' policymaking officials after notice to the officials of that misconduct; and
  - (3) the plaintiff's injuries were caused by acts pursuant to the governmental entities' custom, i.e., proof that the custom was the moving force behind the constitutional violation

DLG
DAMES LAW GROUP, LLC

Failure to Discipline or Supervise

- Liability may attach if there is sufficient evidence that a custom or policy encouraged the officer to believe that he could commit unconstitutional acts with impunity and, thus, have the explicit or tacit approval of the Department or its policymakers.
- A municipality may be liable where the municipalities' failure to supervise or discipline its officers amounts to a policy of deliberate indifference.

DLG
DAMES LAW GROUP, LLC

SERGEANT

DLG
DANGLE LAW GROUP, LLC

Areas of Concern

- Span of Control
  - an adequate number of supervisors are deployed in the field to provide supervision consistent with generally accepted professional standards. (1-8, 1-10)

- Unity of Command
  - Supervisors of field operation, investigation, and specialized units should provide daily field presence and maintain an active role in unit operations.

DLG
DANGLE LAW GROUP, LLC

Failure to Adequately Investigate

- Sergeants may be held liable if they fail to conduct adequate investigations.
- Difficulties investigating the actions of those you have worked with for years and developed social and professional friendships.
- Sergeants must conduct a complete and objective investigation.
- Internal Affairs and Use of Force Investigations

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Failure to Discipline

- Failure to Discipline is a common theory of liability against a sergeant.
- If a sergeant has knowledge of an officer's misconduct, but failed to take corrective action, he may be held liable.
- Shaw v. Stroud 13 F.3d 791 (1994)
  - Fourth Circuit- Example
  - 1st Sgt- Ignored complaints of pervasive violent propensities harassing complainants.
  - 2nd Sgt- ride w/ officer, counseling, reporting

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Supervisory Liability- Con't

- Liability of a supervisor may only attach pursuant to Section 1983, if:
  - (1) the supervisory official, after learning of the violation, failed to remedy the wrong;
  - (2) the supervisory official created a policy or custom under which the constitutional practice has occurred or allowed such a policy or custom to continue; or
  - (3) the supervisory official was grossly negligent in managing the subordinates who caused the unlawful condition or event.

DLG
DAVID LAW GROUP, LLC

Supervisory Liability- Con't

- The plaintiff must produce evidence to support his claim that the supervisor knew of the alleged conduct, that there existed a policy or custom under which unconstitutional practices occurred, or that he was grossly negligent in managing his officers

DLG
DAVID LAW GROUP, LLC

Supervisory Liability- Con't

- In view of the extensive discovery that necessarily results from a claim of municipal liability under Monell, there should be evidence of a municipality's policy beyond a mere single, isolated incident.
- A plaintiff must typically point to facts outside his own case to support his allegation of a policy on the part of the municipality

DLG
DAGUE LAW GROUP, LLC

Supervisory Liability- Con't

- Police agencies approach to reducing liability as proactive, active or reactive.
  - Proactive Approach- Commitment to the selection and hiring of high quality candidates; along with sound policy and proper training
  - Active Approach- direct supervision
  - Reactive Approach- discipline, remediation, evaluation, analysis, audits and inspections to expose deficiencies.

DAGUE LAW GROUP, LLC

Failure to Train

- The plaintiff must identify the particular deficiency in the training program of the Police Department and how that alleged deficiency caused his injury.
- The alleged deficiency in the training must be closely related to the alleged injury.

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

City of Canton v. Harris

389 U.S. 378 (1989)

- Held: Municipalities have an affirmative duty to train employees in core tasks.
- Inadequate law enforcement training may form the basis for a civil rights claim where the failure to train amounts to deliberate indifference to the rights of persons whom the police come into contact with.

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

City of Canton v. Harris

389 U.S. 378 (1989)

- The focus must be on the adequacy of a training program in relation to the duties the officers are expected to perform and the identified deficiency, in a city's training program.
- This will occur when the need for more or different training is so obvious, and the inadequacy so likely to result in the violation of constitutional rights, that the policymakers of the city can reasonably be said to have been deliberately indifferent to the need.

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Training

- Davis v. Mason County, 927 F.2d 1473 (9th Cir. 1991)
  - The inadequacy of the training program, which represented the county's official policy, constituted a deliberate indifference to the rights of others, as a matter of law.
- Munger v. City of Glasgow,
227 F.3d 1082 (9th Cir. 2000)
  - Is not enough for an agency to merely have a policy that governs officers actions; the agency must train the officers on the policy to effectively avoid liability.

Your duty to provide training for peace officers is not, in any way, mitigated by the lack of funds to reimburse your department for such training.

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Failure to Screen

- The final way in which the plaintiff could establish municipal liability is by proving that the City failed to screen an officer during the hiring process.
- A plaintiff seeking to impose liability on a municipality for failure to screen carries an onerous burden.

Risk Management System

- Collect and record the following information:
  - All uses of force
  - Canine bite ratios
  - Injuries to prisoners
  - Cover charges
  - Firearm Discharges
  - Complaints
  - Civil law suits
  - Criminal Proceedings
  - Vehicle Pursuits
  - Incidents involving the pointing of a firearm
  - Disciplinary action taken against an officer

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Police Misconduct Protection

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Seven-Layered Liability Protection System

- 1. Policy and procedure
- 2. Training
- 3. Supervision
- 4. Performance Management
- 5. Review and Revision of Policy
- 6. Legal Support and Update
- 7. Investigation and evidence

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Policy and Procedure

- Agencies must develop sound policy based upon professional thinking, court decisions and statutes.
- Policy is to be developed and issued in anticipation of the foreseeable field incidents that officers can reasonably be expected to encounter
- Ten to twelve high risk/critical task policies in law enforcement that lead to 99% of liability.
Need to know

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Training

- “Policy is only as effective as the training in the substance and requirements of that policy. If training is weak, unfocused or nonexistent, then the policy will not be followed.”
- Once policy is issued- Training must occur in the substance of that policy.
- Recommended method is hypothetical scenarios that would indicate the policy.

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Supervision

- Supervision should take a positive approach.
- Supervision’s focus should be on “supporting superior performance rather than trying to catch someone doing something wrong.”
  - Officers who are observed following policy should be commended.

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Performance Management

- Performance management requires a total commitment to the selection of qualified personnel, initial and continuous attention to performance planning and then to regular performance evaluation.
- Supervisors must discipline when they discover that a “properly trained” employee has violated policy.

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Review and Revision

- A department must constantly review internal as well as external information in order to ensure quality performance and liability avoidance.
- Be aware of patterns- Notice
  - Internal affairs
  - Civilian complaints
  - Lawsuits
  - Use of force and injury patterns
  - Criminal charges

DLG
DANIEL LAW GROUP, LLC

Review and Revision- Con't

- Policy-makers must stay abreast of changes in the law:
  - Legal Cases
  - Statutory updates
  - Contemporary research
  - Literature relating to policing.

DLG
DARRELL LAW GROUP, LLC

Legal Counsel and Update

- New Trend- Legal Advisor
  - Lack of resources
  - Town Attorney
- Legal Update
  - Once a law is clearly established by a court decision or legislative enactment, agencies within the jurisdiction of the court will be charged with knowledge of the new law.

Dear Candidates: (BCC'd in this email)

The POB spent quite a long time last night considering candidates. Our top three are very closely matched. We decided that we want to spend some time checking references and having the City do employment verifications and criminal history checks, we will then reconvene at another special meeting on Tuesday, August 4th, at 5 pm, in order to review reference checks and take a vote to rank the candidates. There is no need for candidates to attend this meeting. I will contact you with our final decision.

City Council staff indicated that they would not likely be able to approve a candidate on August 3rd anyway, so we decided to spend this time on reference, employment and background checks, and ask Council to do final consideration at their meeting of August 17th.

The POB takes our responsibility to select the next Executive Director of the CPOA very seriously, and we want to ensure that we are selecting someone who will be able to move the community forward in a positive direction with respect to civilian oversight.

If any of you have given this position further reflection and have changed your mind and would NOT be amenable to accepting this position if called upon, please let me know right away. We want to confidently submit the top three ranked names to Council, knowing that they could select anyone off that list and we would have our new Executive Director.

If you have any questions or need to chat, please feel free to call me at [REDACTED] (cell) or 505-554-2968 (office). I am teaching much of today to a statewide group of professionals, so I will have limited availability until after 4:30 today. The other person to call with questions would be our Independent Counsel, Mark T. Baker. Mr. Baker is included on this email if you wish to contact him, or his cell is [REDACTED]

Thank-you again for your willingness to serve our community in this position. -Beth

All: Candidate Robin Dozier Otten withdrew her name from consideration today, as she has accepted another position (as CEO of a company, I think, but I'm not sure). I'm glad that she selected the position that she's happiest with.

That leaves us a total of 5 candidates, all of whom are qualified, so we'll pick our top three this evening and get this thing moving forward in the right direction.

Jeannette Baca and Eric Cruz will not be attending this evening, sadly, so there will be 7 of us. It's very important that everyone else attend this evening.

Thanks all of you, for your commitment to this endeavor of Civilian Oversight. In some ways we could say "don't quit now, we're so near the end", but it's really "don't quit now, we're no near the beginning". We have all invested huge amounts of time and energy in laying the groundwork for this process, this is the part where it starts to pay off and we can actually do the work that we signed up to do.

Thanks again, -B

Hi, Leonard and Joanne --

Here are the case numbers we'll review tomorrow. Note that there are likely more of them than we'll tend to do in any one meeting, but that's because the grouping I've chosen for tomorrow is relatively simple. Please don't be put off by the sheer number (33) (!) -- they are all "Administratively Closed" cases/letters that must go out, and so they are each only 1-2 pages.

The idea here is to get a good sense of how the process should work regardless of which sort of case/s we're looking at, and to start with a simple grouping first. This allows us to 1) both practice and refine our process, 2) consider research categories, AND 3) with full Board approval, to get a good number of "backlogged" citizen letters out the door efficiently.

In the future, of course, we won't be dealing with a "backlog," but until we're out of the woods on that, we'll probably have three sets of material to work with each month: 1) special cases requiring immediate attention, 2) regular (b)monthly cases, and 3) backlogged cases.

For this meeting, I think it will be helpful for us to look at one "special case" (more on that in a subsequent email) and a handful of backlogged cases. Here are the backlogged groupings/types I'm hoping to cover tomorrow, and the case numbers. You'll be able to review these in the Dropbox (let me know if you have any trouble at all), and tomorrow we'll also have hard copies.

[Note that sometimes the "Sub-types" will bleed categories; that is, "Driving complaints" may be a type we're looking at on their own at some point, but here, they have been categorized as "Administratively Closed," because the complaint was about driving, but the complaint was also administratively closed.]

Please provide the following information:

Name: Edna Frances Sprague
Firm/Employer: Second Judicial District Attorney's Office
Address: 520 Lomas Blvd. NW, Albuquerque, NM 87102
Phone: 505-222-1245 work / [REDACTED] cell

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

I think there are multiple goals, but most importantly the CPOA must create a safe, trusted, and transparent avenue for citizens to participate in relationship building between the Albuquerque Police Department and the community.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

As a prosecutor I face a particularly challenging array of ethical issues. I have a duty to the citizens of the State, the Defendants and the victims of enumerated violent crimes under the Victim's of Crime Act. Often those 3 duties can hold competing interests. Ultimately I have to hold the defendant's constitutional rights in highest regard. I have had situations where I believe that a violent crime has occurred yet I am unable to prove it beyond a reasonable doubt. It is difficult to walk away from a case when you believe someone has committed a crime, but you know you cannot prove it. Yet, I must. I can think of a lot of specific instances of these types of conflicts and am happy to describe those in further detail. Another challenge, and this goes along with what I have discussed above, is the importance of setting my ego aside in the face of the reality of criminal prosecution and the burden of proof.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

I became the supervisor of a 15-person division after the previous deputy district attorney resigned suddenly. I was not much prepared for the job, but learned as I went. The hardest challenge I have faced is making a decision or reacting in a certain way and then seeing, in hindsight, that I was wrong. How do I fix that with the employee without eroding trust? I can think of multiple times when I've made incorrect assumptions or handled something ineffectively. Part of growing has been acknowledging to myself my mistakes and then trying to instill trust in the face of that admission. In each case I have acknowledged my mistake, apologized, corrected my own behavior and committed to learn something from my mistake. I've done this in the most transparent way I know how so that the employee sees that I have a stake in the outcome and that I want to be held accountable.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

One was a double homicide case where, after almost 3 years of litigation, the defendant entered into a plea agreement calling for a life sentence. The case was fraught with many challenges that required me to constantly assess my position and role in the case as a prosecutor. The victims were members of the same family and the defendant was one of the victim's boyfriend. Emotions ran high and the case pleaded on the eve of trial. Ultimately I believe the defendant pleaded because I showed him some compassion by returning to him some sentimental personal property that had been seized during the investigation. I am also proud of the work I did on a violent rape case. Initially the victim was uncooperative – the result of the severe trauma she suffered. I worked the case and gave her as much time as I could to heal and eventually she became cooperative. I am exceedingly proud of how far she has come and the strength she has shown since the case beginnings.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

Investigations can be tricky because relevant items or facts are not necessarily readily apparent. My style is to look at things as a target – with the incident in question at the center and each ring outward forming the different realms of relevance. All things in those rings have some bearing on the center issue, but their weight can vary. It is important to be willing to look at all the rings, but keep prospective about the weight to be given any fact. I believe it is important to gather as much information as possible without reaching any conclusions before the completion of the fact gathering. But it is also important to be willing to change your mind if new facts come to light in spite of any conclusions you may have reached. In criminal law one often finds out new information that can drastically change one's case. It is imperative to be able to accept those new facts and react appropriately without holding too closely to the conclusion you've previously reached.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

Specifically, the felony domestic violence division receives approximately 1200 cases per year from a variety of law enforcement agencies. Each case is at a different stage. I have, since 2012, triaged those cases and prioritized them when determining when or if to prosecute. In 2012 when I began the task, we had at least 1000 cases that made up an 18-month backlog of cases awaiting prosecution determination. This number was in addition to the approximately 1200 active cases handled by the line attorneys. Further, there is no stopping the influx of cases. So the numbers are constantly changing, which requires a real understanding of flow and backlog. I tackled them by starting, simultaneously, assessing the oldest and newest cases for prosecution. In doing so, I was quickly able to get the backlog down to a few hundred cases – that had all been reviewed – pending case prosecution. The case delay was reduced to approximately 6 months from date of incident to formal charging. Cases were quickly screened for acceptance such that any case where prosecution was declined was handled swiftly so that all stakeholders (including defendants) knew quickly of the decision. Every case was triaged at initial submission to the DA's office and then dealt with appropriately rather than simply being placed at the end of a queue and not reviewed until a much later date.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA? To facilitate understanding between the community and the APD in such a way that trust is restored and there is better partnership in the future.

I believe very strongly that there are solutions to the problem this community is facing. The CPOA is one important way to (re)forge that relationship.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

I am capable of making a reasoned decision and explaining my position. This would, I believe, restore confidence in the process for members of the community. I am always willing to change my mind if given new information. This would allow me to have an open mind when investigating complaints. I am not afraid of public speaking and in fact enjoy it quite a bit. I have worked very hard to build trust between me, as a prosecutor, and the police officers I rely upon as part of my job and believe that that trust would instill confidence in the process by individual officers. As part of the relationship I have built with my law enforcement colleagues, I have educated myself on as many different investigative tools I can – including working with OMI, APD Criminalistics, various expert witnesses – SANEs, physicians, etc. I am endlessly curious and inquisitive and enjoy the learning process.

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

The most standout ways in which I have worked with various stakeholders are: being the president of the National Organization of Legal Services Workers Union that represented the employees of New Mexico Legal Aid during contract negotiations; and my involvement in various multi-disciplinary groups and task forces that work to end domestic violence and sexual assault.

During the course of contract negotiations between NMLA and NOLSW we faced mainly economic problems that forced us into layoff negotiations and lead to a new collective bargaining agreement. When being briefed by NMLA's CFO it became clear that there was some type of financial mismanagement that required the federal governing agency – Legal Services Corporation – get involved. This eventually led to LSC oversight of NMLA's grant management. After weeks of negotiations, we reached a CBA that minimized the financial impact to the employees, created fiscal accountability, and minimized lay-offs.

Since I began practicing law, in 2001, I have participated in at least two multi-disciplinary groups tasked with ending domestic violence and sexual assault. One of the main groups was an organization called the Network – which was made up of stakeholders from CYFD, APD, NMSP, BCSO, various medical providers, SANE, the NM Coalition Against Domestic Violence, Enlace Comunitario, Catholic Charities, United Way, the Courts (judges and special commissioners from judicial districts all over the State), and representatives from various district attorney's offices. I am probably forgetting a few of the stakeholders, but suffice it to say they meetings were large and varied. Often there was conflict between law enforcement agencies and victim's rights agencies for example. Initially my role in the Network was as a civil legal services attorney, but later as a prosecutor. It became clear to me that the population seen by advocacy agencies was very different from the population I was seeing as a prosecutor. I felt it important to try and explain that difference in the hopes that the varying agencies could work more effectively together. Those challenges are on going so I cannot outline a specific outcome, but I can say that those types of groups and discussions are crucial to building a coordinated community response to these social issues. I have also participated in the statutorily created Intimate Partner Homicide Review Team – also made up of many of the above listed stakeholders tasked with identifying risk factors and creating best practices annual reports.

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective? I believe the most important goal for police oversight is police shooting cases. Our credibility with the citizens of Albuquerque will never be good unless we can prove to them that we are serious about properly investigating and quickly reporting the findings to the public. The starting point is to ensure police shooting cases are investigated and completed in a timely manner (eg 60 days) and the District Attorney presents the case to the grand jury quickly (eg 30 days). Then the POB and Executive Director present the facts, findings and recommendations to the public at the first possible POB meeting so the public can judge us by our actions. A close second is the serious use of force by APD officers. These need to be quickly and thoroughly investigated and presented publicly at the first possible POB meeting. Both of these are critical to winning the trust of the citizens of Albuquerque by showing the openness of this new police oversight system. Then we must accept public input.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome. After a year as IRO, I had an APD lieutenant call me and tell me that she had very important information about some misconduct by the Chief of Police. She wanted to talk to me about it, but wanted my assurance that I would not tell anyone, because she feared retaliation. I gave her that assurance but had no legal authority to promise confidentiality or treat her as a "Whistleblower". She and I had long discussions on these issues. She told me the Chief had just changed the findings on two police shooting cases and one Citizen Police Complaint from Sustained to Exonerated. After much agonizing and study of the APD Standard Operating Procedures, she decided to go to the Chief and tell him that she had told me this information and she thought his actions were wrong. I presented this information to the Police Oversight Commission at our publicly televised meeting and answered questions from reporters. This began the journey of discovery that led to significant changes in the original POC Ordinance.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why. The Mayor asked me to do an independent investigation of the Evidence Room controversy that was front page news for several days. This was outside the Police Oversight Ordinance, but I accepted the challenge. Not only was this a very politically charged controversy, but it also stretched our limited resources of only two investigators. We were tasked to quickly complete this massive investigation of the Evidence Room problems, while at the same time providing citizens with timely investigations of their complaints. The Mayor approved my hiring of additional investigators. I contacted and hired former Independent Counsels (the previous police oversight attorneys) and an independent investigator I had hired for the Iraq war demonstration cases. Thanks to all these investigators, we were able to interview numerous APD employees in a timely manner, seize an APD computer for evidence, obtain all emails from the public Safety Director, APD Chief and Deputy Chiefs, captains, and all others involved. We made and sustained significant findings which were supported by the evidence and the Mayor was able to act decisively, make the investigation public and order corrections of the problem areas.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why? Several months into the IRO job, the Iraq war started. There were numerous demonstrations by Albuquerque citizens against the war. APD responded to attempt to control the demonstrations and ensure they were peaceful. We immediately received dozens of citizen complaints against the use of force by APD. Again, we were stretched thin with only two investigators to try to get this controversial case completed quickly and thoroughly while continuing to complete the other citizen complaints within the required time frames. I am especially proud of this case because we provided APD not only with the facts of all the complaints, but also with a guide on how to handle the next demonstrations. We did not have any other large scale demonstrations while I was IRO, but I hope APD learned from our extensive recommendations.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy. My investigative philosophy is very simple. We investigate the entire incident complained about thoroughly and quickly. We don't investigate just the issue complained about. We investigate the entire course of conduct and anything else that is discovered during the course of the investigation. A citizen might complain about the use of force, but if we find other issues raised by the evidence of any other APD policy or procedure violations, we investigate them as well. Every issue the evidence raises will be investigated to its conclusion. All findings are based on a preponderance of the credible evidence.

6. The CPOA as an organization has been through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward? That is exactly the same situation I inherited when I became IRO in 2002. The previous IRO did not have her contract renewed and the position was vacant for several months. As soon as I was appointed by the Mayor and approved by City Council, I directed Internal Affairs to send all cases that had not been completed to our office for review and investigation. Some cases had to be reinvestigated. In one case, Internal Affairs had referred the investigation out of their office and to the sergeant of the area command in which the person complained about was the sergeant's captain and superior. My reinvestigation of this case created a controversy with APD and the APOA. I dealt with that and all other issues personally, so my investigators could maximize the number of citizen complaints that they could investigate. Investigating cases was their sole duty and our goal was to eventually be able to investigate all citizen complaints and not have Internal Affairs investigate any of those complaints. This was to establish our credibility with the citizens of Albuquerque. The new Ordinance is far superior to the previous one. The Executive Director's job has changed for the better and the CPOA has been given more resources. I will be able to hit the ground running with little to no learning curve.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA? With the enhanced funding and a full time staff person dedicated to community outreach, the CPOA has the potential to become the model for other cities. The POB will prove to the citizens of Albuquerque that the POB can be trusted to provide meaningful civilian oversight of APD. Citizen comments and input will be solicited and heard regularly in many different forums all across the city. POB members will become the best trained independent oversight body in the country. The publicly televised hearings will prove their fairness and impartiality to the public and APD. The POB will attend the Citizen Police Academy, do FATS training in both de-escalation situations and shooting scenarios. They will attend the many new outreach efforts by the CPOA and APD. They will do regular ride-a-longs with young APD officers and prove to the young officers that the civilian oversight system works and is fair and can be trusted. All of this can and will be done to improve community relations and earn the public's trust in civilian oversight and in APD.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve. First is my experience. I was the IRO for four and a half years in Albuquerque. I knew the APD policies and procedures and will quickly learn the changes made over the last several years. My entire career has been involved with investigations and discipline from the investigations findings, as well as systemic improvements.

My last assignment in the Air Force was at Kirtland AFB with the Air Force Inspection Agency. We worked directly for the Air Force Inspector General and at his direction, we conducted investigations and inspections throughout the world. These were designed to improve important issues for the Air Force. During my career, I not only conducted numerous inspector general investigations, I reviewed and recommended disciplinary actions and systemic corrective actions on hundreds of inspector general investigations and inquiries. I also acted as the Inspector General for HQ 21st Air Force in the absence of the general. Second is my integrity. I firmly believe in the necessity for independent oversight of all agencies of government. Inspector Generals, auditors, and Police Oversight Boards are a necessity. You can be sure that you will get the truth from me and I will do what the job requires. I proved that as IRO and in my 30 years in the Air Force. Third, I am innovative. As the second IRO, I started the long term planning committee for the POC, wrote the POC Rules and Regulations that were approved by the City Council, started sending letters from the POC to the citizens explaining the investigation and findings, negotiated changes to the old Ordinance that actually gave the POC some authority, got the jail to save homeless peoples' property when they were arrested, allowed the County Sheriff to appeal the Sustained finding against an APD officer, and did ride-alongs with other POC commissioners on APD helicopters and with SWAT officers. I encourage out of the box thinking and action. My investigators and I conducted a stake out of the APD prisoner transport station, seized an APD captains computer, seized emails from the Director of Public Safety, Chief of Police and his Deputies and other senior staff. We were innovative and aggressive in our investigations to ensure we got the facts and enhanced the system of civilian oversight of APD. Fourth, I am dedicated and will work tirelessly to achieve our goals and meet our responsibilities. Police are absolutely essential to our city and a civilized society. Police have an extremely difficult and dangerous job to do. We citizens of Albuquerque need to support and appreciate the 97% of good police officers. ( I use these percentages based on my experience, not with any cited authority). APD and our investigations need to identify the small minority of officers who are prone to abuse the great authority given to them by our citizens. Review of all use of force cases will identify officers who need retraining, counseling, discipline or removal. We need to protect our officers who want to do the right thing and protect the citizens of Albuquerque. Civilian oversight of police is essential. Long hours and night meetings are a requirement for this job and I have shown the will and capability to do it in the face of strong opposition. Fifth, I have the right personality for this job. I have a very thick skin. I do not take personal attacks personally. I have patience when patience is called for. I spent over an hour on the telephone listening to a very nice lady who was a regular complainant and had mental health issues. At the end, she thanked me for an excellent conversation (I had said maybe 10 words). The area I need to improve on is my lack of patience with government bureaucracies (or any bureaucracy) that do not serve the public in a courteous and timely manner. We are public servants and our goal should be to make things work to help our citizens. It can be done!

9. Is, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome. When I was IRO, the City Attorney wrote legal opinions that stated the findings of the POC were not authorized to be placed in the officers' records or anywhere in an APD record. The City Attorney also stated the Chief of Police could legally change the sustained findings on police shooting cases and citizen police complaints any time the Chief wanted. This was the impetus for the POC to request changes to the old Ordinance. Counselor Winter was willing to carry our recommended changes, but wanted us to sit down and negotiate the changes with the Administration, APD and the APOA. Our first meeting was a total disaster. No agreements were reached and the POC and I decided to leave it up to the City Council. Councilor Winters made us to keep trying to reach some agreement. I was the negotiator for the POC. After numerous meetings and give and take on both sides, we finally agreed to the amendments that were passed by the City Council. The Administration, APD, the APOA and I presented a united front at the City Council. The amendments were passed. I have also met with many community groups including Vecinos United, NAACP, ACLU, homeless advocacy groups, Human Rights Commission, the Vietnamese Task Force, and anybody else who wanted to talk to me. I have never worked with a DOJ monitor before, but look forward to the experience. I was assigned to the Air Force Litigation Division in the Pentagon for almost 3 years. We worked very closely with the US Attorneys in all the states and District of Columbia. I met with the Solicitor General in an effort to get him to appeal one of my cases. Another one of my cases was eventually unanimously reversed in our favor by the United States Supreme Court.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision. You probably want to know what I have been doing for the last eight and a half years. My wife and I left Albuquerque to care for her elderly parents. They were like second parents to me and we had always told them that when they got to the point they could not care for themselves that we would be there for them. My 83 year old mother in law had heart surgery and contracted a serious infection. Everyone thought she was dying, including herself. My father in law had congestive heart failure and was totally exhausted and asked for our help. So we did as we promised and went to live with them and care for them. She eventually recovered and is now 91 and in the best physical and mental health since that surgery. My father in law was in the hospital every 3-4 months and died in 2010. The last 8 years, I have been doing legal work for friends and family. I manage the building and farm that my mother in law owns. My wife manages all her mother's personal finances and affairs and drives her to all doctor's appointments, etc. In 2008, a friend and I started a local charity, Backpack Snack Attack. We started at one elementary school and as donations permitted we expanded to all the public elementary, middle and high schools in Warwick Township (that includes 5 separate villages). We average almost 300 meals on weekends to children in the schools' free and reduced lunch programs. We later expanded to include a summer program to feed these same children. Our annual budget is around $80,000 and the community generously supports us through our numerous fundraisers. We kept our home in Albuquerque and visit often. Our daughter and three grandchildren live in Albuquerque. Our sons and their families live in Seattle, Wa and Chicago, Il. My most important job now is being a good grandpa.

Please provide the following information:

Name: Robin Dozier Otten
Firm/Employer: RDO Strategic Consultants, LLC
Address: [REDACTED], Albuquerque 87122
Phone: [REDACTED]

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

The most important goal for the CPOA to achieve within the first year is to have developed and implemented a system for receiving all citizen complaints, allegations of serious uses of force and officer-involved shootings by APD and to have thoroughly and fairly investigated, reviewed, reported and made any necessary recommendations to the agency board, within the time frames required by the agreement. If these tasks are accomplished, the agency will be able to provide information to the public in its community outreach program that instills confidence that civilian oversight is both meaningful and effective.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

This example concerns a not-for-profit corporation whose board I once served on. I became aware of information from outside the organization that an employee was living with a serious mental illness. I also learned from the executive director that the employee's performance was not fully satisfactory and termination was under consideration. I was faced with the dilemma of breaching the confidence of both the ill employee and the person who had revealed the information to me or risking potential harm to the organization that might result from litigation. I decided that the best action was to advise the executive director, in a way that did not specifically refer to the ill employee, to seek the advice of an employment lawyer to make sure that all policies of the organization had been followed before any discipline or termination was carried out. The executive director received this suggestion gratefully and has made sure that decisions are made in such a way as to show compassion for employees as well as care for the well-being of the organization.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

There are numerous examples, but one that I am particularly proud of the result involves my temporary service as director of the Albuquerque Housing Authority. The previous director had left under negative circumstances and the morale at the agency was very low, as was productivity. Many employees had aligned themselves with one or more small groups that gathered often to complain about various matters and to discuss ways to undermine any attempts at developing leadership. I decided to deal with the situation head-on in two ways: I met with any individual or group that sought a meeting and listened carefully to their concerns and I held meetings of the entire agency to address our plans for building an exceptionally good record of assisting low income people in finding homes and to answer questions. The most important facets of these meetings was for me to tell the truth regardless of whether or not it would be well received and to follow through with anything I said I would do. Needless to say, the situation was very difficult, but by the end of my time there, the highly professional and able board of the agency had been able to hire a new management team and to become an independent authority that is now well positioned to provide better housing, more quickly to the vulnerable members of our community.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

I once represented a legislative candidate before the NM Supreme Court who was being deprived of a position on the general election ballot because of what we believed was a misreading of the election code by the County Clerk in her county. We were successful and she was able to participate in the electoral process.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

Having overseen many administrative investigations during my 12 years in executive government, I have developed a philosophy that seems simple, yet effective: investigations should be conducted by thoroughly unbiased professionals in as short a time as possible that allows for gathering all reasonably available facts and evidence. The results should then be presented to reviewers and ultimate decision makers in a clear and concise written document.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

My background in state and local government includes several instances in which I have encountered situations similar to the one described in this question. The first was in 1999-2002, when I was appointed by the governor and served as secretary of the NM Human Services Department following seven other people who had served in that position in the preceding five years. We were transitioning Medicaid from fee-for-service to managed care and faced an army of people associated with various constituencies who opposed almost every decision that we had made. Gradually, as we listened to many of these interested people and absorbed their concerns, we were able to create and adopt policies that were a better fit for our state. In my opinion, our best accomplishment was being granted a waiver from the US Department of Health and Human Services to provide an insurance product available to persons with income under 200% of federal poverty level at very low cost to the individual, the employer and the state.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

Very simply, to renew confidence among the people of Albuquerque that our police department is operating in a manner that is accountable and subject to objective review.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

Just results—Justice is one of the cornerstones of our national values and it is imperative that the processes of the CPOA seek justice for all involved in our work

Decisive—I understand that difficult decisions must be made, sometimes without as much information as one would wish to have available, but endless delays in decision making can also be destructive

Accountability—The leader of any organization must be ultimately accountable; however, it is likewise important that all members of the organization contribute to the final product and must be held accountable for their part in creating the whole

Expectation of excellence—Having high expectations can be both a blessing and a curse. I believe that unless we expect the best performance possible from ourselves and others, we will only rarely get it. It is also part of this trait that the leader must be willing to educate, train and mentor those who are willing, but not yet able to produce at the expected level

Understanding of bureaucratic challenges—Having worked in several large bureaucracies, I understand that there are inherent frustrations to be dealt with. Knowing that going in makes surmounting them less stressful

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

In answering Question 6, I briefly touched on the experience I will now describe in more detail: as secretary of the NM Human Services Department, I chaired an effort to obtain a federal HIFA waiver to insure adults below 200% of poverty at a cost to the state of less than $25 a month. The members of the working group represented such diverse interests as managed care organizations, other health insurers, provider groups, hospitals, patient advocacy groups, elected and appointed officials and so forth. We worked to design the program for many months with this group as well as officials in Washington, DC at the Health and Human Services Department's Center for Medicaid and Medicare Services (CMS). Although the goals and interests of the members of the group differed from one another, we were able to come together and through negotiated give and take arrive at the final product that was ultimately approved by CMS and became New Mexico's very popular and beneficial State Coverage Initiative.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision.

I look forward to the opportunity to work on this important process for our city and will be glad to answer any further questions you may have of me.

Provide three professional references that we may contact, please include their full name, firm and position, phone number(s) and email address, as well as a few words detailing their knowledge of you.

DUNCAN L. BRADLEY

Law Office of the New Mexico Public Defender
2395 North Florida, Alamogordo, New Mexico 88310

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

The reestablishment of productive and trusting relations between the Albuquerque Police Department and the communities it serves is of first importance. Both the Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree and the October 6, 2014 Amendment to Chapter 9, Article 4, Part 1 ROA 1994, the Police Oversight Ordinance provide important guidance, direction, and operational requirements to achieve that goal.

In that connection, there are a number of things which might be immediately accomplished by the Civilian Police Oversight Agency and the Police Oversight Board in the course of their required interactions with the Albuquerque City Government and Police Department. For example, the development of a process for productive interaction between the Albuquerque Police Department and the citizens of Albuquerque through an active community watch program would directly involve Albuquerque's several communities with the Department, which is something which the Civilian Police Oversight Agency might be able to foster.

Further, advocacy for, and support of an Albuquerque Police Department in-house activities such as the implementation of a monthly in-service training program would be another step in that direction. Such a program could focus on the historic role of law enforcement in the American judicial system (concerning its primary goal of maintaining public peace, order, and safety), professional patrol procedures, professional call response procedures, field officer public demeanor, citizen contact protocols, officer safety procedures, and professional constraints on responses to threats involving an officer and/or public peace, order, and safety.

Enhancement of public awareness and involvement could also be advanced by encouraging the Department to invite direct citizen and media participation in various aspects of such programs (albeit, not all, since as some law enforcement training entails unacceptable security risks and liabilities, and the Police would wish to keep certain matters confidential with regard to field operations).

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

While serving as the Designated Alternate Defense Counsel for Colorado's Seventh Judicial District, in the course of interviewing a client he advised he was going to commit another crime in connection with the offenses with which he was charged, in order to conceal his involvement and generate false testimony.

Pursuant to the specific provisions of the Attorney Code of Professional Responsibility, the Canons of Ethics, and prevailing written standards from the Bar Association, an en camera hearing with the presiding Court was requested, the purpose of which was to ask to be excused from representation of that client on the grounds of a conflict of interest, and that the Court appoint alternate counsel.

The Court granted the request and did appoint alternate counsel. It also recused itself from further participation in proceedings regarding the case.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

While in private practice, on more than one occasion intra-office and inter-office disharmony affected the firm's ability to effectively represent the interests of its clients. The situation was resolved by exercising leadership by example, among other things by inviting the in-put of those expressing competing or conflicting interests and points of view. This approach proved, and has proven successful in almost all cases. Very few individuals, if any, respond positively to being ordered to act or conduct themselves in specific ways. However, for the most part they will respond favorably to an invitation of conversation and exchange of views.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

As an attorney:

Personal satisfaction does not arise from a particular success involving the results of a particular case, but from the over-all results of many cases, those achieved on behalf of many clients. In the course of both private and public practice, the satisfaction felt has arisen from the many letters and other expressions of appreciation received from clients who were assisted in the resolution of the difficulties concerning which consultation and representation were afforded.

As a peace officer:

The successful resolution of a case which involved a serial kidnapper-rapist-murderer (twenty-four known victims) accomplished in the face of official disapprobation by a politician who wished the effort expended investigating the perpetrated crimes to be spent on another, more publically visible goal (the exact rebuke was, "Nobody gives a damn about an East Colfax hookers—we need that jail built!"). As it happened, it was an election year.

The perpetrator was eventually arrested, tried, and convicted, and he last heard (Summer of 2006), he was still serving a life sentence in the Colorado Department of Corrections without chance of parole.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

As an attorney:

Establish the facts necessary to accurately evaluate a case, and determine for the client a course of action, advise him or her regarding the cause of action pending, and create a plan to successfully resolve the matter in the client's best interests with the least expense and personal disruption.

As a peace officer in Illinois and Colorado:

Establish what happened by a careful evaluation of the facts of the matter, and preserve the scene and its evidence to the end of maintaining public peace, order, and safety in order to achieve substantial justice in resolution of the matter into which enquiry is being made.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

In meeting the several requirements of the October 6, 2014 Amendment to Chapter 9, Article 4, Part 1 ROA 1994, and the Police Oversight Ordinance the Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree for the Civilian Police Oversight Agency and Police Oversight Board, an ability to analyze factual material, prioritize goals, and focus effort on achieving specific results and ends would be essential, which ability was acquired by and through:

Education (BA; MA; Certification in Iranian Area Studies and Farsi Language - Reed College, Portland, Oregon; PhD; JD; Diploma - Jefferson County Sheriff's Department Training Academy, Golden, Colorado; Diploma - ATLA College of Trial Advocacy; Diploma - Iraq Rule of Law - Civilian Police International; and, Certification - United States Institute for Peace, Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe;

Service as Legislative Advisor (to a Colorado State Senator, the late James Francis Congrove);

Service as a Board Member on two boards of directors (the Jeffco (Jefferson County, Colorado) Federal Credit Union and the Midwestern Center for Mental Health, Montrose, Colorado);

Service as an Advisor to two Sheriffs: (the Montrose County Colorado Sheriff, four years as a member of his committee for budget and training and representing him to the Montrose Board of County Commissioners and the Sheriff's Citizens Advisory Committee, and the Jefferson County Colorado Sheriff, four years as his Research and Development Specialist representing him and the Department to the Jefferson Board of County Commissioners regarding the Department's annual budget, staffing needs, and equipment and facilities requirements, to the Citizens Advisory Committee for New Facilities, and negotiating and implementing the Department's contract with the U.S. Forest Service regarding the provision of law enforcement services in the Pike and San Isabel National Forests);

Service a member on the Colorado Bar Association's Judicial Advisory Committee: (three years, Denver, Colorado);

Service in Iran: (working with the Iranian Ministry of Education and the Iranian Literacy Corps);

Service with Southern Illinois University's Division of International Education: (working under the direction of the Division Dean creating international education programs, the University's Center for Vietnamese Studies, and serving as Faculty Advisor to Students from the Middle East and as the Faculty Advisor for the International Students' Association); and,

Higher education administration and teaching experience: (Colorado Continuing Legal Education Services; Metropolitan State College, Denver; Southern Illinois University, Carbondale in extension at Menard Penitentiary in Chester Illinois and at the Macomb Community College in Macomb Illinois; Southern Illinois University Faculty Committee for the Creation of Core Curriculum Courses; and, in Iran at the Iranian Women's College, Tehran, Mamazan Agricultural College, Deh-ye-Mamazan, Pars College, Shimran, and the Iranian Literacy Corps creating a correspondence school program aimed at fostering national literacy).

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

The immediate goal would be the satisfaction of the October 6, 2014 Amendment to Chapter 9, Article 4, Part 1 ROA 1994, and the Police Oversight Ordinance the Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree to establish a situation which provides a basis for creating on behalf of the Albuquerque Community and the Albuquerque Police a sound and effective basis for the resolution of complaints through the establishment of the services needed to maintain the public peace, order, and safety of the community while building and maintaining its trust.

The long term goal would be to establish a professional staff to implement the policies and procedures created for the long-term so that the events of the recent past do not again arise, guided by the principle of fostering trust between the Albuquerque Police and the community it serves by means of creating effective training and communication channels.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

1) Education, training, and experience which includes the area of court administration acquired as an intern to Chief Justice Edward Pringle, Colorado Supreme Court and Judge Donald P. Smith, Colorado Court of Appeals (see ¶ 6, supra);

2) Law Enforcement Experience in both administration and the provision of field service;

3) Attorney Experience in both the public practice of the law in New Mexico, and the private and public practice of the law in Colorado;

4) Administrative and Supervisory Experience serving a Dean of Internal Education, as a Faculty Advisor, as a member of two boards of directors, two law enforcement advisory committees, contract negotiator for the Jefferson County Colorado Sheriff's Department with the with Federal Government, and implementation of the resulting contracts for te provision of law enforcement services, instructor with the Jefferson County Sheriff's Department Training Academy reference crime scene preservation and report writing, and service a judicial advisory committee; and,

5) Service as a Legislative Advisor.

The life-long challenge has been to continually work in order to improve personal knowledge, information, and people skills so as to avoid making mistakes in conduct and decision making regarding matters for which responsibility is carried for self and others, personally and professionally, and to communicate that knowledge, information, and people skills to those with whom one is obliged to work and interact.

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

In the course of personal experience, have worked with all such individuals as identified, except for union officials and Department of Justice monitors, while serving on two Board of Directors, two Advisory Committees for elected Colorado Sheriffs, as a Legislative Advisor, on the Colorado Bar Association's Judicial Advisory Committee, while in service to the Iranian Ministry of Education and the Iranian Literacy Corps, while in service to the Dean of International Education at Southern Illinois University, as the Jefferson County Sheriff's designated representative to the United States Forest Service in contract negotiations for the Department's provision of law enforcement services in the Pike and San Isabel National Forests, in the implementation of those contracts and as a field supervisor for the National Forest Contract Services Team, and as Designated Alternate Defense Counsel in the Colorado Seventh Judicial District.

All these situations involved disparate groups of stakeholders with different viewpoints and conflicting interests. However, working relationships have been invariably established, albeit not without some difficulties.

A situation which was especially serious entailed service on the Board of Directors for the Jefferson County (Jeffco) Federal Credit Union, when serious operational misconduct was discovered, resulting in the resignation of Chairman of the Board, a number of Board members, and of institutional employees. Elected to be act as the interim Acting Chairman of the Board, the situation was resolved without the filing of criminal charges, professional Savings and Loan operations were re-established, and a new Chairman was elected. I left Jefferson County employment at the conclusion of the matter, having applied to, and been accepted at the University of Denver, College of Law, and so was no longer eligible to participate in the Credit Union's operations.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision.
11. Provide three professional references that we may contact, please include their full name, firm and position, phone number(s) and email address, as well as a few words detailing their knowledge of you.

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

I believe an immediate need is to establish a simple, efficient and reliable system to administer civilian complaints and coordinate the effective investigation of these complaints. This requires the development of easily understood procedures and guidelines. This will eliminate confusion and assist in the just resolution of civilian complaints. This step is critical in order to establish confidence that members of law enforcement will be held accountable for their actions. It is necessary to implement a well-thought-out system to ensure that the oversight board is accountable, equitable and gives both the law enforcement community and the general public confidence that their concerns will not be overlooked and that they will be treated fairly.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

A client appeared for a court hearing and he was highly intoxicated. Unfortunately, he hid it very well and I was the only one in the courtroom aware of his condition. He was my client so I was obligated to advocate on his behalf and keep him out of jail. I also had to make sure that he didn't do any harm to himself or others. I discussed this with my client and informed him that we needed to address the court regarding his condition. He was angry and threatened to leave. I quickly discussed the matter with the Assistant District Attorney and he agreed that if I made sure that he did not drive we could request a reset of the hearing and not have my client taken into custody. I took the client back to my office. He slept in my conference room for the rest of the day and his wife picked him up after she got off work.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

When I was supervising the Magistrate Court Division of the First Judicial District Attorney's Office, one of my duties was to make sure that we had adequate coverage for the Magistrate Courts in Santa Fe, Rio Arriba and Los Alamos Counties. There were four attorneys including me to make sure that all three courts were covered. This was challenging given the number of cases and the size of the area that needed to be covered. There were courthouses located in Chama, Espanola, Los Alamos and Santa Fe. One of the lawyers I supervised constantly complained about the size of his caseload and what he perceived as the unfair distribution of cases. I sat with him on numerous occasions and attempted to resolve it without much success. I finally hit upon the idea to put him in charge of case coverage. Much to my surprise he adapted well to the new assignment, worked closely with the other attorneys and flourished in his new role. I was able to focus on other needs within the division and could count on him as a reliable back up.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

I represented a single mother who suffered significant injuries as a result of an arrest. Once her case was resolved she used the proceeds to purchase a home and pursue her college degree. I have found that the most rewarding moments of my career are those that result in helping my clients obtain resolutions that allow them to improve their lives.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

Investigation is the key to obtaining a just result. It is a process that requires a patient, step by step inquiry into conflicting and sometimes confusing fact patterns. A professional investigation exonerates those who are wrongly accused and establishes a basis to proceed when the facts point to misconduct. The foundation of effective investigation is developing facts, weeding out inconsistent and false statements and arriving at a just resolution.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

I have been a solo practitioner in a very busy criminal defense practice. I have done this without a support staff for the last five years. I have handled hundreds of difficult cases and clients and have provided excellent service and representation under challenging circumstances. I have the focus to ensure I handle my caseload in a manner that is efficient and effective. I work well under pressure and I am used to handling multiple cases at the same time, all of which will allow me to move the backlog of cases efficiently.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

I believe that the core function of the CPOA should be establishing and maintaining Albuquerque citizens' confidence that members of law enforcement will be held accountable for their actions. Above all, the community must believe in the CPOA's integrity to ensure that this confidence is developed. Trust in law enforcement is the cornerstone of a vibrant community. The CPOA must actively monitor and work closely with law enforcement; when necessary the CPOA must be willing to make difficult decisions to foster community belief in its legitimacy. I have unique perspectives from the several different positions I have held in the legal system, including those of prosecutor, defense attorney, civil litigator and legislator. I have tried many cases in these various roles. As a result of this background, I have developed an ability to work effectively with a variety of individuals. My previous experience ensures that I will be able to fulfill my role as Executive Director based on my current knowledge and my ability to adapt quickly and effectively. My extensive and diverse experience will allow me to define challenges and quickly develop solutions.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

1. Honesty. This is a key asset in establishing credibility with all stakeholders involved in this process.
2. Integrity. I hold myself to high standards and believe it reflects in the work that I do. I trust myself to do the right thing in a variety of circumstances. If you can't trust yourself then you can't expect others to trust your insight or observation.

3. Candor. I feel a direct approach results in the efficient use of a limited amount of time to resolve issues.
  4. Ability to work well with others. Throughout my career I have been most effective when I recognized other points of view and worked with people in arriving at a solution rather than trying to force someone to accept my view.
  5. Sense of humor. This quality has allowed me to see trying situations as challenges to overcome and not as roadblocks without a solution.
  6. I struggle with being somewhat direct in addressing an issue. There are circumstances that require a more delicate touch and I am working on that.
9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

As a New Mexico State Senator I carried and passed the first major piece of ethics legislation passed by the legislature and signed into law. Senate Bill 931 governed ethical conduct by legislators and substantially cut monetary awards and gifts to legislators. There was significant opposition to my proposal. Several legislators felt it was unnecessary and that it created more oversight than was needed. Proponents of the legislation did not think that it went far enough and asked for significant penalties to be attached to the bill. I spent a great deal of time convincing legislators that we were obligated to our constituency to monitor our own conduct and control any appearance of impropriety. I met with vocal constituents who wanted stiff penalties and worked out a compromise to ensure that the legislation passed. This Bill proved to be an important first step in the development of additional ethics legislation.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision.

When I first started at the Attorney General's Office as an administrative prosecutor, I presented cases to the Law Enforcement Academy Board for the revocation of law enforcement officers' certifications. This gave me valuable insight into the function of a board that monitors law enforcement and the challenges a board has in maintaining high standards of professionalism in a sometimes adversarial environment. Additionally, it helped me develop my skills as attorney and help me recognize the fundamentals of good investigation. I have used these skills in my career to direct investigations and as a defense attorney to point out flaws in investigations. As Deputy Director of the Civil Division of the Attorney General's Office, I advised numerous Boards and Commissions on all aspects of compliance with State law and regulation.

Questionnaire for Director of Civilian Police Oversight Agency Applicants
Due July 1, 2015

You may add your answers to this document, or format your answers separately; please send your completed questionnaire as a PDF to alangreen@cabq.gov . The completed questionnaire must be submitted by end of day on the due date or the candidate will not be considered.

For this Written Assignment refer to the Settlement agreement/Consent Decree and related documents available at <http://www.cabq.gov/cpoa> or <http://www.cabq.gov/police> or <http://www.justice.gov/crt/about/spl/findsettle.php#newmexico>

Please provide the following information:

Name: Edward W. Harness
Firm/Employer: Harness Law Offices
Address: [REDACTED] Milwaukee, WI 53202
Phone: [REDACTED]

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

ANSWER: Use of Force is the issue on which the public will focus. What is the CPOA going to do about it? I propose the following:

- a. Within 30 days the Chief of APD must present an overview of the department's Use of Force Training for new hires and in-service training. This report must include a detailed use of force continuum. Additionally, the Chief must present a comparison between APD standards and national standards.
- b. Within 90 days the Chief must submit an action plan to conform with national standards for use of force with a timeline for department wide training.

At the same time the Director must initiate an aggressive media campaign to highlight the work of the CPOA relating to the use of force issue. That campaign must include individual meetings with stakeholders, media availability, and use of social media.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

ANSWER: A few years ago a client came to my office needing to protect assets from garnishment. The garnishment effective date was just a few days away. I filed an action in federal court on an emergency basis.

After the case was filed I discovered my clients had an interest in a business they had not disclosed to me or to the court. Because I filed the case on an emergency basis, the case status was still pending. Therefore, the clients' assets had not been finalized with the court.

Upon discovering these facts I met with my clients and discussed their options. They could continue the case and possibly face criminal charges; and I would file a motion to withdraw as their attorney, or they could voluntarily dismiss their case and find another way to protect their assets.

My clients voluntarily dismissed their case.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

ANSWER: An employee presented a challenge to me. For a time my law office ran commercials on a local Spanish TV station. The campaign was successful and I needed to add a Spanish speaking assistant. My Office Manager and I interviewed applicants and we hired a part-time assistant to answer phones, do client intake, and data entry.

After the employee started it became apparent she was comfortable speaking Spanish in the office, but not interacting with clients. My office manager began to tutor the employee in Spanish to help the employee's confidence.

Another problem developed, the employee fell behind on data entry tasks. I counseled the employee on the data entry tasks, and offered to increase her hours to help complete the tasks. She said she would get caught up and did not need the extra hours.

The employee's interaction with our Spanish speaking clients did not improve. The data entry tasks fell behind again, so I terminated her employment.

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

ANSWER: The legal case I'm most proud of is Feerick v. Matrix Moving Systems, Inc. et.al. I'm proud because I received a fair and just outcome for my client, and proud of the work it took to get it.

The case involved interstate transportation of household goods and exploitation of the elderly. My clients moved from Wisconsin to Florida. The moving company charged the Feericks $20,000.00 more than the original quote (a violation of federal statute). The moving company held the household goods hostage until my clients paid the extra $20,000.00.

The Feericks hired me to help them recover the extra money paid. I filed a claim and complaint with the Better Business Bureau. The BBB conducted an arbitration hearing. The arbitrator ruled in our favor.

The moving company hired new attorneys and the appeals process began. I filed an action in state court to confirm the arbitrator's decision. Meanwhile, the moving company sought relief from the decision through federal statute. During the state court action the defendants through their attorneys claimed the arbitration award money was in the moving company's lawyer's trust account.

The state court ruled in my client's favor ordering the money be paid, and that is when it got complicated. The law firm for the moving company then stated it did not have the money. I filed a Contempt Motion to compel the law firm to turn over the money. The court ruled in our favor and the law firm paid the money from its general business account.

The case then moved to the Wisconsin Court of Appeals. After submissions from all parties the appellate court ruled judicial estoppel was not the correct legal theory to hold the law firm liable and remanded the case back to state court for further proceedings.

Upon remand my clients were dismissed from the case and allowed to keep the arbitration award, based upon the legal theory of equitable estoppel. The case took 5 years to complete.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

ANSWER: It is important to understand investigations of the police have a special nature, because police hold a special place in our society. First and foremost every complaint matters. Each complaint can be analyzed as a management tool for the CPOA.

Investigations must be timely and thorough: Were all the identified witnesses interviewed? Were there efforts to identify additional witnesses? Was a neighborhood canvas conducted? Did the investigation include any photographs or diagrams? Were there any conflicts of interest for the parties involved? Was there any conflict of interest that existed between the parties? Is this a pattern and practice? These are questions that should be answered for each investigation.

My philosophy is to treat each and every investigation with the care it deserves, because each complaint is a tool to better the police department.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

ANSWER: In 1999, the Better Business Bureau of Wisconsin hired me to lead its Dispute Resolution Center during a time of transition. The BBBWI wanted to add mediation as a dispute resolution process, but more importantly the organization needed to upgrade its arbitrator cadre to comply with federal warranty laws and state administrative code. When I came to the BBBWI the arbitrators were volunteers and non-lawyers. To gain compliance the arbitrators needed to be attorneys.

Over the next 18 months I recruited and trained a new cadre of arbitrators across the state of Wisconsin. Additionally, I designed and implemented a mediation program for resolution of consumer complaints.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

ANSWER: My vision for CPOA is that it conducts thorough and fair investigations of both internal and external complaints. That CPOA deter future police misconduct by ensuring discipline in cases of proven misconduct. That CPOA provides a satisfactory procedure for citizens to seek redress for grievances against the police. That CPOA provide fair treatment of officers accused of misconduct. That CPOA enhance public confidence in the police by providing a professional complaint review process.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

ANSWER: Five assets I bring to the position are:

- Experience – My work as a police officer in a major city, an administrator of a statewide organization, an attorney, a mediator, and Vice Chair of a civilian oversight of police commission.
- Demeanor- I'm calm, pragmatic, and decisive.
- Education – BA in Criminal Justice Operations, Law Degree from Marquette University Law School
- Accomplished - Most recently as a Leading Lawyer in Milwaukee for 2015

- o Marketer – I took my firm from $0 to over $200,000.00 of gross revenues by learning how to market. I've done trade-shows, community events, designed websites, and used social media including blogging.

I struggle with finding a balance between work and off time. I'd rather check email or phone messages instead of letting them go until the next day.

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

ANSWER: I am a professionally trained Mediator. My training is in the evaluative, facilitative, and transformative models of mediation. The issues I've mediated have been quite diverse: federal land use issues, discrimination complaints, consumer issues, and employee/employer to name a few.

Most of the mediations I conducted were for the United States Postal Service. These mediations involved union workers, union representatives and management officials. Over 80 % of the cases I mediated resulted in resolution of the dispute.

My achievements and recognition as an attorney have presented other opportunities for community involvement. State Senator Lena Taylor requested my participation in a series of workshops related to homeownership. Alderperson Linda Lubotsky requested I participate in a workshop for the citizens of Greenfield when new property assessments threatened homeowner's ability to meet their property tax obligations.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision.

ANSWER: The CPOA has a big task ahead. My breadth of experience, education, and training make me uniquely qualified to fill the position. I will be ready from Day 1 to assume the duties of the position.

Based upon the current make-up of the committee, not a single member has police experience. According to news reports, there is already pushback from police staff and the police union. My experience shows me a committee comprised of all civilian personnel will meet great resistance to change. I can change the dynamic.

Provide three professional references that we may contact, please include their full name, firm and position, phone number(s) and email address, as well as a few words detailing their knowledge of you.

It had schedules, materials, evaluations, the ability to contact other attendees, networking, the ability to tweet and share photos, recommend restaurants and provide information on activities and sights. Councilors,

(others shown and sent this BCC)

Reference all of my earlier e-mails discussing the POB and the insulting nomination of a former Milwaukee cop-clueless Ed Harness to be the Agency's next Executive Director

My other e-mails also discussed why Judge Brack's chose (with the likely "help" of Mayor Berry, CAO Perry and Chief Eden) as the monitor of APD reform SC's PMR Inc. made up of mostly former cops. This has proven to be a blatant waste of $4.5+ million of our tax dollars as they are powerless/mere window dressing.

Former cop Dr. James Ginger and his PMR Inc. team works only for the uninformed Federal Judge Brack-nobody else and that Brack only requires a report from them once a year.

It isn't surprising that the POB in an effort to gain some credibility is now only "worried" that the changes made by APD aren't public enough.

Merely "worried?" They know that the toothless reform agreement signed by Berry, his mercenary Scott Greenwood. Those in the DOJ who signed it betrayed us merely to avoid a lawsuit against them by Berry.

See last night's KRQE report below. My comments to it are highlighted in RED

For those not paying attention to what has been going on, check out the "background buzz on the POB" below the KRQE report that helps you connect the dots-explain the betrayal of the people here.

THE MOST CORRUPT ADMINISTRATION AND DANGEROUS POLICE FORCE IN THIS CITY'S HISTORY

Albuquerque Police Department citizen oversight worried DOJ changes aren't public enough

By Chris McKee Published: September 8, 2015, 9:57 pm Updated: September 9, 2015, 7:21 am

ALBUQUERQUE (KRQE) – The leader of the new citizen oversight group tasked with overseeing Albuquerque Police is raising new concerns that the public isn't getting enough of a say in the department's federally mandated policy changes. The concern comes from the city's Police Oversight Board (POB) chairman, Leonard Waites. Meanwhile, APD claims it is following the terms of the agreement and that the public is being involved in the process. In a letter delivered Thursday to Albuquerque Mayor Richard Berry and APD Chief Gorden Eden, Waites claims the department is making changes that is leaving the public mostly in the dark.

- Read POB Chairman Waites' full letter to APD Chief, Albuquerque Mayor >>

Waites writes, "Based on the information currently available to me, I understand that the City intends to finalize changes to APD policies — including those that directly address problems the Department of Justice found through its pattern and practice investigation — without providing an opportunity for the POB or the community an opportunity to review and comment on the new policies." Waites continues, writing, "I believe this would be a mistake," while asking for the POB and the public to be able to provide feedback before APD Chief Gorden Eden approves policy changes and submits them to a federal monitor.

When Albuquerque signed its federal agreement promising to change APD, Mayor Berry praised the city council's push to make the public part of the solution through the creation of the new Police Oversight Board. "(City Council has) really taken a strong measure to put the Police Oversight Board back in place, you know, get that to a point where it's really going to make a difference," said Mayor Berry in a November 2014 press conference following the formal signing of the city and DOJ's federal agreement. Since February 2015, the nine person Police Oversight Board has been meeting every month, led by Chairman Waites. Waites' letter is of concern to the ACLU's (WHY JUST THE ACLU?) New Mexico branch in Albuquerque.

"I think the board is making a perfectly legitimate request of the city," said Peter Simonson, executive director of ACLU New Mexico. (SIMONSON BRUSHED OFF THE FACT THAT JUDGE BRACK IGNORED ALL OF APD FORWARD'S PROPOSED CHANGES TO THE AGREEMENT IN THEIR JANUARY 14, 2014 AMICUS CURIAE-FIRST PAGE ATTACHED)

"The community hasn't seen much of what's going on in the reform process and the Police Oversight Board is sort of (JUST SORT OF?) a representative of the community." Albuquerque City Council president Rey Garduño agrees. "I don't blame them for being upset, this was not what the intent was when we set up to the Police Oversight Board. We want a very strong board, a board that is very independent," said Garduño. (INSULTING DISENGENUOUS LIP SERVICE) According to the federal agreement, APD is supposed to "submit any changes to the Civilian Police Oversight Agency" for review. The Police Oversight Board is a part of that agency's function.

APD sent KRQE News 13 a statement on Tuesday, responding to the concerns outlined in Waites' letter: "The Department is following guidelines set out in the Settlement Agreement. There are many ways for residents to submit suggestions to the Department including through the Community Police Councils, to the Police Oversight Board and Directly to the Department. The Policy and Procedures Review Board is comprised of members of our community and the Police Oversight Board." "All policies and procedures must be approved by the Federal Monitor and Federal Judge."—Celina Espinoza, Communications Director, Albuquerque Police Department. (THIS IS ANOTHER INSULT TO OUR INTELLIGENCE-SENSIBILITIES)

APD says the Policy and Procedures Review Board (PPRB) is comprised of at least five citizens and one Police Oversight Board member (WHO?). However, that board does not have public meetings.(WHY NOT?)

KRQE News 13's Chris McKee asked Councilor Rey Garduño if he thought that the PPRB's input was enough. "No, because the body of work, as the council put it out to the Police Oversight Board, is (that) you will be spending a lot of your time to look at policy and make sure consultation should occur," (LOOK AT? ONLY CONSULTATION SHOULD OCCUR?) said Garduño. "They are to be consulted, period." (MUCH LIKE THE APD CHIEF IS ONLY TO BE CONSULTED WHEN POB RECOMMENDS MORE PUNISHMENT THAN THE APD CHIEF IS WILLING TO GIVE. CHIEF CAN ESSENTLY IGNORE POB IN HIS RESPONSE TO THEM.)

APD also told KRQE News 13 Tuesday night that some of the department's policy changes have already been submitted to the federal monitor for review and possible approval. At this point, the department isn't planning to change that process. (WHAT CHANGES? JUST TRAINING? JUST ELIMINATING DARK WINDOWS ON APD VEHICLES? JUST CHANGING THE MOTTO BACK TO JUST

"TO SERVE AND PROTECT? IT'S CLEARLY NOT TO COMPLY WITH IRA REQUEST FOR PUBLIC INFORMATION INCLUDING INCRIMINATING RECORDINGS MADE)

As for the Police Oversight Board, Albuquerque City Council could decide Wednesday who will be the board's executive director. (SEE BELOW)

THE BACKGROUND BUZZ ON THE POB

It's Chairman, the POB's only African-American-Leonard Waites is a Republican currently in poor physical health.

Waites was also the token African American assigned to the police oversight task force in 2013 when another member quit it in disgust.

Waites is a long time perceived blind follower of local NAACP boss Dr. Harold Bailey

Bailey is viewed by many as an "Uncle Tom." He orchestrated the retaliation against Ms. Jewel Hall-had her thrown out of his NAACP

Jewel is head of the Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Task Force for Social Justice and the initial leader of our APD reform movement

Opportunist Bailey then set up (likely at Berry's urging) a new consulting company and got hired (also at the likely urging of Berry) at a salary of $190,000 as a minority partner of the Greenwood & Streicher firm

On the new POB Waites is the puppet of Beth Mohr who is Berry's plant on the POB board.

Mohr was a LAPD cop during the time when LA was forced by DOJ into reforming their practices after Rodney King was shot. Those reforms are still ongoing after 10 years.

Mohr was part of the problem at LAPD, not part of the solution. Mohr's 'solution' was to leave LA

Mohr's accounting business and also domestic partner is Janet McHard.

McHard was a short term fill in as IG for Berry after Neftali Carrasquillo Jr. left in disgust after Berry and Perry wrote a no bid contract to RCI to do much of the IG and their other "special" investigative work.

Mohr ran the Executive Director interviews for the POB-not Chair Waites and gave the media some doubletalk trying to justify making former cop Ed Harness their first choice to be the next Executive Director.

Rumor has it that Waites will fade into the background soon and that Mohr will move into the chair slot at new POB and take control of agency and do Berry's/Perry's/Eden's bidding.

Mohr as a ex-cop is vested in keeping cops from ever being found accountable and punished for any excessive force or other citizen public complaints (CPC)

If Mohr takes over the POB, it will be a more disgraceful group than the former Police Oversight Commission (POC).

Berry's previous private attorney Tourek opined in a 2013 memo that contrary to the Ordinance that the POC had no power and that then Berry's/Perry's handpicked IRO Robin Hammer worked instead for the Executive Branch that included the Police Chief rather than the POC.

Three members then quit the POC in disgust and it was later dissolved.

The comments by Eden's spokeswoman Celina Espinoza in the KRQE report above are yet more insulting lies she tells to all of us as are those lies being by her disgraceful male counterpart Tanner Tixier.

The question is are the Councilors naïve or fools or believe we are naïve or fools and don't see what's going on?

Your brief 10/23 response to me was a disrespectful and dismissive, "They are our host and we are their guests." In your 10/23 e-mail to both of us, you were again dismissive of our concerns.

What Alan Wagman said below to you was seemingly ignored as you chose to ignore what happened at the September meeting.

Your excuse in the 10/23 e-mail to both of us doesn't wash when you said, "I hope you can understand that my choice was based upon location within District 7, its generous space, acoustics and quality sound, as well as their past hospitality to the District."

In my last e-mail to you that expected you would change the meeting to a city community or senior center and also not invite APD, the APOA and Ms. Hernandez, I mistakenly gave you the benefit of the doubt believing you didn't know what happened at the September meeting at Congregation Albert. When researching my past e-mails (see attached), it turns out was wrong.

You and all of the Councilors (as well as others) were in fact provided Bcc copies of my 9-23 e-mails that documented what had happened including the comments also from Sarah and Ralph Arellanes.

In her 10/23 e-mail Nyira Gitana would make the following damning comments that you also ignored.

"Like Donald Trump, that our "leaders" are stupid. Why didn't the brochure participants enter in a friendly, participatory manner - instead of pretending that they were guerrilla warriors of a sort? And now another forum is scheduled at the Temple. Which vigilantes, brochure participants, or guerrilla warriors will take offense at standing in line, or protest anything being said, discussed, etc.? Frankly, the entire issue of the reform process is becoming a circus with the elephants trumpeting

TO: Councilors, media, DOJ and others

Read the attached affidavit from former APD NM IPRA stonewaller Reynaldo Chavez. As the citizen who sent this to me says-the District Court needs to raid APD HQ ASAP.

APD likely had a role in the murder of Mary Han. One cop not only celebrated her murder but "damned to a special place in Hell" in his social media posting last year.

So PMR Inc's mere "auditors" of APD and consultant Greenwood (whatever he does) say that they are really going to change the culture of corruption within APD blessed by Perry and Berry?

Our nine Councilors really don't give a damn that the DA's office when not charging them won't release the likely incriminating video showing that two "hero" cops had murdered homeless Vietnam vet with PTSD Vincent Wood in early July 2013.

The POB now proposes to make a former cop from Milwaukee as its first choice to become the new Executive Director of the Police Oversight Agency and likely the Councilors will approve the cop.

The stench coming out of APD and the offices of his corrupt attorneys and the mayor is suffocating and yet the Councilors don't give one damn.

Plaintiffs,

v.

No. D-202-CV-2012-10367

THE CITY OF ALBUQUERQUE; et al.

Defendants.

PLAINTIFFS' EMERGENCY MOTION TO ORDER
DEFENDANTS TO PRESERVE ELECTRONIC INFORMATION

Plaintiffs by and through undersigned counsel of record, hereby moves this Court for an order requiring Defendants to immediately preserve electronic information by securing it in the custody of the Court or tagging into the New Mexico Department of Public Safety's Evidence Unit for safekeeping. In support of this Motion, Plaintiff hereby states:

1. On October 4, 2011, Katherine Han-Noggle, as daughter and personal representative of the Estate of Mary Y.C. Han, filed a Petition for Discovery with the Second Judicial District Court, Cause Number 2011 CV 09975.
2. On November 3, 2011, the Honorable Nan Nash ordered:

"The City of Albuquerque and APD shall preserve all records, reports, documents, photographs, and any other record or evidence in their possession, custody, or control relating to an emergency call concerning Mary Y.C. Han on November 18, 2010, and any subsequent response or investigation. The City of Albuquerque and APD shall not destroy, alter, amend, redact or issue new supplements to any records and/or documents, electronic or otherwise, to include but not limited to cellular phone records and/or texts and/or photographs relating in any manner to its response to an emergency call regarding Mary Y.C. Han on November 18, 2010 to include any investigation(s) or documents generated.”

See Order attached hereto and incorporated herein as Exhibit 1.

3. At oral argument on July 31, 2012, the Honorable Nan Nash again ordered APD to preserve evidence and produce mobile phone datacards to Petitioner. See Transcript attached hereto as Exhibit 2 at 48:20-22.
4. Deputy City Attorney, Kathryn Levy, informed the Court that “[t]he City has provided the records it has.” See Transcript attached hereto as Exhibit 2 at 19:3-14.
5. In fact, Ms. Levy proposed to the Court that the cellular telephone datacards would be preserved. Exhibit 2 at 29:21-22.
6. Subsequent to the July 31, 2012 hearing, on September 19, 2012, Ms. Levy reversed her position and informed Plaintiffs’ counsel that the data contained on the cellular telephones had been destroyed. See correspondence attached hereto and incorporated herein as Exhibit 3.
7. Ms. Levy also produced an affidavit from Richard F. Campos, city employee, confirming that the City had failed to implement any policies and procedures to prevent the destruction of evidence on the cellular phones. See Affidavit of Richard Campos attached hereto and incorporated herein as Exhibit 4.
8. On August 25, 2015, counsel was informed that the Albuquerque Police Department has utilized an independent database to store information concerning high profile cases and that this database is stored on computer hard drives and backup upon compact disks. See Affidavit of Reynaldo Chavez attached hereto and incorporated herein as Exhibit 5.

9. Included in that database is information and documents relevant to the death of Mary Han on or about November 18, 2010. Exhibit 5.
10. Reynaldo Chavez was the public records custodian for the Albuquerque Police Department. Exhibit 5.
11. It is Mr. Chavez's opinion, based on his employment and experience with the Albuquerque Police Department, that the database will most likely be destroyed now that it is out of his control and possession. Exhibit 5.
12. Mr. Chavez also stated that Ms. Levy had taken deliberate action to prevent Plaintiffs from obtaining relevant information concerning Ms. Han's death and the involvement of Albuquerque Police Department personnel. Exhibit 5.
13. On August 25, 2015, counsel for Plaintiffs' emailed counsel for the Defendants requesting that they agree to prevent the destruction of the database. See Email attached hereto and incorporated herein as Exhibit 6
14. Counsel for Defendants did not respond to the request from Plaintiff's counsel.
15. Plaintiffs have reason to believe that the independent database which contains information relevant to these proceedings will be destroyed by the Defendants (particularly given the history of the Defendants to ignore Court orders) without immediate Court involvement.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully request this Court order the Defendants to protect and preserve the database that is referenced in Mr. Chavez's affidavit and for such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

Respectfully submitted,

5 IN RE: MARY Y.C. HAN,

9 TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

10 On the 31st day of July, 2012, at approximately 11 10:30 a.m., this matter came on for a Motions hearing, before 12 the NAN G. NASH, Division XVII, Judge of the Second Judicial 13 District, State of New Mexico.

14 The Petitioner, KATHERINE HAN-NOGGLE, appeared by 15 Counsel of Record, ROSARIO D. VEGA LYNN, Attorney at Law, 16 1019 Second Street, NW, Albuquerque, NM 87102.

17 The CITY OF ALBUQUERQUE appeared by Counsel of Record,
18 KATHRYN LEVY, City of Albuquerque Legal Department, P.O. Box
19 2248, Albuquerque, NM 87103.

20 At which time the following proceedings were had:
21
22
23
25

1 THE COURT: But I think there's some idea what 2 they're going for.

3 MS. LEVY: But that's the problem, Your Honor, some 4 idea. And the rule, itself, talks about a verified petition
5 stating what the prongs of making their claim is. We have 6 gone above and beyond in providing everything that both the 7 Court ordered and what we ordered. Now I'm hearing that,
8 somehow or other, personal records should be provided. As I
9 stated, the cases are not on point. There is no lawsuit
10 filed. There is no way for these individuals on their 11 personal cell phones, whether used for business or not, to 12 determine whether they need to file an objection. The City
13 has been the respondent. The City has provided the records 14 it has.)

15 It's fascinating to me that we have the respondent
16 can say that Chief Schultz received eight phone calls or 17 eight calls were made to his number. Well, none of those 18 records say what the calls were about, so she has that 19 information. Calls were made to the chief. He was out of 20 town. Simply looking at one more log to say phone calls were 21 or were not made on a certain date, doesn't make anything
22 more or less likely. Similarly, telling this Court that 23 people use their City phones and it shows that they took 24 photos on some dates doesn't change anything. They don't -- 25 at this point, they're saying, if they took photos, would we

1 so I can appoint a special master. I -- the City can make a
2 suggestion as to how those would be inspected, but if they're
3 on -- I mean, there's an SOP that says you can't photograph;
4 there are photographs that are referenced in the records that 5 are provided.

6 MS. LEVY: Well, no, the SOP talks about taking 7 personal photos at a crime scene, so she's made a tremendous
8 leap as to what these photos would be. This is not as if you
9 can't use the cell phone to take another photograph, for 10 example. It's a crime scene.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MS. LEVY: That's a major distinction.

13 THE COURT: Okay.

14 MS. LEVY: And I have, again -- and so I
15 represented to counsel in a letter -- talked to everyone,
16 except Tim Lonz and to a person -- every one of those people
17 on that list did not take a photograph on that date. So I
18 would argue preservation of those cards, but not production.
19 Again, it's meaningless, it's expense.

20 THE COURT: So your point is that the cards should 21 be preserved, but not produced at this point in time?

22 MS. LEVY: Yes, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: And what about the -- pursuant to the 24 Ortiz decision, at the very least, preservation of the mobile
25 phone records for that date of these three individuals.

1 A. I have never seen Jacob Welsh since that day.

2 Q. Did you to ask Tim Lonz?

3 A. No.

4 Q. And we've already talked about Mr. Muniz. In the almost 5 two years since Ms. Han's death, have you seen any 6 photographs, anywhere, that were not department photographs,
7 of her death?

8 A. No.

9 Q. Or in the newspaper?

10 A. No.

11 THE COURT: Thank you. You may step down. I
12 think, given the testimony, what needs to be done is, there
13 needs to be a direct inquiry made of these four individuals
14 who have been identified.

15 MS. LEVY: I will do so, Your Honor.

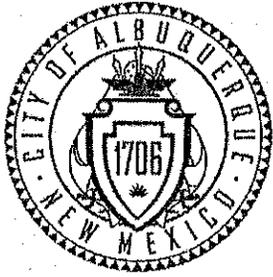

16 THE COURT: And they -- I think if their response
17 is that they did not take any unauthorized department
18 photographs, I think an affidavit reflecting that needs to be 19 provided. With regard to the other -- that -- Mr. Lonz is 20 number 4 on this list. With regard to Adams, Bates, Hoffman, 21 Paiz, White, and Wilhelm, the Court is ordering the 22 department to preserve those datacards.

23 With regard to the private phones that had calls
24 coming in and out of the scene, I think for the date of 25 the -- give me just one second. I think the -- pursuant to

Re: In re: Mary Y.C. Han, Second Judicial Court No. 2011 CV 09975

Dear Ms. Vega Lynn:

Enclosed please find the mobile phone records for Robert Perry, Michael Muniz and Chief Schultz for November 18, 2010. Please note I have removed the first name on the Schultz record as it is a family member who assisted in obtaining the records.

We have Mr. Wilham's phones in our possession. I am enclosing materials showing when Marc Adams, Elizabeth Paiz, Allen Banks and Trish Hoffman received their phones (which is what the affidavits are based on). I have requested the property cards which may show when their prior phones were returned. I am also producing the material which shows when Darren White was issued a phone but that was only ordered through APD and he did not have a property card. There is no chain of custody document other than these. The APD property manager can provide an affidavit that when a phone is returned, it is wiped clean (if still usable) or thrown away. The number may be re-assigned to an individual but not the phone. There is no chain of custody for personal phones.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or comments.

Sincerely,

Kathryn Levy
Deputy City Attorney

IN RE: MARY Y.C. HAN

AFFIDAVIT OF RICHARD F. CAMPOS

COMES NOW the undersigned, and being first duly sworn upon oath, states as follows:

1. My name is Richard F. Campos and I am over the age of 18 years.
2. I am employed by the City of Albuquerque Police Department as the Receiving Inspector in the APD Property Unit.
3. As part of my duties, I am responsible for the issuance of department owned cell phones to authorized personnel.
4. In 2011, it was the practice and procedure of my unit to note the name of the person to whom a cell phone was being issued on the Customer Receipt and have the person sign the receipt when the phone was picked up. The issuance of the phone may or may not appear on the department property card of the individual. The customer receipt form is maintained as the business record of the person to whom the phone was issued.
5. I do not note the return of cell phones on any list but instead determine if the phone is still usable or should be discarded. If the phone is capable of being reused, I "wipe it clean" (i.e. delete all information on any card). In most instances the phone itself is not re-issued to any individual but is used as a back up when someone's phone is broken or lost or a new phone has not come in.
6. Once someone retires or resigns or no longer has authorization for a department issued phone, I wait approximately three months before reassigning the number to other personnel. This is done on an as needed or random basis.

FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NAUGHT.

I, Reynaldo Chavez, Jr. being first duly sworn upon my oath affirm and hereby state:

1. I am over the age of eighteen.
2. I am not a party to the above-referenced proceedings.
3. Since June 2011, I was the records custodian for the Albuquerque Police Department (hereinafter "APD").
4. I have a Bachelor's degree in business administration, and a Master's degree in human resources. I have also completed post-Master's work in Management Information Systems (MIS).
5. In my capacity as records custodian, I developed and built databases for the APD to streamline production of public records pursuant to requests submitted to APD under the Inspection of Public Records Act ("IPRA").
6. That database is stored on an independent computer hard drive located in my office, on an external hard drive also located in my office, on back up cd-roms, and in printed form which are stored in file cabinets.

M006011

7. Both hard drives in my office hold in excess of four (4) Terrabytes of data and I began storing information responsive to IPRA requests on those hard drive during the course of my employment with APD and on the cd-roms.

8. Among the items in the database is information concerning cases the APD determined to be high profile.

9. The death scene of Mary Han to include but not limited to and any and all investigations, information, interviews, and photographs is included in that computer drive.

10. The Albuquerque Chief Administrative Officer, Robert Perry, knew of the existence of the computer drive as did former Deputy City Attorney, Kathy Levy.

11. I am concerned that the information stored on this independent computer drive, to include any and all information concerning Mary Han, will not be protected from destruction.

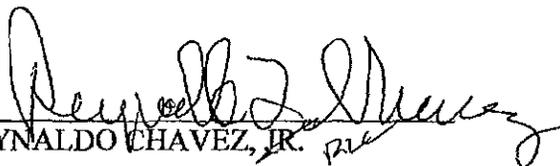

12. I have, in my capacity as the APD records custodian, observed that the current City administration will not preserve information concerning high profile cases and will conceal such information.

13. In December 2012, I was contacted by counsel for the Han Family, Rosario D. Vega Lynn, who requested specific information concerning the file created and maintained by the APD. Attached as Exhibit A is a true and correct copy of one email exchange between myself and Ms. Vega Lynn.

14. At the time, I was instructed by former city employee Kathryn Levy not to provide all the requested information to the Han Family.

15. I am aware that such information does exist and is kept on the database as listed above.

Subject: Re: IPRA / Michael Muniz

Dear Mr Chavez

I have reviewed the records and CD produced by APD on December 14th.

Please note that I only received one report authored by Field Investigator Muniz on November 18, 2010. The report was for a burglary. Yet, FI Muniz was in Ms Han's home on November 18th. Thus, please provide the following as required by IPRA:

1. All reports prepared by FI Muniz on November 18, 2010 to include: (a) the copperfire report, (b) date originally entered into tiburon or the database utilized by APD, (c) date(s) of supplements/amendments/edits and by whom to include identification of the individual and identification of the individual's rank or civilian title and time, (d) supervisor/Sgt approval to include date and time and (e) any and all individuals who have either accessed or retrieved the reports and/or computer file.

With regard to the photos on the CD, I informed Officer Torres on December 14th that I needed the jpg copies of the photos taken by FI Muniz on November 18th. The pdf provided by APD do not include the metadata. Please provide all photos in the possession and custody of APD in jpg format. This request includes any photos taken by FI Muniz which are on the camera memory.

Further, you indicated that emails concerning Ms Han in any manner were nonspecific to produce. I do not agree as I clearly requested emails from APD members (see below) and again request those emails be produced.

Please provide these records in electronic format as soon as possible.

Thank you for your attention.

Hi Steve and Philomena:

I was just informed that APD has an independent database that Reynaldo Chavez was responsible for as IPRA custodian. My understanding is that this database includes information about Ms. Han's death and that Mr. Chavez's employment was terminated yesterday. I am writing to ask if you would be willing to agree to a stipulated Order whereby the APD agrees it will ensure that the database will not be altered or destroyed? I realize that Judge Nash's order probably includes this database since her order of November 23, 2011 stated as follows:

1. The City of Albuquerque and APD shall preserve all records, reports, documents, photographs, and any other record or evidence in their possession, custody, or control relating to an emergency call concerning Mary Y.C. Han on November 18, 2010, and any subsequent response or investigation. The City of Albuquerque and APD shall not destroy, alter, amend, redact or issue new supplements to any records and/or documents, electronic or otherwise, to include but not limited to cellular phone records and/or texts and/or photographs relating in any manner to its response to an emergency call regarding Mary Y.C. Han on November 18, 2010 to include any investigation(s) or documents generated.

Given the possibility that this language does not include a standalone database, I wanted to ask you for your position on this matter. Please let me know as soon as possible and I can prepare the joint motion/stipulated order.

Thank you

CRITICAL INCIDENT REVIEW TEAM

2-05-15 CIRT Policy

It is the policy of the department that an examination of uses of deadly force and other high-risk police operations, as directed by the Chief, be conducted by CIRT. The purpose of this review is to improve both individual and the department's performance. This process is similar to an after-action review where the role is to dissect what was planned, what happened, why it happened, and what can be done differently to improve performance. To accomplish this, CIRT will evaluate decision making, tactics used, the actual use of force, and supervision. CIRT will identify any training needs (for the individual officer, squad, unit, section or on a department-wide basis) and/or any necessary changes to policies and practices.

CIRT has the added goal of highlighting superior performance in such incidents by validating the tactics applied and by educating the workforce on what occurred. The overall mission of

Subject: Ms. Anaya's comment and an apparently required NM IPRA request to get what I requested

Annabelle

Info also to the media, UNM Regents and others-sent to them Bcc

This Phase 1 effort was worst than a "dog and pony show"-as Nora described it while the referenced Phase I report prepared by UNM and those reports that will follow appear to be a waste of $150,000 of our tax dollars. You avoided answering many of my questions in my July 26 e-mail below but merely sent the website reference to the UNM Phase 1 report.

I had asked for minutes of the meetings that would include the names of those attendees but these were never provided. I guess you now need a NM IPRA request to comply.

Therefore IAW the NM IPRA,

1. Request the opportunity to review or provide me with copies of the sign in sheets showing the attendees at these UNM conducted 22 "dialogues" and the names of those others aside from the four UNM folks who also participated in them.
2. Request the opportunity to review the resumes/qualifications of Dr. Guerin and his three likely graduate students, Tonnigan, Minssen and Torres to determine their qualifications to execute these Collaboratives.

I think UNM's Dr. Guerin was also given a contract to study APD's use of body recorders.

I would have thought rather than tasking UNM's Institute for Social Research, those from the Law School would have been more appropriate/knowledgeable in this reform area.

Preferably, honest retired APD officers like those four I mentioned and others who can make this more than just a data gathering effort resulting in no real changes to APD should have been hired as consultant to do this work. Those good cops if employed by us taxpayers would have had the prerequisite expertise to make this a meaningful outreach effort.

I'm sure you are aware of the tax dollars and the time of good volunteers that were wasted on the 2013 police oversight task force whose most critical January recommendations/reform of the citizens' police oversight process were ignored by both Cincinnati consultant Scott Greenwood, the Council but also the DOJ.

UNM's Dr. Bruce Perlman who was never mentioned in the Council's ordinance creating this oversight task force was nevertheless give the bulk of our tax dollars to manage the effort behind the scenes.

I guess some of us who have been on the front lines writing to and meeting with the DOJ, Council and other city leaders and were the ones who ultimately were the ones (along with the national media) who ultimately brought the DOJ here were somehow not deemed to be the "safe" stakeholders.

I note the name of one of your chosen gatekeepers who authored the July 25 e-mail to fellow activist Isle Biel below extended her the invite to participate in this Phase 2 "Collaborative." I guess not inviting me and likely others known to be active in this long APD reform struggle was just an oversight. Informed people are apparently not welcomed.

Understand my issue is not with the good people at UNM given this task but with those in the Mayor's office and the leadership of APD who are perpetuating this charade trying to convince APD really cares what comes out of this effort.

As I said before, they did these Collaboratives in Cincinnati and reform there took seven long years because the collaborative were also likely just a PR effort with resulting recommendations that their police department, assigned DOJ monitor and DOJ investigators ignored.

Those in the media particularly the ones who attended the dialogues have a responsibility to also question this research effort given to UNM. I can recall them only covering one of these "dialogues." Maybe they thought they were also PR efforts by those in the Mayor's office.

They likely saw how the improper no bid contract by Schultz to employer TASER Inc. was covered up in the amended Internal Auditor's report because the Mayor was also involved by "greasing" this $1.9 million contract for Schultz. As I said in previous e-mails, there is NO room for integrity in this Berry administration.

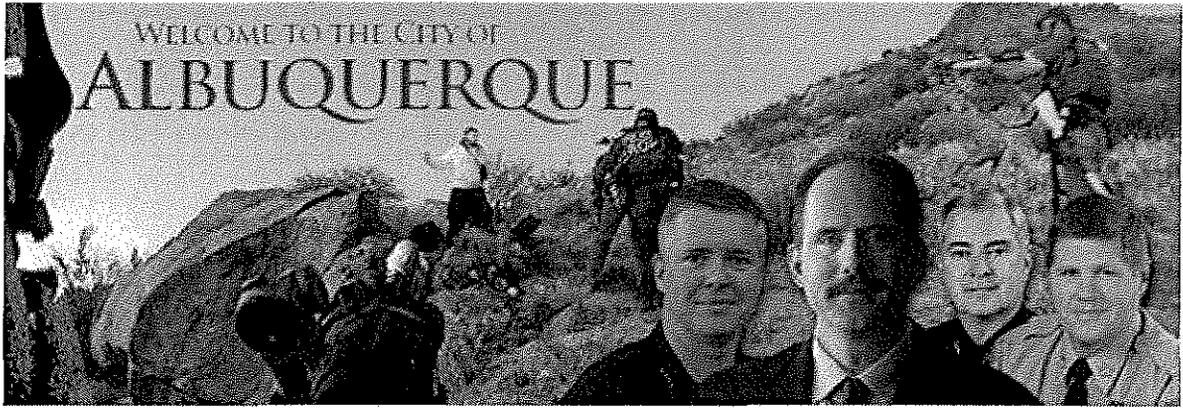

Meanwhile our Mayor remains in hiding, coming out of his cave on the 11th floor only to travel out of the city or to cut ribbons or do other meaningless PR tasks.

I await your reply to my IPRA request

Silvio

To Whom It May Concern,

Not sure if this is what should be being sent out on SnapChat & Facebook from APD employee's during working hours much less the type of material that can be seen in the pictures. This is from the revamped IPRA department. It does not look like they have much control of this unit at this point in time. With all that is going on I think these employees would have enough things to do then to spend any of their time on SM. Guess this is what you get when you leave TEMP employees do deal with high profile items and no real direction from supervisors since the permanent employees where railroaded by APD upper management. These are the capable hands that your IPRA request are left in.

Having Eden blame all of the problems here on the criminal justice system insults our intelligence. See the ABQ Free Press on his ineptitude

Time to ID the judges and those assistant DA's who agree to these sweetheart deals for the repeat offenders/boomerang thugs and find out why. Not enough jail space-too many petty Marijuana users in them? What is APOA appeal to go back to old shoot first APD mentality and make no recordings?

APOA President Stephanie Lopez given a sweet deal by NM Law Enforcement Academy Board for her misconduct while Willoughby is promoting the "them against us" mentality in APD and calling out whistleblower honest APD cops as rats. Two disgraceful APOA leaders/characters.

Thank you Art

I also suggest that all including Dr. James Ginger read this week's 10/21 ABQ Free Press with numerous articles about the cesspool in APD. See <http://www.freeabq.com/>

Some must reads include the article "Getting Rid of Bad Cops no Easy Task in N.M." by Dennis Domrzalski and former APD cop Dan Klein that provides examples of the punishments of honest cops that expose the wrongdoings of the bad ones like Eden's Deputy Chief Bill Roseman and how corrupt the NM Law Enforcement Board is in enforcing the blue code of silence.

Also Dan's article "Debunking the Myth Of a War on Police" and Dennis' article listing the bogus reasons why "APD, DOJ Agree to Delay 35 Key Reforms."

Is our 4.5+ million dollar (merely "monitoring") man/ex-cop Dr. Ginger even paying attention?

Or is he just pretending that there will ever be real reform going on without an APD leadership change to include the removal of Al Capone-like (according to Dan) Perry, Eden and most on the APD Command staff?

M006071

Will Ginger and the DOJ also demand transparency including APD's compliance with our State law- the NM IPRA to expose the lies the bad APD cops and Eden tell?

Losing Command And Control: Tragic Slaying Of 4 Year-Old Renews Questions About The Downward Spiral And The City's Leadership Or Lack Thereof

Lilly Garcia

Yet again Albuquerque collectively reels from the abhorrent--the abominable. But as repulsive as the road rage related murder of 4 year old Lilly Garcia is, it is not isolated. It joins a horrid tally of exceptionally violent crime that has reshaped the very persona of the state's largest city.

<<http://www.abqjournal.com/663184/news/family-of-4-year-old-girl-fatally-shot-set-up-go-fund-me-account.html>>

No matter the outrage--the killing of little Lilly, the Motel 6 attack on the former CNN reporters, the drive-by shooting of a 17 year old in the NE Heights, the slaying of another 17 year old at a NE Heights skate park, the parental murder of 9 year old Omaree Varela, the Dept. of Justice forced in here because of a diseased APD, the FBI reporting a soaring violent crime and property rate--no matter the outrage it is nothing the city's leadership won't slink away from, shirking responsibility and not only refusing to implement the transformational change essential if the city is to ever climb back to anywhere near its former self, but refusing to even acknowledge there is a problem.

It was only Tuesday that we blogged of how ABQ Mayor Richard Berry remains blameless through this darkest period in modern city history that features not only a crime-caused disintegration in the social fabric, but a feeble economy that has our hopes for the future fleeing here faster than the state's emblematic roadrunners can run. We are well aware that the definition of insanity is doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results, but if we and anyone else with a public megaphone doesn't continue to fight for change--to decry the apathy and aimlessness here--what purpose does the life and death of Lilly Garcia serve? Or that of Omaree Varela?

We turn it over now to our readers and Alligators of La Politica who so often say what others won't and what so indisputably needs saying. Up first an Alligator who calls to account ABQ Police Chief Gorden Eden and Mayor Berry:

Joe, it's a shame that Chief Eden chose in his news conference about the tragic death of Lilly Garcia to go yet again to the Berry talking points to divert attention away from Albuquerque's problems by saying the murder is "something we are starting to see throughout the nation."

No, Chief, the lawlessness we see in Albuquerque is worse than the rest of the nation. Look at the FBI stats and your record: How are you doing chief, on prosecuting those that shut down I-25 to do donuts? How are you doing on solving the West Mesa murders? Have you found the person that randomly shot up the downtown neighborhood three nights last week?

The police and the Mayor do not have command and control of the crime situation in Albuquerque and it has everything to do with the incompetence of those in charge and their inability to recognize that the crime we are facing is, in fact, exceptional and not something that happens everywhere else.

Late Wednesday an ABQ officer was shot
<<http://m.kob.com/article.html#%21/59107/a7adebea4020fa4c975d6336af688581>> near Eubank and Central, giving the city an ever deeper chill in the wake of the Lilly Garcia shooting. The violence is as breathtaking as it is disturbing.

And more on Chief Eden's comments from this reader:

"This is one of those crimes that is unexplainable. It is 100% preventable; It did not have to happen. We need to rise up as a community and say enough is enough" so says APD Chief Gordon Eden after a 4 year old is killed in a road rage shooting. So exactly what is Chief Eden or even Mayor Berry going to do about it and gun violence? You will get nothing from Berry and Eden has absolutely no credibility as APD Chief. Eden has been in charge for close to two years. Under Eden, there are only 404 sworn APD officers out of 850 patrolling our streets and handling 69,000 911 priority 1 calls. Violent crime has spiked dramatically and Eden says APD is only going to get worse with still fewer officers over the next two years. APD needs a complete reorganization to get more cops patrolling the streets as deterrent to crime. The department is top heavy with overpaid management. It is likely the Federal Monitor for the Dept. of Justice will be reporting Albuquerque needs 1,300 sworn officers. But, hey, Berry says APD is on the right track with Eden in charge.

FREEWAYS FROM HELL

<<http://2.bp.blogspot.com/-l7u2TD6uR0A/Vigx7j3OmBI/AAAAAAAAeQM/pudmRm7Ao5I/s1600/Unknown-1.jpeg>>
Berry and Eden

We all know the city's freeways where Lilly was killed have become a "take your life into your hands" adventure with infrequent or no law enforcement of the speed limit which is treated as seriously as a stand-up comedian. More now from the Alligator pond:

This is the face of Austerity. Imagine if we did not have 432 fewer cops since Berry started his police austerity), there may have been an officer in a car on I-40 and by mere presence crimes would have been stopped. But we don't have those cops, you never see an officer as they are swamped with calls and the bad people do whatever they want.

I honestly believe he intended to reduce APD by 300 cops because he was convinced he could show that the job could still be done without all the fat. Well, 6 years later we have Priority 1 calls response times up to 12 minutes (from 9 minutes). We have cops fleeing this department and it will not stop. This is what a community and police department look like when austerity is the policy.

The average response time to the most serious 911 calls has slowed from 8 minutes and 56 seconds in the 2010 fiscal year to 10 minutes and 43 seconds in the 2015 fiscal year, which ended in June. In 2010, there were 30,663 violent and property crimes in Albuquerque. In 2014, there were 35,371, according to FBI statistics. While APD is losing officers and trying to recruit new ones, the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Office is close to fully staffed.

Excellent point. Why is it that Mayor Berry and APD remain so mired in crisis while the Bernalillo County Sheriff's office under the command of Sheriff Manny Gonzales goes about its business competently and without costing us tens of millions of dollars in lawsuit settlements? Is Sheriff Gonzales interested in becoming APD chief? Someone at City Hall ought to ask him.

FRESH GOES STALE

For just a minute we thought there might be a chance that some fresh thinking would invade the city when it comes to revising the moribund convention business here but it was not to be <<http://www.abqjournal.com/663219/news/firm-decides-not-to-protest-abq-convention-contract.html>>:

Catalyst Creative CEO Mark Astone. . . will not protest a recommendation to award the city's "destination marketing and group sales and service" job to the Albuquerque Convention & Visitors Bureau despite his objections to the process. An ad hoc committee tasked with reviewing four bids has recommended awarding the contract to ACVB, a private, not-for-profit organization that the city has contracted since 1980. That recommendation has the support of key city officials, though it remains subject to City Council approval.

But Astone has questioned the process since the committee's recommendation was announced . He talked then about protesting but has since decided against it.

"It's clear now that the administration never had any intention of making a change and are prepared to do anything to keep the status quo, including violating their own ordinance."

Too bad Astone doesn't have the stomach for the fight that is needed to pry that contract from the cold, semi-dead hands of ACVB, but he probably has better things to do with his time--like service cities that are serious about attracting convention business.

THE BOTTOM LINES

In our Wednesday report on ABQ District Judge Judy Nakamura possibly becoming a Republican member of the State Supreme Court, we got our commissions mixed up. A Legal Beagle writes:

Re: your story on Nakamura:

The "Judicial Standards Commission" disciplines judges for misconduct. Judicial "nominating" commissions screen qualified candidates for judicial vacancies and nominate them to the governor for appointment. You mixed 'em up.

While I can see some might view Gov. Martinez appointing a Republican to our Supreme Court to be some sort of exotic punishment or trip to the dog house, you really have no excuse to cause such confusion.

No, I do not have an excuse but I do have a wet noodle. I will now use it to self-administer ten lashes to my backside in atonement for my errant ways.

This is the home of New Mexico politics.

Info to all-many sent this Bcc. Also pass this to interim superintendent Reedy

ONCE A LIAR-ALWAYS A LIAR

"When I leave I will leave not asking for anything from anybody"-yet another lie told by Valentino. Once a liar-always a liar and yet it took three meetings for the embarrassing APS Board members to be shamed into finally saying no more. This disgraceful man deserved only what he had earned thus far-not $80K more.

WINTER WAS COMPLICIT

What's being ignored by the media is that another Governor Martinez's puppet- Brad Winter still was there during this transition period to Valentino and likely knew all of it and said nothing. This told all that he was no better than Valentino. Brad likely worked with his puppet-master Guv Martinez to have UNMH fire Kathy Korte and get the Guv to help defeat her in her re-election bid.

It was likely Brad who recommended yet another attempted cover-up of APS corruption and getting rid of Moya. Also that the Board President Don Duran's daughter be hired buy his support. Also, why was the women from the search firm who "found" Valentino even hired? Why doesn't the media ask Brad what he knew/did while there during this transition period? Is this PhD elitist just a Teflon sacred cow here?

What about the Guv's puppets on the Journal's Editorial Board who recommended that Martinez be kept on? They are part of the problem-embrace the culture of corruption here including APD's and Berry's.

TAX WASTING –UNJUSTIFIED SPECIAL SCHOOL ELECTIONS

All saw the low voting numbers by a letter writer in the Journal letter today. For years, I have advocated moving the unjustified (after women were given the right to vote in all elections 100 years ago) special tax wasting APS elections to the fall and held in conjunction with regular elections. There would be far better than the 4% turnouts. APS's leadership and the Board preferred these low turnouts-tax wastes.

Brooks ignored my repeated appeals as did Winter and Valentino. And yet Brad wants to be re-elected to the Council this fall. Are those in District 4 blind to all this in APS and his loyalty to Berry and Guv Martinez? Appears so.

Silvio

APS superintendent resigns, will receive $80K settlement plus salary through Oct.

Updated: 08/31/2015 10:43 AM | Created: 08/27/2015 7:00 AM By: Elizabeth Reed, KOB.com

The Albuquerque Public Schools Board of Education voted to accept Superintendent Dr. Luis Valentino's voluntary resignation Monday. According to the voluntary resignation and settlement agreement signed by Valentino and the board, Valentino will receive a lump sum and sum-certain payment of $80,000 plus his full salary and benefits according to the terms stated in his contract through Oct. 1, 2015--around $120,000 in total. Valentino is solely responsible for the payment of all taxes owed on the settlement, if any.

View: Valentino Resignation and Settlement Agreement

"Given the parties' differing views of the current incidents and challenges in the district, and believing they have fundamental differences regarding the future of the district, an agreement has been reached which allows Dr. Valentino the ability to pursue other career interests and permits the board to hire another superintendent," school board member David Percy read the board's statement during the meeting.

The board announced Raquel Reedy will now serve as acting superintendent while the district searches for a new leader. Reedy currently serves as the associate superintendent for elementary education. Valentino started the job in July after an eight-month, nationwide search following the abrupt resignation of former Superintendent Winston Brooks last August. Valentino had a three-year, $240,000 contract.

Read: Luis Valentino's Contract "When I leave I will leave not asking for anything from anybody," Valentino said at a news conference in May. "I believe that my work will demonstrate that I'll deserve whatever I've gotten to that point."

VALENTINO CAUGHT UP IN HIRING CONTROVERSY

Thousands of Albuquerque residents signed a petition demanding the board fire Valentino following reports that he ignored warnings about his deputy superintendent from the district's own human resources department. Former deputy superintendent Jason Martinez faces six child sex abuse charges in Colorado and did not complete a required APS background check before his resignation on Aug. 20. He was arrested in Denver Wednesday for violating the terms of his release on bond. Valentino has insisted he didn't know about Martinez's charges. He also maintained that the district's human resources department did not warn him multiple times that Martinez had not completed his background check. Martinez was brought in by Valentino in June. He had previously worked for Houghton Mifflin Harcourt, a publishing house, as well as in an instruction and technology administrator capacity at Denver Public Schools. Martinez also got caught up in an exchange between Valentino and APS chief financial officer Don Moya over an RFP intended to assess the district's information technology systems that were offered to a disgraced former DPS employee he had previously worked with in Denver. Moya was placed on administrative leave Aug. 7 after he was accidentally sent a message by Valentino saying Valentino was "going to go after" Moya for having too much say in the district's finances. Moya filed a whistleblower lawsuit against Valentino, the APS School Board and Public Education Department Secretary Hanna Skandera last Monday, claiming they violated the New Mexico Whistleblower Protection Act and committed civil conspiracy.

APS SUPERINTENDENT WOES

Valentino's resignation marks the second APS superintendent in a year to leave following controversy. Last year, former Superintendent Winston Brooks received a $350,000 payout for leaving the district, and the reasons for his resignation still remain unclear. KOB and the Albuquerque Journal have both sued APS to access records connected to Brooks's resignation.

Valentino told KOB last week he did not think he would lose his job and said he did not plan to resign.

GROUPS REACT TO RESIGNATION

The Albuquerque Teachers Federation released the following statement after the announcement of Valentino's resignation: "This has been a difficult time for APS. Public trust has been eroded. The Board of Education and Dr. Valentino have reached a mutual agreement on his voluntary resignation. APS employees are ready to move forward." "Serious issues remain that are affecting APS students and teachers. We expect Acting Superintendent Raquel Reedy to direct her attention to these issues without delay. We stand ready to meet with Acting Superintendent Reedy to formulate a plan to address these serious concerns, such as, superfluous District-mandated testing; unnecessary paperwork requirements; the dysfunctional high school schedule; and others. Acting Superintendent Reedy should lead the District out of the recent crisis by focusing on the classroom, and take immediate steps to support educators who do the real work with our students."

The KKOB-770 call in talk show yesterday on this subject included calls from many APS teachers were disgusted with both the lying-unethical new Superintendent but the School Board's cowardice in not firing him, the Board President daughter and the search firm's person who found him. The host of the call in show Eric Straud (sp?) was equally disgusted and believed the Board will again betray us. I called in as well.

Neighborhood Leaders and others-FYI

Forwarded is an earlier e-mail I sent to many others today-most Bcc

We really thought the DOJ would be our saviors but as evidenced by the toothless APD reform agreement they blessed and also chosen toothless monitoring team-PRC Inc from SC made up of former police officers, we were betrayed.

The new US AG Loretta Lynch by her statements has proven to be just another incompetent D.C. bureaucrat-a willing enabler of the problem of out of control-unaccountable police forces nationwide.

I and likely others have repeatedly asked that she come here to see firsthand what's going on but she chooses to hide unless a fellow African-American is killed somewhere in the US.

Our new police oversight agency that includes four former police officers will also be another sick joke played on us. It will be even more toothless than the previous one.

Those who represent us on the Council also seem afraid to question what APD has been doing. They clearly are intimidated-fear retaliation. They have abdicated their responsibility to us.

While APD leaders have been beating their chests claiming they have body as well as other recorders for use by their officers, the fact is that they continue to refuse to release any incriminating recordings that would confirm that officers and their leadership were lying to justify their shootings and other uses of excessive force.

This is evidenced by the latest stonewalling by Chief Eden of my latest IPRA request for recordings of the shooting last Wednesday.

None of our elected NM State leaders also seem to care about any of this. Some of them-former police officers are even openly enablers of it.

The judicial system has failed us as well. Delaying the trial to 2016 of killer cops Boyd and Sandy who murdered homeless James Boyd (who was only trying to protect himself with his small knives against the vicious K-9 dog-Rex close to him) was clearly unjustified. This one year delay by the court was agreed to in hopes the jury here or elsewhere will set these two killer cops free.

It's sickening and most here feel helpless to do anything about it..

Respectfully,

Silvio

See again our new US AG Loretta Lynch's latest 10/5 attempt at damage control (attached) after her embarrassing 10/1 statements-(also attached) that included some disgusted reader comments to it.

See who Ms. Lynch is looking to help her-none other than those cop organizations who have blessed police states throughout the US and are part of the problem. It's not surprising that she never mentioned citizen civil rights groups like the ACLU, transparency advocates like the NM Foundation for Open Government NM-FOG and others. Like here, she is asking the foxes to guard the hen house-an insult to us all. See her comment below.

"The Bureau of Justice Statistic (BJS) and the FBI are collaborating with major policing organizations, such as the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP), the Major Cities Chiefs of Police Association (MCCA), the Major County Sheriffs Association (MCSA) on defining data collections on police use-of-force and homicides by law enforcement officers."

I made an IPRA request to YOU six days ago on October 1 to see the videos and hear the audios of the shooting by an APD officer last Wednesday (see Journal extract below). I have since sent you THREE follow-ups on October 2, 3 and 5 asking for the status of your response-all of which you ignored.

Since interim Chief Banks said publically in early 2013 to KOAT that lying by your officers was acceptable in order to protect themselves and other officers, all can assume once again you lied as well as your shooter last Wednesday when claiming the fleeing suspect aimed a gun at your shooter. If this was the case, why stonewall my request to see and hear the recordings? It's because you both lied.

We can only assume that in every case Schultz and now you denied IPRA requests for videos of APD shootings, your shooters and their accomplices lied when claiming they were threatened-something you likely teach them to say as part of their training.

You still have Tanner Tixier-Jeremy Dear's accomplice in the murder of Mary Hawkes as your spokesperson. No videos of that murder were made by either Dear or Tixier ever/made or released. That speaks volumes about how corrupt and unfit for this job you are.

"Carjacking suspect shot at by officer gives SWAT team the slip

"As the suspect fled the scene, he pointed the gun at one of our officers, who shot at the suspect an unknown number of times," Eden said. Tixier said he didn't know whether the suspect was struck by the gunfire. Eden didn't name the officer who fired but said he wasn't injured in the shooting and would be placed on paid administrative leave, as is standard in police shootings. Although shooting at a moving car is a violation of APD's policies, Eden said the officer had perceived a threat to his safety. "The person, while he was in a vehicle, pointed a firearm at the officer," Eden said. "The officer perceived a threat and responded according to this training."

I previously sent you copies of new US AG's 10/5 attempt at damage control to her earlier 10/1 statements claiming transparency in all police shootings is essential for any reform. Those are empty words merely to appease the naïve who accept the propaganda that all cops are heroes-are doing us a favor by putting on the uniform and also above the law as their badge is a license to kill.

Yet while doing so, she doesn't even require that her US Marshals be equipped with body recorders while her DOJ people here like Damon Martinez and the former cop "monitors" of APD reform in PMR Inc really don't care.

BCSO's disgraceful Sheriff Manny Gonzalez won't even ask for federal money to buy recorders so his deputies won't ever be held accountable for their shootings and other excessive uses of force.

Retired honest cop Dan Klein exposed you for the incompetent/corrupt person you are in his recent ABQ Free Press letter comparing your thug boss Perry to a Mafia leader and you and others there to his Mafia soldiers. The Eye on Albuquerque also damned your incompetence. Not one honest APD cop respects you! You are just another Guv Martinez throwaway like your Mayor's personal attorney Jessica Hernandez.

More of our tax dollars will be used to settle many other lawsuits against APD, one of the latest being filed by your former IPRA stonewaller Reynaldo Chavez for spilling his guts on your command staff's, your direction and the direction of city attorneys to withhold incriminating recordings of the Mary Han murder.

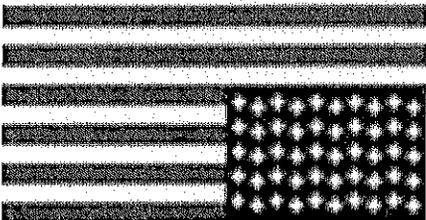

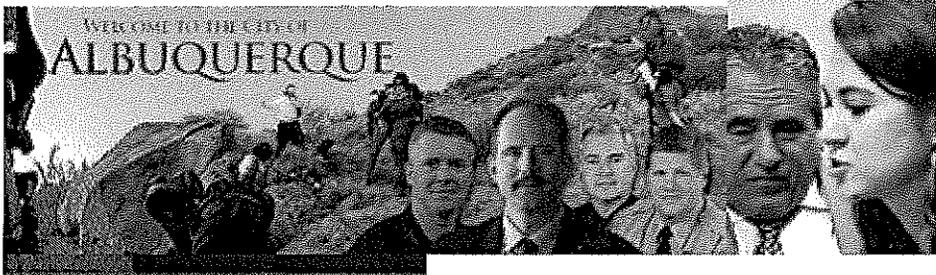

As reported in a "Live Leak" posting, you also directed the withholding of incriminating videos of Perez's and Sandy's murder of James Boyd so they would not be convicted next year.

I am still waiting for your response to my 10/1 IPRA request. Apparently you are confident that nobody on the Council has the guts to demand that you comply with this State law.

Disgusted,

Subject: ATTORNEY GENERAL LYNCH: USE-OF-FORCE DATA IS VITAL FOR TRANSPARENCY AND ACCOUNTABILITY

Department of Justice

ATTORNEY GENERAL LYNCH: USE-OF-FORCE DATA IS VITAL FOR TRANSPARENCY AND ACCOUNTABILITY

WASHINGTON—Today, in a press conference held at the Department of Justice, Attorney General Loretta E. Lynch reinforced the need for a national, consistent data on law enforcement interactions with the communities they serve, especially data collection on the use-of-force. The Attorney General noted that the department has already taken steps to improve the accuracy and consistency of use-of-force data from law enforcement.

“The department’s position and the administration’s position has consistently been that we need to have national, consistent data,” said Attorney General Lynch. “This information is useful because it helps us see trends, it helps us promote accountability and transparency,” said Attorney General Lynch. “We’re also going further in developing standards for publishing information about deaths in custody as well, because transparency and accountability are helped by this kind of national data.”

Currently, federal authorities publish annual figures on the number of “justifiable homicides” by law enforcement. But this reporting is voluntary and not all police departments participate, causing the figures to be incomplete. That’s why the Justice Department and the Obama Administration are taking steps to work with law enforcement to improve the process.

“This data is not only vital – we are working closely with law enforcement to develop national consistent standards for collecting this kind of information,” Attorney General Lynch added. The department has already taken steps to improve accurate accounts of use-of-force data from law enforcement: -The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) and the FBI are collaborating with major policing organizations, such as the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP), the Major Cities Chiefs of Police Association (MCCA), the Major County Sheriffs Association (MCSA) on defining data collections on police use-of-force and homicides by law enforcement officers.

-The department also requires the records of police interactions when we enter into consent decree and collaborative reform agreements.

-The FBI recently announced that the Uniform Crime Reporting Statistics (UCR) will begin to collect data on non-fatal shootings between law enforcement and civilians.

BJS has been conducting work on new methods for not only identifying deaths in police custody (as defined by the Deaths in Custody Reporting Act (PL 113-242), where they will go further than what the newspapers and media reports on law enforcement homicides that are derived from open source records verifying that the media accounts are correct and complete. BJS will do this by surveying police departments, medical examiners' offices and investigative offices about the reports that it identifies from open source and using data from the multiple source to obtain a more accurate factual account of each incident. BJS will complete its methodology study by late 2015/early 2016 and then begin to stand up a national program on arrest related deaths.

The President's Task Force on 21st Century Policing and the President's Police Data Initiative also seek to encourage better data and record keeping for local law enforcement reinforces the administration's position on this need.

Excerpts from the Attorney General's Press Conference:

ATTORNEY GENERAL LYNCH: [L]et me be clear: police shootings are not minutiae at all and the department's position and the administration's position has consistently been that we need to have national, consistent data. Both on excessive force and on officer involved shootings is vital. The point I was trying to make at that conference related to our overall view of how we deal with police departments as part of our practice of enforcing consent decrees, or working with them and I was trying to make the point that we also have to focus on building community trust which is a very individual – very local – practice. Unfortunately, my comments gave the misperception that we were changing our view in some way about the importance of this data – nothing could be further from the truth. This data is not only vital – we are working closely with law enforcement to develop national consistent standards for collecting this kind of information.

ATTORNEY GENERAL LYNCH: [W]e do require it [data collection]. When we have consent decrees with departments and frankly we find it very, very useful as we look at data and trends and as we publish consent decrees we encourage other departments to do so. And frankly police departments also are finding it useful. Certainly the fact that we don't have a nationwide, consistent set of standards is – not only does it make our job difficult it makes it hard to see these trends and that's why it is so important to focus on these. And that's why we are working through the department's research arm – our Bureau of Justice Statistics and the FBI – are working with the leading police organizations; International Association of Chiefs of Police; Major Cities Chiefs; Major Counties Sheriffs; to look at these standards. And we're also going further in developing standards for publishing information about deaths in custody as well; because transparency and accountability are helped by this kind of national data.

Loretta Lynch: Government Shouldn't Require Reports of People Killed by Police

By Ciara McCarthy, Guardian UK 03 October 15

The attorney general says local police are encouraged to maintain records on such killings, but improving police-community relations is more important

Attorney general Loretta Lynch says the federal government should not require police to report fatal shootings of civilians, sharply diverging from her predecessor Eric Holder's stance on police killings.

In a conversation with NBC journalist Chuck Todd on a range of criminal justice issues, Lynch said on Thursday that she does not support a federal mandate to report people killed by police.

"One of the things we are focusing on at the Department of Justice is not trying to reach down from Washington and dictate to every local department how they should handle the minutia of record keeping, but we are stressing to them that these records must be kept," she said at the Washington Ideas Forum, hosted by AtlanticLIVE and the Aspen Institute. Lynch said the Justice Department does "encourage" local departments to maintain records on police shootings but that improving police-community relations is more important. She noted that the small size of the average police department could make record-keeping difficult. "The statistics are important, but the real issues are: 'what steps are we all taking to connect communities ... with police and back with government?'" she said.

Todd pressed Lynch to comment on the lack of data, citing The Counted, the Guardian's project to track all deaths by police in 2015, as the best source for fatal interactions with police. "I'm not going to comment on news organizations keeping numbers," Lynch said in response. "I think they do a pretty good job sometimes."

Lynch's statements show a sharp contrast from her predecessor's position on tracking police violence. Holder, the former attorney general who left office in April, has called the lack of official data "unacceptable". Before leaving office he called its collection the "first step" toward improving police-community relations.

"I've heard from a number of people who have called on policymakers to ensure better record-keeping on injuries and deaths that occur at the hands of police. I've also spoken with law enforcement leaders – including the leadership of the Fraternal Order of Police – who have urged elected officials to consider strategies for collecting better data on officer fatalities," Holder said in January. "Today, my response to these legitimate concerns is simple: We need to do both."

A spokesperson for the Department of Justice told the Guardian in a statement Friday that Lynch encouraged police to maintain records regarding police-civilian interactions. The spokesperson, Melanie Newman, also noted that the department requires such record-keeping when it enters into consent decrees with local agencies. "Her broader point was that while maintaining data to record police interactions is important, we should be focused on preventing those interactions by improving relationships between local law enforcement and their communities," Newman said.

In the wake of high-profile police killings of unarmed black men, many looked for data on how many people police kill each year only to find that was no reliable number. Police departments may voluntarily submit information on "justifiable homicides" to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which counted 444 of these deaths in 2014. Director James Comey resisted calls for a mandatory reporting system this week, calling for more data on fatal police shootings but maintaining the voluntary reporting system. "I don't have the power to require people to supply us with data," Comedy said at a roundtable with reporters on Thursday.

The Guardian has launched a project, The Counted, to track all people killed by police in 2015. As of Friday afternoon, 878 have been killed by law enforcement.

I trust the Guardian more than local police departments.

+13# tedrey 2015-10-03 10:13

L. Lynch explains "We are stressing to them that these records must be kept," but that they needn't be reported. Is this a "don't ask, don't tell" deal?

+22# Merlin 2015-10-03 10:27

Either Lynch is totally oblivious, a person with elitist views, or a complete incompetent. Take your pick. This, (as was predicted,) is yet another terrible appointment by our "great chief." Lynch is just completely coping out on her responsibility to lead and seek justice.

+13# tref 2015-10-03 11:34

@Merlin

I'd say she's an idiot. With gun deaths in the US higher per capita than any other major country in the world, Lynch is insane to think we can rein in police killing civilians without accurately tracking the statistics. Had she been on the Supreme Court, she no doubt would have voted with the majority to gut the Civil Rights Act of 1964 because all those Confederate states are now reformed. She has totally ignored the fact that ONLY body cams and civilian camera phones were finally able to put the lie to police claims of "he resisted arrest so we had to kill him." The only way to nail roaches is to shine a light on them.

+17# Anonymot 2015-10-03 10:59

We were told, we believed that minority appointees and women appointees would be more humane and caring than men. Here's another dumb one. She sounds as bad as Holder. Who picks these lulus? Hillary?

+8# tm7devils39 2015-10-03 11:57

The "pickers"(Dem or GOP) pick people who they know will repress their moral and ethical principles (in order to keep their job) in deference to government (party line) dictates. Critical thinking ability is not a prerequisite for the job.

+25# mmalinco 2015-10-03 11:39

What has she been smoking? She expresses concern for the record-keeping burden this would impose on small police departments: how many fatal shootings are those, "small police departments," involved in each year that it could become a reporting and record-keeping burden?

+13# skylinefirepest 2015-10-03 11:56

mmalinco...perfectly stated. I've lived in small towns for most of my life and we've only had a couple of well justified shootings by police. What we need in this country is to put the bright lights on these instances so there's not a "swept under the rug" justification of a bad shooting.

+16# randrjwr 2015-10-03 12:09

Quoting: "Lynch said the Justice Department does "encourage" local departments to maintain records on police shootings but that improving police-community relations is more important. She noted that the small size of the average police department could make record-keeping difficult."It might not be so difficult if they didn't shoot so many people. And, once again the chickens are consigned to care by the fox.Ridiculous!!P.S. Sorry--didn't see mmalinco's post before I wrote this, so it is redundant; but I'll post it anyway to weigh in on the issue alongside mmalinco (who said it better than I did).

+6# Capn Canard 2015-10-03 13:46

SHIT CAN Lynch NOW. She has proven herself not fit for service, she is someone who is not with the people as she snuggles up to powerful to insure her own future. But what about the rest of us?

+4# Cirze 2015-10-03 14:03

This is no surprise. I remember seeing her outed as a plant before she was confirmed. Like Arne Duncan and so many before her, she was picked to make these very bad decisions. Sometimes I think it's still a part of being that good Republican-lite choice of times past in order to woo Republican votes . . . but then I remember that that also has been outed long ago. Are we stuck permanently with the wrong template used by our already planted politicians?"This, (as was predicted,) is yet another terrible appointment by our "great chief." "

+7# Archie1954 2015-10-03 15:58

Already this new appointee is backing off protecting the people from the police. How wrong can she be?

+4# Atliberty 2015-10-03 21:03

The US government is just an organization designed to stand as middle men between the corporations and the people, they work for the corporations not the people. She is worse of a corporate police state stamp of approval than Holder was.

+3# Shades of gray matter 2015-10-03 21:37

Her policy position is AWFUL, and her rationale for it is preposterous. Has she no shame? Is she the Samantha Powers of domestic policy, policy rationale? Slick Willie thought by sliding to the Right, ex., re kkkops, he could undermine GOPers. Then W got elected twice and the House & Senate are in GOP hands. Hillary & Obama can't see that?

+2# Banichi 2015-10-03 23:15

I am sick to my stomach to read this story. I would not have believed any black person, male or female, could possibly have handed the primarily white police departments of this country a free pass to not have to be accountable for their actions. But here we are and she did. As far as Hillary and

Obama being able to see the results of a slow slide to the right NOT placating or "building bridges" with the GOP, if they don't know that by now, they are only demonstrating that there was no bridge to build in the first place. A GOP member of Congress has now admitted openly that the order was passed down after Obama's election to block everything he tried to accomplish. Obama could not have missed that fact in short order after his election, but he seemed to keep on trying to buy acceptance by giving away big pieces while getting little crumbs in exchange. The terms of passing the NDAA in exchange for ending 'Don't Ask, Don't Tell' are an example, and I mean no offense whatever to gays in the military in saying that. It is good that 'Don't Ask, Don't Tell' ended. The NDAA affects the entire country. I assert that both Obama and Hillary know very well what the elite's marching orders have been and are now. We are the only ones who keep on hoping that they might change their ways. Both Hillary and Obama have pushed for the finalization of the TPP and TPIP which would supersede any rights under the Constitution. Think they don't know that? THEY DO.

+2# Banichi 2015-10-03 23:31

Whether it is the NDAA giving the military the right to pick up US citizens off the street at any time or place, or the TPP and TPIP having clauses which allow the corporations to sue the U.S., state or local governments for 'loss of potential profits' if laws or local ordinances prevent them from going after resources anywhere they want to (and this is regardless of the damage to the environment or citizens' health or any other reason; such suits will be decided in corporate tribunals with no regard to the sovereignty of any nation who signs the agreements) the direction is clear. I should not have to point it out to you. Hillary has been a member of the .01% for a long time, and has no commitment to anything else. What she says on the campaign for President means zero, just as Obama's campaign promises meant nothing. The only hope I have left for restoring the rule of law as delineated in the Constitution and Bill of Rights is the possible election of Bernie Sanders, folks. Otherwise we are stuck with people whose political loyalty is to a system that has only served to get us where we are today, and will not help the restoration of the Constitution, the middle class, or help the poor, or people of color (and that includes 'white'). This is the end result of a capitalist system with the power to enslave all of us with no accountability, get it?

+3# geraldom 2015-10-03 21:50

Oh how I have come to hate Obama. I voted for the asshole in 2008. It seems that we have an Aunt Jane running the USDOJ. I thought that Janet Reno in the 2000 presidential election was bad enough when she refused to jump into the fray as U.S. AG to halt and investigate the stealing of the 2000 presidential election and the massive violations of the VRA at the time, but Loretta Lynch is getting up there. Obama is a lot smarter than this. If Obama was the president he claimed he was when he was candidate Obama, how can he screw up so badly with virtually all of his appointees and cabinet members?

+4# lfeuille 2015-10-03 23:04

To Bernie Sanders: When you become president please make sure to appoint people who actually believe in your agenda.

Chief Eden

I am still waiting for your reply telling me whether you intend to comply NLT 10/15.

When vetoing EC-15-433 "Veto Message on R-15-243 Establishing a Policy that Enforcement of Laws Criminalizing Possession of One Ounce or Less of Marijuana for Adult Personal Use Shall Be a Low Law Enforcement Priority" he would try to justify it in his 10/1 letter (scan 177 attached) by saying hypocritically that, "Our police officers have taken an oath to uphold the laws of the State of New Mexico. I took the same oath. I take my oath seriously, and I will not place the fine men and women of the Albuquerque Police Department in a position where they are told to compromise their oaths and disregard State law."

Yet it is apparently OK for you with the Mayor's and Ms. Hernandez's blessing to continue to ignore the NM IPRA-also a STATE LAW-just in case you all don't remember this.

I wonder whether even one City Councilor at Wednesday's Council meeting will ask you, Ms. Hernandez and CEO Perry why you continue to not comply with this important sunshine law.

The ONLY APD recording showing an actual APD shooting was the murder by Sandy and Perez of James Boyd in 2014. You couldn't let that happen again-I guess.

I await your reply

Subject: FW: NM IPRA Request

Chief Eden

I guess since we have depended on the ABQ Free Press, the Eye on Albuquerque and some TV reporters to tell us about the City's rampant stonewalling of IPRA requests, I guess Berry's personal attorney Ms. Hernandez has been told to come up with some damage control measure to try convince citizens that this Berry administration is really not the worst in the City's history and your APD not the most dangerous.

Reference the Journal editorial today-"City right to plug its pricey IPRA violation drain" telling us that Mayor Berry's personal attorney now has a "team that focuses on IPRA processes and policies to establish and ensure consistency in what is supplied and what is denied." Is Kathryn Levy on Ms Hernandez's new damage control team?

Is Bill Roseman who was part of the stonewalling process when trying to justify in the absence of any recordings Jeremy Dear's murder of Mary Hawkes? Dear's accomplice in that murder was none other than your embarrassing spokesman Tanner Tixier who parroted Dear's lies that Mary really had a gun. Is Rob Perry also part of Jessica's "team"?

Does this "consistency" mean APD is again going to be permitted to find some bogus excuse for never releasing any video and audio recordings showing the actual APD shootings as has been your APD's history? No recordings-no proof of your officer(s) lying and thus no accountability.

With the exception of the since helmet video of the James Boyd murder by Perez and Sandy and State police audio exposing Sandy's pre-meditation two hours before shooting Boyd, there has not been even ONE (I repeat, not even ONE ) video showing any actual APD shooting.

See the attached "Live Leak" report from an honest APD cop saying you were complicit in withholding other incriminating recordings of the Boyd murder.

Claiming that your former NM IPRA stonewaller Reynaldo Chavez was just a disgruntled employee is just more embarrassing doubletalk on your part as Reynaldo finally spilled his guts that Hernandez's Levy and possibly you and others told him to bury the incriminating recordings proving the death of Mary Han was a murder and not a suicide.

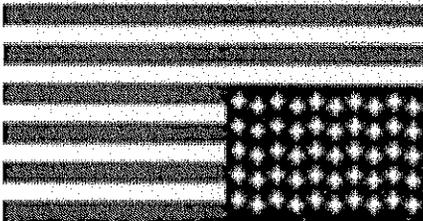

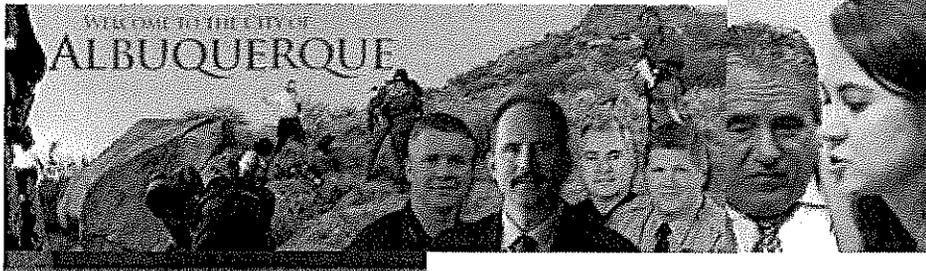

If (thus far cowardly/MIA from the public) James Ginger and his fellow former officers on PMR Inc. were really doing their jobs, they too would ask to see the videos of every shooting as should the DOJ and the media.

My IPRA request below is another attempt to find out whether your APD shooter acted in self-defense as he claimed when shooting illegally at a fleeing car.

I am still waiting for a response to my IPRA request below. Also, check out the latest Eye on Albuquerque posting. It mentions you.

IAW the NM Inspection of Public Records Act, request the opportunity to review all of the video and audio recordings of the latest shooting reported in the Journal article below.

Please copy Dr. Ginger and the media shown as CC addressees. I would assume that Ginger and the media would also want to see and hear the recordings.

The first journal article discusses trigger-happy APD shooter Brian Pitzer while the second includes statement by interim Chief Banks who had said to KOAT in an earlier 2013 report that it was acceptable for police officers to lie to protect themselves. I assume the videos will prove that the officers didn't lie when saying the fleeing suspect was pointing a gun at them.

Carjacking suspect shot at by officer gives SWAT team the slip

Albuquerque police search for a suspect near San Pedro and Karlson NE Wednesday morning. (Roberto E. Rosales/Journal)By Robert Browman And Nicole Perez / Journal Staff Writers

Kat Ramos heard it before she saw it. Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang! Then screeching tires. A car came barreling toward her, narrowly missing her son, who was playing with Legos on the sidewalk. She had just witnessed the Albuquerque Police Department's latest officer-involved shooting. Police say an APD officer opened fire at a carjacking suspect who was fleeing down Ramos' block in a car Wednesday morning. The suspect, who police said pointed a handgun at the officer, sped away and drove to a mobile home park in the Northeast Heights. SWAT officers worked throughout the day at the mobile home park to try to find the suspect and arrest him, only to find he wasn't there Wednesday night. The incident began when officers were called to Española and Grand NE around 10 a.m. after a security company gave them GPS data on a car that had been carjacked from a woman, said officer Tanner Tixier, an APD spokesman. Police Chief Gorden Eden said that when officers arrived at the scene, they took two suspects into custody, but that a third suspect jumped into a stolen vehicle and fled. "As the suspect fled the scene, he pointed the gun at one of our officers, who shot at the suspect an unknown number of times," Eden said. Tixier said he didn't know whether the suspect was struck by the gunfire. Eden didn't name the officer who fired but said he wasn't injured in the shooting and would be placed on paid administrative leave, as is standard in police shootings. Although shooting at a moving car is a violation of APD's policies, Eden said the officer had perceived a threat to his safety. "The person, while he was in a vehicle, pointed a firearm at the officer," Eden said. "The officer perceived a threat and responded according to this training." Ramos said she was drinking coffee with her neighbor and saw about six police cars in front of a house about a block down her street. Officers started making announcements over a loudspeaker. Then, she said, she saw a gray sedan weave through the police cars and speed down the street. An officer walking on the east side of the street raised his gun and pointed it at the car, which was fleeing ahead of him, Ramos said. Then she heard five shots. "The cop just opened fire, trying to take him out," she said. She said she couldn't see whether the suspect pointed a gun at the officer but said officers told her he did. Shannon O'Neil, who lives nearby, said he heard five shots, went outside and heard an older officer tell the other officers that he had missed the suspect. "He said something to the effect of,

From: Richard J. Berry, Mayor

SUBJECT: Veto Message on R-15-243 Establishing a Policy that Enforcement of Laws Criminalizing Possession of One Ounce or Less of Marijuana for Adult Personal Use Shall Be a Low Law Enforcement Priority

I have carefully considered and have exercised my veto authority on R-15-243, which passed at the City Council meeting of September 21, 2015, by a vote of 5 For and 4 Against.

New Mexico law has established by statute that possession of marijuana is a crime. Our police officers have taken an oath to uphold the laws of the State of New Mexico. I took the same oath. I take my oath seriously, and I will not place the fine men and women of the Albuquerque Police Department in a position where they are told to compromise their oaths and disregard State law.

For these reasons, I am vetoing this bill.

E. Family Abuse and Stalking Training Team (FASTT)

1. It is the policy of the Albuquerque Police Department to investigate all domestic violence and stalking crimes within the city of Albuquerque and to take appropriate action in those cases, to ensure the safety of victims.
2. Creation of the Family Abuse and Stalking Training Team
  - a. The Albuquerque Police Department recognizes the need for a specialized unit to investigate continuing and escalating forms of domestic violence and stalking, as well as to provide specialized training for department personnel. The department's goal is to reduce or eliminate domestic and stalking related homicides, chronic and repeat abuse, and/or other related offenses through early intervention, investigations resulting in criminal prosecution, surveillance and/or arrest operations, safety planning, high-risk restraining order service, disruptive interviews, and assistance to victims and advanced training for department personnel.
3. Unit Composition
  - a. The FASTT Unit is formed as a part of the Criminal Investigations Bureau, Violent Crimes Section.
  - b. One Sergeant, who reports to the Violent Crimes Lieutenant and Criminal Investigations Bureau Commander, directly supervises the FASTT Unit.
  - c. The FASTT Unit consists of a defined number of detectives and Victim Liaison personnel (designated by the Chief of Police or his representative) who are specially trained in the investigation of domestic violence, stalking and related offenses.
4. Interagency Cooperation
  - a. FASTT Unit detectives and department personnel will work in close cooperation with local victim's resource centers as well as the District Attorney's office for the protection of victims and the prosecution of offenders.
5. Domestic Violence Investigations established. The FASTT Unit will assume primary and follow up investigative responsibilities and function in the following capacities:

- i. Stalking – The FASTT Unit will conduct follow up investigation of all stalking cases, with exception of political stalking or stalking by the mentally disturbed. It is the Unit's understanding that the Intelligence Unit investigates political stalking, while the Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) works with the mentally disturbed. FASTT's goal is to focus on domestic violence stalking specifically, however, it is realized other stalking situations will arise where the suspect has some sort of romantic fixation upon the victim, yet no actual relationship exists. Field officers and impact detectives will still have initial enforcement responsibilities including arrest, summons or application for arrest warrant(s).
- ii. DV Repeat Offenders - The unit will ensure appropriate actions were taken by initial investigating personnel, then conduct a thorough follow-up investigation of assigned cases.
- iii. FASTT Unit Violent Crimes liaisons will be tasked with the initial review of all domestic violence and stalking related APD reports received, focusing on reports of threats to kill and/or overall increasing levels of lethality. The victim liaison will then utilize the appropriate threat assessment tool to gain investigative clarity through the examination of past and present police reports. Once all relevant offender history is documented, the finished offender packet will be given to the FASTT Sergeant for supervisory review. The FASTT Sergeant will then determine if a FASTT Detective will be assigned to work the case. Cases involving identified high lethality offenders will be given investigative priority due to the victim and community safety.
- iv. All of the following appropriate threat mitigation techniques shall be considered on a case by case basis:
  - Disruptive Interviews
  - Safety Planning
  - Surveillance
  - Order of Protection
  - Order of Protection Service Assistance
  - Investigative pressure
  - GPS Tracking (via search warrant)
  - Arrest and/or Search Warrants
- v. Q&A Resource – FASTT detectives will serve as a question and answer resource for other members of the Albuquerque Police Department, as well as assisting outside agencies upon request. Detectives will provide specialized information concerning domestic violence, stalking and related offenses, thereby assisting officers and other detectives in their investigations. Detectives will stay updated concerning the most recent legislative changes and efforts, procedures for obtaining emergency and temporary restraining orders via the District Court, as well as other related issues.
- vi. Training – FASTT Detectives will conduct advanced training for APD and other agencies as requested and approved via the chain of command.
- vii. Liaison with community groups – FASTT detectives will serve as community contacts and establish proactive relationships with domestic violence and victim's advocates groups. Detectives may be called upon to assist such groups with the drafting and presentation of proposed legislative actions and changes.

viii. Walk-In DV complaints at Albuquerque Family Advocacy Center (AFAC) – FASTT detectives will serve as the reporting contact for walk-in domestic violence complaints at the AFAC or from the Victim's Assistance Unit. This does not alleviate field officer's responsibilities to investigate and report domestic violence complaints by referring victims to the AFAC.

2-13 RESPONSE TO PERSONS AFFECTED BY MENTAL ILLNESS OR IN CRISIS

2-13-1 Policy

Responding to situations involving individuals whom officers reasonably believe to be affected by mental illness or in crisis carries potential for violence; these situations require an officer to make difficult judgments about the mental state and intent of the individual. It also necessitates the use of special police skills, techniques, and abilities to effectively and appropriately resolve the situation.

This policy will establish guidelines and procedures to be followed when a person's behavior is indicative of mental illness or crisis.

2-13-2 Definitions

A. Mental Illness

An impairment of an individual's normal cognitive, emotional, or behavioral functioning, caused by physiological or psychosocial factors. A person may be affected by mental illness if he or she displays an inability to think rationally (e.g., delusions or hallucinations); exercise adequate control over behavior or impulses (e.g., aggressive, suicidal, homicidal, sexual); and/or take reasonable care of his or her welfare with regard to basic provisions for clothing, food, shelter, or safety.

B. Grave Passive Neglect

Failure to provide for one's basic personal needs, medical needs, or for one's own safety, to such an extent that it is likely to result in bodily harm.

C. Certificate of Evaluation

A document completed by a licensed physician, certified psychologist, or a qualified mental health professional licensed for independent practice who is affiliated with a community mental health center or core service agency, that certifies a person, as a result of a mental disorder, presents a likelihood of harm to him/herself or others and that immediate detention is necessary to prevent such harm.

D. Crisis

An individual's emotional, physical, mental, or behavioral response to an event or experience. A person may experience crisis during times of stress in response to real or perceived threats and/or loss of control and when normal coping mechanisms are ineffective.

[DOJ 128]

Where possible, eliminate emergency lights and sirens, disperse crowds, and assume a quiet nonthreatening manner when approaching or conversing with the individual. Where violence or destructive acts have not occurred, avoid physical contact, and take time to assess the situation. C. CIRT Incident Review

1. It is the policy of this department that an examination of uses of deadly force or other high-risk police operations, as directed by the Chief, will be conducted by a Critical Incident Review Team. The purpose of this review is to improve both individual and the agency's performance. This process is similar to an after-action review where the role is to dissect what was planned, what happened, why it happened, and what can be done differently to improve performance. To accomplish this, CIRT will evaluate decision making, tactics used, the actual use of force and supervision. CIRT will identify any training needs (for the individual officer, squad, unit, section or on a department-wide basis) and/or any necessary changes to policies and practices.
2. CIRT has the added goal of highlighting superior performance in such incidents by validating the tactics applied and by educating the workforce on what occurred. The overall mission of CIRT is to minimize risks and maximize safety in future police operations through sharing lessons learned from the Department's past experiences.
3. The lead CIRT detective will initiate an IAPro entry and obtain a CIRT case number as soon as practical upon initiating an investigation

In furtherance of their review, CIRT may speak with employees who have been involved in a particular critical incident; however, CIRT will not interview employees until after CIRT has received a briefing by Force Investigation Team (FIT). In the circumstances where an employee provides a statement to FIT, CIRT may interview the employee several weeks later. If an involved employee chooses not to provide a voluntary statement to FIT, then CIRT will begin their review at an earlier date. Prior to beginning any compelled interviews, CIRT will provide employees with the 48-hour Notification of Employee Administrative Investigation.

- b. During CIRT's tactical/administrative review, the rights as stated in the Police Officer's Bill of Rights (NM Statute 29-14-4) are afforded to all department employees as well as current employee union contract.

7. Accidental Discharge

- a. Any weapon involved in an accidental discharge must be inspected prior to being returned to service. The lead CIRT case detective will either coordinate a replacement for the employee or make arrangements for the firearm to be immediately inspected at the APD Range. It will be the responsibility of CIRT to transport the firearm to the range for inspection. If no replacement is available and the officer is unable to perform his or her duties without it, depending on the type of firearm (i.e. handgun), APD range will be called out to obtain a suitable replacement. If the accidental discharge involved a shotgun, a low lethality shotgun, or rifle the firearm inspection shall be conducted during normal business hours and the firearm then returned to the officer or his or her supervisor.
- b. All incidents that CIRT investigates involving an accidental discharge of a firearm, the lead CIRT case detective will obtain a memo from Range staff documenting the results of the firearm examination. The CIRT detective shall be responsible for ensuring the memo is linked to IAPro in the appropriate case file.
- c. Accidental discharges of a weapon, resulting in no persons injured, during a police operation will not be vetted by the Use of Force Review Board or Tactical Review Board. An incident presentation will be given to the involved officer's chain of command, to include his or her immediate supervisor through his or her area commander, following the completion and approval of the CIRT Administrative Report. The involved officer will also be present during the presentation.
- d. Prior to the presentation, the lead CIRT case detective will be responsible for routing the CIRT Administrative Report via IAPro to the involved officer's area commander. The involved officer will be afforded the opportunity to review the CIRT Administrative Report prior to the presentation to his or her chain of command.
- e. If the involved officer's commander determines that potential policy violations exist, which were identified by CIRT detectives, the commander will open an I number. This I number will follow the normal process and be submitted to Internal Affairs. Officers will be compelled to answer questions regarding knowledge of the facts and circumstances of the critical incident, regardless of whether or not a statement was provided to FIT. Each officer will be verbally admonished not to contact any employee or persons involved in the administrative investigation until those persons have been interviewed by CIRT. Each officer will be directed not to disclose any facts of the investigation with anyone except those persons with designated departmental authority until interviewed by CIRT. - a. Officers responding to the scene should utilize invisible deployment as much as possible using cover and concealment.
  - b. Containment of the immediate area should be established as soon as possible to ensure the subject's safety and the officer's safety.
  - c. If family and/or friends are present at the location, every attempt should be made to separate them from the subject. Once the subjects are separated from the individual, the family member or friend(s) should be interviewed to gain additional information.
  - d. The supervisor and the CIT officer should consult and develop a plan of action prior to contacting the subject.
6. Communicating with the subject
- a. When contacting the subject, officers should evaluate all available information. Face-to-face contact shall not be attempted if subject is known to be armed or to have been armed in the past. Officers shall ensure that distance from the subject is considered based on the threat the subject poses. When possible, officers shall attempt to contact the subject via telephone. If unable to make contact via telephone, alternate means such as public address announcements, social media, or any other electronic communication shall be attempted. If contact is made:
    - i. Provide reassurance that the police are there to help and that appropriate care will be provided.
    - ii. Attempt to find out what the nature of the crisis the individual is experiencing
    - iii. While relating to the individual concerns, allow the subject to express their feelings.
    - iv. Do not threaten the individual with arrest or physical harm.
    - v. Attempt to guide the conversation towards topics that seem to ease the situation.
    - vi. Always be truthful; if the individual perceives deception, he/she may withdraw and further complicate the situation.
    - vii. Ask the subject to disarm themselves and follow the exit plan provided by the officers/supervisors on scene.
7. De-escalate the situation
- a. The supervisor on scene will ensure that every reasonable attempt has been made to contact the subject. If the subject refuses to make contact with officers on scene and remains barricaded, the supervisor will:
    - i. Ensure that an on-duty lieutenant responds to the scene.
    - ii. Ensure all available resources have been utilized in order to safely resolve the situation
    - iii. The supervisor will not escalate or make forced entry into the location or close distance on the subject.
    - iv. The supervisor will ensure that the family members, friends, and subject have been provided additional resources and services available to them. This will be documented by the on-body recording device. A list of these resources will be available through the RTCC.

- v. The supervisor will document (on-body recording device) advising the family, friends, or others involved of the dangers of contacting a suicidal and/or barricaded subject.
  - vi. After reasonable attempts have been made to contact the suicidal and/or barricaded subject without resolution and does not meet the criteria of 2-42-3-D, a lieutenant shall have officers withdraw from the area.
  - vii. When officers clear the call, officers cannot force the family, friends, or others involved to leave the area. The supervisor will ensure that any subject who lives at the location of the incident and cannot safely return, has been offered a safe location to stay for the night. Additional basic needs should also be considered.
  - viii. If the subject has pending misdemeanor charges or misdemeanor warrant, officers shall not make forced entry to affect the arrest. This does not prevent the officer from filing the appropriate criminal charges under state statute or city ordinance.
  - ix. The on scene supervisor will ensure that an original report includes: all supplemental reports, video or digital recordings, victim/witness statements, and any other pertinent documents related to the incident are submitted according to department policy. All reports and statements will be forwarded to the Crisis Intervention Unit by the end of their shift.
  - x. On scene supervisor will ensure a periodic watch is entered for each shift for a 24 hour period at the location. The watch is for area command information only not to be dispatched.
8. Pick up order/Certificates of Evaluation are civil orders. These orders will not supersede policy established in this section. Mental health orders cannot be used as a basis for forced entry to take the subject into custody. Refer to SOP 2-13-3-B for Emergency Health Evaluation.
- C. Use of Tactical Units in Response to Suicidal and/or Barricaded Subjects:
1. SWAT will only be contacted after the on-scene Lieutenant has assessed the scene and can articulate any of the following factors:
    - a. Subject has a confirmed felony warrant
    - b. The subject is currently in the commission of a violent felony crime.
    - c. Subject has a confirmed non-violent felony warrant, currently in the commission of a non-violent felony crime, and has a documented violent history.
    - d. Subject is armed with a firearm and the on-scene officer can articulate that the subject is discharging the firearm.
    - e. Subject is armed in a public area displaying an immediate threat of violence in the public area.
    - f. There is positive confirmation of the presence of an unwilling subject who is unable to leave the location of the suicidal and/or barricaded subject.
  2. The Tactical Lieutenant will have the final determination on the use of Tactical Units on all situations.

3-45 REVIEW OF COMPLETED ADMINISTRATIVE INVESTIGATION CASES

3-45-1 Policy

To maintain high-level, quality service; to ensure officer safety and accountability; and to promote constitutional, effective policing, APD shall ensure that all allegations of officer misconduct are received and are fully and fairly investigated; that all findings in administrative investigations are supported by a preponderance of the evidence; and that all officers who commit misconduct are held accountable pursuant to a fair and consistent disciplinary system. [DOJ 162]

3-45-2 Rules

[5] A. Timeliness, Review, and Forwarding of Completed Cases

1. All investigations conducted by the Internal Affairs Bureau or the Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) shall be completed within 90 days of the initiation of the complaint investigation. The 90-day period shall not include time for review. An extension of the investigation of up to 30 days may be granted, but only if the request for an extension is in writing and is approved by the Chief. Review and final approval of the investigation, and the determination and imposition of the appropriate discipline, shall be completed within 30 days of the completion of the investigation. To the extent permitted by state and city law, extensions may also be granted in extenuating circumstances, such as military deployments, hospitalizations of the officer, and extended absences. [DOJ 191]
2. All cases will be forwarded to the Division Head of the accused employee. The Division Head will review the identified SOP sections and may add additional SOP sections if appropriate. The Division Head, with input from the effected employee's chain of command, shall make a recommendation as to what discipline, if any, should be imposed. The Division Head will list all mitigating and aggravating circumstances, in detail, which were considered. If the Division Head recommends a level of discipline outside of that suggested by the Chart of Sanctions, the Division Head must include a written, detailed, justification for the deviation. The Division Head shall also consider whether non-disciplinary corrective action is appropriate in a case where discipline has been imposed. The Division Head will then be required to forward his/her recommendation along with the complete file to the appropriate Deputy Chief of Police. [DOJ 202f]
3. Internal Affairs will provide the CPOA Executive Director a copy of all officer involved shootings. Other internal cases will be sent to the CPOA Executive Director upon request as part of the CPOA Internal Affairs review process.
  - a. The Executive Director has the authority to make findings and recommend discipline against officers involved in the incidents it reviews. The Chief shall retain discretion over whether to impose discipline and the level of discipline to be imposed. If the Chief decides to impose discipline other than what the agency recommends, the Chief must provide a written report to the agency articulating the reasons its recommendations were not followed. [DOJ 285]

4. APD shall develop protocols to ensure the confidentiality of internal investigation files and to ensure that materials protected from disclosure remain within the custody and control of APD at all times. [DOJ 284]
5. All supervisors are responsible for the security and confidentiality of all cases in their possession for review. [DOJ 284]
  - a. The cases shall be stored in a locked drawer, file cabinet, etc., when not being reviewed.
  - b. Allowing others outside the chain of command to view the case or releasing information from the case outside the chain of command is strictly prohibited.

[7] B. Case Review by the Chain of Command

1. The Executive Director/Commander/Manager should review the identified SOP sections and may add additional SOP Sections if appropriate. The Executive Director/Commander/Manager may request additional information from the effected employee's chain of command to assist him/her in making a determination. The Executive Director/Commander/Manager should then make a finding of sustained, not sustained, unfounded or exonerated for each SOP section with a brief explanation of the factual basis for the finding.
2. The Executive Director/Commander/Manager, with input from the effected employee's chain of command, shall make a recommendation as to what discipline, if any, should be imposed. The Commander/Manager should list all mitigating and aggravating circumstances which were considered. If the Executive Director/Commander/Manager recommends a level of discipline outside of that suggested by the Chart of Sanctions, the Executive Director/Commander/Manager must include a written justification for the deviation. The Executive Director/Commander/Manager will then be required to forward his/her recommendation along with the complete file to the Deputy Chief of Police/Major. Under normal circumstances, the entire process shall not take longer than five days from the time of receipt until the time it is delivered to Internal Affairs.
3. In order to ensure that all cases are kept confidential, Executive Director/Commander/Manager will store all completed cases in a secure area while in his/her possession.

[N/A] C. Case Review by the Internal Affairs Unit

1. The Internal Affairs Unit will review the recommended discipline and certify if it is consistent with past discipline for similar findings.

ADMINISTRATIVE ORDERS

SOP 3-45

Effective: xx/xx/xx Expires: xx/xx/xx Replaces: 03/16/11

[N/A] D. Case Review by the CPOA Executive Director

1. The CPOA Executive Director shall review the case and shall indicate by letter whether the investigation was objective, fair, impartial, free from political influence, and otherwise in compliance with the CPOA Ordinance, and shall make recommendations as to whether disciplinary action should be taken. The CPOA Executive Director will then return the case and letter to the Internal Affairs Unit.

[N/A] E. Final Case Review

1. Upon return of the case from CPOA Executive Director, Internal Affairs will forward the case and CPOA Executive Director's recommendation(s) to the Deputy Chief/Major/Area Commander of the accused employee. The Deputy Chief/Major/Area Commander shall review the case, the supervisors' recommendations, and the CPOA Executive Director findings.
2. If the Deputy Chief/Major/Area Commander concurs with CPOA Executive Director's but modifies the chain's recommendation, the division commander and Internal Affairs shall be notified. The division commander shall take the necessary action in accordance with the Deputy Chief/Major/Area Commander's decision.
3. If the Deputy Chief/Major/Area Commander's recommendations do not concur with those of the CPOA Executive Director, the Deputy Chief/Major/Area Commander will notify Internal Affairs in writing. At that time, the appropriate Deputy Chief/Major/Area Commander will direct his/her staff to arrange for a meeting between the Deputy Chief/Major/Area Commander (and/or the Chief), the CPOA Executive Director, and the Internal Affairs Lieutenant to discuss and possibly reconcile any differences.
  - a. Internal Affairs Lieutenant or designee will attend said meeting to answer or address administrative review issues.
  - b. If the meeting does not produce a concurrence and/or compromise, Internal Affairs will be notified and written documentation of recommendations by both sides will be forwarded, with the case, to the Chief of Police for review and final disposition.
  - c. If the final decision by the Chief does not concur with CPOA Executive Director's findings, a letter will be sent by Internal Affairs to the Chief Administrative Officer to advise of the non-concurrence (as per Directive #3; Ordinance 0-61).

[N/A] F. Final Decision Authority

1. The Deputy Chiefs/Executive Director/Majors/Division Heads/Commanders have the authority to make the final decision on disciplinary actions not exceeding 39 hours of suspension.
2. Only the Chief has the authority to make the final decision on disciplinary actions exceeding 39 hours, demotions, and termination of employment.

Councilors

While the Police Oversight Agency (POA) website claims the Agency is committed to transparency, I don't see the resumes of the applicants for the Executive Director position posted on its website.

This secrecy is yet more of the same. When Mayor chose Robin Hammer to be the IRO years ago, intentionally not revealed to the Council was the lawsuit filed against her for alleged judicial misconduct while she worked for the DA. The Council after learning of this still did nothing-went along.

Also, neither PMR Inc.'s head APD reform monitor James Ginger nor Scott Greenwood were forced to come before the public at Council meetings to hear what we say-all with the blessing of our embarrassing US Attorney for NM Damon Martinez.

The old POC then was kept toothless, spoon fed only what Robin, her investigators-(one a former senior Belen cop) and the APD Chief wanted them to see.

Three good POC members quit after Berry's attorney David Tourek opined in a memo that IRO Hammer (contrary to the Oversight Ordinance) worked for the executive branch and not the citizens appointed to the POC. Robin liked it that way as did Chief Schultz and his successors and also the bad cops whose names were never revealed. The POB seems to be still toothless now.

Did Councilor Benton learn anything about police oversight throughout the US when he spent our taxpayers' dollars on two trips to the NACOLE conference?

Does he care or any of you care about the secrecy surrounding the qualifications of and selection by the POB for this most important POA Executive Director's job. Show us the resumes!

Info those shown and not shown including many neighborhood leaders. I await your response to my questions below.

Related to this matter was last night's story by KOAT's reporter Megan Cruz below showing that those interviewed mentioned only superficial-merely "interesting" proposed changes. My comments to it are highlighted below.

Among the info I asked for below is just who were those involved in these "22 dialogues" that you mentioned in your invite below? You should have a record of them and when they occurred

I await your response. Thank you

“Residents spearhead change in APD Community policing councils provide new suggestions-updated 7:12 AM MDT Jul 27, 2015

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. —A major overhaul is in full swing for Albuquerque police. Last year, the Department of Justice found APD had a pattern of deadly force and ordered several changes, including a push for APD to be more community-oriented. To Michael Mora, that means, "doing more within the neighborhood." APD agreed, so it created what's called "community policing councils" across the city to find out what people think the department needs to change. Police said residents have already come up with some pretty interesting ideas." Just "interesting"? How about more than just interesting ideas like APD not editing and releasing full recordings of officers acts of excessive force including shootings rather than stonewalling NM IPRA requests? How about holding the far too many bad cops and their bad leadership accountable by charging and firing them? How about giving the citizens' Police Oversight Board real power? How about putting meaningful information into the current meaningless reports issued by Robin Hammer for the new Police Oversight Agency? Today's Journal article documenting the $13k taxpayers spent to send not one-but four Cultural Services employees to an April Jazz Fest in New Orleans while running up lavish expenditures there that was first reported in a April or May KRQE story-a trip the four failed to report. Today's article also mentions two trips by Councilor Benton to attend conferences on civilian oversight-I assume the meetings were hosted by NACOLE. Apparently no changes to our weak oversight process resulted from those conferences after he came back. How about putting dash-cams back in APD vehicles. Mayor Chavez had them removed after they captured too much incriminating information shown on the "COPS" TV show that he also banned? How about clarifying the limitations of "privileged immunity" for officers really means? How about clarifying the limited protections offered officers by the 1967 Garrity vs. Supreme Court ruling as the DOJ did following their investigation of the Seattle PD. See page 1 of their letter attached. How about implementing the changes proposed by APD Forward in the Amicus Curiae sent to Judge Brack on 1/14/15 that Brack ignored? See page 1 attached "First, people said they thought the tint on some APD patrol cars was too dark."You can't see the police officer inside," said Albuquerque resident Robert Page. He said when you can't see the officer inside, it's hard to get to know who is patrolling the neighborhood."You know, you can't wave or smile at them, you have no idea and you miss that chance to interact," said APD spokesperson Celina Espinoza." APD officer Celina Espinoza who was interviewed has thus far been an embarrassing spokesperson for APD as has Tanner Tixier-the former partner/accomplice of trigger happy and never make recordings cop Jeremy Dear in the murder of Mary Hawkes. We are getting tired of hearing from both. "So APD measured the tints on all their car windows. It actually found some were too dark, so those windows are being fixed at the officers' expense. Why were the window tinted by the officers in the first place-something known by their leadership? "Another suggestion had to do with the department motto on the cars. Instead of "In Step With Our Community," residents requested "To Protect and Serve. APD officials said they think that's a "pretty good idea" too so the motto will change on the vehicles next year." Why wait until next year? I suggested this change numerous times to APD beginning in 2011. Previously all APD vehicles had "To Protect and Serve" on them but this was changed. Many believe because of their oppressive blue code of silence that punishes honest officers, the only "Community" APD has been in step with has been their own-the reason for the DOJ investigation. Further the new almost black $40K Dodge Charger low reliability muscle cars don't even have a slogan on them. Any slogan means nothing if only there for PR purposes if APD ignores it-doesn't walk the talk. I also recommended why did APD not keep all of the APD cars white as were those earlier vehicles bought? At a Council meeting SW Mesa leader Louie Tafoya was also openly critical of the change to the black color but like me was ignored. Was the old white color not deemed intimidating enough by then Chief Schulz? "So while the top brass make a lot of huge reforms," What "huge reforms"? "the department wants you to know the little things matter, too."We can't transform the community ourselves," said Espinoza. APD'S job is not to transform the community but to transform themselves and now serve and protect the community.

Annabelle

Some added comments-questions.

It seems kind of late to invite we-the people to now "collaborate" after the words of the DOJ agreement defining its limitations and the limitations of the monitoring team have already been put in concrete. Not stated by you are the specific goals, what is the agenda and just what powers this "action planning session" of the Albuquerque Collaborative on Police Community Relations really has.

You mention 22 community dialogues already held. I'm not aware of any of them but only one public meeting hosted by Dr. James Ginger.

M006223

Shouldn't the city website post the minutes of these 22 dialogues? Just what is to be determined during these Community Education, APD/Community Communication & Collaboration sessions?

More importantly, to what extent with this third group have any real influence over any "improvements to APD" since it was made quite clear to all including our City Councilors that the monitoring team PMR Inc. work for only those in the DOJ and Federal Judge Brack and have no obligation to listen to the Councilors or we-the people who they are supposed to represent.

The Councilors have been willing bystanders in the whole reform process thus far and have essentially ignored what changes to APD we have demanded.

Nor is consultant Scott Greenwood-and if still involved, his partner Tom Streicher obligated to comply with our demands but only to the wishes of the Mayor who contracted for their work over our objections.

Further, will local NAACP boss-now another of the Mayor's consultants- Harold Bailey be involved and if so, how?

It begs a question of skeptics like me whether this is just another Mayor Berry public relations ploy to give the illusion of real citizen involvement in the reform.

As the saying goes-fool me once-shame on you. Fool me twice-shame on me.

More specifics/details are needed Annabelle. I'm sure you have them to prove we will not be wasting our time if we choose to volunteer.

Thank you

Silvio

The Honorable Michael McGinn
Mayor
City of Seattle
600 4th Avenue, 7th Floor
Seattle, WA 98124-4749

Re: United States' Investigation of the Seattle Police Department –
Garrity Protections

Dear Mayor McGinn:

On March 31, 2011, the Civil Rights Division and the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Washington initiated an investigation of the Seattle Police Department ("SPD"), pursuant to the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, 42 U.S.C. § 14141, as well as the anti-discrimination provisions of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, 42 U.S.C. § 3789d, and Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. § 2000d.

At the beginning of our investigation, we committed to providing SPD with real time technical assistance to enhance SPD practices and procedures, and to ensure compliance with constitutional rights. During our meetings with Chief Diaz and the SPD command staff in May 2011 and September 2011, we advised that, if appropriate, we would provide in writing specific recommendations prior to completion of our investigation. In this letter, we convey our recommendations regarding SPD's practices relating to an officer's protections against self-incrimination pursuant to Garrity v. New Jersey, 385 U.S. 493 (1967).

Garrity provides important and fundamental protections for police officers, but its protections are limited. Our investigation has shown that SPD attempts to apply Garrity to all use of force and police involved shooting incidents. SPD's inappropriate blanket invocation of Garrity may result in the exclusion of important evidence from an investigation. Moreover, SPD's failure to shield criminal investigators from Garrity materials could taint and render unusable other critical evidence. These practices compromise both SPD's ability to supervise officers' use of force, and its ability to fully and efficiently conduct criminal and administrative investigations. Put simply: This practice makes it too difficult to quickly exonerate officers who have followed policy and to properly discipline officers who have not. Further, these practices compromise the ability of prosecutors or other outside agencies to adequately assess incidents and to hold officers accountable for their actions. The net effect of these consequences is diminished public trust in SPD.

(Pass copy to self-proclaimed "hero" Candelaria)

So all police officers view themselves and expect to be viewed by citizens as heroes just for putting on the uniform and wearing a badge. While it was great to recognize Lou Golson at this not "heroes" luncheon, does Lou, a great cop consider himself a hero? I doubt it. Nor do the other great cops in APD want that designation unless it is deserved. NO

US Attorney Martinez relatively new US Marshal Conrad Candelaria who has the freedom to shoot people because he-(unlike US marshals in California and elsewhere) is not required to wear and use body cameras here. No recordings-no accountability-right Conrad? Yet he dares to claim that attacks on these self-proclaimed "heroes" deserve to be labeled as hate crimes merely because they wear a badge.

This former high level minion of former corrupt APD Chief Schultz insults our intelligence. Newsflash to Candelaria-heroes do heroic deeds and most heroes are those who put on a military uniform risking their lives in overseas wars. Are any of the GIs killed by friendly fire also considered as hate crimes?

M006228

Was Conrad one of the US Marshals to be sent twice to the home of Tony Pirard to threaten him because he dared to criticize his boss Damon Martinez, Judge Brack and others at council meetings like Gestapo thugs?

As seemingly part of the problem here, "hero" Conrad should read this week's ABQ Free Press that includes a good article by a great retired officer Dan Klein, other articles that exposes the corruption in our APD and our do nothing pretend mayor. Conrad might check out the Eye on Albuquerque's postings unless APD shut it down and also what Joe Monahan writes in his blog

The totally unqualified APD Chief Eden was a former US Marshal and never even supervised eight people much less eight hundred when this Mayor made him chief ignoring other applicants with eye-watering credentials.

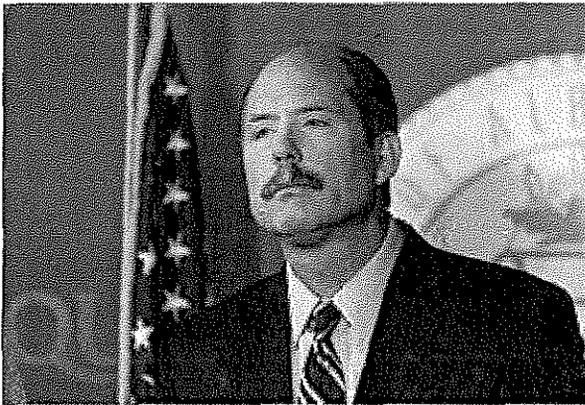

See my comments in red to Maggie's good coverage of the luncheon below. More than disgusted with the arrogant Conrad Candelaria

THE MOST CORRUPT ADMINISTRATION AND DANGEROUS POLICE FORCE IN THIS CITY'S HISTORY

Attacks on police officers called 'hate crime'

By Maggie Shepard / Journal Staff Writer PUBLISHED: Friday, August 28, 2015 at 12:05 am

CANDELARIA: Calls for tougher penalties

Law enforcement officers should qualify as a protected group under hate crime laws, U.S. Marshal Conrad Candelaria said Thursday during a lunch attended by area business leaders, high-profile law enforcement and elected officials. (NO-Conrad-those citizens who they murder and to date all get away with it should be called hate crimes. Who were these elected officials in addition to those mentioned below? Was the mayor or his CAO there?) Officers, he said, "are attacked and killed just because they wear a badge. That is a hate crime." His comments came in the wake of recent violence against local law enforcement, including several officers being rammed by vehicles and the recent shootings of two, one of them fatal. There should be "tougher and enhanced penalties" for attacks on officers, who he said should be a class protected by hate crime statutes. The statements drew loud applause from the 140 people at the New Mexico Business Coalition's annual Heroes Lunch. (Of course) The event honored with the group's Hero of the Year award Albuquerque Police Department officer Lou Golson, who survived being shot four times during a traffic stop in January. "It is a hero's desire ... to live purposefully," Candelaria said. (just to live purposely?) "Lou, your strength was tested and decisively ruled heroic." The business group gave Golson and his wife, April Golson, a gift certificate for a weekend hotel stay and a plaque. "I have mixed feeling about this (award)," Golson, who is back on limited duty at the Albuquerque Police Department. "I happened to get in the way of a few bullets and I happened to fall down," he joked. (Golson is a class act-unlike Candelaria.) The group also honored Marc Powell, owner of Recarnation used car dealership, which presenters said donates 50 percent of its profits to charity; A. Blair Dunn, an attorney with Western Agriculture, Resource and Business Advocates; and state Reps. Yvette Herrell, R-Alamogordo, and Dona Irwin, D-Deming. Candelaria also called for law enforcement to embrace the often contentious relationship with reporters, "those who rightly question, petition and criticize under the First Amendment" of the U.S. Constitution. "We must accept the competitive interests of these two professions," he said. Competitive interests? Sheer B.S. Was Journal reporter Ryan Boetel's recent disgraceful fluff piece-hero portrayal of Dominique Perez one of Eden's murderers of homeless camper James Boyd not enough of an insult to our intelligence? This was the only murder by APD cops where recordings were ever released. Candelaria is a retired APD commander and took the post as marshal in 2010. (He was one of those Schultz's boys who got out when the bloodbath against citizens got into full swing at Schultz's direction- like Schultz's then Commander Huntsman-now APD's shadow Chief).. Also in attendance were APD Chief Gorden Eden, (who refuses to severely punish officers for failing to record and lies to justify his officers' shootings) state Corrections Secretary Gregg Marcantel, Bernalillo County Sheriff Manuel Gonzales, (another disgraceful cop who refuses to equip his deputies with body cameras) Rio Rancho Mayor Gregg Hull, state Land Commissioner Aubrey Dunn and several members of the state legislature.

All

Knowing how many are armed in this city particularly the trigger-happy scum, it appears that the father who lost his daughter was reported last night by KOB to have possibly provoked the shooting by going out of his way to block from passing him the Toyota sedan driven by the shooter.

I assume APD's report below is based on that KOB eyewitness report last night.

Did the father also confirm to APD that he was repeatedly blocking the car driven by the shooter or didn't APD bother to ask?

Did the father of Lilly forget that he was driving in Albuquerque rather than in some civilized city? As Gomer Pyle said, "Stupid is as stupid does."

"Albuquerque police have released more information about the suspect and his vehicle in a deadly road rage attack on Interstate 40 Tuesday. A 4-year-old girl, Lilly Garcia, was shot in the head during the incident near I-40 and Unser Tuesday afternoon. She later died at the hospital. Police believe the vehicle the shooter was driving is a maroon or dark red Toyota four-door sedan, possibly a newer model (2014 or 2015) Corolla or Camry. APD says it is a "sportier" model with a spoiler on the trunk and dark tinted windows. The car was displaying a gray UNM plate with the Lobo logo on the left-hand side and may contain the digits "200." Police say the suspect is a white male with a dark complexion, possibly Hispanic. He is in his mid-20s to early 30s and has short dark hair, possibly in a fade haircut. He has a thin manicured goatee around his mouth, a thin face, soft jaw and average build. He was wearing a black shirt with gold or yellow writing on it. Crime Stoppers has made a $1,000 reward available for any information leading to the arrest of a suspect in this case. Anyone with any information is asked to call 843-STOP."

Councilors

You all saw this article by Dan McKay in the Journal about Wednesday's meeting.

What's interesting is that Councilor Sanchez says that the city is in crisis one reason I have shown the US flag upside down that symbolizes this.

Yet you Councilors censored it from not only from being shown on GOV-TV but also took away from me the real flag I brought took first at the direction of former Council President Sanchez and this year our current Council President Garduno. The ACLU apparently didn't care about this denial of my First Amendment rights-fearing to alienate you and this corrupt administration. It's all about not impacting their money raising effort.

Most except the naïve and/or apathetic here realize that this crisis is NOT because of the alleged shortage of APD officers that still has not been proven by any objective manpower and reallocation study.

Instead, it's because of our corrupt leadership. This corruption begins in the Mayor's office and extends down to you nine, to the incompetent Eden and to all on his senior Command staff.

As many honest-but fearful of Eden's retaliation APD cops have told me and likely others, rather than give these overpaid Command staff officers pay increases, all should be sent packing. This should start with those at Wednesday's meeting now being sued by former APD NM IPRA stonewaller Reynaldo Chavez who he claims was told to bury incriminating public records on the murder of Mary Han.

That's not the only APD incriminating public records-recordings and other material that Reynaldo was directed to withhold- a defiant practice that began under Schultz when the APD bloodbath began.

If the Council, particularly Sanchez and Garduno had any integrity, they would turn their American flag in the chambers upside down-a US Flag Code approved sign of distress.

As I said in my response today to Dan McKay who also parroted all of the half truths or blatant lies told to justify the selection of ex cop Ed Harness Wednesday night, former cops control the now even more ineffective and embarrassing Police Oversight Agency/process that is now even a bigger joke than before.

Berry, his brown shirt shadow Mayor Rob Perry, Eden, Huntsman, Garcia, Roseman, Jessica Hernandez and the others must love it as there will be even more cops never held accountable.

Let me give only one example of what happened in the past that you never saw publicized. See the attached CPC-2012-106 in our District 8. My Councilor Jones never gave one damn about this lack of police accountability.

A family is now grieving the death of their mentally impaired son while Schultz with the blessing of the IRO and POC never held the COAST or other involved officers accountable. Guess who was the unnamed IRO's investigator now working for Harness? Former Belen cop Paul Scotchdopole.

Any on the POB with any integrity should resign as three POC members did when former Berry attorney David Tourek opined in a 2013 memo that the IRO Hammer worked for the executive branch and not the POC.

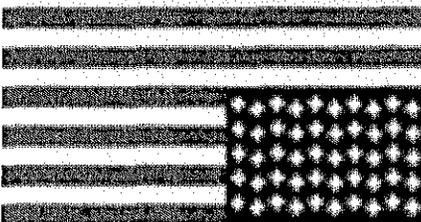

Finally, check out Joe Monahan's latest blog on Berry's and the Governor's buddy Darren White, the latest Eye on Albuquerque blog postings and this week's ABQ Free Press.

Disgusted-as are many here

Citizen Police Complaints Reviewed Third Quarter 2013

The Albuquerque Police Department provides for police protection, law enforcement, investigation, crime prevention, and maintenance of order in the community. In order to carry out their duties and responsibilities, the police are empowered with legal authority. To achieve success, the Department must win and retain the confidence and respect of the citizens it serves. Police officers do not act for themselves, but for the public. To that end, it is necessary to create and maintain a system through which the Department can be effectively directed and controlled. Written directives have been incorporated into Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) to guide and direct department personnel in the performance of their duties. Violations of these provisions may result in disciplinary charges against personnel. Standard Operating Procedures are defined as written orders by the Chief of Police or a bureau, division, or section commander to define policy and direct procedures for specific situations or events. The following section lists each of the Citizen Police Complaints (CPCs) reviewed by the POC during the Third Quarter. Each CPC entry is formatted with the CPC number, the Complainant's City Council District and Neighborhood Association (NHA), the investigating organization (Independent Review Office or Internal Affairs), a brief synopsis of the complaint, the current case status, followed by each of the officers involved in the complaint, including their assigned APD area. The officers' actual names have been omitted, and for any given complaint, are referred to using alphabetic letters (A-Z). Within each officer listing is the SOP number involved, the SOP's general category, the case finding, the Chief/IRO Decision, and the case disposition. For any SOP non-concurrence between the Chief and IRO, additional levels of commentary relative to the POC, Chief, and CAO are listed.

CPC-2012-106 District: 8, NHA: Glenwood Hills South Casa Grande - Investigator: IRO
Complainant called APD concerned for the welfare of her 21-year-old son. They noticed that their son's personal appearance had changed. Their son was experiencing delusions, hallucinations, and exhibiting signs consistent with Paranoid Schizophrenia. An APD officer went to the apartment and made contact with Complainant's son. Complainant relayed her concerns about her son to the officer and the officer told her that the police report will be forwarded to the COAST unit for follow-up. Later that evening, the Complainant and her husband went to their son's apartment because their son had agreed to go to the ER to undergo a psychological evaluation, but later changed his mind. Complainant called 911 and two officers arrived at the apartment and had placed their son in handcuffs. The officer announced that their son is going to jail for Domestic Violence against a family member. The Complainant and her husband told the officer that he needed medical help and the officer only seemed interested in taking her son to jail. The officer told her that they have the best psychiatrists in the jail and that her son would get the treatment that he needed, he would be drug-tested and have a psychiatric evaluation while he was in jail. Her son was not drug-tested in jail nor did he undergo an evaluation. He was booked and later released downtown. On March 27, 2012, a member of APD's Crisis Outreach and Support Team (COAST) called the Complainant and spoke about all of her concerns about her son. The member of the support team told Complainant that he would set up an appointment to meet with a Psychiatrist to see how they could get help for their son. The Complainant alleges that the system failed them and that the police and the COAST Team Member failed to intervene as they should have and could have prevented her son from taking his own life.

Drive by and see it - but there's no sign out front:

4659 Idlewilde Lane SE, from Carlisle, take Ridgecrest Drive east to Valverde, turn left and make an immediate right on Idlewilde. Ignore the house numbers in this first block of Idlewilde, because the first block is considered east-west and the next block is considered north-south (this only make sense to the post office). Take Idlewilde for almost two blocks, you'll see 4659 on your left as the road turns. If you Google the address, the "street view" misses the house number by 4 houses too far west.

Info to others shown and sent this Bcc

Before you vote on the new Executive Director, I suggest that you review the POB interviews with Harness, Rowland, and Sprague on the youtube posting below

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hfqMznu-XRE>

You were willing to be left out of the negotiations with the DOJ who rammed with Judge Brack's help a toothless reform agreement and toothless monitor down our throats. Will you betray us again?

Nobody knows who picked the five candidates to be interviewed by the POB and why a second meeting on this was needed by the POB.

TO: POB Members

Info to Councilors, media and others not shown

Reference my earlier e-mail shown below that expected you to respect the people and select the only candidate that was truly qualified to serve as the next Executive Director (ED)-Jay Rowland. You interviewed the five on July 29 and after conferring for hours should have announced your ranking then. You did not. The public had lost confidence in the oversight process as only attorney Alan Wagman spoke on July 29.

Rather than making your choice(s) on the 29th many believe you instead chose to ask APD, those Councilors who wanted to keep the oversight process a sham, the City's dictatorial Mayor and CAO just who they wanted. Of course these who wanted no real APD reform wanted a former cop even though Harness was completely unqualified for the job-had absolutely no related experience.

You then held another unnecessary POB meeting last night where not even one citizen was willing to speak to you knowing it would be a waste of time. This says that you have lost our confidence. You again went again into secret executive session/discussions.

You came out incredulously saying that former Milwaukee cop Edward Harness was your first choice followed by very experienced (but likely feared by APD Jay Rowland) and then made the also unqualified Edna Sprague your third choice. Those close to Edna say she has blessed everything cops do.

After once again reviewing Harness's responses to you last week it was again clear he had no clue of the problems with the oversight old process but spoke only in generalities trying to cover up his lack of qualifications for the job.

Does working for the Better Business Bureau show the proper police investigative experience? Neither Ed nor the others were ever asked what they thought was wrong with the old and current oversight process some of which the knowledgeable Jay Rowland discussed in detail without being asked.

Both the DOJ and Judge Brack ignored some of the required changes to the still flawed process documented in APD Forward's filed Amicus Curiae last January-first page of it is attached. Unlike Jay Rowland, neither Harness nor the other three ever discussed what should be the limitations of the 1967 "Garrity vs. Supreme Court" ruling that the DOJ opined to the Seattle Mayor but was ignored by the DOJ here. See page 1 of that opinion-attached. Nor did Ed or the other three discuss the police officers' "qualified immunity" that essentially gives them the benefit of doubt in any of their killings.

Harness restated his belief that a cop's life is more important than that of the average citizen-something it is NOT. Do you agree with that belief? This essentially gives cops the right to kill using the bogus excuse that they "felt threatened." Look at these same lies being told in court this week to try to justify Sandy's and Perez's murder of James Boyd.

Ed apparently never knew that under the current changed Ordinance that the Director and the POB cannot dictate discipline but that the APD Chief can ignore your recommendations offering up only some ridiculous excuses.

I guess Ed's only claim to fame was his alleged outreach ability-trade shows, police work with his local village association and his teaching of good financial practices to the poor. Again-he has no investigative experience other than responding to Better Business Bureau (BBB) complaints.

We already have one pro bad APD cop hired as a police oversight investigator while the two others were former employees of Target and Lowe's and have none. Robin Hammer who was sued for judicial misconduct while working for the DA was a bad enough selection by the Mayor (who she worked for) and Council and now you want a former out of town clueless cop Harness to replace her?

The Councilors likely bothered to read the resumes of those many extremely qualified applicants for the APD Chief job before blessing the incompetent bureaucrat Eden. Likely the Councilors also never read the resumes of the five applicants for this Executive Director position-resumes we were not allowed to see for some unknown reason.

Realizing that this is a dictatorship here with the Councilors choosing to abdicate its role as an integral part of our government, the nine likely never reviewed the GOV-TV interviews with the five (handpicked by who?) candidates to see how they responded to the often too broad questions posed them by you on the 29th.

Choosing the clearly unqualified Edward Harness to be your first choice was disappointing to say the least. If this former cop is chosen, the oversight process will still be toothless-yet another example of disrespect shown to us citizens-the real stakeholders who want real reform from the ED-not the ones the Mayor chooses:

Time to rethink your choice.

After viewing your meeting on GOV-TV last night that included interviews of five candidates for the "Executive Director of POA, the following are some of my observations/questions:

- 1. I assume that since current interim Executive Director Ms. Hammer was not interviewed, she did not apply for this POA Executive Director position or being considered as a sixth candidate
- 2. The talk by attorney Alan Wagman was right on target saying essentially that this selection is critically important-that we don't need more of the same (translated-not another Robin Hammer)
- 3. This position never required that it be an attorney when Ms. Hammer was hired for the IRO job since an attorney is already assigned to the IRO-yet all were attorneys.

M006245

4. Who chose these five candidates who you interviewed and more importantly who decided that you had to send three of the five interviewed to the Council to pick one? Only one stood out!
5. You saw their resumes-something that should have also been posted on the website. One candidate-a former Colorado sheriff's deputy had conflicting-erroneous information on his resume
6. Two of the applicants were former law enforcement/police officers both of whom had beliefs like Ms. Hammer.

Your selection decision is easy.

The only candidate that stood head and shoulders above the other four was former IRO during 2002-2007 Jay Rowland.

Based on his demonstrated knowledge of this job and expected respect by both the many APD honest police officers and the people, only Jay should be nominated to the City Council.

The only other even remotely credible candidate of the other four interviewed was Edna Sprague.

After Edna has the opportunity to review all of the GOV-TV interviews today, she too would likely believe that Jay would be the right choice.

The Honorable Michael McGinn
Mayor
City of Seattle
600 4th Avenue, 7th Floor
Seattle, WA 98124-4749

Re: United States' Investigation of the Seattle Police Department –
Garrity Protections

Dear Mayor McGinn:

On March 31, 2011, the Civil Rights Division and the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Washington initiated an investigation of the Seattle Police Department ("SPD"), pursuant to the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, 42 U.S.C. § 14141, as well as the anti-discrimination provisions of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, 42 U.S.C. § 3789d, and Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. § 2000d.

At the beginning of our investigation, we committed to providing SPD with real time technical assistance to enhance SPD practices and procedures, and to ensure compliance with constitutional rights. During our meetings with Chief Diaz and the SPD command staff in May 2011 and September 2011, we advised that, if appropriate, we would provide in writing specific recommendations prior to completion of our investigation. In this letter, we convey our recommendations regarding SPD's practices relating to an officer's protections against self-incrimination pursuant to Garrity v. New Jersey, 385 U.S. 493 (1967).

Garrity provides important and fundamental protections for police officers, but its protections are limited. Our investigation has shown that SPD attempts to apply Garrity to all use of force and police involved shooting incidents. SPD's inappropriate blanket invocation of Garrity may result in the exclusion of important evidence from an investigation. Moreover, SPD's failure to shield criminal investigators from Garrity materials could taint and render unusable other critical evidence. These practices compromise both SPD's ability to supervise officers' use of force, and its ability to fully and efficiently conduct criminal and administrative investigations. Put simply: This practice makes it too difficult to quickly exonerate officers who have followed policy and to properly discipline officers who have not. Further, these practices compromise the ability of prosecutors or other outside agencies to adequately assess incidents and to hold officers accountable for their actions. The net effect of these consequences is diminished public trust in SPD.

RESPECT IS EARNED AND NOT AN ENTITLEMENT OF POLICE OFFICERS

In past e-mails I have been critical of comparisons between police officers and those military actually seeing combat-vets who don't see killing people as a blessed video game like sport.

We are repeatedly told that all who wear a police uniform put their lives in danger every day and thus are to be viewed as heroes and to be given honors befitting one doing something truly heroic even vets killed in battle. There are even some in this city who discourage APD from hiring former military vets painting all with a broad brush that they are dangerous and kill motivated.

Those of us who have been under fire in war zones and have seen too many people on both sides die often make the best police officers. This is particularly true of those USA, USAF and Navy military police officers who undergo a background check and often require a security clearance.

When my comrades and I were in Vietnam, any free Sunday was spent in the Saigon orphanages bringing food and clothing to these kids or out in the hamlets helping the other victims of war. Unless one is a barbarian, you come back from war with a greater respect for the sanctity of human life.

Outstanding Rio Rancho officer-former vet Greg Benner killed last May during a traffic stop was the best example of a former military vet who truly cared about saving and not taking peoples' lives when later putting on the police uniform.

IRAQ VET ALEX HORTON'S STORY

Attached is a July 24-15 opinion piece written by former Iraq vet Alex Bland that appeared in the Washington Post. It tells about what was done to him by the Fairfax VA police trained to be warrior cops believing they could do whatever they wanted with the full support of their leadership.

Two of Alex's more notable statements contradicts the mistaken belief here that police officers' lives are more important than that of the ordinary citizen.

The culture that encourages police officers to engage their weapons before gathering information promotes the mind-set that nothing, including citizen safety, is more important than officers' personal security.

"Police officers should understand the risks in their jobs when they enroll in the academy, as well. That means knowing that personal safety can't always come first. That is why it's service. That's why it's sacrifice."

Unlike vets, most police officers have take home cars and enjoy good pay and even better retirement benefits. They also get to go home to their families every night. How many cops would be willing to put on a military uniform and see the difference? Likely very few. Yet we are told that all are revered like gods.

At least one fired APD cop here with a checkered past who many say should be prison for murdering his wife was recently admitted to UNM law school. Fellow APD officers contaminated the crime scene-his home as they had done at murdered attorney Mary Han's home.

Why is anybody surprised as UNM Hospital after firing a brave outspoken former APD Board member Kathy Korte for daring to criticize a State legislator and the test requirements imposed by Santa Fe, they hired as $50K consultant the son of a former state legislator "crony" knowing he had three DWIs.

One of the four angry writers to the Journal today called this hiring "Corruption on display" and damned UNM-a "a second or third tiered university" as a "first-tier pork barrel for the state' political pois."

BETRAYAL BY THE DOJ AND NO REAL REFORM UNTIL BERRY LEAVES OFFICE ALONG WITH EDEN AND PERRY

Others and I have criticized the DOJ and Judge Brack who selected PMR Inc. made up primarily former police officers led by James Ginger in PMR Inc to merely "monitor"-suggest reforms to APD for $4.5+ million over the next four years. Four years from now Ginger will likely claim that four years is not time enough time to reform APD and will ask for and get more money.

US Attorney for NM Damon Martinez even sent his US Marshals out twice to the home of one fellow critic of him and Brack to try to shut him up-much like in any police state. All of our city leaders downtown also looked the other way when the disgraceful Schultz threatened me and others.

Our cowardly leaders also looked the other way when it was revealed an APD Lieutenant was promoting "killology" classes for NM police officers reported in the NY Times exposed by KRQE. A vindictive father of a State police officer killed in 2005 promoted this "killology" training as well.

<https://www.washingtonpost.com/news/the-watch/wp/2014/11/20/albuquerque-police-lieutenant-advertises-killology-classes/>

Let us not forget Ray Schultz's TASER buddies former Cincinnati Police Chief Tom Streicher and attorney-Scott Greenwood, the latter hired for seven years to try to reform Streicher's PD after the DOD investigated it. The disgraceful Schultz had their contract "greased" by Mayor Berry to negotiate with the DOJ with the cowardly Councilors willing to go along with this insulting charade.

The councilors also allowed Schultz while still on the city payroll to award a no bid likely illegal $1.9 million contract with employer TASER in 2013 to be swept under the rug.

EDEN'S LEGACY

When the disgraceful Schultz, then deemed a possible political liability, was told by retire just before the last mayoral election, who did Berry hire to replace Schultz while ignoring 40+ other outstanding applicants for Chief?

It was none other than Governor Martinez throw-away-bureaucrat Gorden Eden who never even met the City's posted qualifications for the job. Schultz's SWAT/"death squad" boss Bob Huntsman was then brought out of retirement to run APD. Eden wasn't allowed to negotiate with the DOJ on behalf of his own department-leaving that job up to Tom Streicher and Scott Greenwood

It was Eden while in Santa Fe, who never considered firing his State cop Oliver Wilson who while running alongside a car driven by Jeanette Anaya after an illegal traffic stop emptied his gun into the vehicle killing her and almost killing her passenger.

"I feared for my life" was what Wilson and other NM cops are likely being taught to say as their convenient escape any accountability-get/stay out of jail free card.

Eden was the same man who hired warrior cop trainer Jack Jones to head the NM Law Enforcement Academy. See the attached "Warning" to all NM residents about Jones and the cops here posted last year on the "Daily Sheeple"

The "Warning" discusses yet another unjustified shooting-this time at the fleeing car driven by African American Oriana Farrell by Eden's State cop Elias Montoya a video that went viral nationwide. Killer Montoya was allowed to retire by Eden and then was hired by the Taos Sheriff's Department.

Yet APD is trying to get a good cop Dawne Roberto (who they fired) from ever serving ever as a police officer for allegedly revealing to the Eye on Albuquerque the corruption within APD. The oppressive blue code of silence here and within all police departments must be maintained at all cost. There is no room in PDs for honest cops.

AFRICAN-AMERICAN CITIZENS ALSO CONSIDERED HUMAN WASTE

In addition to Native Americans brutalized and often killed by police officers as discussed in my last e-mail, African Americans here are also treated with the same contempt/disrespect. One was fellow Vietnam vet Vincent Wood with PTSD murdered by two trigger happy APD cops who deemed him to be just human waste.

You all read of the exoneration of many other police officers who have shot black citizens nationwide. The latest victim was Sandra Bland in Texas, also mentioned in Alex Horton article. My comrades in the Stop Police Violence in Albuquerque movement sent me and others the following website postings on Bland.

Nobody in their right mind believes she committed suicide in her cell after being arrested and also allege that the dash camera recording of her stop was altered-as APD does routinely here.

"Texas state police have released the dash cam video of the violent cop assaulting and falsely arresting Sandra Bland. I had to watch it on mute because it's disturbing. The cop pulled a gun on her and yelled: "I will light you up!" <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KBmFCajjWYU> As you know, Sandra was found dead in her jail cell. DA is investigating is a homicide case."

Another comrade sent me this posting.

http://www.washingtonpost.com/blogs/wonkblog/wp/2015/07/22/what-cops-are-saying-about-the-sandra-bland-video/?tid=pm\_business\_pop\_b

*My understanding is that the cop pulled a Taser on Bland when he made the threat about lighting her up. It doesn't make it much better, but the threat makes more sense in the context of a Taser. When the cop called the report in to his supervisor, he claimed that he had gotten her out of the car in order to have her sign paperwork. As if. The real import of course is that none of this would be in the news but for Sandra Bland's death. Just another day at the cop shop."

THE COMPLICIT MEDIA

On July 25, I received the following from a comrade for real change in APD-something that seems to be wishful thinking because of far too much pro cop propagandists in the media. In this case, it concerned the Journal's partner-KOAT.

*"I got thoroughly disgusted with Nancy Laffin's report tonight reporting about taxpayers having to pay out millions for the Police murders of James Boyd, Chris Torres, Ken Ellis III & others. Of course they started off with James Boyd and his payout to his family members. Some voice tapes of James Boyd stated that he had been in the system since age 5. In short, Nancy was going to let people know how Boyd's family was putting that money toward mentally ill programs. She is going to follow the money and let taxpayers know where their money is going. "You taxpayers are paying for all this." What is never mentioned is why? Of course it's because the worst Police Department in the nation cannot keep their guns in the holster. The gun is the answer to everything. Of course media cannot mention the decades of police corruption and abuse done to our Native American brothers and sisters as they continue to treat them like "Human Waste." And of course our wonderful DOJ continues to stick it to the taxpayers by stating that Dr. Ginger and his crew will "monitor" the progress. "(The remainder of it his message is omitted-but you get the point)

Warning to Residents of New Mexico: Your Police Are Being Taught to Use More Deadly Force

Posted on February 23, 2014 by Lily Dane

The New Mexico State Police and the Albuquerque Police Department have come under fire in recent years for unjustified use of excessive force and for police-involved shootings. Incidents have occurred with enough frequency in the state to trigger a Department of Justice investigation that launched in 2012 and is still ongoing.

The state's police forces have become infamous for shooting at minivans full of kids and for their penchant for Roswellian anal-probing of suspects. Yet, the man who designs the training programs for the state's police departments doesn't see a problem. In fact, he has instituted a curriculum that puts LESS restraint on officers in deciding when to use deadly force.

Jack Jones is the director of the Law Enforcement Academy. The New Mexican reports that he has been granted full control over the design of the basic training program: In September, the state's eight-member Law Enforcement Academy Board, which is appointed by the governor and chaired by the attorney general, voted unanimously to change the New Mexico Administrative Code to give complete control over the curriculum to Jones. Greg Williams, an Albuquerque attorney and president-elect of the New Mexico Foundation for Open Government, said before the board voted on the change, it had a process that included public involvement.

"What they did was to change the process so that the public could not be involved," he said.

Some retired police officers and criminologists are questioning that change. They say having one person in charge of the curriculum isn't a good idea. They also have concerns about some of the tactics Jones is teaching: "It would be out of the ordinary for one person to write [the curriculum] without other people having input," said Thomas J. Aveni, director of the Police Policy Studies Council, a New Hampshire-based group that studies use of force by law enforcement. And Phillip Gallegos, a former academy instructor, called the rule change a "dangerous precedent." "Now you have one person that is making the selection, and who is to say that person knows what a curriculum is supposed to be like," Gallegos said. Last July, Gallegos was fired for insubordination after he refused to teach new cadets some of the firearms training Jones wanted to implement:

"The statement that he made to us [instructors] in a [January 2013] meeting was, 'No, I want you guys teaching these guys how to make a car stop with a bullet.'" Gallegos said, "This is the thing — why are you shooting at a car? You should be shooting at the individual that is shooting at you." Jones tried to justify that part of the training like this: "We want them to see that if there's a threat that's inside a vehicle and they need to shoot at it, what happens to that round.

They're wearing a gun and a badge protecting you [the public] against the violence. Don't you think they should be prepared for the most violent encounter that they can come up against?"

Say what? Way to skirt around the question, Jones! Williams said that because of the high number of police shootings, the public deserves to know how officers are being trained. He added that the training documents can't be lawfully withheld unless there is an ongoing criminal investigation or some other exception.

The New Mexican filed a request under the Inspection of Public Records Act for a copy of the academy's new curriculum. Jones wasn't having it. He said he doesn't plan to release it because criminals could use the tactics taught to cadets against them. "I'll burn them before you get them," he told The New Mexican.

Jones says officers need to be prepared for violence and justifies training officers to use more force because there are so many bad guys out there:

"Evil has come to the state of New Mexico, evil has come to the Southwest, evil has come to the United States."

I agree with Jones' opinion that evil has arrived in New Mexico, but I doubt we agree on the source.

In Iraq, I raided insurgents. In Virginia, the police raided me.

Alex Horton is a member of the Defense Council at the Truman National Security Project. He served as an infantryman in Iraq with the Army's 3rd Stryker Brigade, 2nd Infantry Division. I got home from the bar and fell into bed soon after Saturday night bled into Sunday morning. I didn't wake up until three police officers barged into my apartment, barking their presence at my door. They sped down the hallway to my bedroom, their service pistols drawn and leveled at me. It was just past 9 a.m., and I was still under the covers. The only visible target was my head.

In the shouting and commotion, I felt an instant familiarity. I'd been here before. This was a raid. I had done this a few dozen times myself, 6,000 miles away from my Alexandria, Va., apartment. As an Army infantryman in Iraq, I'd always been on the trigger side of the weapon. Now that I was on the barrel side, I recalled basic training's most important firearm rule: Aim only at something you intend to kill.

I had conducted the same kind of raid on suspected bombmakers and high-value insurgents. But the Fairfax County officers in my apartment were aiming their weapons at a target whose rap sheet consisted only of parking tickets and an overdue library book. My situation was terrifying. Lying face down in bed, I knew that any move I made could be viewed as a threat. Instinct told me to get up and protect myself. Training told me that if I did, these officers would shoot me dead. In a panic, I asked the officers what was going on but got no immediate answer. Their tactics were similar to the ones I used to clear rooms during the height of guerilla warfare in Iraq. I could almost admire it — their fluid sweep from the bedroom doorway to the distant corner.

They stayed clear of one another's lines of fire in case they needed to empty their Sig Sauer .40-caliber pistols into me. They were well-trained, their supervisor later told me. But I knew that means little when adrenaline governs an imminent-danger scenario, real or imagined. Triggers are pulled. Mistakes are made. I spread my arms out to either side. An officer jumped onto my bed and locked handcuffs onto my wrists. The officers rolled me from side to side, searching my boxers for weapons, then yanked me up to sit on the edge of the bed.

At first, I was stunned. I searched my memory for any incident that would justify a police raid. Then it clicked. Earlier in the week, the managers of my apartment complex moved me to a model unit while a crew repaired a leak in my dishwasher. But they hadn't informed my temporary neighbors. So when one resident noticed the door slightly cracked open to what he presumed was an unoccupied apartment, he looked in, saw me sleeping and called the police to report a squatter.

Sitting on the edge of the bed dressed only in underwear, I laughed. The situation was ludicrous and embarrassing. My only mistake had been failing to make sure the apartment door was completely closed before I threw myself into bed the night before. I told the officers to check my driver's license, nodding toward my khaki pants on the floor. It showed my address at a unit in the same complex. As the fog of their chaotic entry lifted, the officers realized it had been an unfortunate error. They walked me into the living room and removed the cuffs, though two continued to stand over me as the third contacted management to confirm my story. Once they were satisfied, they left.

When I later visited the Fairfax County police station to gather details about what went wrong, I met the shift commander, Lt. Erik Rhoads. I asked why his officers hadn't contacted management before they raided the apartment. Why did they classify the incident as a forced entry, when the information they had suggested something innocuous? Why not evaluate the situation before escalating it? Rhoads defended the procedure, calling the officers' actions "on point." It's not standard to conduct investigations beforehand because that delays the apprehension of suspects, he told me.

I noted that the officers could have sought information from the apartment complex's security guard that would have resolved the matter without violence. But he played down the importance of such information: "It doesn't matter whatsoever what was said or not said at the security booth." This is where Rhoads is wrong. We've seen this troubling approach to law enforcement nationwide, in militarized police responses to nonviolent protesters and in fatal police shootings of unarmed citizens. The culture that encourages police officers to engage their weapons before gathering information promotes the mind-set that nothing, including citizen safety, is more important than officers' personal security. That approach has caused public trust in law enforcement to deteriorate.

It's the same culture that characterized the early phases of the Iraq war, in which I served a 15-month tour in 2006 and 2007. Soldiers left their sprawling bases in armored vehicles, leveling buildings with missile strikes and shooting up entire blocks during gun battles with insurgents, only to return to their protected bases and do it all again hours later. The short-sighted notion that we should always protect ourselves endangered us more in the long term. It was a flawed strategy that could often create more insurgents than it stopped and inspired some Iraqis to hate us rather than help us.

In one instance in Baghdad, a stray round landed in a compound that our unit was building. An overzealous officer decided that we were under attack and ordered machine guns and grenade launchers to shoot at distant rooftops. A row of buildings caught fire, and we left our compound on foot, seeking to capture any injured fighters by entering structures choked with flames. Instead, we found a man frantically pulling his furniture out of his house. "Thank you for your security!" he yelled in perfect English. He pointed to the billowing smoke. "This is what you call security?" We didn't find any insurgents. There weren't any. But it was easy to imagine that we forged some in that fire.

Similarly, when U.S. police officers use excessive force to control nonviolent citizens or respond to minor incidents, they lose supporters and public trust. That's a problem, because law enforcement officers need the cooperation of the communities they patrol in order to do their jobs effectively. In the early stages of the war, the U.S. military overlooked that reality as well. Leaders defined success as increasing military hold on geographic terrain, while the human terrain was the real battle. For example, when our platoon entered Iraq's volatile Diyala province in early 2007, children at a school plugged their ears just before an IED exploded beneath one of our vehicles. The kids knew what was coming, but they saw no reason to warn us. Instead, they watched us drive right into the ambush. One of our men died, and in the subsequent crossfire, several insurgents and children were killed. We saw Iraqis cheering and dancing at the blast crater as we left the area hours later.

With the U.S. effort in Iraq faltering, Gen. David Petraeus unveiled a new counterinsurgency strategy that year. He believed that showing more restraint during gunfights would help foster Iraqis' trust in U.S. forces and that forming better relationships with civilians would improve our intelligence-gathering. We refined our warrior mentality — the one that directed us to protect ourselves above all else — with a community-building component. My unit began to patrol on foot almost exclusively, which was exceptionally more dangerous than staying inside our armored vehicles. We relinquished much of our personal security by entering dimly lit homes in insurgent strongholds. We didn't know if the hand we would shake at each door held a detonator to a suicide vest or a small glass of hot, sugary tea.

But as a result, we better understood our environment and earned the allegiance of some people in it. The benefits quickly became clear. One day during that bloody summer, insurgents loaded a car with hundreds of pounds of explosives and parked it by a school. They knew we searched every building for hidden weapons caches, and they waited for us to gather near the car. But as we turned the corner to head toward the school, several Iraqis told us about the danger. We evacuated civilians from the area and called in a helicopter gunship to fire at the vehicle.

The resulting explosion pulverized half the building and blasted the car's engine block through two cement walls. Shrapnel dropped like jagged hail as far as a quarter-mile away. If we had not risked our safety by patrolling the neighborhood on foot, trusting our sources and gathering intelligence, it would have been a massacre. But no one was hurt in the blast. Domestic police forces would benefit from a similar change in strategy. Instead of relying on aggression, they should rely more on relationships. Rather than responding to a squatter call with guns raised, they should knock on the door and extend a hand. But unfortunately, my encounter with officers is just one in a stream of recent examples of police placing their own safety ahead of those they're sworn to serve and protect.

Rhoads, the Fairfax County police lieutenant, was upfront about this mind-set. He explained that it was standard procedure to point guns at suspects in many cases to protect the lives of police officers. Their firearm rules were different from mine; they aimed not to kill but to intimidate. According to reporting by The Washington Post, those rules are established in police training, which often emphasizes a violent response over de-escalation. Recruits spend an average of eight hours learning how to neutralize tense situations; they spend more than seven times as many hours at the weapons range.

Of course, officers' safety is vital, and they're entitled to defend themselves and the communities they serve. But they're failing to see the connection between their aggressive postures and the hostility they've encountered in Ferguson, Mo., Baltimore and other communities. When you level assault rifles at protesters, you create animosity. When you kill an unarmed man on his own property while his hands are raised — as Fairfax County police did in 2013 — you sow distrust.

And when you threaten to Taser a woman during a routine traffic stop (as happened to 28-year-old Sandra Bland, who died in a Texas jail this month), you cultivate a fear of police. This makes policing more dangerous for everyone.

I understood the risks of war when I enlisted as an infantryman. Police officers should understand the risks in their jobs when they enroll in the academy, as well. That means knowing that personal safety can't always come first. That is why it's service. That's why it's sacrifice.

Subject: Approved process and timeline for hiring of CPOA Director

All: Please find the enclosed document which is the hiring process and timeline for the selection and hire of the permanent Executive Director of the CPOA Office. This was approved in the POB meeting last evening.

Please note that this plan requires successful coordination between the POB, CPOA, City HR and City Council. The first step of the process, the initial posting of the job description, took much longer than expected, which is to say 20 days, rather than the anticipated 2 days. Please assist me in planning ahead to ensure we do not have similar issues as we move forward.

We need to have Council Chambers reserved, with live Gov-TV broadcast, for a Special POB meeting on July 29, 2015, preferably at 5:30 pm. Mr. Moya, if you could assist Ms. Hammer with this process. Please let everyone know as soon as this room is reserved, along with the appropriate additional functions. If such reservations are not confirmed by Tuesday, June 16th, I am happy to assist with moving that process forward.

We will also have a Personnel Subcommittee meeting on July 24th, and we will need a public meeting room reserved for that day, as well as for the already-scheduled Personnel Subcommittee meeting on June 25th at 1:30. Again, please communicate that these rooms are reserved, as well as the specific information about locations and times.

If you have questions, please feel free to contact me directly. This entire process is my responsibility, as Chair of the Personnel Subcommittee, and I am pleased to help ensure the Board's success in this area. I anticipate the effective communication and cooperation from all parties involved.

Dear Ms. Mohr,

Thank you for the information. Your prompt response is much appreciated.

A question asked me by a Board Member last Wednesday evening suggested to me that I unintentionally erred in completing my application (she noticed that the manner in which I lumped together attendance at institutions of higher education (Elmhurst College and Northern Illinois University) on the application suggested I was attending more than one at a time). I may also have done that with regard to employment.

For example, I believe I listed my employment with LOPDNM as 12/2003-present, and my employment with the Jefferson County Colorado Attorney's Office as 3/2005-1/2007. What was transpiring was employment with LOPDNM, Las Cruces Office (12/2003-3/2005), employment with the Jefferson County Colorado Attorney's Office (3/2005-1/2007), and return to the LOPDNM, Alamogordo Office (12/2007-present).

Similarly, when in private practice of the law in Colorado, I frequently would hold more than one set of employment responsibilities (e.g., CLE lecturer with Colorado Continuing Education, Member of a Board of Directors, Member of a Judicial Advisory Committee, Legislative Adviser, Member of a Citizens Advisory Committee for a Sheriff, and an Attorney in the private practice),

At the time I was attempting to be efficient, not realizing that the entries might be misinterpreted. I hope this may clarify any questions the Board may have regarding the manner in which I completed the application.

As a side issue, to satisfy idle curiosity, what CLE/CPE subject/subjects were you teaching on Thursday, July 30, and to whom were they being addressed?

In conclusion, regardless of the POB's final decision, please allow me this opportunity to thank you for all your courtesies in completion of the application process. Please be assured that they were, and are much appreciated.

Yours truly,

Mr. Bradley,

Sorry I am just now able to get back with you. I was teaching CLE/CPE at a conference all day, and am just now able to return to my volunteer duties with the POB.

The POB spent quite a long time last night considering candidates. Our top three are very closely matched. We decided that we want to spend some time checking references and having the City do employment verifications and criminal history checks, we will then reconvene at another special meeting on Tuesday, August 4th, at 5 pm, in order to review reference checks and take a vote to rank the candidates. There is no need for candidates to attend this meeting.

I will contact you with our final decision. Thanks for your patience, -B

I

My apologies for being unable to remain so that I might learn the Police Oversight Board's decision with regard to the five applicants' candidacies for the position of Director of the Civilian Police Oversight Agency. Regretfully, I received an unexpected emergency call about 7:00 p.m. just after my interview, which call required an immediate return to Alamogordo/Ruidoso. By 9:30 p.m. I was on my way south on I-25, passing through Socorro to catch Hwy 380 at the San Antonio turn-off.

I left an advisement with a lady in the foyer, but am unsure you received it.

For this Written Assignment refer to the Settlement agreement/Consent Decree and related documents available at <http://www.cabq.gov/cpoa> or <http://www.cabq.gov/police> or <http://www.justice.gov/crt/about/spl/findsettle.php#newmexico>

Please provide the following information:

Name: Robin S. Hammer
Firm/Employer: City of Albuquerque
Address: [REDACTED], Albuquerque, NM 87107
Phone: [REDACTED]

1. After reviewing the City of Albuquerque Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree*, what strikes you as the most important goal for the CPOA (and POB, if applicable) to achieve within the next 12 months, in order to demonstrate to the community that civilian oversight is meaningful and effective?

Based upon a review of the Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree, the most important goal of the CPOA and POB will be to facilitate transparency and trust between the community and the Albuquerque Police Department (APD). Community members requested the Department of Justice to review the APD's practices and procedures because of an outcry over APD's use of force and the community's distrust of APD. The CPOA can be an integral part of re-building trust. The CPOA could accomplish this through several means, including the hiring of the new Community Engagement Specialist to set up a community outreach program. The CPOA will assist with building trust between APD and the community by continuing to make improvements to the investigative process which I have begun and continue to develop.

2. Please provide a specific example of an ethical conflict you encountered, how you handled it, and why, as well as the outcome.

When I was working as a prosecutor, I encountered a criminal defense attorney who was failing to provide all the documents the attorney was required to turn over to the State. I could have immediately sent a Disciplinary Board Complaint, but instead I sat down with the attorney, explained the law and my concerns. I carefully listened to the attorney's position and concerns about the documents. The attorney agreed to provide the documents, and we resolved the matter in a non-confrontational manner.

3. Give one or more examples of a challenge you encountered as a manager/supervisor, how you dealt with it and why.

One challenge I encountered as a supervisor in the Independent Review Office was the lack of accurate and complete reports. My predecessor was strongly criticized for failing to provide accurate and thorough written reports. I met with all the stake holders, including APD Internal Affairs, City Council Staff, the Chief of Police, the computer database programmer, Police Oversight Commissioners, and my staff. With their input, I developed a format for written reports which was widely praised by City Council, the recipient of the reports. You may review my improvements in 2013 and 2014 on line at the CPOA website, www.cabq.gov/CPOA

4. Which of your legal cases are you the most proud of and why?

I am most proud of prosecuting the case of State v. Calvin Dean Peters. Mr. Peters was a serial rapist who victimized elderly woman. One of the elderly victims died awaiting identification of her assailant. This case was the first in New Mexico in which DNA evidence was the only identifying piece of evidence. I worked closely with the FBI laboratory to present this cutting-edge evidence and obtain a conviction against Mr. Peters.

5. Describe your investigative philosophy.

It is important for an investigator to gather as much information as possible from all sides of any allegation of wrongdoing. It is also important to assess the credibility and potential biases of witnesses. Most importantly, it is essential to be fair and impartial in all investigations.

6. The CPOA as an organization has gone through a period of transition and is currently dealing with a variety of issues, including a large backlog of cases. What in your background makes you uniquely qualified to take the helm of this organization and move it forward?

Based upon my almost three years of experience as the Independent Review Officer and now Acting Executive Director, I am uniquely qualified to be in charge of the CPOA. When I took over the Independent Review Office, there was a large backlog of cases, many of which were poorly and incompletely investigated. In addition there was no outreach and consensus building with community members and community groups. I have dedicated three years of hard work to gain support from community groups and individual citizens about the police oversight process. While there is a backlog of cases, I am taking effective steps to address these issues. For example, I created the position of Assistant Lead Investigator to put another staff member in charge of all investigations. This enables the staff investigators to have a direct supervisor present at all time to assist them with any issue or concern.

7. What is your vision for the CPOA?

The CPOA needs to assist the Police Oversight Board in its critical function of providing policy suggestions to the APD, through setting up lines of communication between community members to determine the needs and concerns of the City regarding APD. The CPOA staff needs to continue to improve the process and mechanisms to complete investigations in a professional and timely manner.

8. What do you view as the top five assets you bring to this position, whether personality traits, knowledge-based skills or experiences. Explain why each is important and how it is uniquely beneficial to the CPOA. Also provide at least one challenging area of your personality or skill set that you struggle with or are working to improve.

My top five assets I bring to the this position are my criminal investigative experience; my knowledge of the stakeholders in APD, the City, the Police Union and the Community; my legal knowledge in the field; my work ethic; and my ability and desire to learn more. I have more than 20 years of legal experience in criminal and administrative investigations with a reputation for being fair and impartial. While investigations constitute a minority of the work for the entire CPOA as a whole, it is the majority of work for the CPOA administrative staff, and essential to the CPOA. Through more than 15 years as a prosecutor (including on the Judicial Standards Commission) and almost three years in this position, I possess good working relationships with APD personnel, the Police Union, and community groups. Through these relationships, I am able to assist the CPOA in all of its many missions. I have dedicated my life to public service and strongly believe in hard work to accomplish the goal of improving service to our client, the public. Finally, I have the desire and ability to learn and improve. All systems and processes can always be improved. I am dedicated to making the CPOA the best it possibility can be.

One challenging area is my desire to not be confrontational. In an effort to get along with persons, sometimes I avoid conflict whether than addressing an issue. I have learned that careful communication is vital in managing interpersonal relationships and that if I have a problem with someone it's always best to try to resolve through discussion before taking other action.

9. This position requires working with diverse groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Please describe your experience working with disparate groups of stakeholders, such as community groups, union officials, elected officials, Department of Justice attorneys, a DOJ monitor, and others. Describe a situation where you were involved with a group that started out with conflict or opposite points of view, where you were able to help achieve the group's goals through a collaborative process of your facilitation or management. Describe the stakeholders, your role and responsibility, and also give the outcome.

As discussed above, I have a successful relationship with the stakeholders involved in the CPOA. I have attended numerous community meetings, lectured community groups, met dozens of times with the Chief of Police, elected officials and police union leaders. I have built a good working relationship all the shareholders involved.

On more than one occasion when meeting with the APD Chief of Police, I disagreed with the Chief about the interpretation of an APD procedure. After careful discussion of both sides of the issue, the Chief and I came to a consensus regarding the policy on each of these occasions.

10. Is there anything else we should have asked? Feel free to share anything you wish the POB to know about you that will help us make a decision.

Provide three professional references that we may contact, please include their full name, firm and position, phone number(s) and email address, as well as a few words detailing their knowledge of you.

Councilors

M006296

While the Police Oversight Agency (POA) website claims the Agency is committed to transparency, I don't see the resumes of the applicants for the Executive Director position posted on its website.

This secrecy is yet more of the same. When Mayor chose Robin Hammer to be the IRO years ago, intentionally not revealed to the Council was the lawsuit filed against her for alleged judicial misconduct while she worked for the DA. The Council after learning of this still did nothing-went along.

Also, neither PMR Inc.'s head APD reform monitor James Ginger nor Scott Greenwood were forced to come before the public at Council meetings to hear what we say-all with the blessing of our embarrassing US Attorney for NM Damon Martinez.

The old POC then was kept toothless, spoon fed only what Robin, her investigators-(one a former senior Belen cop) and the APD Chief wanted them to see.

Three good POC members quit after Berry's attorney David Tourek opined in a memo that IRO Hammer (contrary to the Oversight Ordinance) worked for the executive branch and not the citizens appointed to the POC. Robin liked it that way as did Chief Schultz and his successors and also the bad cops whose names were never revealed. The POB seems to be still toothless now.

Did Councilor Benton learn anything about police oversight throughout the US when he spent our taxpayers' dollars on two trips to the NACOLE conference?

Does he care or any of you care about the secrecy surrounding the qualifications of and selection by the POB for this most important POA Executive Director's job. Show us the resumes!

Michelle - How are we doing on plans for the NACOLE conference for Board members who are able to attend? Should we send you our preferences for airline flights, presumably to and from Ontario, CA airport, which is about as close as we can get to Riverside. We'll then have to rent cars and drive an hour or two, depending on LA Metro traffic, to get there.

Also, are we registered, or should we do that ourselves? Thanks, -B

Dear Beth,

As I explained in my phone message, I am formally requesting that my application be withdrawn from consideration for the position of Executive Director of the CPOA. After careful consideration, I don't believe that this position would be right for me. Nonetheless, I believe the job offers the incumbent an exciting opportunity to serve the Albuquerque community and to be on the ground floor of something that makes a real difference.

Please express my gratitude to the board and all involved for the opportunity to interview. I cannot stress enough that my decision is for purely personal reasons and is not based on any negative view of the job itself nor of the oversight structure currently in place. Thank you for your help in this matter.

cheers,
J. Richard Brown

Interoffice Memorandum

July 16, 2015

To: Leonard Waites, Chair
From: Robin S. Hammer, Acting Executive Director
Subject: Work Plan

Pursuant to paragraph 2 of page 6 of the Letter of Reprimand issued to me, I am providing a work plan detailing the actions which I will implement to address the backlog of cases pending from 2012 up to and including May 2015. As you are aware, once a case is received, Assistant Lead Investigator Paul Skotchdopole reviews the matter, and assigns it in rotation to be investigated by the Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigators to gather evidence, conduct interviews, select applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) and write reports. Once the assigned Investigator completes his or her work, he or she forwards the case for my review and to draft a proposed findings letter to be sent, along with the investigative file, to the Albuquerque Police Department for the Chief's review. In the vast majority of cases, I cannot complete my review of the investigative file and draft the proposed findings letter until the assigned Investigator completes their work. The exception are complaints which are based upon Officer-Involved Shooting cases, which are assigned directly to me to be completed concurrently with the underlying Officer-Involved Shooting review conducted by the Police Oversight Commission or Board.

Currently, I have only one case pending on my caseload, CPC 14-006. This case is a complaint filed by a Plaintiff's attorney about an Officer-Involved Shooting case. The underlying Officer-Involved Shooting case is still pending review by the Police Oversight Board. Once the Police Oversight Board (POB) Chair sets an Agenda to review the underlying Officer-Involved Shooting case associated with CPC 14-006, I will review the Albuquerque Police Department's OIS investigation of the matter and write a draft findings letter in this case.

Regarding the other remaining cases pending in the CPOA Administrative Office, I cannot complete my work until the assigned Investigators complete their investigations and reports. The vast majority of the backlogged-pending cases are assigned to Investigator Chris Davidson. For more than eighteen months, I, and Investigator Davidson's direct supervisor, Assistant Lead Investigator Skotchdopole, have been taking numerous steps to get Investigator Davidson to complete his assigned cases, to little or no avail. Prior to the July 2015 POB Meeting, Assistant Lead Investigator Skotchdopole and I had decided to seek the assistance of a contract investigative firm to take over the investigation of several of Investigator Davidson's cases in order to complete the cases. On July 13, 2015, I received approval from the appropriate City personnel to work with Robert Caswell Investigations (RCI) to assist in the investigations of Citizen Complaints. I will be forwarding approximately 26 cases to RCI to complete the investigations.

On July 10, 2015, I gave written instructions to all CPOA staff on steps necessary to complete the backlog of pending cases within 30 days. I requested all Investigators to provide a workable plan for each to complete their work to be forwarded to me, so I could review the case and draft a proposed findings letter. Below are the plans to complete their backlog of pending cases which each Investigator has provided to me and has agreed to comply with. As an Investigator or RCI completes an investigation and writes the required reports, I will draft my proposed finding, sending the case to APD for its review.

In addition, I am coordinating efforts with the Investigators' direct supervisor, Assistant Lead Investigator Skotchdopole, ensuring that he is working closely with each investigator to complete their assigned work as outlined. I have also required each Investigator to email Assistant Lead Investigator Skotchdopole each day with a brief description of the work that each Investigator completed for the day. Under the proposed plans, all backlogged cases should be completed within 30 days.

I. Cases assigned to Investigator Paul Skotchdopole's

Assistant Lead Investigator Paul Skotchdopole has had the following outstanding cases assigned to him through May of 2015:

12-167
13-255
14-023
14-060
14-061
14-213
15-021
15-058
15-064
15-071

In order to address the backlog of cases that are over 90 days old, Investigator Skotchdopole has indicated that he will complete his assigned cases through the following means:

12-167: Mostly complete. Case was re-assigned from a previous terminated investigator. Two more SWAT Officers need to be interviewed so the case can be written up. There is no apparent SOP violation in the case investigation to date. This case will be turned over to RCI Investigations for the final two interviews and write up. When returned by RCI, the case will be forwarded to the Acting Executive Director for review and forwarded to APD. Expected time to completion: 30 days.

13-255: This case has been fully investigated. All interviews are done and summarized in the case file already. The case needs to have the report written. The investigation showed that none of the six officers complained of violated policy. This case will be turned over to RCI for write up. When returned by RCI, the case will be forwarded to the Acting Executive Director for review and forwarded to APD. Expected time to completion: 30 days.

14-023: This case has been fully investigated. All interviews are done and summarized in the case file already. The case needs to have the report written. The investigation showed that none of the officers complained of violated policy. This case will be turned over to RCI for write up. When returned by RCI, the case will be forwarded to the Acting Executive Director for review and forwarded to APD. Expected time to completion: 30 days.

14-060 and 14-061: These two cases were from separate complaints filed by a husband and wife over the same incident. The cases have been fully investigated. The cases need to be written up in their entirety. There are no SOP violations by the officers complained of. These cases will be turned over to RCI for write up. When returned by RCI, the cases will be forwarded to the Acting Executive Director for review and forwarded to APD. Expected time to completion: 30 days.

14-213: This case has been fully investigated. There were no SOP violations found. The case needs to be written up in its entirety. This case will be turned over to RCI for write up. When returned by RCI, the case will be forwarded to the Acting Executive Director for review and forwarded to APD. Expected time to completion: 30 days.

15-021: This case has been fully investigated. There were no SOP violations found. Investigator Skotchdopole is currently writing the case up. When the case has been written up in its entirety, Investigator Skotchdopole will forward the case to the Acting Executive Director for review and it will then be forwarded to APD. Expected Time to completion: 7 working days.

A. The following cases assigned to Investigator Skotchdopole which are NOT past the investigative timeline

15-058: Investigator Skotchdopole has received an extension of time to investigate this case. The complainant has been unresponsive to three phone calls and a certified letter to have him come in for an interview. The investigation will be conducted solely on the written complaint. The deadline due date is August 24, 2015. The case will be completed and turned in to the Executive Director before the due date. When the case has been written up in its entirety, Investigator Skotchdopole will forward the case to the Acting Executive Director for review and it will then be forwarded to APD. Expected Time to completion: 30 days

15-071: This case has been fully investigated. There are sustained violations of SOP against an officer and a Sergeant in this case. The 80 day deadline to complete the case imposed by the Acting Executive Director is Saturday, August 8, 2015. This case will be turned in to the Acting Executive Director on or before August 7, 2015. It will then be forwarded to APD. Expected time to completion: 23 days

15-079: This case still needs investigation. Investigator Skotchdopole will likely be seeking a 30 day extension as the officer has not been responsive to my request for an interview and the Citizen Complainant and his witnesses still need to be interviewed. The issue is the officer was rude. The 80 day due date is August 17, 2015 and Investigator Skotchdopole anticipates the investigation will be done by then but if he runs into problems, he will get the 30 day extension. Once he completes the investigation and write it up in its entirety, he will forward the case to the Acting Executive Director for review. It will then be forwarded to APD. Expected time to completion: 30 to 60 days depending on whether or not Investigator Skotchdopole needs an extension.

Leonard,

In the Letter of Reprimand, I was directed to complete all outstanding performance evaluations for my staff. Today, I was directed by Mary Scott, Human Resources Director not to complete any staff performance evaluations. If the Board wishes for me to complete performance evaluations as it directed, you will need to resolve this issue with Ms. Scott. Otherwise, City Ordinances and Regulations require me to follow Director Scott's directive and not conduct any performance evaluations for my staff.

Please let me know if you have any questions or wish to discuss this further.

Interoffice Memorandum

July 16, 2015

To: Leonard Waites, Chair

From: Robin S. Hammer, Acting Executive Director

Subject: Status of Cases

Pursuant to paragraph 1 of page 6 of the Letter of Reprimand issued to me on July 9, 2015, I am providing a written status of all cases received from June 2012 up to and including May 2015 prepared at my direction by CPOA Analyst Paul Cash. This case status chart contains

- a) the case number
- b) status of the case
- c) date the complaint was received
- d) date the matter was assigned an investigator
- e) the 90 day due date
- f) whether an extension was given by the Chief of Police
- g) date investigator or IA gave file to IRO/Executive Director
- h) date case was given to APD
- i) date matter given to POC/POB or if no Board review
- j) date letter was provided to the citizen or if still pending
- k) name of investigator or IA who was assigned the case

Also attached is an explanation of the columns of the Status of Cases chart. Two facts are significant to note: First, while the former Independent Review Office and the current Civilian Police Oversight Agency Administrative Office has maintained a database of most of the dates Analyst Cash provided in this Status of Case chart, Analyst Cash chose to hand-type all of the dates into the chart, rather than import the data which had been entered at or near the time of the event. Thus, the information contained in this chart is subject to human error. Second, the date the Investigator gave the case to the IRO/Executive Director (Column G) was never recorded in the IRO database. The information provided in Column G is self-reported by each investigator, in some cases years after the fact.

Good morning,

Twice, I sent you both a link from the Dropbox account. The first one says Robin Hammer sent you a link but it was actually me that sent it to you. I have changed the account to reflect Edward Harness as the Dropbox owner. After I changed the name to Ed, I resent you the link again.

Please let me know if you have questions.

Thanks.
Michelle

Re: CPC #002-15

Dear Ms. Matzke:

The complaint you filed against Officer D. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on January 5, 2015 for an incident which occurred on September 16, 2013. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Police Officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Korinne Matzke reported that her ex-boyfriend was arrested on July 13, 2012 by Albuquerque Police Department Officer D.. Ms. Matzke stated that her ex-boyfriend was involved in a Domestic Violence incident with his new girlfriend on that date. Ms. Matzke stated that when Officer D. arrested Ms. Matzke's ex-boyfriend, Officer D. seized a .45 caliber handgun. Ms. Matzke claimed that the handgun that was seized and held in evidence belonged to her, that she bought it. Ms. Matzke further explained that when she and her ex-boyfriend broke up, her ex-boyfriend took the gun, but never gave it back to her. Ms. Matzke claimed that she talked to Officer D. and explained that the gun was hers and that she wanted it back when the criminal case was over. Ms. Matzke stated that after the case worked its way through the court system, Ms. Matzke tried to get her gun back but she found out that Officer D. had released the gun to her ex-boyfriend's brother. Ms. Matzke alleged that the gun should not have been released to anyone except the rightful owner which was Ms. Matzke.

I. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER D.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Citizen Police Complaint, a review of court and evidence records, a review of the police report wherein the gun was seized, an interview with Ms. Matzke, an interview with Roy Torres, the man whom the gun was released to, and an interview with Officer D..

- A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 2-08-13 entitled "Disposition Of Evidence" regarding Officer D.'s conduct, which states in part:

The APD Evidence Unit will follow guidelines in NM State Statutes and require written disposition authorization from...the investigation officer...as appropriate before the disposition of property or evidence held by this department...The investigation officer must authorize disposition in felony cases, in which the District Attorney's Office has indicated that they will not pursue adjudication. The investigating officer must authorize the release of evidence...

Ms. Matzke claimed that the handgun that was seized and in held evidence belonged to her, that she bought it, and when she and her ex-boyfriend broke up, her ex-boyfriend took the gun but never gave it back. Ms. Matzke claimed that she talked to Officer D. and explained that the gun was hers and that she wanted it back when the criminal case was over. After the case worked its way through the court system, Ms. Matzke tried to get her gun back but she found out that Officer D. had released the gun to her ex-boyfriend's brother. Ms. Matzke alleged that the gun should not have been released to anyone except the rightful owner which was Ms. Matzke.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Matzke and Officer D.. The Investigator also reviewed the police report, the history of the court case, and documents from the APD. Evidence Unit. Ms. Matzke admitted that she never actually spoke with Officer D. but her new husband did. The investigation revealed that Officer D. spoke to a man who identified himself as Ms. Matzke's new boyfriend or husband on more than one occasion in 2013. That man said that Ms. Matzke had given the gun to her ex-boyfriend as a gift. The Federal Firearms Transaction Form showed the gun was purchased by Ms. Matzke in December 17, 2007, one week before Christmas. It is possible, based on the evidence that the gun was purchased as a gift. Ms. Matzke said that she and her ex-boyfriend broke up in January of 2011. Ms. Matzke said that she made little effort to get the gun back at that time and she never reported the gun as stolen.

In July of 2012, over a year after the break up, Ms. Matzke's ex-boyfriend was arrested and the gun was seized as evidence in that case. Court records showed that the arrested man, from whom the gun was seized, Ms. Matzke's ex-boyfriend, was charged with several felonies which were later dropped by the District Attorney. Felony charges were dropped in February of 2013. Officer D. confirmed the felony charges had been dropped. Ms. Matzke or no one else offered proof to Officer D. that Ms. Matzke was the lawful owner of the gun. The only evidence of Officer D. had was that Ms. Matzke's ex-boyfriend was the owner of the seized gun at the time of the incident. Ms. Matzke admitted that she had never taken legal action or filed a stolen firearm report with the police to get her handgun back from her ex-boyfriend.

Letter to Ms. Matze

DATE

Ms. Matzke now disputes the ownership of the gun. This is a civil matter between Ms. Matzke and her ex-boyfriend.

Officer D. stated that sometime after the charges were dismissed, Officer D. received a call from the man from whom the handgun was seized, Ms. Matzke's ex-boyfriend. The Ms. Matzke's ex-boyfriend told Officer D. that the felony charges had been dropped and that Ms. Matzke's ex-boyfriend wanted his gun released to his brother. Because the gun was no longer needed as evidence, and since the officer had permission from the man from whom the gun was seized to release it, Officer D. authorized the release of the handgun to the brother of the arrested man, Ms. Matzke's ex-boyfriend. The brother of the Ms. Matzke's ex-boyfriend was cleared through NCIC and there was nothing preventing APD or Officer D. from releasing the gun to the brother.

There is no Albuquerque Police Department Standard Operating Procedure which specifically states that evidence can only be released to the person from whom the evidence was seized. In fact, it is common that people send others to pick up evidence when they are unavailable to do so themselves. The Evidence Unit has the responsibility of ensuring that the officer has authorized the release of the evidence, and in the case, the officer did. In the case of releasing a firearm, the person to whom the firearm is released must be eligible to possess a firearm. In this case, the records show the brother who picked up the gun was eligible to pick up the firearm from evidence.

The CPOA finds with regards to the allegation made by Ms. Matzke about Officer D.'s conduct that the allegation was EXONERATED, because the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged conduct did occur, but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer D.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Raymond Romero

Albuquerque, NM 87123

Re: CPC #003-15

Dear Mr. Romero:

The complaint you filed against Officer V. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on January 7, 2015, for an incident which occurred on December 9, 2014, between 2:30 – 3:30 AM. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Raymond Romero complained that on December 9, 2014 between 2:30 and 3:30 AM, he was driving his vehicle near Montgomery and Jefferson, when he saw Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officer V. driving his APD patrol vehicle at excessive speeds in the area. Mr. Romero said that Officer V. was driving 70 mph in a 35 mph zone westbound on Montgomery. Mr. Romero got behind Officer V. and began videotaping Officer V.. Mr. Romero said Officer V. then turned to get on the I-25 freeway. Mr. Romero continued to follow Officer V. onto the freeway and Mr. Romero continued to videotape Officer V. speeding. Mr. Romero said Officer V. started to "exceed speeds of 130-140 mph" and Mr. Romero tried to keep up, but could not because Mr. Romero's vehicle was governed at 110 mph. Mr. Romero caught up to Officer V.'s vehicle at one point and was able to videotape the APD patrol vehicle number and license plate. Mr. Romero said once he was beside Officer V.'s vehicle, Officer V. sped off onto the freeway, again reaching speeds of 130-140 mph. Mr. Romero said he tried to keep up with Officer V. but could not and then Mr. Romero lost sight of Officer V. at the Eubank exit.

Mr. Romero complained that he called 242-COPS to report the incident and was told that the Officer's Sergeant was Sergeant. H., who would call Mr. Romero the next day. Sergeant H. never called. Mr. Romero complained that he called Sergeant H. about 3 times and left voicemails but did not receive any calls back from Sergeant H..

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER V.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, interviews with the Complainant and Officer V. and video recordings submitted by Mr. Romero.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer V.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Romero complained that Officer V. drove excessive speeds on city roads, Montgomery and Jefferson, and on the freeways, I-25 Northbound and I-40 Eastbound. Video provided by Mr. Romero confirmed that Officer V. drove between 53-65 mph on Montgomery and in excess of 110 mph on I-25 Northbound and I-40 Eastbound. Officer V. admitted in his interview that he was off duty and in plain clothes when he was video recorded driving his APD patrol vehicle at excessive speeds on December 9, 2014.

The CPOA finds Officer V.'s. conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the allegation is supported by sufficient evidence.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-19-10 (A) regarding Officer V.'s conduct, which states:

Department employees shall drive Department vehicles for official purposes only, providing they hold a city driver's license for that class of vehicle.

Officer V. admitted in his interview that he used his Department vehicle for personal reasons and not for official purposes. Officer V. responded to a family medical emergency that evening and used his Department vehicle to drive to the hospital to be with the family member.

Letter to Mr. Romero

April 10, 2015

The CPOA finds Officer V's. conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the allegation is supported by sufficient evidence.

C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-19-10 (C) regarding Officer V.'s conduct, which states:

All employees assigned an APD vehicle will exercise good judgment in utilizing it, and will not drive or use the vehicle so as to cause unfavorable comment, or reflect discredit on the Department.

The video submitted by Mr. Romero showed Officer V. exceeded the speed limit on Montgomery and I-25N and on I-40E. Furthermore, Officer V. admitted that while on Montgomery he exceeded the speed limit and Mr. Romero stayed close behind. Officer V. did not stop because Mr. Romero continued to closely follow Officer V., which Officer V. found to be suspicious behavior. Officer V. turned to get onto the freeway (I-25N) and Mr. Romero followed him. Officer V. said he sped up more to try to get away from Mr. Romero but Mr. Romero stayed up with Officer V. Officer V. said he did not know what Mr. Romero's intentions were so he increased his speed to see if Mr. Romero would continue to follow Officer V. and Mr. Romero did. Officer V. said that no matter what he did Mr. Romero continued to follow Officer V.

The CPOA finds Officer V's. conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the allegation is supported by sufficient evidence.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER H.'S CONDUCT

A review of Sergeant H.'s conduct determined that Sergeant H. had not violated any Standard Operating Procedures. The CPOA Investigator spoke with Sergeant H.'s supervisor, Commander O. about this Complaint and the issues with Sergeant H.. Commander O. spoke with Sergeant H. about the importance of returning phone calls to citizens. Due to the fact that no SOP's were violated, this issue of the complaint was dealt with in an informal manner.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer V. and Officer H.'s Internal Affairs record.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re: CPC # 004-15

Dear Mr. Vaughn:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on January 14, 2015, for an incident, which occurred on January 10, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. Vaughn wrote his attorney advised he should stop giving his children to his ex-wife because of his ex-wife's constant violations of the custody order. On his ex-wife's next scheduled visit, he did as his attorney advised and did not bring the children. Mr. Vaughn wrote he received a call from Officer C. who threatened if he did not bring the children for their visit, Officer C. would arrest him for custodial interference. Mr. Vaughn wrote based on the threat he brought the children and met police. Mr. Vaughn wrote he told Officer C. the problems with his ex-wife violating the order. Mr. Vaughn wrote Officer C. threatened him again with jail. Mr. Vaughn alleged that Officer C. took away his right to protect his children. Mr. Vaughn wrote his ex-wife always bragged about knowing officers and she always got away with things.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Mr. Vaughn. Mr. Vaughn repeated in his interview that his attorney advised he should not turn the children over to his ex-wife because of her numerous violations of the custody order. Mr. Vaughn stated Officer C. threatened him with arrest over the phone if he did not bring his children to his ex-wife. Mr. Vaughn stated he met with Officer C. to avoid jail. Mr. Vaughn explained to Officer C. how his ex-wife violated the order. Mr. Vaughn stated he brought his paperwork, but Officer C. did not look at it. Mr. Vaughn stated he told Officer C. he had concerns about his children, but Officer C. did not call CYFD. Mr. Vaughn stated he turned his children over for their visit to avoid jail based on Officer C.'s threat. Mr. Vaughn claimed his ex-wife always bragged about knowing officers and getting what she wanted.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER C.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, the Albuquerque Police Report, Officer C.'s lapel video and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Mr. Vaughn and Officer C..

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Field Services Order 3-14-7A regarding Officer C.'s conduct, which states:

Officers responding to custody disputes where a Parenting Plan or Court Order regarding timesharing is in place, will limit the response to restoring order between the parties. Officers will not order or force the removal of the child from the current custodial parent. Officers will advise the parties to seek legal advice on the matter and completely document the incident in a report.

Mr. Vaughn stated his ex-wife often violated the court order. Mr. Vaughn stated his attorney informed him he should not turn over his children to enforce the order. Mr. Vaughn claimed Officer C. threatened to take him to jail and charge him with custodial interference if he did not take his children to his ex-wife. Mr. Vaughn claimed Officer C. violated his rights to protect his children. Mr. Vaughn stated it was a civil matter and Officer C. had no business threatening him. Mr. Vaughn stated Officer C. did not listen to him or review his information about all the times his ex-wife violated the order.

The lapel video and the court order supported that it was Mrs. Vaughn's time to have her children. The lapel video showed Mrs. Vaughn had the court appointed person present for the supervised visit. The lapel video showed Officer C. gave Mr. Vaughn the opportunity to comply with the order and avoid charges. The lapel video showed no one threatened arrest or jail that day and Mr. Vaughn extrapolated that meaning. The lapel video showed Officer C. explained the difference between how violations of the custody order could be civil or criminal, but Mr. Vaughn did not listen. The lapel video showed Mr. Vaughn had a folder of paperwork with him, but did not specifically try to show Officer C. anything where she refused. The lapel video showed Mr. Vaughn expressed general concerns about his children and talked about past incidents that CYFD had been involved in. The lapel video showed the children were not reluctant to see their mother. Officer C. documented both sides of the incident and advised both sides to seek court input for any violations. Since Mr. Vaughn complied with the order, Officer C. did not consider filing charges. Officer C. did not force Mr. Vaughn to comply, but explained it was in his best interests to do so and what to do in the future.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer C. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-4N regarding Officer C.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel will not act officiously or permit personal feelings, animosities, or friendship to influence their decisions.

Mr. Vaughn complained his ex-wife claimed she knew several police officers and could do whatever she wanted because of it.

The lapel video showed Officer C. was very sympathetic to Mr. Vaughn's frustration, but treated both parties the same. Officer C. provide each of them the advice to follow the order and call police at the time if the order was not being followed. Differences needed to be sorted out by the court.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer C. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Officer C.'s Internal Affairs personnel file.

You have the right to appeal this decision. Section 9-4-1-9(A) of the Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Renetta Harrison
[REDACTED]
Albuquerque, NM 87108

Re:    CPC # 005-15

Dear Ms. Harrison:

The complaint you filed against Officer C. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on January 20, 2015, regarding an incident that occurred January 9, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Harrison wrote in her complaint that on January 9, 2015 her brother called the police to have her removed from her mother's home. Ms. Harrison left the home and then went to a nearby substation and spoke with an unknown officer. That officer told her that a report on the incident where she was asked to leave the home would likely not be filed. Later, Ms. Harrison found out that a report had been filed on the incident. Ms. Harrison complained that the police report should not have been filed after she was told that it was likely that a report would not have been filed.

II. INVESTIGATION BY THE CIVILIAN POLICE OVERSIGHT INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed your complaint and researched the matter so that we could obtain more information about the incident. On January 21, 2015 the CPOA Administrative Assistant called you for information before the complaint could be assigned to an Investigator for investigation. You told the Administrative Assistant at that time that you changed your mind and you did not want your complaint to be investigated. You told the Assistant to shred your complaint. In an effort to further assist you and to make sure that you did wish to withdraw your complaint, a CPOA Investigator contacted you and discussed your complaint with you. The CPOA Investigator explained that it was within the officer's discretion as to whether or not they would file a police report on the incident. You told the CPOA Investigator that you had been told to vacate your mother's home without reason and that you did not think that it was proper for the officer to ask you to leave the home. When the CPOA Investigator asked you if you wanted to proceed with the complaint investigation so the investigation could be resolved, you said you did not know what you wanted to do. You received another call at that time and ended the call with the CPOA Investigator. You called the CPOA Investigator back and you spoke with him. You told the CPOA Investigator that you were undecided if you wanted to pursue the matter and you told the CPOA Investigator that you would have to think about it and you would call him back. The CPOA Investigator told you that our office would be willing to investigate the case and that we would wait for you to call back and let us know how you wanted to proceed with the matter.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

Your complaint contained an allegation of a possible minor policy violation by Officer C. You were told that our office was willing to conduct a thorough investigation into the matter, but you stated that you were undecided as to how you wanted to proceed. You told the CPOA Investigator that you would call back and let him know if you wanted to proceed with the investigation. You never called back. By law, we only have 90 days from the time a complaint is filed to complete an investigation. The 90 day time frame to complete the investigation has passed. The Acting Executive Director reviewed the complaint you filed. Since your complaint only contained an allegation of a minor policy violation by Officer C., and since the time period for investigation has expired, the CPOA will be administratively closing your complaint. No further investigation will occur at this time. Even though your complaint is being administratively closed at this time, you may contact our office if you would like to provide us with additional information, or you want to re-open the complaint. If the complaint is re-opened there will be an additional 90 day investigative time period granted so that the complaint can be thoroughly investigated. Should you wish to re-open your complaint please contact our office at (505) 924-3770.

If you have a computer available, we would greatly appreciate you completing our client survey form at <http://www.cabq.gov/iro/survey>.

Jennifer Otte

Albuquerque, NM 87196

Re: CPC #006-15

Dear Ms. Otte:

The complaint you filed against Officer R., Officer G., Detective G. and Sergeant P. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on January 13, 2015, for an incident which occurred December 23, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Jennifer Otte complained that Officers R. and G. used excessive force inside the Prisoner Transport Center (PTC) when they transferred her from the PTC to their patrol vehicle and while at the Metropolitan Detention Center (MDC). Ms. Otte complained she was falsely arrested. Ms. Otte complained Officer R. cut the keychain around her neck with a knife to remove her room key. Ms. Otte complained Officer R. illegally searched her room. Ms. Otte complained Detective G. conducted a search of her room with an invalid search warrant. Ms. Otte complained Detective G. did not interview her, include her version of events, or put a time on his report. Ms. Otte complained while en-route to the MDC Officers R. and G. sexually assaulted, threatened and battered Ms. Otte. Ms. Otte complained while traveling to the MDC, Officers R. and G. played loud music and laughed the entire way to the MDC. Ms. Otte complained Officer R. searched her, took her cell phone and room key and did not book them into evidence. Ms. Otte complained her phone and room key were never returned to her. Ms. Otte complained she reported the incident to APD Sex Crimes Unit and did not receive a response. Ms. Otte complained Sergeant P. edited/selected sections of lapel video to leave out violent portions. Ms. Otte complained Sergeant P. failed to collect Ms. Otte's clothing as physical evidence. Ms. Otte complained Detective G. stalked her.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER R.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, lapel videos, and interviews with the Complainant, and Officer R..

A) Did Officer R. comply with Albuquerque Police Department (APD) General Order 2-52-3? General Order 2-52-3 states:

A. Officers may use force when objectively reasonable based on a totality of the circumstances. The objectives for which force may be appropriate include:

- To gain control of a combative prisoner
- To defend an officer or member of the public from the physical act of another.

Ms. Otte complained Officer R. used excessive force inside the PTC, and when he transferred her from the PTC to his patrol car, and at the MDC.

A review of Officer R.'s lapel video showed that as soon as Ms. Otte got into the PTC she asked Officer R. if he could loosen her handcuffs because they were too tight. The lapel video showed Officer R.'s partner adjusted Ms. Otte's handcuffs before he secured her to the bench. The lapel video showed Officer R. and his partner escorted Ms. Otte to the PTC processing desk as Ms. Otte yelled profanities and threats at the Officers. Ms. Otte continued to yell profanities and threaten the Officers and told them to stop being rough with her as they attempted to move her onto the yellow footprints in front of the processing desk. A PTC Officer told Ms. Otte to stop two times before Ms. Otte turned towards Officer R.'s partner and yelled in his face. Officer R.'s partner then placed Ms. Otte in a control hold. The video showed the PTC Sergeant refused to accept Ms. Otte and showed Officer R. escorted Ms. Otte out of the PTC and attempt to put her into his patrol car. Ms. Otte continued to yell profanities and threaten the Officers and refused to get into the patrol car. Ms. Otte stood up on the bottom edge of the door frame and would not sit down so Officer R.'s partner placed his hand on Ms. Otte's right shoulder and forced her into the back seat.

The lapel video showed that when Ms. Otte arrived at the MDC she yelled profanities and threatened Officer R. as he placed her on the prisoner bench. Ms. Otte continued to yell at the Officers and yelled at and threatened another female prisoner before MDC Officers relocated the other female prisoners away from Ms. Otte. A short time later Ms. Otte yelled at the same female prisoner from across the room then stood up and advanced towards the other prisoner, who was advancing towards Ms. Otte. Officer R. and his partner escorted Ms. Otte back to the bench. Ms. Otte was leaned on her side while the Officers removed her boots. Officer R. told Ms. Otte to move to another area on the bench so she stood up and moved there. She yelled at the Officers to stop being rough with her and Officer R. told her to stop spitting at him prior to Ms. Otte being handcuffed to the bar above the bench. The video showed a paramedic contact Ms. Otte and ask her a question and Ms. Otte yelled that her hands hurt because of the handcuffs. The paramedic asked her some questions, which were inaudible and Ms. Otte continued to yell at him so he walked away. Officer R. used the force necessary throughout his contact with Ms. Otte to gain control of Ms. Otte. Ms. Otte yelled profanities, made verbal threats towards Officer R., and was uncooperative throughout most of her detention and subsequent arrest. Any force used by Officer R. was reasonable and necessary.

The CPOA finds Officer R.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the incident that occurred was lawful or proper.

B) Did Officer R. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Order 1-2-2 (B)(2)? General Order 1-2-2 (B)(2) states:

B. Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the Ordinances of the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce. Officers shall:

2. Make only those arrests, searches, and seizures which they know or should know are legal and in accordance with departmental procedures.

Ms. Otte complained she was falsely arrested. Ms. Otte complained Officer R. cut the keychain around her neck with a knife to remove her room key. Ms. Otte complained Officer R. illegally searched her room.

A review of Officer R.'s lapel video, the CADS report and interviews showed that a victim identified Ms. Otte as the subject who pointed a handgun at him, threatened him, and caused him to fear for his life and witnesses reported Ms. Otte holding a handgun. There was sufficient evidence that Officer R. had probable cause to arrest Ms. Otte.

A review of Officer R.'s lapel video showed that Officer R. did not cut a key from a keychain around Ms. Otte's neck or search Ms. Otte's room. There were not gaps in Officer's R. lapel camera, as Ms. Otte complained.

The CPOA finds Officer R.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the incident that occurred was lawful or proper.

C) Did Officer R. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Order 1-4-1 (B)? General Order 1-4-1 (B) states:

B. Personnel shall obey all felony criminal laws of the United States of America, and of any state and local jurisdiction in which they are present.

Ms. Otte complained while en-route to the MDC Officer R. sexually assaulted, threatened and battered her.

The evidence of Officer R.'s lapel video and interviews showed that Officer R. did not make any stops en-route to the MDC, with the exception of traffic signals and stop signs. The lapel video showed Officer R. did not have physical contact with Ms. Otte between the Prisoner Transport Center and MDC. Officer R. made contact with Ms. Otte upon their arrival at the MDC to escort her inside. The lapel video, dispatch recordings and CADS report recorded the same mileage and timestamps Officer R. reported when they left the PTC and when they arrived at the MDC. According to the evidence reviewed, the transport took approximately 20 minutes. A review of the reported path of travel between the PTC and the MDC on Googlemaps showed an approximate travel time of 23 minutes. The evidence showed Officer R. did not sexually assault, threaten and/or batter Ms. Otte when transporting her from the PTC to the MDC, as alleged.

The CPOA finds Officer R.'s conduct UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the allegation is false or not based on valid facts.

D) Did Officer R. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Order 1-4-1 (F)? General Order 1-4-1 (F) states:

F. Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Otte complained while en-route to the MDC, Officer R. played loud music and laughed the entire way to the MDC.

A review of Officer R.'s lapel video showed Ms. Otte yelled profanities and threats of violence against Officer R. the entire way to the MDC, Officer R. turned the music up to drown out Ms. Otte's yelling but Officer R. did not laugh the entire way to the MDC.

The CPOA finds Officer R.'s conduct EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the incident that occurred was lawful or proper.

E) Did Officer R. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Order 2-08-13 (D)(6)? General Order 2-08-13 (D)(6) states:

D. Safekeeping Property: Submission and Disposition

6. Objects or articles of a non-evidentiary nature may be left with the next of kin or secured at the scene at the time of the preliminary investigation. Property items that are taken into police custody shall be tagged into Evidence for safekeeping. They shall not be released to anyone other than the court or a person authorized to receive them by either a court order or the officer. Prescription drugs belonging to the deceased and seized as part of the preliminary investigation will not be released to a next of kin. Upon completion of the investigation, the drugs will be destroyed in accordance with Evidence Unit procedures.

Ms. Otte complained Officer R. searched her, took her phone and room key and did not book them into evidence. Ms. Otte complained these items were never returned to her.

A review of Officer R.'s lapel video and APD Property and Evidence information showed Officer R.'s first contact with Ms. Otte was after she had been searched and handcuffed and placed in the back of his patrol car. Officer R. did not search Ms. Otte, did not take her cell phone and room key and therefore did not book them into evidence.

The CPOA finds Officer R.'s conduct UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the allegation is false or not based on valid facts.

F) Did Officer R. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Order 1-39-1 (A), and Department Special Order 12-26? General Order 1-39-1 (A), and Department Special Order 12-26, respectively, state:

1-39-1 USE OF TAPE/DIGITAL RECORDERS

[6] A. Personnel will use issued tape/digital recorders to document the incidents listed below.

It will be the responsibility of the primary officer to ensure that the incident will be recorded in its entirety. If at any time the primary and secondary officer(s) should become separated, it will be the responsibility of the secondary officer(s) to record all their contact and/or actions during that incident. In such incidents where the primary officer tags a recording and secondary officer(s) also have a recording: all recordings will be tagged into evidence. If the primary officer tags a complete recording or there is an outside source recording tagged into evidence and no secondary recording exist; this shall serve as meeting the requirements for this section.

DEPARTMENT SPECIAL ORDER 12-26

Effective immediately, all sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a dispatched call for service, arrest warrant, search warrant or traffic stop. The recordings will be saved for no less than 120 days. Personnel will refer to the instructional video on PowerDMS for storing instructions. Failure to record a contact under the listed specifications may result in discipline.

Ms. Otte did not allege Officer R. violated this SOP or Special Order.

A review of Officer R.'s lapel video revealed that lapel video was not recorded between the incident scene and the SE substation, and during the time spent at the SE substation after securing Ms. Otte to a bench in the Patrol Officer's room. Officer R. was required to have his lapel camera on for the duration of the contact with Ms. Otte because he was in direct contact with her.

The CPOA finds Officer R.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the allegation is supported by sufficient evidence.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER G.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, lapel videos, and interviews with the Complainant, and Officer G..

A) Did Officer G. comply with Albuquerque Police Department (APD) General Order 2-52-3? General Order 2-52-3 states:

A. Officers may use force when objectively reasonable based on a totality of the circumstances. The objectives for which force may be appropriate include:

- To gain control of a combative prisoner
- To defend an officer or member of the public from the physical act of another.

Ms. Otte complained Officer G. used excessive force inside the PTC, and when he transferred her from the PTC to his patrol car, and at the MDC.

A review of Officer G.'s lapel video showed that as soon as Ms. Otte got into the PTC she asked Officer G. if he could loosen her handcuffs because they were too tight. The lapel video showed Officer G. adjusted Ms. Otte's handcuffs before he secured her to the bench. The lapel video showed Officer G. and his partner escorted Ms. Otte to the PTC processing desk as Ms. Otte yelled profanities and threats at the Officers. Ms. Otte continued to yell profanities and threaten the Officers and told them to stop being rough with her as they attempted to move her onto the yellow footprints in front of the processing desk. A PTC Officer told Ms. Otte to stop two times before Ms. Otte turned towards Officer G. and yelled in his face. Officer G. then placed Ms. Otte in a control hold. The video showed the PTC Sergeant refused to accept Ms. Otte and showed Officer G. escorted Ms. Otte out of the PTC and attempt to put her into his patrol car. Ms. Otte continued to yell profanities and threaten the Officers and refused to get into the patrol car. Ms. Otte stood up on the bottom edge of the door frame and would not sit down so Officer G. placed his hand on Ms. Otte's right shoulder and forced her into the back seat.

The lapel video showed that when Ms. Otte arrived at the MDC she yelled profanities and threatened Officer G. as he placed her on the prisoner bench. Ms. Otte continued to yell at the Officers and yelled at and threatened another female prisoner before MDC Officers relocated the other female prisoners away from Ms. Otte. A short time later Ms. Otte yelled at the same female prisoner from across the room then stood up and advanced towards the other prisoner, who was advancing towards Ms. Otte. Officer G. and his partner escorted Ms. Otte back to the bench. Ms. Otte was leaned on her side while the Officers removed her boots. Officer G.'s partner told Ms. Otte to move to another area on the bench so she stood up and moved there. She yelled at the Officers to stop being rough with her and Officer G.'s partner told her to stop spitting at him prior to Ms. Otte being handcuffed to the bar above the bench. The video showed a paramedic contact Ms. Otte and ask her a question and Ms. Otte yelled that her hands hurt because of the handcuffs. The paramedic asked her some questions, which were inaudible and Ms. Otte continued to yell at him so he walked away. The lapel video showed Officer G. used the force necessary throughout his contact with Ms. Otte to gain control of Ms. Otte. Ms. Otte yelled profanities, made verbal threats towards Officer G., and was uncooperative throughout most of her detention and subsequent arrest. Any force used by Officer G. was reasonable and necessary.

A review of Officer G.'s lapel video showed Officer G. used the force necessary throughout his contact with Ms. Otte, to gain control of Ms. Otte, who yelled profanities and made verbal threats towards Officer G., and was uncooperative throughout most of her detention and subsequent arrest.

The CPOA finds Officer G.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the incident that occurred was lawful or proper.

B) Did Officer G. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Order 1-4-1 (B)? General Order 1-4-1 (B) states:

B. Personnel shall obey all felony criminal laws of the United States of America, and of any state and local jurisdiction in which they are present.

Ms. Otte complained while en-route to the MDC Officer G. sexually assaulted, threatened and battered her.

The evidence of Officer G.'s lapel video and interviews showed Officer G. did not make any stops en-route to the MDC, with the exception of traffic signals and stop signs. The lapel video showed Officer G. did not have physical contact with Ms. Otte between the PTC and MDC. Officer G. made contact with Ms. Otte upon their arrival at the MDC to escort her inside. The lapel video, dispatch recordings and CADS report recorded the same mileage and timestamps Officer G. reported when they left the PTC and when they arrived at the MDC. According to the evidence reviewed the transport took approximately 20 minutes. A review of the reported path of travel between the PTC and the MDC on Googlemaps showed an approximate travel time of 23 minutes. The evidence showed Officer G. did not sexually assault, threaten and/or batter Ms. Otte when transporting her from the PTC to the MDC, as alleged.

The CPOA finds Officer G.'s conduct UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the allegation is false or not based on valid facts.

C) Did Officer G. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Order 1-4-1 (F)? General Order 1-4-1 (F) states:

F. Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Otte complained while en-route to the MDC, Officer G. played loud music and laughed the entire way to the MDC.

A review of Officer G.'s lapel video showed that Ms. Otte yelled profanities and threats of violence against Officer G. the entire way to the MDC, Officer G. turned the music up to drown out Ms. Otte's yelling but Officer G. did not laugh the entire way to the MDC.

The CPOA finds Officer G.'s conduct EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the incident that occurred was lawful or proper.

D) Did Officer G. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Order 1-39-1 (A), and Department Special Order 12-26? General Order 1-39-1 (A), and Department Special Order 12-26, respectively, state:

1-39-1 USE OF TAPE/DIGITAL RECORDERS

[6] A. Personnel will use issued tape/digital recorders to document the incidents listed below.

It will be the responsibility of the primary officer to ensure that the incident will be recorded in its entirety. If at any time the primary and secondary officer(s) should become separated, it will be the responsibility of the secondary officer(s) to record all their contact and/or actions during that incident. In such incidents where the primary officer tags a recording and secondary officer(s) also have a recording: all recordings will be tagged into evidence. If the primary officer tags a complete recording or there is an outside source recording tagged into evidence and no secondary recording exist; this shall serve as meeting the requirements for this section.

DEPARTMENT SPECIAL ORDER 12-26

Effective immediately, all sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a dispatched call for service, arrest warrant, search warrant or traffic stop. The recordings will be saved for no less than 120 days. Personnel will refer to the instructional video on PowerDMS for storing instructions. Failure to record a contact under the listed specifications may result in discipline.

Ms. Otte did not allege Officer G. violated this SOP or Special Order.

A review of Officer G.'s lapel video revealed that lapel video was not recorded between the incident scene and the SE substation, and during the time spent at the SE substation after securing Ms. Otte to a bench in the Patrol Officer's room. Officer G. was required to have his lapel camera on for the duration of the contact with Ms. Otte because he was in direct contact with her.

The CPOA finds Officer G.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the allegation is supported by sufficient evidence.

IV. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING DETECTIVE G.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, lapel videos, and interviews with the Complainant, and Detective G..

A) Did Detective G. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Order 1-2-2 (B)(2)? General Order 1-2-2 (B)(2) states:

B. Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the Ordinances of the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce. Officers shall:

2. Make only those arrests, searches, and seizures which they know or should know are legal and in accordance with departmental procedures.

Ms. Otte complained she was falsely arrested. Ms. Otte complained Detective G.'s search warrant was invalid because it was for a vehicle and not her room (room 219).

The evidence of Detective G.'s lapel video, the CADS report, interviews, the search warrant affidavit and the approved search warrant were reviewed. The lapel video showed a victim identified Ms. Otte as the subject who pointed a handgun at him, threatened him, and caused him to fear for his life. Witnesses also reported Ms. Otte holding a handgun. Additionally, Detective G. saw a handgun in Ms. Otte's room and obtained a search warrant for the room, which was approved by Assistant District Attorney K. Telis via telephone on December 23, 2014, and later signed by a District Court Judge on December 23, 2014 at 7:52 PM. Detective G. executed the search warrant on December 23, 2014 at 8:12 PM. The evidence showed that Detective G. had probable cause to arrest Ms. Otte and the search he conducted was valid and legal.

The CPOA finds Detective G.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegations of violations of this SOP, which means the incidents that occurred were lawful or proper.

B) Did Detective G. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Orders 2-24-4 (F)(2) and 2-24-4 (F)(12)? General Orders 2-24-4 (F)(2) and 2-24-4 (F)(12), respectively, state:

F. Steps to be followed in conducting follow up investigations:

2. Conduct additional interviews and interrogations, when necessary.

12. Prepare cases for court presentations and assist in the prosecutions.

Ms. Otte complained Detective G. did not interview her, or include her version of events, or put a time on his report.

The evidence of Detective G.'s lapel video and report showed Detective G. interviewed Ms. Otte shortly after she was detained by APD Officers on scene. Detective G.'s accurately indicated the time he arrived on scene in his report. The evidence showed Detective G. did not neglect his duty to interview as part of his follow-up investigation, and he did not omit a time in his report.

The CPOA finds Detective G.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegations of violations of this SOP, which means the allegations are false or not based on valid facts.

C) Did Detective G. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Order 1-4-1 (F)? General Order 1-4-1 (F) states:

F. Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Otte complained Detective G. had stalked her.

A review of the interviews showed Detective G. did not and has not stalked Ms. Otte and has only dealt with Ms. Otte once, which was December 23, 2014, during this incident.

The CPOA finds Detective G.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the allegation is false or not based on valid facts.

V. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING SERGEANT P.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, lapel videos, and interviews with the Complainant, and Sergeant P..

A) Did Sergeant P. comply with Albuquerque Police Department General Orders 2-24-4 (F)(2), and 2-24-4 (F)(8)? General Orders 2-24-4 (F)(2), and 2-24-4 (F)(8), respectively state:

Steps to be followed in conducting follow-up investigations:

2. Conduct additional interviews and interrogations, when necessary.

8. Collect physical evidence.

Ms. Otte complained she reported the sexual assault incident to APD Sex Crimes Unit (SCU) and did not receive a response. Ms. Otte complained SCU Sergeant P. edited/selected sections of lapel video to leave out violent portions and failed to collect Ms. Otte's clothing as physical evidence.

The evidence of an audio recording of the interview between SCU Sergeant P. and Ms. Otte, which was conducted at the MDC on December 24, 2014, lapel videos and interviews were reviewed and showed APD SCU Sergeant P. responded to Ms. Otte's allegation of sexual assault. The video tape ran continuously. There were no breaks. There was no credible evidence that Sergeant P edited or deleted lapel video. Individual officers, including Sergeant P., do not have the capability to do so. Sergeant P. did not collect Ms. Otte's clothing because when she arrived at the MDC to interview Ms. Otte, Ms. Otte was wearing MDC scrubs and not the clothing she was wearing the day of her arrest or during the alleged assault. Additionally, Sergeant P. stated it was the Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner's (SANE) responsibility to collect any physical evidence, to include clothing, from the victim of a sexual assault during the SANE exam.

The CPOA finds Sergeant P.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegations of violations of this SOP, which means the allegations are false or not based on valid facts.

Sandra Baca

Albuquerque, NM 87112

Dear Ms. Baca:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on January 20, 2015, for an incident, which occurred on December 31, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Sandra Baca wrote a person was being rude to her and tried to run her over, but she did not call police right away. Ms. Baca wrote that when she did call police she told Officers P. and W. that she knew her neighbor was involved because she recognized the vehicle. Ms. Baca alleged that the officers refused to go to her neighbor's home. Ms. Baca complained that Officer W. grilled her and talked about two years ago. Ms. Baca wrote she did not want to talk about the past. Ms. Baca wrote the officers did not want to do anything when all she wanted was for the officers to talk to her neighbor. Ms. Baca wrote the officers acted as if it was her fault. Ms. Baca wrote the officers should have made a police report. Ms. Baca wrote the officers should have investigated her neighbor.

M006358

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Baca. Ms. Baca repeated her written complaint that she called police because of the incident at the grocery store. Ms. Baca stated she saw the car at the neighbor's house, but did not call police until much later because she did not want to stress her mother. Ms. Baca alleged the officers refused to investigate the situation and twisted her story. Ms. Baca claimed the officers accused her of being the problem. Ms. Baca stated Officer W. brought up the past of numerous other occasions when Ms. Baca had called the police to investigate her same neighbor. Ms. Baca stated that Officer W. should have focused on the current situation, that the many other time Ms. Baca had called the police for the same issue. Ms. Baca stated Officer P. did not do a police report when she wanted one. Ms. Baca stated she wanted the officers to investigate her neighbor. Ms. Baca alleged the offices were confrontational and rude.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER P.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Computer-Aided Dispatch Report (CAD), Officer P.'s lapel video, Officer W.'s lapel video, and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Ms. Baca, Officer P., and Officer W..

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 2-24-3(F)(1-5) regarding Officer P.'s conduct, which states:

- 1. Steps to be followed in conducting preliminary investigations: 1. Observe all conditions, events, and remarks. 2. Locate, identify, and interview witnesses, victims, and suspect(s). 3. Protect the crime scene and the evidence. Ensure that necessary evidence is collected. 4. Effect the arrest of the suspect. 5. Report the incident fully and accurately.*

Ms. Baca claimed Officer P. did not go to her neighbor's house to investigate her allegations. Ms. Baca stated the car that almost ran her over was at her neighbor's house when the officers were there. Ms. Baca stated Officer P. refused to do a police report to document the problems with her neighbor even when she asked. Ms. Baca stated a detective knew all the problems her one neighbor caused, but the officers refused to investigate that neighbor.

The lapel videos showed Ms. Baca alleged that her neighbor was involved in an incident that occurred about twelve hours earlier in the day. The lapel videos showed Ms. Baca insisted the vehicle involved was at her neighbor's house earlier. The only description she had of the vehicle was its color and possibly a model. The color of the vehicle she provided to the officers was different from what she provided in her interview. The lapel videos showed she told the officers she did not obtain a license plate number, but she said in her interview she had the number, but could not presently find it. Ms. Baca said in her interview the vehicle was still at her neighbor's house when officers arrived, but the lapel videos showed she told the officers the vehicle was gone. The lapel videos showed Ms. Baca said she had witnesses, but they were not available to the officers. Officer P. made the decision not to disturb the neighbor late at night when there was no credible information to show their involvement. The lapel videos showed Ms. Baca did not want Officer P. involved in the investigation anymore. The lapel videos showed Ms. Baca said an APD detective was helping her with the neighbor issues, but she did not know the detective's name or contact information for Officer P. to follow up. The lapel videos showed Ms. Baca told Officer P. to leave. The lapel videos showed Ms. Baca never requested a police report. Officer P. documented several notes on the CAD. Ms. Baca has a long history of complaints against her neighbor. Ms. Baca is assigned a CIT detective to assist her with her issues, including issues with her neighbor.

The CPOA finds Officer P.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the alleged conduct did occur, but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer P.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Baca stated the officers accused her of being the problem and that she was wrong. Ms. Baca stated the officers criticized her and accused her of lying. Ms. Baca stated Officer P. defended her neighbor because the neighbor was ill. Ms. Baca stated the officers were confrontational and rude.

The lapel videos showed Officer P. did not call Ms. Baca a liar or discount her allegations. The lapel videos showed Ms. Baca was the first to bring up her neighbor being ill; Officer P. did not defend the neighbor. The lapel videos showed Officer P. was professional and interested in assisting Ms. Baca, but Ms. Baca became angry and accusatory.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer P. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER W.'S CONDUCT

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer W.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Baca stated the officers accused her of being the problem and that she was wrong. Ms. Baca stated the officers criticized her and accused her of lying. Ms. Baca stated Officer W. defended her neighbor because the neighbor was ill. Ms. Baca stated Officer W. kept bringing up things from two years ago, which was unnecessary. Ms. Baca stated the officers were confrontational and rude.

The lapel videos showed Officer W. did not call Ms. Baca a liar or discount her allegations. The lapel videos showed Ms. Baca was the first to bring up her neighbor being ill; Officer W. did not defend the neighbor. The lapel videos showed Officer W. was professional and interested in assisting Ms. Baca, but Ms. Baca became angry and accusatory. Officer W. brought up his past contact with Ms. Baca because she did the same thing as before, became angry when questioned at all.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer W. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Officer P.'s and Officer W.'s Internal Affairs personnel files.

You have the right to appeal this decision. Section 9-4-1-9(A) of the Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re:    CPC # 009-15

Dear Ms. Brito:

The complaint you filed against Officer J. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on January 21, 2015, regarding an incident that occurred on October 16, 2014.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Brito wrote in her complaint that on October 16, 2014 at about 4:00 PM, she had gone to the Smith's grocery store located at 200 Tramway Boulevard SE to shop. Ms. Brito has a disability and has a service dog named Chillee, who helps her deal with her disability. While Ms. Brito was shopping, she spoke with and interacted with a few friendly people. About 45 minutes into the shopping trip, Ms. Brito was approached by a man who appeared to be very angry who identified himself as the store manager. The man asked Ms. Brito if Chillee was a service animal and Ms. Brito told the manager that she was. Ms. Brito wrote that the manager insisted that the dog was not a service animal and asked for documentation and for the dog's certification, all of which is prohibited by American with Disabilities Act (ADA). Even after Ms. Brito answered his questions, the manager demanded that's he leave the store. A Store Security Guard was called over. Ms. Brito wrote that the men continued to harass Ms. Brito while she held onto her basket. Ms. Brito wrote that at some point, the men grabbed her basket and twisted it in such a manner that her arm was twisted as well. Ms. Brito alleged that the Security Guard then shoved her and her dog out the door. The store Manager called the police and Officer J. responded. Ms. Brito alleged that Officer J. was rude and insensitive to her situation. When Ms. Brito reviewed the police report, she did not think that it accurately reflected what had taken place at the store. Ms. Brito felt that Officer J. was unprofessional and unreasonable.

II. INVESTIGATION BY THE CIVILIAN POLICE OVERSIGHT INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed your complaint and researched the matter so that we could obtain more information about the incident. The Investigator reviewed the police report, the Computer Assisted Dispatch (CAD) report, and Officer J.'s lapel camera video recording of his response to the call for service. The Investigator also reviewed the information submitted with your complaint. Before the Investigator could look further into your complaint, you called the CPOA on May 5, 2015, and requested to withdraw your complaint. You told the CPOA staff member who spoke with you that you had been over the incident in your mind and had come to the conclusion that both you and the officer were still a little unfamiliar with the situation that had unfolded at the store. You said that you felt that Officer J. was new to being exposed to the ADA laws and in looking back, Officer J. could have handled the situation worse than what he did. You said that you had reviewed the situation and you felt that since the officer was so new to the situation that the officer did not deserve to have the complaint filed against him. You stated that at the time, you were just angry and frustrated with the other people involved in the incident and not with the officer. You stated that you did not want to get the officer in trouble. You asked that the CPOA Investigator speak with the officer to let him know that you did not mean to stir up any problems but that you hoped that in the future that everyone could work together to avoid situations like this one from happening.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

You were told that our office was willing to conduct a thorough investigation into the matter, but you stated that you did not wish for that to happen and you wanted to withdraw your complaint. The CPOA Investigator spoke with Officer J. and conveyed to him your desire to withdraw your complaint and that you had hoped that the situation had enlightened Officer J. on laws concerning Service Animals. Officer J. said that when he responded to the call that he was unfamiliar with the laws concerning Service Animals. Officer J. said that the incident did change his outlook and understanding of the laws and that he would have responded differently to the situation knowing what he does now. The Acting Executive Director reviewed the complaint you filed. Since your complaint contained an allegation of minor policy violations by Officer J. and since you have requested to withdraw your complaint from being investigated any further, the CPOA will be administratively closing your complaint. No further investigation will occur. Should you encounter a similar situation in the future, or wish to report observed misconduct by APD personnel, please do not hesitate to file a complaint with the Agency.

If you have a computer available, we would greatly appreciate you completing our client survey form at <http://www.cabq.gov/iro/survey> .

Re: CPC #012-15

Dear Ms. Stevens:

The complaint you filed against Officer D. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on January 29, 2015 for an incident which occurred that same day. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Police Service Aide involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Margaret Stevens wrote in her complaint that on January 29, 2015 at about 6:40 AM, she witnessed Albuquerque Police Department (APD) car number P34 being operated in an unsafe manner. Ms. Stevens wrote that she was southbound on 3rd Street near Lomas Ave., when she observed the behavior. She wrote that there were 3-4 cars in close quarters when car P34 signaled and changed lanes to the right at the same time. Ms. Stevens felt that there was simply not enough space between the vehicles for the officer to have changed lanes comfortably. Car P34 then changed lanes back to the left lane. At Lomas and 3rd Street, Car P34 changed back to the right lane when Car P34 was in the left turn only lane. This lane change occurred just before the intersection where the lanes are painted solid white. Ms. Stevens believed such a lane change was a traffic violation. Ms. Stevens said that the officer's emergency lights were never on during the time she observed the police car being operated. Ms. Stevens felt that the officer was exceeding the speed limit as well.

I. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER D.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Citizen Police Complaint, an interview with Ms. Stevens and an interview with Officer D.. The CPOA Investigator also visited the scene where the alleged driving misconduct occurred.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-19-2 (J) 3 regarding Officer D.'s conduct, which states:

All employees assigned an APD vehicle will exercise good judgment in utilizing it, and will not drive or use the vehicle so as to cause unfavorable comment, or reflect discredit on the Department. When practical all employees will not use their radio or MDT while operating an APD vehicle. Officers will pull over before using an MDT except in emergency situations.

Ms. Stevens was interviewed and repeated what she had written in her complaint. Ms. Stevens said that she only saw the police car but did not see the driver of the police car.

Officer D. was interviewed. He did not remember the incident and he could not recall any bad driving behavior on his part. The dispatch activity log for the date and time in question showed that Officer D. was logged as 10-75 on the date and time that the incident was alleged to have occurred, which meant that he was tending to some type of administrative duty at the time. Officer D. could have been on his way to tag evidence, to write reports as it was close to the end of his shift, or to tend to some other administrative duty. Officer D. also had a recruit officer assigned to him around the date that the incident occurred and it was undetermined if Officer D. was driving the vehicle at the time of the incident or if the recruit officer was. It was also undetermined as to whether or not the recruit officer was with even with Officer D. at the time. Officer D. had difficulty remembering the event. There was insufficient evidence to prove or disprove Ms. Steven's allegations.

The CPOA finds with regards to the allegation made by Ms. Stevens about Officer D.'s conduct that the allegation was NOT SUSTAINED, which means that the investigation was unable to determine by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer D.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re: CPC # 013-15

Dear Mr. Adams:

The complaint you filed against Officer R., Officer S. and Senior (Sr.) Office Assistant M. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on January 30, 2015, regarding an incident that occurred on January 22, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. Adams complained that on January 22, 2015 at about 5:15 pm, he was involved in an automobile accident on I-40 East. Mr. Adams said it took Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers over an hour to respond to the accident and while he was waiting five APD Patrol vehicles drove past without stopping. Mr. Adams said that eventually two APD Officers arrived and one of those Officers, Officer R., gave Mr. Adams a business card that contained outdated contact information for Officer R. Mr. Adams said that on January 27, 2015 it took him three phone calls to find out that Officer R. was assigned to the Southeast substation. Once in contact with the Southeast substation, Mr. Adams learned that the accident report had not been completed and the information for the report, such as Mr. Adams name and insurance company, was incorrect. Additionally, Mr. Adams was told that Officer R. "messed up the whole report" and that Officer R. would call Mr. Adams that day (January 27, 2015) but Officer R. did not contact Mr. Adams. On January 30, 2015, Mr. Adams called the Southeast substation, again, to see if the report had been completed and he spoke with Sr. Office Assistant M., who he described as being "very rude and unhelpful." Mr. Adams said that Sr. Office Assistant M. told him that "police officers do not redo reports to get the correct information" and his accident report was still not done but that someone would call him back.

As of January 30, 2015, the date of the complaint, no one had returned Mr. Adams' call and the accident report had yet to be completed. Mr. Adams said he understood why people in Albuquerque do not appreciate their police force because they are "rude, unhelpful and unprofessional officers." Lastly, Mr. Adams requested assistance in obtaining the accident report so that he could file it with his insurance company.

M006367

II. INVESTIGATION BY INDEPENDENT REVIEW INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed Mr. Adams' complaint and researched the matter so that we could obtain more information about the incident. The Investigator determined the identity of the Officer in question and learned it was Officer S., who wrote the report and not Officer R. as Mr. Adams had originally reported.

On February 17, 2015, the CPOA Investigator spoke with Mr. Adams on the phone. Mr. Adams explained that he still had not received a copy of the report for his insurance company. Mr. Adams essentially stated that when he wrote the complaint he was angry at the time because there was a lot of misinformation given, it took a long time for officers to respond to his accident and some of the people he spoke with were rude but he was concerned about his complaint not being as important as other complaints coming into the CPOA office. His main concern was that investigating his complaint would detract the time and resources available to investigate other more important, concerning issues that people have with the Albuquerque Police Department. The CPOA Investigator explained the difference between a formal and an informal complaint to Mr. Adams and Mr. Adams agreed that he would be satisfied to have this complaint handled informally by Officer S. and Officer R.'s Supervisor, and Sr. Office Assistant M.'s Supervisor. The CPOA Investigator said that she would have Officer S. and Officer R.'s Supervisor and Sr. Office Assistant M.'s Supervisor call him so that Mr. Adams could discuss his concerns directly with the respective Supervisors. The CPOA Investigator faxed a copy of the police/accident report to Mr. Adams, as requested.

On February 21, 2015, the CPOA Investigator received notification from Officer S. and R.'s Commander, Lieutenant S, stating that he had discussed the details of the incident with Officer S. and Officer R.'s Supervisor, Sergeant Y., who addressed the issue with these Officers. Sergeant Y. also contacted Mr. Adams and discussed the complaint with Mr. Adams, who said he was satisfied with the way that the complaint was addressed. Lieutenant S. also stated that he would speak with Sr. Office Assistant M., himself, regarding your complaint.

On February 21, 2015, the CPOA Investigator contacted Mr. Adams and Mr. Adams indicated that he was satisfied with the outcome of his complaint.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

This complaint was resolved in an informal manner. It was sent to Officer R. and Officer S.'s Supervisor and to Sr. Office Assistant M.'s Supervisor for review and action. The Supervisors did discuss Mr. Adams' concerns with their respective employees. Mr. Adams' complaint was informally resolved. Therefore, the Agency will administratively close this complaint and no further investigation by our office will occur.

Re: CPC # 014-14

Dear Ms. Lugo:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on January 20, 2014, for an incident which occurred on December 18, 2013. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. I, as Acting Executive Director, made findings of whether the police officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Since officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, Sections 9-4-1-13 and 9-4-1-14 of the Police Oversight Ordinance mandate that their statements not be made public. Further, the contract between the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association and the City of Albuquerque sets forth guidelines on the information which I may disclose to you. Below is a summary of the complaint, my findings and any discipline imposed.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Juanita Lugo wrote that on December 18, 2013, while crossing the street at Carlisle and Indian School Road, she was hit by a vehicle. Ms. Lugo stated there were numerous witnesses to the accident and felt the officer taking the report would obtain the proper information. Ms. Lugo stated it took a little under a month to receive the report and once she did, it was inaccurate. Ms. Lugo wrote that the accident was not thoroughly investigated, that it placed her at fault, and she felt the accident investigation was not done justice.

Ms. Lugo was interviewed on February 27, 2015, by the CPOA Investigator. Ms. Lugo reiterated what was in her written complaint and stated the officer wrote in his report that Ms.

M006370

Lugo was not in a crosswalk during the incident. Ms. Lugo stated the officer did not properly conduct an accident investigation.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER L.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director, reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, the police reports, and interviews of Ms. Lugo and Officer L.

I, as Acting Executive Director, reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 2-18-8(B) regarding Officer L.'s conduct, which states:

Officers are expected to take enforcement action whenever a traffic accident investigation indicates probable cause to believe that a violation of law or ordinance has occurred.

B. Officers assigned to investigate traffic accidents will conduct thorough investigations and submit complete reports. If sufficient evidence exists to identify contributing causes of accidents, those facts and opinions must be properly reported.

Ms. Lugo wrote that on December 18, 2013, while crossing the street at Carlisle and Indian School Road, she was hit by a vehicle. Ms. Lugo stated there were numerous witnesses to the accident and felt the officer taking the report would obtain the proper information. Ms. Lugo stated that it took a little under a month to receive the report and once she did, it was inaccurate. Ms. Lugo wrote that the accident was not thoroughly investigated, that it placed her at fault, and she felt the accident investigation was not done justice.

Ms. Lugo was interviewed by telephone and stated that the officer had written in his report that Ms. Lugo was not in a crosswalk during the incident. Ms. Lugo stated the officer did not properly conduct an accident investigation.

Officer L. was assigned to the traffic division on December 18, 2013. Officer L. was dispatched to the incident. Upon arrival, he observed Albuquerque Ambulance treating Ms. Lugo for an injury to her leg. Officer L. recalled asking for witnesses, but no one came forward. Officer L. had his Taser camera recording at the incident because at that time he was part of the test pilot program for the new cameras. Officer L. made contact with Ms. Lugo and the driver of the vehicle. Ms. Lugo said she and her boyfriend were attempting to cross the street when the side mirror of the vehicle struck her. Officer L. asked Ms. Lugo why she wasn't using the crosswalk which was about 200 feet away to the west. Ms. Lugo told him that the street looked clear. Ms. Lugo was being treated by Albuquerque Ambulance and was transported. Officer L. spoke with the driver of the vehicle, who stated when she was pulling out, there were no cars coming, a vehicle then went to make a turn in front of her vehicle and once that vehicle turned, she proceeded and it wasn't until the last minute she had seen Ms. Lugo in the street. The driver clipped Ms. Lugo with the passenger side mirror.

Officer L. showed the Investigator the diagram of the Uniform Crash Report and explained where the crosswalk was in reference to the path Ms. Lugo had taken across the street. In Ms. Lugo's written complaint, she stated she crossed to the median, which also indicated Ms. Lugo was not in a crosswalk at the time of the accident. Officer L.'s Uniform Crash Report included all proper documentation.

I find Officer L.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the incident that occurred was lawful or proper.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Officer L.'s Internal Affairs Personnel file.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the IRO or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re: CPC # 014-15

Dear Ms. Jones:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on February 3, 2015, for an incident which occurred on November 27, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Jones wrote that she was at home packing her belongings with a friend, Mr. McMullen. Ms. Jones and her husband, Mr. Griffin, were being evicted from their apartment at the end of the month. While she was at home, her husband came home. In order to avoid conflict, she hid Mr. McMullen in the closet. Ms. Jones stated that Mr. Griffin came after her with a tool, trying to kill her and Mr. McMullen. Once Officer R. arrived, he handcuffed Mr. Griffin and put Mr. Griffin in the back of the police car. Ms. Jones claimed that Mr. Griffin banged his head, called Ms. Jones names and threatened to kill her. Ms. Jones wrote that Officer R. decided to let Mr. Griffin go because Officer R. decided Mr. Griffin was not a threat. Ms.

Jones did not understand Officer R.'s assessment since Mr. Griffin threatened her in the presence of the officer. Ms. Jones wrote that Officer R. told her she needed to leave and not return, even though both she and her husband were on the lease.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Jones, who repeated what was in her written complaint, but added details. Ms. Jones stated that when Mr. Griffin came after her with the tool she grabbed hold of the tool to prevent Mr. Griffin from hitting anyone. Ms. Jones stated Mr. Griffin dragged her around as he was trying to pull the tool away from her. She stated that Mr. Griffin smashed windows in the living room, the television, and her car window. She said that Mr. Griffin threatened to kill her. Ms. Jones repeated that when Officer R. detained Mr. Griffin in the back of the police car that Mr. Griffin hit his head on the side window and threatened to kill her. Ms. Jones stated that Officer R. told her that he was letting Mr. Griffin go and she needed to leave the apartment. She felt that Officer R. degraded her. She stated when she received the police report she noticed errors.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER R.'S CONDUCT

I reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Computer-Aided Dispatch Reports, Albuquerque Police Report, the 911 calls, Officer R.'s lapel video and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Tina Jones, Darren McMullen, and Officer R.

(A) I, as Acting Executive Director, reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 2-24-3(F)(1)(4) and (5) regarding Officer R.'s conduct, which states:

Steps to be followed in conducting preliminary investigations: 1. Observe all conditions, events, and remarks. 4. Effect the arrest of the suspect. 5. Report the incident fully and accurately.

Ms. Jones stated that Mr. Griffin was agitated and shouted in front of Officer R. that he wanted to kill her. Ms. Jones stated that she told Officer R. her husband made threats earlier. Ms. Jones believed her husband should have been arrested, given his threats and the damages he caused, and that her husband was intent on harming her because of his behaviors. Ms. Jones noticed the police report had the names of her husband and her friend confused throughout the report. She also said the report had extremely low values listed for the damages. She had receipts that showed it was significantly more to fix and replace the things damaged.

Officer R. believed that Mr. Griffin was entitled to damage his property, even if shared with Ms. Jones. Officer R. believed that Mr. Griffin was expressing his anger by taking it out on the property and not threatening Ms. Jones, but he did not ask Mr. Griffin his specific motivation.

The portion that was recorded on video showed Ms. Jones did not accuse Mr. Griffin of threatening her that night, but she did say violence had occurred in the past. The 911 calls and CAD said threats were made. Mr. McMullen stated in his interview he did not hear threats coming from Mr. Griffin. The lapel video showed Officer R. did not ask direct questions about threats that night. Officer R. did not ask Mr. Griffin his intentions behind damaging the property. The video showed Mr. Griffin made statements that he was having difficulty controlling himself and Mr. Griffin said he "lost it" when he saw his wife with Mr. McMullen. Officer R. did not ask investigative questions about the smashing of mutually owned property with a crowbar in front of the person to say what Mr. Griffin's intentions were. Officer R. listed the names inaccurately throughout the narrative of the report. Officer R. did not list Mr. McMullen on the report other than in the narrative incorrectly.

I find the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer R. was SUSTAINED, which means the allegation is supported by sufficient evidence.

(B) I, as Acting Executive Director, reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-02-2(B) regarding Officer R.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the Ordinances of the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce.

Officer R. explained that it was not against the law to damage one's own property. Officer R. expressed he was somewhat familiar with State Statute 30-3-18, but did not remember the elements of it. Officer R. did not know the elements of the state statute because he indicated since the property was mutually owned, it was okay. The vehicle was registered in both their names and the apartment lease was in both their names.

The statute specifically talks about damaging real, personal, community, or jointly owned property of a household member. Officer R. made no mention of intentions being a part of whether the statute applied until the Albuquerque Police Officer's Association (APOA) representative brought it up. Officer R. made the assumption that Mr. Griffin damaged the property in anger without the intention to intimidate Ms. Jones. No one disputed that the damages were done in front of Ms. Jones and Mr. McMullen. As stated in the previous SOP, Officer R. did not ask about Mr. Griffin's intentions, but he made assumptions.

I find the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer R. was SUSTAINED, which means the allegation is supported by sufficient evidence.

(C) I, as Acting Executive Director, reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer R.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Jones claimed that Officer R. degraded her and did not want to help her. Ms. Jones stated that she was told to leave the apartment, even though she was trying to pack, since she and her husband were being evicted in a few days. Officer R. did not explain why she needed to leave versus Mr. Griffin.

During the portion that was recorded Officer R. was professional. However, the discussion of why there would be no arrest and who would leave for the night was not recorded.

I find the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer R. was NOT SUSTAINED, which means there is insufficient evidence to prove or disprove the allegation.

(D) I, as Acting Executive Director, reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-39-2(B) regarding Officer R.'s conduct, which states:

All sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a dispatched call for service, arrest warrant, search warrant service or traffic stop. Personnel will activate the recorder prior to arriving at the call or prior to citizen contact on non-dispatched events (within the safety parameters of 1-39-1B) and will record the entirety of citizen contact. Uniformed civilian personnel issued digital recorders will also comply with this section. The recordings will be saved for no less than 120 days.

Officer R. recorded his initial contact through his primary interviews with Ms. Jones and Mr. Griffin. Officer R. did not think the rest of the contact was necessary to be recorded. The policy states the incident will be recorded in its entirety.

I find the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer R. was SUSTAINED, which means the allegation is supported by sufficient evidence.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Officer R.'s Internal Affairs personnel file.

You have the right to appeal this decision. Section 9-4-1-9(A) of the Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

If you have a computer available, we would greatly appreciate your completing our client survey form at <http://www.cabq.gov/iro/survey> .

Re: CPC #015-15

Dear Ms. Scully-Jones:

The complaint you filed against Officer M. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on February 4, 2015 for an incident which occurred on January 30, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Police Officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

On January 30, 2015, Colleen Scully-Jones called the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) to report that her former boyfriend had set up a false sex ad on Craigslist and her former boyfriend listed her cell phone number as a contact number in the ad. Ms. Scully-Jones had a Restraining Order on file against the former boyfriend. As a result of the fake ad being placed, Ms. Scully-Jones received numerous text messages and phone calls. Ms. Scully-Jones complained that the officer who responded to her call for assistance, Officer M., was unprofessional and Officer M. refused to file a report. Ms. Scully-Jones alleged that Officer M. asked her, "What do you expect me to do about it?" Ms. Scully-Jones also complained about her general dissatisfaction with the way that APD had handled the ongoing case against her former boyfriend.

I. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER M.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Citizen Police Complaint, a review of the police report, an interview with Ms. Scully-Jones, an interview with Officer M., and correspondence with Detective S.. The CPOA Investigator also reviewed Officer M.'s lapel video of the contact with Ms. Scully-Jones.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer M.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Scully-Jones complained that the officer who responded to her call for assistance, Officer M., was unprofessional in his behavior. Ms. Scully-Jones alleged that Officer M. asked her, "What do you expect me to do about it?" Ms. Scully-Jones also complained about her general dissatisfaction with the way that APD had handled the ongoing case against her former boyfriend.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Scully-Jones, and Officer M.. The Investigator also reviewed Officer M.'s lapel video and police report. Ms. Scully-Jones repeated in her interview what she had written in her complaint. Officer M. denied that he was unprofessional.

The lapel video showed that the contact with Ms. Scully Jones lasted just over 11 minutes. Ms. Scully-Jones explained to the officer what had taken place. She acknowledged that the Temporary Restraining Order was expiring on that day. Officer M. listened to Ms. Scully-Jones tell him what had taken place and Officer M. then said, "Okay. But how can I prove that it's him doing it? If I am going to charge him with violation of the Restraining Order I need to have enough probable cause to justify making that charge." Ms. Scully Jones asked, "So there's no point in my call? Should I just call the Stalking Investigator instead?"

Officer M. told Ms. Scully-Jones that he was going to be making a report and that he was sorry that she was frustrated but that the law requires that there be probable cause to file a charge. He told Ms. Scully-Jones that he would have a hard time being able to prove that it was her ex-boyfriend who posted the ad on Craigslist.

Ms. Scully-Jones asked Officer M. that if she could find the ad with her number on it, if the officer could file a report showing that she was in jeopardy. Officer M. responded by telling Ms. Scully-Jones that he could file a report just based on what she was telling him at the time. He clarified that he couldn't file charges though unless there was proof. Officer M. explained that just because she had people texting or calling off an ad that was placed on Craigslist, that was not sufficient proof that the ad had been maliciously placed by her ex-boyfriend.

Ms. Scully-Jones said that she understood that the officer could not prove that it was her ex-boyfriend who had placed the ad. She complained about Officer M.'s attitude at that time. She said that she was "surprised" at the officer's attitude. Ms. Scully-Jones got very upset at that time and raised her voice and started using profanity.

Officer M. told Ms. Scully-Jones, "Well I'm sorry that you feel that I'm not talking to you in the way you want me to but you came at me in a hostile, you're mad at me because I am telling you that I cannot press charges against him because I can't prove beyond a reasonable doubt that it was him who did that. I never said that I wasn't going to make a report. You assumed I wasn't going to make a report. I told you I would make a report."

Ms. Scully-Jones disagreed and said that Officer M. said that he wasn't going to make a report out. She finally acknowledged that Officer M. never said that he wasn't going to make a report but based on what the officer told her it was apparent that this was a "wasted call" to the police department.

Officer M. assured Ms. Scully-Jones that the call was not a wasted call but he was just letting her know that he would not be able to file charges based on the lack of proof that it was the ex-boyfriend who had placed the ad.

Ms. Scully-Jones asked, "If you can't prove it, then what's the point of a report? If you are not going to turn it in any further or you are not going to send it to the Stalking Unit..."

Officer M. asked, "Who said I wasn't? You're assuming that I wasn't going to do all these things." Ms. Scully-Jones replied, "Well, when you approach me and say you can't prove anything." Ms. Scully-Jones said that the interaction between her and Officer M. did not start off well.

Officer M. then asked, "So what is it you'd like from me tonight?"

Ms. Scully-Jones responded, "I called. I want a report." Officer M. said, "Okay. Then a report will be filed. I never said that there wasn't going to be a report."

Ms. Scully-Jones then went into her house to get her Restraining Order. She returned and said. "Alright, I understand that you can't prove beyond a reasonable doubt right here standing on this porch that this is his phone number but if you would like to see the string of texts where he told me that he would kill my dog, and thirty some odd phone calls I received because somewhere obviously there is an ad on Craigslist that I can't find."

Officer M. asked Ms. Scully-Jones when all of that took place and Ms. Scully-Jones said that she didn't even know because there were so many calls on her phone. She then told the officer that the phone calls started at 8:51 the night before and she received 34 phone calls from her ex-boyfriend all in violation of the Order. Officer M. then obtained the necessary information for his report. Officer M. asked Ms. Scully-Jones why she didn't call when the calls started happening and she said that since the Restraining Order was expiring she figured she would "blow it off" until she started getting calls from the Craigslist ad. The rest of the video entails Officer M. obtaining the information that he needed for his report.

The lapel video showed that Officer M. never asked, "What do you want me to do about it?" as Ms. Scully-Jones had alleged.

Furthermore, the CPOA Investigator contacted the Family Assault and Stalking Team (FASST) Detective assigned to Ms. Scully-Jones's case. FASST Detective S. prepared the case for prosecution and who had obtained the arrest warrant for Ms. Scully-Jones's former boyfriend, based in part upon Officer M.'s report. Detective S. contacted Ms. Scully-Jones after the in person interview with the CPOA Investigator and Ms. Scully-Jones indicated to Detective S. that she was happy with his service and what he had done on her case. At the time of this writing, the former boyfriend was in jail awaiting prosecution for the offenses he allegedly committed against Ms. Scully-Jones.

The CPOA finds with regards to the allegation made by Ms. Scully Jones about Officer M.'s conduct that the allegation was UNFOUNDED, as the investigation determined by clear and convincing evidence that the alleged misconduct did not occur.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-05-2 (C) 4 regarding Officer M.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel of the Department shall write reports on any incident that is of great importance where the officer is at the scene, at the scene of a crime, or any incident where a citizen/victim requests a report.

Ms. Scully-Jones complained that Officer M. refused to file a report in this case. The evidence showed that there was a police report written on the incident. The lapel video showed that Officer M. never refused to take a report. In fact, as referenced above, Officer M. told Ms. Scully-Jones that he was going to file a report on several occasions during his interaction with Ms. Scully-Jones.

The CPOA finds with regards to the allegation made by Ms. Scully Jones about Officer M.'s conduct that the allegation was UNFOUNDED, as the investigation determined by clear and convincing evidence that the alleged misconduct did not occur.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer M.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re: CPC #016-15

Dear Ms. Valerio:

The complaint you filed against Officer T. and Officer C. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on February 9, 2015, for an incident which occurred February 7, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the APD Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Valerio complained that on February 7, 2015, at 2:00 am, she was driving west on Montgomery Blvd. when she came upon an Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Driving While Intoxicated (DWI)/Sobriety Checkpoint. Ms. Valerio said she was stopped and questioned about drinking, and then asked to step out of her car. Ms. Valerio informed the DWI Officers she needed her wheelchair out of the back of her car and asked if her male passenger could get it for her. Ms. Valerio complained when her male passenger got out of the car to get her wheelchair, the officers laughed and said, "Oh I have to see this" and continued to laugh. Ms. Valerio complained she was escorted across the street to perform a field sobriety test, which took about 20 minutes before she was released. Ms. Valerio complained she asked an officer to give her a breathalyzer test instead but the officer ignored her, and a second officer told her to shut up. Ms. Valerio complained officers would not provide their names, badge numbers, or supervisor's information when asked. Ms. Valerio summed up her complaint with "the whole situation and all the officers were rude, disrespectful and completely uncalled for."

A DWI Checkpoint can typically involve up to 13 APD officers and recruit officers, or more. During the checkpoint, these officers rotate their responsibilities, depending on their position at the time a citizen is stopped. For example, one or two officers will contact the driver, while other officers contact passengers and move them away from the vehicle and other officers move the vehicles out of the way while Field Sobriety Tests (FSTs) are conducted. Ms. Valerio was unable to identify the officers who allegedly laughed at her and who gave her the sobriety tests. She listed the involved officers in her complaint as Officers #1 - 4. After speaking with the DWI Supervisor at the checkpoint, Sergeant L., Ms. Valerio identified Officer T. as Officer #3. The investigation revealed Officer T. was not Officer #3 but Officer T. was one of the four Officers who contacted Ms. Valerio. The investigation revealed that Officer C. named Officer #3 in Ms. Valerio's complaint. The investigation was unable to determine who the other two Officers were but Officer T. and Officer C. were identified as being involved in with Ms. Brito and targeted in this investigation.

When a citizen is contacted at a DWI checkpoint, the officers who are in direct contact with a citizen, and who are administering the FSTs, are required to record their contact with citizens. Unfortunately, Officer T. and Officer C. did not record this contact so there was no lapel video available for review. Additionally, when a citizen is contacted at a DWI checkpoint but not arrested the officers are not required to write a police report, so there is no police report for this incident.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER T.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), the Citizen Police Complaint and interviews with Ms. Valerio, Officer T., Officer C. and Sergeant L.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-02-3(A) regarding Officer T.'s conduct, which states:

- A. Officers shall cordially furnish their name and employee number to any person requesting such information when they are on duty or while acting in an official capacity except:*
- 1. When the withholding of such information is necessary for the performance of police duties.*
  - 2. When it is authorized by proper authority.*

Ms. Valerio complained she asked Officer T. for his name and badge number and he ignored her request and walked away. Officer T., Officer C. and Sergeant L. were interviewed. None of the officers interviewed could confirm that Ms. Valerio asked any of the officers at the DWI checkpoint for a name or badge number. None of the officers activated their lapel cameras for this contact, as required. As a result, the investigation was unable to determine whether, or not the alleged misconduct occurred.

The CPOA finds Officer T.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, because the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-4-1(F) regarding Officer T.'s conduct, which states:

F. Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Valerio complained Officer T. was rude to her and treated her poorly throughout his contact with her. Specifically, Ms. Valerio complained Officer T. ignored her request for a breath test. Officer T., Officer C. and Sergeant L. were interviewed. None of the Officers interviewed could confirm that any of the Officers at the DWI checkpoint were rude to Ms. Valerio. None of the Officers activated their lapel cameras for this contact, as required. As a result, the investigation was unable to determine whether, or not the alleged misconduct occurred.

The CPOA finds Officer T.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, because the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-39-1(A), and Department Special Order 12-26 regarding Officer T.'s conduct, which state, respectively:

1-39-1 USE OF TAPE/DIGITAL RECORDERS

[6] A. Personnel will use issued tape/digital recorders to document the incidents listed below.

It will be the responsibility of the primary officer to ensure that the incident will be recorded in its entirety. If at any time the primary and secondary officer(s) should become separated, it will be the responsibility of the secondary officer(s) to record all their contact and/or actions during that incident. In such incidents where the primary officer tags a recording and secondary officer(s) also have a recording: all recordings will be tagged into evidence. If the primary officer tags a complete recording or there is an outside source recording tagged into evidence and no secondary recording exist; this shall serve as meeting the requirements for this section.

DEPARTMENT SPECIAL ORDER 12-26

Effective immediately, all sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a dispatched call for service, arrest warrant, search warrant or traffic stop. The recordings will be saved for no less than 120 days. Personnel will refer to the instructional video on PowerDMS for storing instructions. Failure to record a contact under the listed specifications may result in discipline.

Officer T., Officer C. and Sergeant L. were interviewed. Officer T. did not record his interaction with Ms. Valerio and no other lapel camera video was available for this interaction. Officer T. was required by SOP to activate his lapel camera and he failed to do so.

The CPOA finds Officer T.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, because the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged misconduct did occur.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER C.'S CONDUCT

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Procedural 1-02-3(A) regarding Officer C.'s conduct, which states:

- A. Officers shall cordially furnish their name and employee number to any person requesting such information when they are on duty or while acting in an official capacity except:*
  - 3. When the withholding of such information is necessary for the performance of police duties.*
  - 4. When it is authorized by proper authority.*

Ms. Valerio complained she asked Officer C. for his name and badge number and he ignored her request and walked away. Officer T., Officer C. and Sergeant L. were interviewed. None of the Officers interviewed could confirm that Ms. Valerio asked any of the Officers at the DWI checkpoint for a name or badge number. None of the Officers activated their lapel cameras for this contact, as required. As a result, the investigation was unable to determine whether, or not the alleged misconduct occurred.

The CPOA finds Officer C.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, because the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-4-1(F) regarding Officer C.'s conduct, which states:

F. Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Valerio complained Officer C. was rude to her and treated her poorly throughout his contact with her. Specifically, Ms. Valerio complained Officer C. ignored her request for a breath test. The CPOA finds Officer C.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, because the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-39-1(A), and Department Special Order 12-26 regarding Officer C.'s conduct, which state, respectively:

Re: CPC # 017-15

Dear Ms. Dobie:

The complaint you filed the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on February 6, 2015, regarding an incident that occurred on February 5, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Dobie received a phone call from a man she did not recognize. The man, later identified as Leopoldo Flores, intimidated her when he said he knew her name and address. Mr. Flores' message bothered her so much that she decided to call police. Officer B. responded to her call and investigated the situation. Mr. Flores informed Officer B. he was a former APD officer. Officer B. told Ms. Dobie that Mr. Flores had explained that he called Ms. Dobie in response to a phone call he received from Ms. Dobie's number. Ms. Dobie denied ever calling Mr. Flores. Mr. Flores said he obtained Ms. Dobie's name and address information from the phone company. Officer B. advised Ms. Dobie the outcome of his investigation. Ms. Dobie was concerned that a former APD officer improperly accessed her personal information.

II. INVESTIGATION BY CPOA INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed your complaint and researched the matter so that we could obtain more information about the incident which formed the basis of your complaint. The Investigator pulled the police report and the Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD). The Investigator confirmed the information you suspected was obtained through improper means was all available on the internet through a simple search. The CPOA Investigator contacted you on February 26, 2015, and spoke with you about the complaint. You told the Investigator you had jumped to conclusions and had not realized the information was so readily available. You also believed Mr. Flores was the victim of someone spoofing your phone number. You in turn were victimized when Mr. Flores assumed it was you that had called. You told the CPOA Investigator that you wished to withdraw the complaint.

Tamara Collins

Albuquerque, NM 87121

Re: CPC #018-14

Dear Ms. Collins:

The complaint you filed against Officer C. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on January 22, 2014 regarding an incident that occurred on January 21, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator and a private contract investigator were assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Tamara Collins alleged in her complaint that Officer C. had towed her wife's car even though it had registration and insurance. Ms. Collins alleged that her wife, Victoria Arias, also had a valid driver's license, which the officer kept. Tamara Collins alleged that the Officer C.'s demeanor changed towards her once he found out they were a same sex marriage couple. Ms. Collins asserted that Officer C. told her wife, Ms. Arias, to walk home.

Tamara Collins alleged that she was placed in the back of his patrol car in handcuffs behind her back and taken her to substation for an hour and left in handcuffs, as Officer C. made a couple of calls to his girlfriend. She asserted that after an hour there, Officer C. decided to take her to Prisoner Transport Center. She said that finally a female officer let her out of the handcuffs. She also asserted that he never read her the Miranda rights.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER C.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted on behalf of the CPOA, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, the Albuquerque Police Department Report in the case, the Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) Report, and interviews with Ms. Collins and Officer C..

- A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-48-2 regarding Officer C.'s conduct, which states:

Vehicles will be towed when (D1) (c) when the driver's license has been suspended or revoked as shown by the New Mexico Department of Motor Vehicle records.

Tamera Collins alleged that Officer C. towed her vehicle even though it was registered to her partner, after arresting Ms. Collins for driving on a suspended driver's license. Based on information provided by Officer C. in his report, the status of Ms. Collin's license was 66-8-122G. That means that her license was suspended or revoked and an arrest was mandatory. According to APD policy a vehicle "will be towed" (Mandatory) when the driver's license has been suspended or revoked by the New Mexico Department of Motor Vehicles.

After verification was made by Officer C. that Ms. Collin's driver's license status was suspended or revoked Officer C. chose to impound the vehicle as he was required to do. The towing and impound of the vehicle was proper and within policy.

With regards to the allegation that Officer C. made Ms. Collins's wife walk from the scene, the investigation found that Officer C. asked the woman if she needed a ride and the woman declined and stated that she would walk.

The CPOA found Officer C.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED, as the investigation determined by clear and convincing evidence the alleged misconduct did not occur.

- B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-4 N regarding Officer C.'s conduct which states:

Personnel will not act officiously or permit personal feelings, animosities, or friendship to influence their decisions.

Tamera Collins alleged that Officer C.'s demeanor had changed towards her and he had kept her hand cuffed for an excessive amount of time after he found out she was involved in a same sex marriage. Officer C. articulated in his interview that this fact had no effect over his attitude towards Tamera Collins during the arrest process. The evidence showed that Officer C. failed to record his interaction and conversation with Ms. Collins. There is no way to prove or disprove the allegation that Officer C.'s demeanor changed towards Ms. Collins when he found out that she was involved in a same sex marriage. Officer C. denied his demeanor changed. Ms. Collins said that it did. Without any independent evidence to prove or disprove the allegation the proper recommended finding is not sustained.

The CPOA found Officer C.'s, conduct to be NOT-SUSTAINED, as the investigation was unable to determine by a preponderance of the evidence whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-4 B regarding Officer C.'s conduct which states:

D)

Personnel shall not engage in any activity or personal business that may cause them to neglect or be inattentive to duty.

A review of the CADs report showed that from the time of arrest to time of arrival at the NE Substation was approximately 27 minutes; 19 of those 27 minutes were after Officer C. advised dispatch that he was transporting Ms. Collins to the NE Substation. The NE Substation is three miles away from where the arrest took place. The evidence showed that it took Officer C. 19 minutes to travel three miles. That evidence supports Ms. Collins's accusation that Officer C. stopped at a park, got out of his car, smoked a cigarette, and made personal telephone calls. Officer C. did that while Ms. Collins was handcuffed in the back of Officer C.'s car. Officer C. said that he did make one telephone call to his wife and advised he was running late, but stated that it only took him a minimal amount of time to do. Stopping at a park to smoke and make personal phone calls while transporting a prisoner is unusual activity for an officer and it is not allowed under Standard Operating Procedure.

The CPOA found Officer C.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED, as the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged misconduct did occur.

E) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-39-2 B regarding Officer C.'s conduct which states:

All sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a...traffic stop. Personnel will activate the recorder prior to ...citizen contact ...and will record the entirety of citizen contact.

A CPOA Investigator researched Evidence.com for Officer C.'s lapel videos made on the day of the incident. In this incident Officer C. made an arrest after a traffic stop and he was required to run lapel video throughout the stop. Since an arrest was made, he was required to tag that video as evidence. Based on the evidence, Officer C. failed to record the incident. The evidence showed that Officer C. uploaded six videos from that day. All have been since deleted and none were tagged as evidence. The recording times of the six videos are 12:14, 12:19, 13:08, 13:15, 13:31, and 14:25. This incident according to the CADS, started at 13:57 and ended at 14:06. Officer C. did not record the incident as was required.

The CPOA finds Officer C.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED VIOLATION NOT BASED ON ORIGINAL COMPLAINT, as the investigation determined that misconduct did occur that was not alleged in the original complaint but was discovered during the misconduct investigation.

Letter to Ms. Collins

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer C.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re: CPC # 019-15

Dear Mr. Themig:

The complaint you filed against Officer A. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on February 17, 2015, regarding an incident that occurred on February 6, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. Themig complained that on February 6, 2015, at about 10:15 a.m., he was in the left turn lane of southbound Ellison to turn onto NM 528, and Officer A. was in the right northbound lane of Ellison. Mr. Themig said that during his left turn onto NM 528, the left turn arrow changed from green to amber. Mr. Themig said he was still in the intersection when Officer A. hammered down on Officer A.'s accelerator as if trying to hit or scare Mr. Themig. Mr. Themig said he turned into the gas station at the intersection of Ellison and NM 528 to settle his nerves and get gas. Mr. Themig said Officer A. pulled into the gas station behind him with his emergency lights on. Officer A. then issued Mr. Themig a traffic citation for "failure to yield." Mr. Themig told Officer A. that the turn signal was green when he started to make the turn so Mr. Themig should not be cited for that infraction. Mr. Themig complained that Officer A. drove recklessly towards Mr. Themig's vehicle when it was inside the intersection, which scared Mr. Themig. Mr. Themig complained that Officer A. lied about not accelerating towards Mr. Themig's vehicle. Mr. Themig complained that Officer A. failed to control Officer A.'s emotions. Mr. Themig complained that this left turn signal was a "left turn trap."

II. INVESTIGATION BY INDEPENDENT REVIEW INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed Mr. Themig's complaint and viewed Officer A.'s lapel video of the incident in question.

The CPOA Investigator spoke with Mr. Themig in person on March 6, 2015. Mr. Themig explained that he spoke with Officer A.'s Supervisor, Sergeant H., on February 6, 2015, about the incident. Mr. Themig asked Sergeant H. to speak with Officer A. about driving into traffic and to tell Officer A. that his behavior was inappropriate. Sergeant H. assured Mr. Themig that he would speak to Officer A. The CPOA Investigator asked Mr. Themig if he wanted to proceed with a formal or informal investigation and explained the difference between the two to Mr. Themig. Mr. Themig agreed that he would be satisfied to have this complaint handled informally by Officer A.'s Supervisor, Sergeant H. The CPOA Investigator said that she would have Officer A.'s Supervisor contact Mr. Themig so that he could discuss his concerns directly with Sergeant H.

On March 8, 2015, the CPOA Investigator received notification from Officer A.'s Supervisor, Sergeant H., stating that he had contacted Mr. Themig and discussed his complaint with him. Sergeant H. said that he told Mr. Themig he counseled Officer A. regarding the incident. Mr. Themig indicated to Sergeant H. that he was satisfied with the way that he addressed the complaint.

On March 10, 2015, the CPOA Investigator contacted Mr. Themig and Mr. Themig indicated that he was satisfied with the outcome of his complaint.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

This complaint was handled informally in a manner satisfactorily to Mr. Themig. It was sent to Officer A.'s Supervisor for review and action. Officer A.'s Supervisor did discuss Mr. Themig's concerns with Officer A. Therefore, the CPOA will administratively close this complaint and no further investigation by our office will occur.

Dear Mr. Derringer:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on February 20, 2015, for an incident, which occurred on February 13, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. Derringer wrote Mr. Cordova, the West Mesa Community Center Manager, committed harassment, and verbal assault against him. Mr. Derringer wrote he delivered a legal document demanding public records to Mr. Cordova and members of his staff. Mr. Derringer claimed Mr. Cordova harassed him and verbally attacked him a second day. Mr. Derringer complained that he called police, but Officers Wharton and Maycumber spoke to Mr. Cordova first. Mr. Derringer believed the officers' actions intended to protect Mr. Cordova. Mr. Derringer wrote he requested a police report, but the officers refused. Mr. Derringer wrote he requested the officers' identification and man numbers, but the officers refused. Mr. Derringer wrote Officer W. lied when Officer W. said he had a document that showed Mr. Derringer agreed to scan his card each day. Mr. Derringer wrote no such document existed.

Letter to Mr. Derringer

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Mr. Derringer. Mr. Derringer said in his interview that he had no complaint about the officers from February 12, 2015. On February 13, 2015, Mr. Cordova rudely interrupted him and verbally attacked him as Mr. Cordova had the day before. Mr. Derringer stated the responding officers, Maycumber and Wharton, spoke to Mr. Cordova first and colluded to keep Mr. Cordova out of trouble. Mr. Derringer claimed Officer W. lied about having a waiver signed by him, claiming Mr. Derringer agreed to follow polices. Mr. Derringer stated he asked Officer W. to write a report and he refused. Mr. Derringer stated he asked both officers for their information, but he did not receive it. Mr. Derringer stated the officers did nothing when Mr. Cordova lied about his conduct in front of the officers.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER W.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Computer-Aided Dispatch Reports (CAD), community center documentation, officer lapel videos from February 12, 2015, Officer M.'s lapel video from February 13, 2015, Officer W.'s lapel video from February 13, 2015 and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Mr. Derringer, Officer W. and Officer M..

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure General Order 1-04-4N regarding Officer W.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel will not act officiously or permit personal feelings, animosities, or friendship to influence their decisions.

Mr. Derringer claimed officers exhibited a bias for Mr. Cordova. Mr. Derringer believed the officers worked with Mr. Cordova to keep Mr. Cordova from getting in trouble and may have called Mr. Cordova before even arriving. Mr. Derringer complained the officers spoke to Mr. Cordova first even though he called and seemed to know right where his office was. Mr. Derringer believed the officers created a plan of action to defend Mr. Cordova because he had filed criminal charges against Mr. Cordova the day before on harassment and extortion.

The CAD showed both parties called police. The lapel video showed when officers walked in the door; Mr. Cordova was at the front desk. Mr. Cordova guided the officers to his office and they spoke there first. The lapel video showed both parties were treated the same and there was no discussion about keeping Mr. Cordova out of trouble. The lapel video showed the officers had no familiarity with either party.

The CPOA finds Officer W.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-02-3A regarding Officer W.'s conduct, which states:

M006398

Letter to Mr. Derringer

Officers shall cordially furnish their name and employee number to any person requesting such information when they are on duty or while acting in an official capacity except (the exceptions did not apply in this case).

Mr. Derringer stated he asked for both officers' names and man numbers. Mr. Derringer did not remember what response he received, but he did not receive the information.

The lapel video showed Mr. Derringer never asked the officers for their names. The lapel video showed Officer W. did caution Mr. Cordova that as a city employee he should provide his information when requested.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer W. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

(C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-05-6D regarding Officer W.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel of the department will write reports on any incident that is of great importance where the officer is at the scene, at the scene of a crime, or any incident where a citizen/victim requests a report. The calling party will not be referred to the Telephone Reporting unit.

Mr. Derringer claimed he asked Officer W. to write a report, as opposed to just documentation, for harassment and extortion. Mr. Derringer stated Officer W. refused to fill out a report and suggested things could be worked out.

The lapel video showed Mr. Derringer did not discuss writing a police report with Officer W.. Mr. Derringer discussed documenting the call with Officer M., but Officer W. was not in the room.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer W. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur and did not involve the subject officer.

(D) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1F regarding Officer W.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Derringer claimed Officer W. claimed to have his signed form, but refused to provide it to him or show him. Mr. Derringer stated Officer W. lied about having his registration form in his possession and only provided a blank copy of the form. Mr. Derringer stated he did not need to scan his card every day. Mr. Derringer was upset the officers tried to convince him he had agreed to something when he had not. The officers blew off the whole situation when Mr. Cordova lied about what transpired and Mr. Derringer tried to point that out.

The lapel video showed Officer W. understood from Mr. Cordova that the form the center provided would have been the form Mr. Derringer signed in order to get his registration card. The lapel video showed Officer W. clearly explained the form he had was a blank and that staff would work to get Mr. Derringer his signed copy. The registration form Mr. Cordova indicated Mr. Derringer must have signed to get his membership card states that the person will abide by the rules and expectations of the community center. The signs posted in the community center state that adults must scan membership cards with each visit. The video showed Mr. Derringer complimented Officer W. for politely explaining things. The video showed Mr. Derringer complained Mr. Cordova lied and the officers said they were moving forward. Things ended on a positive note with the officers. Police were under the impression Mr. Derringer signed a release from staff and the fact that there was not a current release to provide to him was not the officers' fault.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer W. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER M.'S CONDUCT

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-4N regarding Officer M.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel will not act officiously or permit personal feelings, animosities, or friendship to influence their decisions.

Mr. Derringer claimed officers exhibited a bias for Mr. Cordova. Mr. Derringer believed the officers worked with Mr. Cordova to keep Mr. Cordova from getting in trouble and may have called Mr. Cordova before even arriving. Mr. Derringer complained the officers spoke to Mr. Cordova first even though he called and seemed to know right where his office was. Mr. Derringer believed the officers created a plan of action to defend Mr. Cordova because he had filed criminal charges against Mr. Cordova the day before on harassment and extortion.

The CAD showed both parties called police. The lapel video showed when officers walked in the door; Mr. Cordova was at the front desk. Mr. Cordova guided the officers to his office and they spoke there first. The lapel video showed both parties were treated the same and there was no discussion about keeping Mr. Cordova out of trouble. The lapel video showed the officers had no familiarity with either party.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer M. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

Mr. Derringer stated he asked for both officers' names and man numbers. Mr. Derringer did not remember what response he received, but he did not receive the information.

Personnel of the department will write reports on any incident that is of great importance where the officer is at the scene, at the scene of a crime, or any incident where a citizen/victim requests a report. The calling party will not be referred to the Telephone Reporting unit.

Mr. Derringer claimed he asked for a report to be written, as opposed to just documentation, for harassment and extortion. Mr. Derringer stated the officer refused to fill out a report and suggested things could be worked out.

The lapel video showed Mr. Derringer discussed documentation of the call with Officer M.. Mr. Derringer wanted the letter he wrote to be included as part of her document. Officer M. informed him that there was nothing to document as a police report, but she would add comments to the call. Mr. Derringer said he wanted a "callout report" and Officer M. offered to provide him the incident number. Mr. Derringer moved on to different topics and seemed satisfied with Officer M.'s response. Neither Officer M. nor Mr. Derringer remembered later about the CAD number so it was not given. The level of documentation Officer M. did was the same as what the officers had done the day before.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer M. was EXONERATED, which means the alleged misconduct did occur but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

M006401

(D) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1F regarding Officer M.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Derringer claimed Officer M. should have interjected when Officer W. claimed to have his signed form. Mr. Derringer was upset the officers tried to convince him he had agreed to something when he had not. The officers blew off the whole situation when Mr. Cordova lied about what transpired and Mr. Derringer tried to point that out.

The registration form Mr. Cordova indicated Mr. Derringer must have signed to get his membership card states that the person will abide by the rules and expectations of the community center. The signs posted in the community center state that adults must scan membership cards with each visit, which Officer M. pointed out when officers departed. The video showed Mr. Derringer complained Mr. Cordova lied and the officers said they were moving forward. Things ended on a positive note with the officers. Police were under the impression Mr. Derringer signed a release from staff and the fact that there was not a current release to provide to him was not the officers' fault.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer M. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Officer W.'s and Officer M.'s Internal Affairs personnel files.

You have the right to appeal this decision. [REDACTED]
Albuquerque, NM 87112

Dear Ms. Montoya:

The complaint you filed against Detective O. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on February 23, 2015 regarding an incident that occurred on December 11, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Sierra Montoya wrote in her complaint that near the end of 2014, her male friend's 6 year old daughter disclosed to Ms. Montoya that she was being sexually abused. Ms. Montoya reported the abuse to the girl's father and also reported the abuse to CYFD. Detective O. was assigned to investigate the case and Detective O. and Ms. Montoya had several phone conversations while the case was being investigated. Detective O. allegedly argued with Ms. Montoya about her relationship with the child's father. Detective O. also requested Ms. Montoya's personal information because the Detective O. had been "looking" Ms. Montoya "up". Ms. Montoya alleged that Detective O.'s demeanor towards her was very threatening and intimidating. In the ensuing six months since those conversations took place, Detective O. worked with the child's Guardian Ad Litem, Ms. Jane Levy. It was alleged by Ms. Montoya that based on some e-mails that Ms. Montoya had received, that Ms. Levy gained personal information on Ms. Montoya that was sealed when Ms. Montoya became an adult. Ms.

Montoya alleged that Ms. Levy obtained that information from Detective O. as Detective O. had access to the information from police data bases and Detective O. had been "looking" her "up". Specifically, Ms. Montoya alleged that Detective O. had accessed Ms. Montoya's juvenile mental health records. That information was used by Jane Levy in a custody case involving the child who had allegedly been abused.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING DETECTIVE O.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, the Albuquerque Police Department Report in the case, a review of two recorded phone conversations with Ms. Montoya, interviews with Ms. Montoya, Ms. Levy, and Detective O.. The CPOA Investigator also reviewed a series of e-mails sent between the Guardian Ad Litem and Ms. Montoya's attorney.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-1 (F) regarding Detective O.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Montoya alleged that she had several phone conversations with Detective O. while the case was being investigated. Detective O. allegedly argued with Ms. Montoya about her relationship with the child's father. Detective O. also requested Ms. Montoya's personal information because Detective O. had been "looking" Ms. Montoya "up". Ms. Montoya alleged that Detective O.'s demeanor towards during the phone conversations was very threatening and intimidating.

The investigation revealed that there were not several phone conversations as alleged. There were two phone calls. Both of those conversations were recorded by Detective O. and the recordings were reviewed by the CPOA Investigator and Ms. Montoya during Ms. Montoya's interview. Detective O. did not argue with Ms. Montoya about her relationship with the child's father as alleged. Ms. Montoya admitted that there was nothing in the recorded conversations that was threatening or intimidating. Ms. Montoya said that her frustration came from the fact that she was the one who reported the suspected abuse and that she herself ended up being investigated. Ms. Montoya felt that she should not have been investigated at all.

When a child who has disclosed sexual abuse is in the system, it is the standard procedure for everyone who is involved in the investigation of that case has certain responsibilities. Those responsibilities include that any placement of the child be done so that the child's safety and well-being are ensured. Part of that is looking into the background of everyone who is going to be in contact with the child. Because Ms. Montoya was the girlfriend of the child's father and she was around the child and part of the child's life, she was subject to investigation. Ms. Montoya was more than just a witness in this case. Furthermore, the investigation revealed that Ms. Montoya had made statements in a CYFD meeting about her own past that caused Detective O. and the child's Guardian Ad Litem concern about Ms. Montoya.

The CPOA find Detective O.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means that the investigation determined by clear and convincing evidence that the alleged misconduct did not occur.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-6 (H) regarding Detective O.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall treat the official business of the department as confidential. Information regarding official business shall be disseminated only to those for whom it is intended, in accordance with established department procedures.

It was alleged by Ms. Montoya that based on some e-mails that she had received, Ms. Jane Levy, the child's Guardian Ad Litem, had gained personal information on Ms. Montoya that was allegedly sealed when Ms. Montoya became an adult. Ms. Montoya alleged that Ms. Levy obtained that information from Detective O. as Detective O. had access to the information from police data bases and Detective O. had been "looking" Ms. Montoya "up". Specifically, Ms. Montoya alleged that Detective O. had accessed Ms. Montoya's juvenile mental health records. It was alleged by Ms. Montoya that information from her juvenile mental health records was used by Ms. Levy in a custody case involving the child who had allegedly been abused.

The investigation revealed that Ms. Montoya had never taken any steps to legally seal her juvenile records. The investigation also revealed that Detective O. had no access to any of Ms. Montoya's juvenile mental health records. Ms. Levy and Detective O. confirmed that they did have conversations about Ms. Montoya but that there were never any written records provided to Ms. Levy by Detective O.. The only record on Ms. Montoya that Detective O. was aware of was a police report that was made when Ms. Montoya had a Domestic Dispute with her mother. Detective O. and Ms. Levy confirmed that Detective O. told Ms. Levy about that incident but that no physical record was shared.

The investigation also revealed that there was a meeting with all parties involved at or with CYFD where Ms. Montoya either disclosed herself or made reference to the fact that she had been a victim of abuse in her past and that there may have been some suicidal ideation. It was Ms. Levy and not Detective O. who brought that up to Ms. Montoya's attorney. Ms. Levy stated in an e-mail to Ms. Montoya's attorney that she wanted to clarify that she needed the information based on information that she had received from CYFD and APD as well as Ms. Montoya's own statements during that meeting.

The investigation revealed that although Detective O. was concerned with Ms. Montoya's past that Detective O. never had access to any of Ms. Montoya's juvenile health records and that Detective O. never shared any APD records at all with Ms. Levy.

Letter to Ms. Montoya

Page 4

The CPOA find Detective O.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means that the investigation determined by clear and convincing evidence that the alleged misconduct did not occur.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Detective O.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Re:    CPC # 022-15

Dear Ms. Leyba:

The complaint you filed concerning the actions of a City of Albuquerque Parking Enforcement Officer was received in our office on February 24, 2015, regarding an incident that occurred on that same day. Your complaint was assigned to a Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator for review.

I. THE COMPLAINT

You complained that at about 11:00 a.m. on February 24, 2015, on Tijeras, between Spruce and Cedar, a female Parking Enforcement Officer was very rude and aggressive in her behavior towards you.

II. INVESTIGATION BY THE CIVILIAN POLICE OVERSIGHT INVESTIGATOR

The CPOA Investigator reviewed your complaint and researched the matter so that we could obtain more information about the incident. The Investigator was able to determine that the Parking Enforcement Officer does not work for the Albuquerque Police Department. The Parking Enforcement Officer works for the City of Albuquerque Parking Division. The CPOA has no jurisdiction to investigate the actions of any employee who does not work for the Albuquerque Police Department. The CPOA Investigator did forward your complaint to Mr. Mark Shepard, who is the Director of the Parking Division. The CPOA Investigator also e-mailed you regarding your complaint and the actions taken on it.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

Because we have no jurisdiction to investigate your complaint, the CPOA will be administratively closing your complaint. We hope that Mr. Shepard will be able to resolve the complaint to your satisfaction. Should you encounter a similar situation involving APD personnel in the future, or

Ms. Monica A. Trujillo

Albuquerque, NM 87102

Re: CPC #023-14

Dear Ms. Trujillo:

The complaint you filed against Officer Z., Officer S., Detective C., of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on January 29, 2014 regarding incidents that occurred on October 31, 2013. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Monica Trujillo stated in her complaint that on October 31, 2013, her dogs in the yard began to bark. She looked outside and saw officers, so she took her dogs inside. Monica wrote that then stepped outside, at which time the officers had their guns drawn and told her to go back inside. Monica saw her daughter-in-law, Teresa, outside with the children. Monica then assisted Teresa with the children. Monica took custody of the children, but was not allowed to initially take the diaper bag. After the diaper bag was searched, Monica was allowed to take possession of the bag. Monica saw that her son Nicholas was in a police unit, and that an officer informed her they were investigating an armed robbery, her son Nicholas was a suspect, and that he fled when police tried to initiate a stop. Monica noticed that the media was nearby, and that her neighbors were outside their homes. The officers noticed a pellet gun on the table, and Monica informed them that the gun was for keeping pigeons away. Monica alleged that the officers went in and out of Nicholas' room several times. An officer informed Monica that after speaking to Nicholas' boss and doing a preliminary investigation, they were going to release Teresa and Nicholas.

Letter to Ms. Trujillo

Monica alleged that the officers used excessive force, the search and seizure was illegal, the police damaged her property, there was lack of probable cause, the officers were guilty of child endangerment, and no one was identified as being in charge of the situation.

Teresa Trujillo's written statement attached to Ms. Trujillo's said that on October 31, 2013, at 3:30 p.m., her husband Nicholas called to say he was on his way home from work. Upon arriving at home, her husband went outside with one of their children. Teresa stated that then heard a noise and saw police outside with AR rifles pointed at her room, and saw her husband with his hands behind his head, and guns pointed at him. Teresa stated the police yelled at her to exit the residence, and she exited the residence with both children and their diaper bags. She alleged that the police told her to put the diaper bag on the ground. The children were taken by Monica, the mother-in-law. Teresa stated that she was patted down. The officer took her cell phone and lighter. Teresa alleged that a detective questioned her about financial matters, and asked her if she would be surprised if Nicholas had robbed a place on his way home. Teresa stated that she waited in a police car for what felt like half-an-hour, and was then transferred to two other police units. The police released her after 5:00 p.m. and Nicholas was released around 6:30. When the police left, they did not return Nicholas' handkerchief, scarf, and gloves.

Teresa alleged that the officers left her room in shambles, her privacy had been invaded, and the police could not search her home without a warrant.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER Z.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, the Albuquerque Police Department Reports in the case, The Computer Assisted Dispatch (CADS) Reports, lapel camera video, two cell phone videos, interviews with Ms. Monica Trujillo, Ms. Teresa Trujillo, Mr. Nicholas Trujillo, Officer Z., Officer S., Officer E., Officer W., Detective S., Detective C., and Officer F..

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-02-2 B 2 regarding Officer Z.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the Ordinances of the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce. Officers shall:

2. Make only those arrests, searches, and seizures which they know or should know are legal and in accordance with departmental procedures.

Letter to Ms. Trujillo

Ms. Monica Trujillo alleged that the officers used excessive force, the search and seizure was illegal, the police damaged her property, there was lack of probable cause, the officers were guilty of child endangerment, and no one was identified as being in charge of the situation. Teressa alleged that the officers left her room in shambles, her privacy had been invaded, and the police could not search her home without a warrant.

The Investigation showed that Ms. Monica Trujillo owns both her house and the converted shed that her son and Tessa Trujillo live in. The homes are located on the same property but Nicholas Trujillo and Teressa Trujillo rent the converted shed from Ms. Trujillo. Ms. Monica Trujillo later said that police didn't use any excessive force. She said that she was complaining about the overwhelming show of force, because so many officers went to her residence. Ms. Monica Trujillo also said that the property that was broken was a computer belonging to Teressa, located inside Teressa's home. Ms. Monica Trujillo also said that she never asked any officer who was in charge at the scene.

The Investigation revealed that Officer Z. was in fact one of the officers responsible for taking Nicholas Trujillo into custody. Officer Z. also participated in a protective sweep of Nicholas and Teressa Trujillo's home.

The facts known to the officers at the time were that two armed robberies occurred on that day in close proximity to one another. In each of the armed robberies, the offender was described as a 20-30 year old black male, wearing a blue long sleeved shirt and blue jeans. Officer E. was on patrol and saw a white Jeep Cherokee driving at a high rate of speed southbound on Broadway. The man driving the Jeep, later identified as Nicholas Trujillo, matched the description of the offender who had robbed the two stores. The vehicle stopped at a red light and Officer E. pulled up beside the car after he looked at the license plate. Officer E. looked at Nicholas Trujillo and Nicholas Trujillo appeared to be yelling something and he was hitting his steering wheel. Before the light changed to green, Nicholas Trujillo gunned the Cherokee and fled at a high rate of speed. Officer E. gave chase but Nicholas Trujillo evaded the officer and eventually Officer E. lost sight of the Jeep. The APD Helicopter located the Jeep Cherokee at [REDACTED] and that was what precipitated the series of events that led to this complaint.

The officers of the Albuquerque Police Department who participated in the activities at [REDACTED] [REDACTED] had probable cause to believe that Nicholas Trujillo was responsible for committing the armed robberies and that he had fled to [REDACTED], the Trujillo property. The response by the officers to a person who may have committed to violent armed robberies and who had just fled from the police was proper.

Officer Z. and Officer S. took part in taking Nicholas Trujillo into custody. They had probable cause to do so. Both officers saw Nicholas Trujillo come out of his rented home. The officers, not knowing if Nicholas Trujillo acted alone, and not knowing if there was anyone else in Nicholas and Teressa's home who could pose a threat to the officers, were justified in conducting a protective sweep of the home to ensure officer safety. The search was a quick limited search incident to the arrest of Nicholas Trujillo and the officers only searched areas capable of harboring a person. Both officers said that Nicholas and Teresa's home was cluttered and messy before they entered it. The officers did overturn the mattress in the home but only because the space beneath the mattress was capable of harboring a person.

The CPOA finds Officer Z's conduct to be EXONERATED, as the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate any APD policies, procedures, or training.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-02-1 regarding Officer Z.'s conduct, which states:

Department policy is to document damage to department or civilian property which occurs in the course of official duties.

Ms. Teresa Trujillo complained that her computer was knocked over during the search of her home and it was damaged. The officers acknowledged seeing a computer in the home and believed that the computer was on top of the mattress when the mattress was overturned. Neither officer noticed any obvious damage to the computer and if they had damaged it, they would have written a report to document the damage.

The CPOA finds Officer Z's conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED, as the investigation was unable to determine by a preponderance of the evidence whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER S.'S CONDUCT

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-02-2 B 2 regarding Officer Z.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the Ordinances of the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce. Officers shall:

Nicholas Trujillo and Teresa Trujillo rent the converted shed from Ms. Trujillo. Ms. Monica Trujillo later said that police didn't use any excessive force. Ms. Monica Trujillo also said that the property that was broken was a computer belonging to Teresa, located inside Teresa's home. Ms. Monica Trujillo also said that she never asked any officer who was in charge at the scene.

The Investigation revealed that Officer S. was in fact one of the officers responsible for taking Nicholas Trujillo into custody. Officer S. also participated in a protective sweep of Nicholas and Teresa Trujillo's home.

The facts known to the officers at the time were that two armed robberies occurred on that day in close proximity to one another. In each of the armed robberies, the offender was described as a 20-30 year old black male, wearing a blue long sleeved shirt and blue jeans. Officer E. was on patrol and saw a white Jeep Cherokee driving at a high rate of speed southbound on Broadway. The man driving the Jeep, later identified as Nicholas Trujillo, matched the description of the offender who had robbed the two stores. The vehicle stopped at a red light and Officer Elrick pulled up beside the car after he looked at the license plate. Officer E. looked at Nicholas Trujillo and Nicholas Trujillo appeared to be yelling something and he was hitting his steering wheel. Before the light changed to green, Nicholas Trujillo gunned the Cherokee and fled at a high rate of speed. Officer E. gave chase but Nicholas Trujillo evaded the officer and eventually Officer E. lost sight of the Jeep. The APD Helicopter located the Jeep Cherokee at 903 Arno and that was what precipitated the series of events that led to this complaint.

The officers of the Albuquerque Police Department who participated in the activities at 903 Arno had probable cause to believe that Nicholas Trujillo was responsible for committing the armed robberies and that he had fled to 903 Arno, the Trujillo property. The response by the officers to a person who may have committed to violent armed robberies and who had just fled from the police was proper.

Officer Z. and Officer S. took part in taking Nicholas Trujillo into custody. They had probable cause to do so. Both officers saw Nicholas Trujillo come out of his rented home. B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-02-1 regarding Officer S.'s conduct, which states:

Department policy is to document damage to department or civilian property which occurs in the course of official duties.

Ms. Teresa Trujillo complained that her computer was knocked over during the search of her home and it was damaged. The officers acknowledged seeing a computer in the home and believed that the computer was on top of the mattress when the mattress was overturned. A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-02-2 B 2 regarding Detective C.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the Ordinances of the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce. Officers shall:

2. Make only those arrests, searches, and seizures which they know or should know are legal and in accordance with departmental procedures.

Ms. Monica Trujillo alleged that Detective C. searched a diaper bag that was placed outside her home before he would turn the bag over to her.

The investigation revealed that when that happened, no gun had been located at the time. It was unknown to Detective C. if Nicholas Trujillo had access to the diaper bag before the officers arrived on scene. Detective C. looked through the bag to make sure that it did not contain any weapons. The search was no more extensive than what was necessary to ensure the safety of the officers and others.

The CPOA finds Detective C.'s conduct to be EXONERATED, as the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate any APD policies, procedures, or training.

Erik and Hanan Nordine

Albuquerque, NM 87110

Re: CPC #023-15

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Nordine:

The complaint you filed against Officer F. and Recruit Officer D. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on February 24, 2015, for an incident which occurred February 14, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the APD Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. and Mrs. Erik Nordine complained that on February 14, 2015, at approximately 11:20 PM, they were on the I-25N frontage road near Mountain Road when they came upon an Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Driving While Intoxicated (DWI)/sobriety roadblock. They said they were stopped and Mr. Nordine was questioned about drinking before he was asked to step out of his car. Mr. Nordine complained Officer F. shined a light in his left eye during the Horizontal Gaze Nystagmus (HGN) test and asked why he had problems on the test. Mr. Nordine told Officer F. it was due to the light being shone in his left eye. Mr. Nordine said he did the heel to toe test and Officer F. questioned why his ankles were shaky. Mr. Nordine complained he told Officer F. he sprained his ankle a week prior and Officer F. snapped back with "Every time I ask you a question, you give me excuses!" Mr. Nordine complained he was handcuffed, put in a patrol car and arrested before he was given a breath test. Mr. Nordine complained that after he blew a .02 on the breath test Officer F. threatened him with arrest. Mr. Nordine complained Officer F. was rude and intimidating to him and his wife and tried to escalate the situation. Mr. Nordine complained Officer F. attempted to sabotage the visual test when he shined a light in Mr. Nordine's eye. Mr. Nordine complained Officer F. was a danger to all motorists as he stated he had been awake for nearly four days. Mrs. Nordine complained Officer F. repeatedly told Mr. Nordine he was lying and should just admit he had been drinking. Mrs. Nordine complained she had to stand in the cold for nearly 1 hour and 40 minutes and Officer F. did not allow his father, who was on a ride-a-long, to loan her his jacket. Mrs. Nordine complained Officer F. would not answer her questions and told her she was argumentative and interfering with his job. Mr. and Mrs. Nordine complained Officer F. tried to escalate the situation, was arrogant, controlling, and aggressive and made them feel like criminals.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER F.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, and interviews with the Complainant, and Officer F..

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure General Order 1-4-1(F) regarding Officer F.'s conduct, which states:

F. Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

A review of the lapel video showed Officer F. shined his flashlight at the left side of Mr. Nordine's torso and not directly into Mr. Nordine's left eye. The lapel video showed Mr. Nordine performed the HGN and Officer F. told him to just track the pen and not look at anything in the background, to which Mr. Nordine replied the flashlight distracted him. Officer F. replied in a normal tone of voice with, "Its way down here man. Don't make excuses just follow it." The lapel video showed that prior to Mr. Nordine performing the walk and turn test, Recruit Officer (RO) D., Officer F.'s partner, asked him if he had any medical conditions which would prevent him from doing the test, to which Mr. Nordine responded he had a left ankle injury that may affect his ankle strength. Mr. Nordine completed the test and completed the one leg stand test. After the one leg stand test Officer F. asked Mr. Nordine, "What's up with your ankle, sir?" to which Mr. Nordine replied he sprained it approximately one week earlier. Officer F. asked if there were any other medical problems besides that and told Mr. Nordine to do cognitive tests (i.e. counting numbers, reciting parts of the alphabet and the finger touch test). The lapel video showed Officer F. did not "snap back" at Mr. Nordine regarding about making excuses.

The lapel video showed Mr. Nordine was placed in handcuffs after the Field Sobriety Tests were administered, when Officer F. suspected he was Driving While Intoxicated (DWI). Officer F. complied with APD Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) 3-11-1 (D) & (E) and 3-11-1 (G)(2)(d) which authorize APD Officers to place someone under arrest and in handcuffs if probable cause exists to believe the driver is driving while intoxicated, before utilizing the Preliminary Breath Testing (PBT), respectively.

M006418

Letter to Mr. and Mrs. Nordine

There was no lapel video to substantiate or refute Mr. Nordine's allegations that Officer F. threatened him with arrest after the breath test, or that Officer F. stated he had been awake for nearly four days.

A review of the lapel video showed Officer F. did not Mr. Nordine how much he had to drink that night and did not repeatedly tell Mr. Nordine he was lying and should just admit he had been drinking, as alleged in Mrs. Nordine's written complaint.

A review of the lapel video showed Officer F. was not in direct contact with Mrs. Nordine. During Mr. Nordine's interview he said the Officers told his wife he was placed in the police car because they needed him to sit for 20 minutes in the event any freshly consumed alcohol was on his breath. Mrs. Nordine's questions were not ignored as alleged in her written complaint.

A review of the lapel video showed Sergeant L. contacted Mrs. Nordine and gave her Mr. Nordine's jacket approximately 20 minutes into the contact. Mrs. Nordine was standing outside for the entire contact but was without a jacket for only 20 minutes and not 1 hour and 40 minutes as alleged in her written complaint.

A review of the lapel video captured and the interviews showed Officer F. acted professionally and was not rude, arrogant or aggressive towards Mr. or Mrs. Nordine as alleged in their written complaints. Because there was no lapel video showing Officer F.'s conduct after the breath test, the evidence is inconclusive regarding Officer F.'s conduct.

The CPOA finds Officer F.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED regarding the allegations of violations of this SOP, which means the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

B) The CPOA reviewed APD General Order 1-39-1 (A), and Department Special Order 12-26 regarding Officer F.'s conduct, which state:

1-39-1 USE OF TAPE/DIGITAL RECORDERS

[6] A. Personnel will use issued tape/digital recorders to document the incidents listed below.

It will be the responsibility of the primary officer to ensure that the incident will be recorded in its entirety. If at any time the primary and secondary officer(s) should become separated, it will be the responsibility of the secondary officer(s) to record all their contact and/or actions during that incident. In such incidents where the primary officer tags a recording and secondary officer(s) also have a recording: all recordings will be tagged into evidence. If the primary officer tags a complete recording or there is an outside source recording tagged into evidence and no secondary recording exist; this shall serve as meeting the requirements for this section.

DEPARTMENT SPECIAL ORDER 12-26

Effective immediately, all sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a dispatched call for service, arrest warrant, search warrant or traffic stop. The recordings will be saved for no less than 120 days. Personnel will refer to the instructional video on PowerDMS for storing instructions. Failure to record a contact under the listed specifications may result in discipline.

Officer F. failed record his entire contact with Mr. and Mrs. Nordine. Officer F. was working the DWI checkpoint alongside RO D.. Although RO D. was conducting the DWI investigation both Officers were in direct contact with Mr. Nordine during Field Sobriety Tests and the breath tests and both Officers were required to record their contact with Mr. and Mrs. Nordine in its entirety.

The CPOA finds Officer F.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged misconduct did occur.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING RECRUIT OFFICER D.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint and interviews with the Complainant, and Recruit Officer D..

A) The CPOA reviewed APD General Order 1-39-1 (A), and Department Special Order 12-26 regarding Recruit Officer D.'s conduct, which state:

1-39-1 USE OF TAPE/DIGITAL RECORDERS

[6] A. Personnel will use issued tape/digital recorders to document the incidents listed below.

Recruit Officer D. did not record his contact with Mr. and Mrs. Nordine in its entirety. Recruit Officer D. was required to record his contact with Mr. Nordine from the time he asked him to step out of his vehicle for Field Sobriety Tests to the time he released him.

The CPOA finds Recruit Officer D.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged misconduct did occur.

Christian Schlenker
[REDACTED]

Albuquerque, NM 87123

Re: CPC # 024-15

Dear Mr. Schlenker:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on February 25, 2015, for an incident which occurred on December 24, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Christian Schlenker's complains primarily about Officer E.'s actions during the investigation into the incident between him and his girlfriend, Nikkole Williams, on December 24, 2014. Mr. Schlenker wrote another officer participated in the inappropriate comments by Officer E, he believed to be Officer S.. Mr. Schlenker wrote that Officer E. was dispatched to Mr. Schlenker's apartment about a broken window. Officer E. also responded to a domestic violence call initiated by Ms. Williams. Mr. Schlenker wrote his girlfriend broke his window out of anger because she did not like the Christmas gift he purchased for her. Mr. Schlenker wrote he called police because he wanted his girlfriend to pay for the window. Mr. Schlenker wrote a statement for the police. While police were at his house, Ms. Williams called police too. Mr. Schlenker wrote that Officer E. and another officer went to his girlfriend's

M006422

Letter to Mr. Schlenker

apartment, which he could see from his apartment. Mr. Schlenker claimed he heard Officer E. and the other officer coddling Ms. Williams. Mr. Schlenker wrote as the officers left Ms. Williams' apartment the officers made several inappropriate comments. Mr. Schlenker wrote Officer E. and the other officer were "incompetent and out of line" after he read the police report. Mr. Schlenker disputed that he was deemed the primary aggressor even though it was Ms. Williams that was aggressive. Mr. Schlenker wrote he disagreed with assessments of his character in the report.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Mr. Schlenker. Mr. Schlenker restated the reason for the argument. Mr. Schlenker stated Officer E. did not ask him any questions other than what happened. Mr. Schlenker stated Officer E. did not do a proper investigation because he did not ask questions or collect evidence. Mr. Schlenker stated Officer E. seemed more interested in listening to Ms. Williams' side and did not take him too seriously. Mr. Schlenker complained that he could hear inappropriate statements coming from Officer E. and another officer at Ms. Williams' residence. Mr. Schlenker was upset about the contents of the report and believed Officer E. had a gender bias against him by believing his girlfriend. Mr. Schlenker stated he watched the videos via an inspection of public records request and did not think the incident was recorded in its entirety.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER E.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Computer-Aided Dispatch Report (CAD), Albuquerque Police Report, Officer E.'s lapel video, Officer J.'s lapel video, and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Mr. Schlenker, Officer E., Officer J. and Officer S..

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 2-24-3(F)(1-3) regarding Officer E.'s conduct, which states:

Steps to be followed in conducting preliminary investigations: 1. Observe all conditions, events, and remarks. 2. Locate, identify, and interview witnesses, victims, and suspect(s). 3. Protect the crime scene and the evidence. Ensure that necessary evidence is collected.

Mr. Schlenker claimed Officer E. was incompetent in his investigation. Mr. Schlenker claimed Officer E. did not ask him detailed follow-up questions. Mr. Schlenker claimed Officer E. interviewed Ms. Williams for about an hour so of course her statement had more detail. Officer E. held Mr. Schlenker's lack of detail against him. Mr. Schlenker claimed it should have been obvious Ms. Williams broke the window out of maliciousness and not a cry for help because she would have had to turn back towards him to do it. Mr. Schlenker also claimed Officer E. did not do his job because he did not have a female officer check Ms. Williams for a mark on her buttocks since she brought up being spanked. Mr. Schlenker believed that would have helped his case. In his interview, Mr. Schlenker responded to some

Letter to Mr. Schlenker

of the accusations Ms. Williams made that Officer E. documented in the police report. In the interview, Mr. Schlenker said he held Ms. Williams down and then later said the report was partially true because he and Ms. Williams had fallen to the ground so he wound up holding her. Mr. Schlenker stated the spanking occurred, but it was consensual. He agreed he held her mouth to prevent her from screaming in his ear, but did not hold her mouth tightly.

The officers' lapel videos showed Officer E. asked Mr. Schlenker what happened. Mr. Schlenker made a general statement that Ms. Williams tried to hit him and kicked out the window. Mr. Schlenker said he did not want to get Ms. Williams in trouble, but wanted compensation for the window. The videos showed the broken window was on the way to the stairwell exit. The video showed when Mr. Schlenker had a phone conversation with Ms. Williams' sister he made some denials. The phone was in his possession when she called. Once he was off the phone, he told Officer E. that Ms. Williams called police and was going to make a claim he put hands on her, but he denied it. Officer E. asked Mr. Schlenker again what happened. Mr. Schlenker said he held Ms. Williams and spun her down, but it was nothing. The video showed Ms. Williams provided specific allegations when Officer E. asked her what happened. Officer E. spent about nine minutes with Mr. Schlenker and only about four minutes with Ms. Williams getting the stories. Mr. Schlenker did not give Officer E. many details despite Officer E.'s question and did not give Officer J. any additional details while Officer J. remained as he filled out a statement. A lack of marks on Ms. Williams' body would not rule out that something happened and if there were a mark, it would not show intention.

The CPOA finds Officer E.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the alleged conduct did occur, but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer E.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Schlenker stated after the officers left he could hear inappropriate comments coming from Officer E. and another officer when they left Ms. Williams' apartment.

The video showed Officer E. went to Ms. Williams' apartment alone. The CAD showed Officer S. left and went back into service before Officer E. went to Ms. Williams' apartment. Officer J. remained with Mr. Schlenker and then returned Ms. Williams' phone to Officer E. in the parking lot. Mr. Schlenker stated he had no issue with Officer J., who was the only other officer on scene since Officer S. had left. The CPOA investigator and another individual went to the apartment complex and attempted to hear statements as Mr. Schlenker described. Only when one individual loudly shouted could anything be heard between the two locations Mr. Schlenker described.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer E. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

(C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-03-2(C) regarding Officer E.'s conduct, which states:

Department personnel will provide the same level of police service to every citizen regardless of their race, color, national origin or ancestry, citizenship status, language spoken, religion, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, disability or economic status.

Mr. Schlenker claimed there was a gender bias against him. Mr. Schlenker claimed Officer E. was more interested in listening to Ms. Williams' side of things and did not take Mr. Schlenker's side seriously. Mr. Schlenker stated the report showed bias because it accused him of being less truthful, which he found insulting.

The video showed Officer E. did not know Ms. Williams called police at first. The video showed Officer E. did not act dismissively or rush Mr. Schlenker. The video showed Officer E. treated each party about the same. Officer E. explained his reasoning for finding Ms. Williams more credible.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer E. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

(D) I, as Acting Executive Director, reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-39-2B regarding Officer E.'s conduct, which states:

All sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a dispatched call for service, arrest warrant, search warrant service or traffic stop. Personnel will activate the recorder prior to arriving at the call or prior to citizen contact on a non-dispatched citizen contact. Uniformed civilian personnel issued digital recorders will also comply with this section. The recordings will be saved for no less than 120 days.

Mr. Schlenker suspected the incident was not recorded in its entirety since he watched the videos from an inspection of public records request.

Officer E. recorded his contact with Mr. Schlenker in full. Officer E. recorded his initial contact with Ms. Williams in full. Officer E. did not record interaction of collecting Ms. Williams' statement and returning her phone. Officer E. claimed this was a very brief contact, but nonetheless it should have been recorded.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer E. was SUSTAINED, which means the alleged misconduct did occur.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER J.'S CONDUCT

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer J.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Schlenker stated after the officers left he could hear inappropriate comments coming from Officer E. and another officer when they left Ms. Williams' apartment.

Officer J. remained with Mr. Schlenker and then returned Ms. Williams' phone to Officer E. in the parking lot. Mr. Schlenker stated he had no issue with Officer J., who was the only other officer on scene since Officer S. had left. The investigator and another individual went to the physical locations and attempted to hear statements as Mr. Schlenker described. Only when one individual loudly shouted could anything be heard.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer J. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur or did not involve the subject officer.

IV. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER S.' CONDUCT

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer S.' conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Schlenker stated after the officers left he could hear inappropriate comments coming from Officer E. and another officer when they left Ms. Williams' apartment.

The video showed Officer S. left Mr. Schlenker's apartment when Officer J. retrieved a statement form for Mr. Schlenker. The video showed Officer E. went to Ms. Williams' apartment alone. The CAD showed Officer S. left and went back into service before Officer E. went to Ms. Williams' apartment. The investigator and another individual went to the physical locations and attempted to hear statements as Mr. Schlenker described. Only when one individual loudly shouted could anything be heard.

Dear Mrs. McCumber:

The complaint you filed against Officer W. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on February 25, 2015 for an incident which occurred between July 1, 2014 and January 16, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Police Officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Evangeline Martinez McCumber wrote that on June 3, 2014, Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officer W. entered into a lease agreement with Mrs. McCumber for a residence at ██████████. The lease agreement specifically prohibited Officer W. from having any pets in the home. A few months into the agreement, Mrs. McCumber started having problems with Officer W.. In particular, Officer W. refused to throw out empty cardboard boxes that he had left on the side of the house after the move even though Mrs. McCumber provided an extra recycle bin for him to do so. Mrs. McCumber eventually became aware that Officer W. had pets in the residence. Mrs. McCumber told Officer W. that if he had pets that he was not allowed to keep them and he would need to get rid of them. Officer W. never responded to Mrs. McCumber. Upon inspection it was determined that Officer W. had two dogs at the home and he was keeping a rabbit in the bedroom all in violation of the lease.

Letter to Mrs. McCumber

Mrs. McCumber issued a notice to vacate. Mrs. McCumber alleged that when she told Officer W. that an eviction would not look good especially if a future landlord was to contact her for a reference, Officer W. responded in a "snobby manner" that any landlord in the future would not be contacting her. Mrs. McCumber alleged that when Officer W. moved out he left the residence filthy and he also left two completed police reports behind in the trash. Mrs. McCumber stated that she understood that Officer W.'s intentional violation of his lease agreement is a civil matter but she believed it showed to the probationary officer's character. Furthermore, Mrs. McCumber felt that Officer W. failed to conduct himself in a professional manner while off duty and his conduct needs to be addressed. She closed her complaint by writing, "When he joined the APD he should have known he would be under a microscope in all aspects of his life and that whatever he did would be a reflection of the Department."

I. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER W.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Citizen Police Complaint, a review of text messages, a review of photos taken by Mrs. McCumber, an interview with Mrs. McCumber, an interview with Officer W., and an interview with Officer G., who was Officer W.'s roommate at the time.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer W.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mrs. Evangeline Martinez McCumber complained that Officer W. violated the terms of a lease agreement he had entered into with Mrs. McCumber for a residence at [REDACTED]. The lease agreement specifically prohibited Officer W. from having any pets in the home. A few months into the agreement, Mrs. McCumber started having problems with Officer W.. Mrs. McCumber eventually became aware that Officer W. had pets in the residence. Upon inspection, Mrs. McCumber found that Officer W. had two dogs at the home and he was keeping a rabbit in the bedroom all in violation of the lease. Mrs. McCumber issued a notice to vacate. Mrs. McCumber told Officer W. that an eviction on his rental record would not look good especially if a future landlord was to contact her for a reference. Officer W. allegedly responded in a "snobby manner" that any landlord in the future wouldn't be contacting her. When Officer W. moved out he left the residence filthy and he also left two completed police reports behind in the trash. Mrs. McCumber stated that she understood that Officer Wells' intentional violation of his lease agreement is a civil matter but she believed it showed to the probationary officer's character. Mrs. McCumber felt that Officer W. failed to conduct himself in a professional manner while off duty and his conduct needs to be addressed.

Mrs. McCumber was interviewed and she repeated what was in her written complaint. Officer W. was interviewed and he admitted to violating the terms of his lease agreement.

M006430

Letter to Mrs. McCumber

Officer W. did get two dogs and a rabbit and he was keeping them at the home in violation of the lease agreement. Officer G., Officer W.'s roommate at the time, was also interviewed and he said that Officer W. intentionally violated the terms of the lease agreement. Photographic evidence proved that there were completed police reports left behind in the trash when Officer W. vacated the residence. While the copies of the text messages submitted by Mrs. McCumber do show conversation, it is impossible to tell from a text message what the tone or intention of the message was. Copies of the text messages submitted by Mrs. McCumber in and of themselves do not indicate that Officer W. was "snobby" as alleged.

The evidence referenced above showed that Officer W. did intentionally violate the terms of the lease agreement he had with Mrs. McCumber. As a police officer, Officer W. is subjected to more scrutiny than a civilian. The Albuquerque Police Department requires that an officer conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department. Officer W. did not display proper conduct in this situation. He should have complied with the terms of the lease agreement and he should have behaved professionally with regards to getting rid of the animals rather than ignoring Mrs. McCumber's requests and forcing an eviction.

The CPOA finds with regards to the allegation made by Mrs. McCumber about Officer W.'s conduct that the allegation was SUSTAINED, which means that the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged misconduct did occur.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer W.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re: CPC #026-15

Dear Ms. Gonzales:

The complaint you filed against Officer M. and Officer C. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on February 26, 2015 regarding an incident that occurred on February 25, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Gonzales complained that on February 25, 2015, at approximately 5:00 pm, she called APD to the Children, Youth and Families Department (CYFD) to address a 17 year-old juvenile female who was verbally and physically aggressive towards her and fellow staff members. Ms. Gonzales alleged that it took Officers M. and C. nearly two hours to arrive. Ms. Gonzales complained she asked Officers M. and C. to take the juvenile female into custody for violating the conditions of her probation and Officers M. and C. said they could not because they did not witness the incident. Ms. Gonzales complained this interaction was one of the worst experiences with APD because she waited nearly two hours to be told there was nothing the officers could do to help despite the fact that the juvenile posed a risk to her and other CYFD staff members.

II. INVESTIGATION BY CPOA INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed your complaint, the lapel video and interviews. The lapel video showed Officer M. and Officer C. were professional and respectful towards Ms. Gonzales and her coworkers and explained why there was an extended delay in responding to her call for service. The interviews revealed that prior to the Officer's arrival, Ms. Gonzales contacted Juvenile Probation and Parole and was told nothing could be done until the next morning. Additionally, the Officers also contacted Juvenile Probation and Parole and were told that since they did not witness the incident nothing could be done until the next morning. The lapel video and interviews showed Officer M. and Officer C. did not violate any Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs).

The CPOA Investigator contacted you on May 20, 2015 and spoke with you about why the officers were not authorized to take the juvenile into custody and provide you the assistance requested. You told the CPOA Investigator that you were satisfied with the explanation and our investigation into the matter and that no further investigation would be necessary into the incident.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

The investigation conducted determined that there was no evidence of misconduct by Officer M. and Officer C.. Officer M. and Officer C. did not violate any APD SOPs. Therefore, the CPOA will administratively close your complaint and no further investigation will occur.

Your complaint and a copy of this letter will be placed in the two Officers' Internal Affairs records.

Re: CPC # 027-15

Dear Ms. Butters:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on February 27, 2015, for an incident, which occurred on February 4, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Butters wrote she called Sergeant P. about the interview she just experienced with Detective R. and Detective M. (See CPCs 28-15 and 29-15). Ms. Butters complained to Sergeant P. that the detectives treated her as a suspect instead of a victim, and did not investigate her allegations. Ms. Butters alleged that she informed Sergeant P. she had physical evidence the detectives refused to consider. Ms. Butters alleged that Sergeant P. told her it was the detectives' discretion. Ms. Butters alleged that Sergeant P. was condescending, demeaning and refused to provide information asked for each time she spoke to Sergeant P.. Ms. Butters alleged that Sergeant P. accused her of being impolite and hung up on her when Ms. Butters informed Sergeant P. she provided incorrect information.

Letter to Ms. Butters

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Butters. Ms. Butters stated she originally tried to contact Sergeant P. to be interviewed, but was ignored. Ms. Butters stated in her interview that Sergeant P. did not provide her with a straightforward answer about the complaint process. Ms. Butters stated Sergeant P. had nothing but praises for the detectives, which was not helpful. Ms. Butters stated in subsequent conversations with Sergeant P. that it was obvious Sergeant P. was frustrated. Ms. Butters complained Sergeant P. was very demeaning when Sergeant P. told her to do as she "instructed." Ms. Butters stated Sergeant P. was deliberately frustrating her by giving her incorrect information. Ms. Butters stated Sergeant P. hung up on her and subjected her to disrespectful treatment.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING SERGEANT P.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Sergeant P.'s audio recordings, and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Ms. Butters and Sergeant P.. Additional interviews were conducted with Detective R. and Detective M. for the respective complaints Ms. Butters filed about them in CPC 028-15 and 029-15.

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Administrative Order 3-43-3G2 regarding Sergeant P.'s conduct, which states:

The individual receiving a verbal complaint or conducting a follow-up regarding a complaint must notify a citizen of his right to make a written complaint and explain the process for making a written complaint.

Ms. Butters said Sergeant P. would not give her information on the complaint process.

Sergeant P. recorded her phone conversations with Ms. Butters. The recording showed Sergeant P. tried to get more information about Ms. Butters' complaint as SOP 3-43-3G1,4 and 5 dictate for supervisors to do. Sergeant P. did give Ms. Butters the option to file a formal complaint through Internal Affairs and explained the process. Ms. Butters explained what her complaint was with Detective R. only at the time.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Sergeant P. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1F regarding Sergeant P.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Butters said she had been trying to reach Sergeant P. for months for an interview, but was ignored. Ms. Butters said Sergeant P. gave her incorrect information about Evidence. Ms.

M006435

Butters complained that Sergeant P. used a condescending tone and told her to do as "she instructed," which was inappropriate as she was not Sergeant P.'s employee. Ms. Butters claimed Sergeant P. implied she lied. Ms. Butters stated Sergeant P. accused her of being impolite and hung up on her.

Ms. Butters was inconsistent about if she had conversations with Sergeant P. prior to her interview. Ms. Butters stated Sergeant P. ignored her, but Ms. Butters also referred to conversations she said she had with Sergeant P. prior to her interview. Sergeant P. stated she never received a call from Ms. Butters until after the interview. The recordings showed Sergeant P. never implied she lied. In the recorded calls, Sergeant P. consistently gave the correct phone number for Evidence. In the recorded calls, Ms. Butters asked for the address to Evidence and when Sergeant P. gave her the information as well as directions, Ms. Butters became very impatient and annoyed. The recording showed Sergeant P. did become stern with Ms. Butters over Ms. Butters' tone of voice. The recording showed Ms. Butters became offended when Sergeant P. used the words "as instructed." From the recorded conversations, it was clear Sergeant P.'s intentions were to assist Ms. Butters, but Ms. Butters generally wanted to be argumentative with Sergeant P.. In reviewing the totality of the circumstances, Sergeant P.'s conduct did not violate policy.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Sergeant P. was EXONERATED, which means the alleged misconduct did occur, but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Sergeant P.'s Internal Affairs personnel file.

You have the right to appeal this decision. Section 9-4-1-9(A) of the Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Additional interviews were conducted with Detective M. and Sergeant P. for the respective complaints Ms. Butters filed about them in CPC 029-15 and 027-15.

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Detective R.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Butters alleged Detective R. treated her as a suspect instead of a victim. Ms. Butters alleged that Detective R. screamed at her during the interview and accused her of committing a crime. Ms. Butters stated she was shocked by Detective R.'s discussion of other peoples' sexual preferences. Ms. Butters alleged that Detective R. accused her of being mean. Ms. Butters alleged that Detective R. smirked and seemed to take pleasure in discrediting her. Ms. Butters complained Detective R. accused her of lying. Ms. Butters stated Detective R. offered unwanted opinions about her life and her case. Ms. Butters alleged that Detective R. never apologized for any of her behavior.

The recorded interview showed Detective R. never screamed at Ms. Butters. The recorded interview showed Detective R. did not continually interrupt Ms. Butters. At times, Detective R. and Ms. Butters spoke over each other. The recorded interview showed at times that Ms. Butters ignored answering Detective R.'s questions. The recorded interview showed Detective R. allowed Ms. Butters to provide her side, but then Detective R. questioned her about the emails and texts. The recorded interview showed Ms. Butters was extremely intolerant of Detective M.'s mistake about the timeline and Detective R. reacted to Ms.

Butters' behavior. The recorded interview showed Detective R. was being frank with Ms. Butters about how her messages appeared. Ms. Butters said nothing about Detective R.'s facial expressions during the interview. The interview recording showed some of the statements Ms. Butters alleged were not said or the context was different. Detective R. agreed and the recording showed that Ms. Butters fit into the category of a victim and a potential suspect based on the evidence the detectives had. The interview recording showed Detective R. apologized to Ms. Butters especially at the end over a misunderstanding of the emails. Unlike the complaint against Detective M. more of what Ms. Butters said occurred with Detective R. did occur, but it did not go so far as to violate policy.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Detective R. was EXONERATED, which means the alleged misconduct did occur, but did not violate APD policies, procedures or training.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-03-2(C) regarding Detective R.'s conduct, which states:

Department personnel will provide the same level of police service to every citizen regardless of their race, color, national origin or ancestry, citizenship status, language spoken, religion, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, disability or economic status.

Ms. Butters claimed Detective R. treated her in the inappropriate and harassing manner she did because Detective R. was biased against her. She felt Detective R. was biased against her because of her disability. Ms. Butters claimed Detective R. defended her attacker, ignored his criminal past, and ignored his threats to her in an email and voicemail.

The recording showed the specific issue of her disability was not a significant portion of the interview. The recording showed Ms. Butters was the first to bring up the subject and offered it as a contributory reason for why she had an interpersonal relationship with the other party. The recording showed Detective M. simply asked what her disability was, which in this situation was relevant since Ms. Butters brought it up. Both Ms. Butters and the other party provided several emails and text messages to Detective M. that Detective R. reviewed. The messages between them both had veiled threats, but there was no specific mention of physical harm. The playing of a voicemail was not on the recorded interview. The recorded interview showed Ms. Butters became indignant and asked if Detective M. looked into the other party's past police reports when Detective M. asked her to be specific about the other party's behaviors with her. Detective R. echoed they needed specifics between Ms. Butters and the other party, not generalities. The recording showed Detective R. did not defend the other party.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Detective R. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

Re: CPC # 029-15

Dear Ms. Butters:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on March 3, 2015, for an incident, which occurred on February 4, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Natalie Butters wrote at the time she initially reported the rape she was unable to give a statement. According to Ms. Butters, unbeknownst to her, Detective M. contacted her attacker and received his statement. Ms. Butters alleged that when she was ready to give a statement, Detective M. ignored her. Ms. Butters alleged Detective M. accepted everything her attacker said as fact. Ms. Butters alleged Detective M. implied Ms. Butters was lying and Detective M. did not need to investigate. Ms. Butters alleged Detective M. treated her like a suspect. Ms. Butters alleged Detective M. refused to collect physical evidence she offered. Ms. Butters wrote Detective M. focused on unflattering emails Ms. Butters sent and was dismissive of Ms. Butters. Ms. Butters alleged Detective M. made a mistake in understanding the timeline, but instead of apologizing Detective M. became angry and said she was going to end the interview.

M006442

Letter to Ms. Butters

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Butters. Ms. Butters stated in her interview she tried to contact Detective M. for an interview for months, but Detective M. ignored her. Ms. Butters stated in her interview that it was obvious from the start Detective M. believed her attacker's version as fact. Ms. Butters stated Detective M. nonchalantly talked about a sensitive subject and could not believe Detective M.'s attitude. Ms. Butters stated Detective M. asked her the specifics of her disability and that was inappropriate. Ms. Butters stated Detective M. treated her as a suspect. Ms. Butters stated Detective M. ignored the threats made to her by her attacker. Ms. Butters stated Detective M. referenced emails from her attacker, but did not provide them to Ms. Butters for reference. Ms. Butters stated Detective M. should not have chastised her for sending insulting emails. Ms. Butters stated Detective M. disregarded the physical evidence Ms. Butters tried to provide because according to her attacker the sex was consensual. Ms. Butters repeated that when she corrected Detective M. on dates Detective M. became angry and tried to end the interview. Ms. Butters stated Detective M. was biased against her.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING DETECTIVE M.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Albuquerque Police Report, emails provided as evidence, phone logs, Detective M.'s audio recordings, Officer S.' lapel recording, and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Ms. Butters and Detective M.. Additional interviews were conducted with Detective R. and Sergeant P. for the respective complaints Ms. Butters filed about them in CPC 028-15 and 027-15.

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1F regarding Detective M.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Butters alleged she called Detective M. several times, but Detective M. ignored her. When Detective M. finally interviewed her, Detective M. treated her as a suspect instead of a victim. Detective M. screamed at her during the interview and accused her of committing a crime. Ms. Butters stated Detective M. chastised her for sending nasty emails, which was her right to do. Ms. Butters was also shocked by Detective M.'s nonchalant attitude while discussing sensitive topics. Ms. Butters alleged Detective M. became angry when Ms. Butters pointed out her mistake and said the interview was "over" instead of just apologizing.

Ms. Butters provided phone records showing when she called the APD Sex Crimes Unit. A recording showed Detective M. provided Ms. Butters her phone number during their conversation on November 20, 2014, but Ms. Butters did not show in her records she attempted to call that number. A couple of the calls in December were late at night when no one would be available. The recorded interview showed Detective M. never screamed at Ms. Butters.

The recorded interview showed Detective M. spoke in an even-toned manner throughout the interview. The recorded interview showed Detective M. allowed Ms. Butters to provide her side, but then Detective M. questioned Ms. Butters about the emails and texts. The recorded interview showed Ms. Butters was extremely intolerant of Detective M.'s mistake about the timeline. The recording showed Detective M. acknowledged her mistake. The recorded interview showed Detective M. suggested they end the interview, as they were not there to battle with her. The recorded interview showed Detective M. was being frank with Ms. Butters about how her messages appeared. Detective M. did not shout that the interview was over. Detective M. agreed and the recording showed that Ms. Butters fit into the category of a victim and a potential suspect based on the evidence the detectives had. The interview recording showed some of the statements Ms. Butters alleged were not said or the context was different.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Detective M. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedural Order 2-24-4F8 regarding Detective M.'s conduct, which states:

Steps to be followed in conducting follow up investigations 8. Collect physical evidence.

Ms. Butters informed Detective M. she had physical evidence to provide, but did not have an opportunity to explain its full relevance. Ms. Butters stated Detective M. refused to collect her evidence. Ms. Butters believed Detective M. should have shared the emails that the other party provided so she could adequately respond to them because she believed her email account was hacked by the other party.

Detective M. told Ms. Butters over the phone in November 20, 2014 she would collect whatever evidence was necessary, but did not go into any explanation of problems with the evidence Ms. Butters was trying to submit. It is unknown if the problems with the evidence were explained later to Ms. Butters as Detective M. said she did. Detective M. explained the evidence would not be tested due to chain of custody issues, improper storage and that the DNA presence would not establish coercion. It would not be proper investigative procedure to share evidence with Ms. Butters such as the emails from the other party without first obtaining a statement.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Detective M. was EXONERATED, which means the alleged misconduct did occur, but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

Department personnel will provide the same level of police service to every citizen regardless of their race, color, national origin or ancestry, citizenship status, language spoken, religion, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, disability or economic status.

Ms. Butters claimed Detective M. treated her in the inappropriate and harassing manner she did because she was biased against her. She felt Detective M. was biased against her because of her disability. Detective M. inappropriately asked her for specifics about her disability during the interview. Ms. Butters claimed Detective M. defended her attacker, ignored his criminal past, and ignored his threats to her in an email and voicemail.

The recording showed the specific issue of her disability was not a significant portion of the interview. The recording showed Ms. Butters was the first to bring up the subject and offered it as a contributory reason for why she had an interpersonal relationship with the other party. Dear Ms. Baca:

The complaint you filed against Officer L. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on March 3, 2015 regarding an incident that occurred on February 10, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Baca complained that on February 10, 2015, at approximately 7:33 PM, Officer L. responded to her home regarding a disturbance with her neighbor, which has persisted for approximately six years. Ms. Baca complained Officer L. gave her a hard time about her neighbor and was mean to Ms. Baca. Ms. Baca has a long history of on-going concerns with her neighbor and of calling APD to respond. Ms. Baca is assigned to detective in the Crisis Intervention Team to assist Ms. Baca with her concerns with her neighbor and the police.

II. INVESTIGATION BY INDEPENDENT REVIEW INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed Ms. Baca's complaint and reviewed Officer L.'s lapel video. The lapel video showed Officer L. was professional and respectful towards Ms. Baca. A review of the Officer L.'s video showed that Officer L. complied with all applicable APD Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs).

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

The investigation conducted determined Officer L. did not violate any APD SOPs and there was no evidence of misconduct by Officer L. Because there were no violations of SOPs, the CPOA will administratively close this complaint and no further investigation will occur.

Your complaint, the investigative file, and this letter will be placed in Officer L.'s Internal Affairs file.

Dear Ms. Peters:

The complaint you filed against Police Service Aide (PSA) M. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on March 10, 2015, regarding an incident that occurred on January 5, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Peters complained that on January 5, 2015, at about 3:30 p.m., she was involved in a traffic accident at Zuni between Dallas and Pennsylvania. Ms. Peters moved over to yield to a fire engine with its emergency equipment going. This caused her to hit a vehicle in the right lane.

Ms. Peters wrote that PSA M. did not give her an opportunity to explain her side of events. Ms. Peters wrote that the insurance companies have been unable to contact the other driver, so the company decided it would not pay anything at this time. Ms. Peters wrote that PSA M. did not provide the other driver's information to her. Ms. Peters wrote that when she received the police report, there was inaccurate information.

II. INVESTIGATION BY INDEPENDENT REVIEW INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed Ms. Peters' complaint and researched the matter by obtaining the Computer-Aided Dispatch (CAD) report for the accident on the day and time in question. The CPOA Investigator reviewed the police report which Ms. Peters included in her complaint.

The CPOA Investigator spoke with Ms. Peters on the phone on March 26, 2015. Ms. Peters had expressed interest in mediation on her written complaint. The CPOA Investigator spoke to her about mediation. Ms. Peters expressed that she wished to participate in formal mediation. The CPOA Investigator contacted PSA M. who also agreed to participate in formal mediation. The CPOA Investigator contacted the Alternative Dispute Resolution

Dear Ms. Steinhauser:

The complaint you filed concerning the actions of a man who identified himself as a police officer was received in our office on March 14, 2015, regarding an incident that occurred on March 13, 2015. Your complaint was assigned to a Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator for investigation on March 16, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Steinhauser wrote that she was at a park near Ouray and Unser with her schnauzer dog on March 13, 2015, and she had a confrontation with a man who had three larger dogs with him. The man's dogs were all off-leash. When Ms. Steinhauser confronted the man and told him that there was a law that required his dogs to be leashed, the man started yelling profanities at her. The man told Ms. Steinhauser that he was "a cop." The man raised his shirt and said, "I don't have my badge with me." The man, who continued yelling profanities at Ms. Steinhauser, identified himself as Alex or Alec Esquivel or Esquibel. The man indicated that he lived in the area but the man would not give any other information to Ms. Steinhauser.

Ms. Steinhauser did not know if the man was a real police officer, but she wrote that she felt the man broke the law and verbally threatened her.

II. INVESTIGATION BY THE CIVILIAN POLICE OVERSIGHT INVESTIGATOR

The CPOA Investigator reviewed your complaint and researched the matter so that we could obtain more information about the incident. The Investigator reviewed the Albuquerque Police Department Personnel Roster and determined that there are no APD officers or civilian personnel named Alex or Alec Esquibel or Esquivel. The Investigator also checked with the Personnel Division of APD and confirmed that no one named Alex or Alec Esquibel or Esquivel worked for APD. There is a Civilian Field Evidence Technician who lives near the park where your encounter took place, but that person is a female with a different last name. On April 14, 2015, the Investigator spoke with you concerning your complaint and the Investigator told you that there was no one by that name working for APD. The Investigator also told you that he was not able to determine who the person was with whom you had a conflict. You told the Investigator that you suspected that the man may not have been a police officer as the man had indicated, but that you had filed the complaint for follow up in case he was. The Investigator informed you that without more information, it would be nearly impossible to identify the man who threatened you. The investigator told you that the case would be administratively closed, but that if more information became available as to whom the man was or if in fact he was an APD Officer, that the complaint could be reopened.

M006451

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

The CPOA will be administratively closing your complaint. There can be no further investigation because there is no way to tell from the information provided whether or not the man was an Albuquerque Police Officer or someone who was just claiming to be a police officer. Should you encounter a similar situation in the future, or wish to report observed misconduct by APD personnel, please do not hesitate to file a complaint with the Agency.

If you have a computer available, we would greatly appreciate you completing our client survey form at <http://www.cabq.gov/iro/survey> .

Tadeusz Niemyjski
[REDACTED]
Albuquerque, NM 87102

Re: CPC #35-14

Dear Mr. Niemyjski:

The complaint you filed against Civilian Employee C. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on February 20, 2014, for an incident which occurred on December 19 or 20, 2013. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your complaint. The Administrative Review Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the employee involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Since employees are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, Sections 9-4-1-13 and 9-4-1-14 of the Police Oversight Ordinance mandate that their statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, my findings, and any discipline imposed.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Tadeusz Niemyjski complained that on December 19 or 20, 2013, at about 3:00 p.m., he was using the phone in the public records area of the police department when the records manager, Employee C., walked by, picked up a seating bench, and dropped it loudly back onto the floor. Mr. Niemyjski felt this action was intended to harass or intimidate him.

Mr. Niemyjski reported in his interview that he was at the police department on the day in question in order to obtain a permit to protest in the streets. He was directed to call another department in the city by security at the police department, so he entered the records division in order to use the phone. When he entered the area, Mr. Niemyjski indicated that he saw another records division employee, Employee G., assisting a citizen. Mr. Niemyjski stated that at that time he saw Employee C. pacing behind the glass that separates employees from citizens.

Letter to Mr. Niemyjski

Mr. Niemyjski reported that his attention was on the phone call he was making, but at some point noticed that he was the only person in the lobby. He heard a bench two to three feet away from him move and saw the side of that bench closest to him turn. The next thing he heard was a loud bang. When he looked at the other end of the six foot long bench, Mr. Niemyjski saw Employee C. walking back into the employee area while looking over his shoulder at Mr. Niemyjski. Mr. Niemyjski believed that the bench was dropped to make him feel uncomfortable in the records division at APD. Mr. Niemyjski also stated that he did not see Employee C. drop the bench.

Employee G. was interviewed by CPOA staff. Employee C. was Employee G.'s manager at the time of the incident. Employee G. stated that she did not recall the interaction in question. She believed she would have remembered hearing and or seeing a bench being dropped loudly. Employee G. does not recall any interaction between Mr. Niemyjski and Employee C. on the day in question or on any other occasion. She does recall interacting with Mr. Niemyjski on numerous occasions. Mr. Niemyjski indicated in his interview that he believed Employee G. has tried to help on multiple occasions and that she has been professional in her dealings with him.

Employee C. was interviewed by CPOA staff. Employee C. stated that he did not recall the interaction in question. Employee C. does not recall any interaction between Mr. Niemyjski and himself on the day in question or on any other occasion. Employee C. denied ever dropping a seating bench in the citizen area of the records division.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING EMPLOYEE E.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, and interviews with Mr. Niemyjski, Employee G., and Employee C.

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Employee C.' conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the Department.

Mr. Niemyjski complained that Employee C. conducted himself unprofessionally by dropping the bench in order to make him feel uncomfortable in the records department. Employee C. denied every dropping a bench and denies ever interacting with Mr. Niemyjski. Employee C. indicated that he had employees to interact with the public and very rarely dealt directly with the public in his time as head of the records department at APD. The only other employee mentioned by Mr. Niemyjski in his complaint is Employee G., who stated she did not see or hear a bench being dropped. Mr. Niemyjski did not see Employee C. drop the bench. There is no independent evidence such as video or an independent witness which could prove or disprove Mr. Niemyjski's allegation.

I find the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Employee C. was NOT SUSTAINED, which means there is insufficient evidence to prove or disprove the allegation.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Employee C.'s Internal Affairs personnel file.

You have the right to appeal this decision. Section 9-4-1-9(A) of the Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

If you have a computer available, we would greatly appreciate your completing our client survey form at <http://www.cabq.gov/iro/survey> .

Dear Mr. Patrone:

The complaint you filed against Officer B. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on March 15, 2015, for an incident which occurred October 22, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the APD Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. Patrone complained that on October 22, 2014, he was evicted from the Talin Market, 88 Louisiana Blvd. SE because he refused to turn his computer and carrying case over to the Security Guard before he entered the market to shop. Mr. Patrone complained that the Security Guard ordered him to leave and forcibly grabbed his arm, escorted him outside and then slammed him on the ground. Mr. Patrone said he received a bruise and a cut on his arm from the Security Guard's tight grip and fingernail. Mr. Patrone said he also received bruises on his shoulder and elbow as a result of being taken to the ground. Mr. Patrone said the Security Guard proceeded to kneel on his head as he handcuffed Mr. Patrone. Mr. Patrone complained he went to the APD Southeast Substation on October 29, 2014 to file a police report regarding the incident and was told to contact Officer G., who was the responding officer.

Mr. Patrone complained he left two messages at the Southeast substation for Officer B. to call him but Officer B. never called him back. One message was left on October 30, 2014 and the other on November 3, 2014. Mr. Patrone said between November 7, 2014 and January 15, 2015, he contacted the following individuals and organizations via email or telephone in an attempt to file a complaint against Marcos Sanchez, the Talin Market Security Guard: the Mayor of Albuquerque, the District Attorney, 242-COPS, Bernalillo Metropolitan Court, Deputy Police Chief William Roseman, and APD Sergeant Zachary Wesley and he was not able to file a complaint and "get his day in court." Mr. Patrone complained he was a victim who was unable to file a complaint and no one has been able to offer him a solution.

Mr. Patrone was interviewed and repeated what was in his original complaint. He added that he did not tell Officer B. about his injuries and did not ask Officer B. to accept charges against the Security Guard. He said several days after the incident he decided to press charges against the Security Guard. He also said Officer B.'s behavior the day of the incident was perfect. He said Officer B. addressed his concerns that day and was respectable with his demeanor and procedures.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER B.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, and interviews with the Complainant and Officer B..

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-02-2 (B)(1) regarding Officer B.'s conduct, which states:

B. Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the Ordinances of the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce. Officers shall:

1. Take appropriate action and render assistance in any instance coming to their attention whether on or off duty.

Mr. Patrone complained Officer B. failed to return Mr. Patrone's phone calls, resulting in Mr. Patrone not being given the opportunity to file a complaint against a Security Guard he alleged assaulted him at the Talin Market.

When Officer B. arrived at the Talin Market, Talin staff had Mr. Patrone in handcuffs. Officer B. took the handcuffs off Mr. Patrone. Mr. Patrone told Officer B. that he did not have any injuries. Talin Market staff requested Officer B. to issue Mr. Patrone a Notice of Trespass, which Officer B.. Mr. Patrone then left the scene on foot. A review of Officer B.'s report, the CADS report and interviews showed Officer B. took appropriate action and rendered assistance to Mr. Patrone, when he responded to the original incident. The evidence showed that when Officer B. contacted Mr. Patrone, Mr. Patrone denied he had any injuries and did not ask Officer B. to bring charges against the Security Guard.

The CPOA finds Officer B.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the incident that occurred was lawful or proper.

Re: CPC # 036-15

Dear Ms. Baca:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on March 11, 2015, for an incident which occurred on February 25, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Baca did not know when the event occurred about which she wanted to complain. Ms. Baca wrote that Officer T. responded to her call to police about her neighbor. Ms. Baca wrote Officer T. told Ms. Baca to talk to Detective T., who is assigned to the Crisis Intervention Team. Detective T. had worked with Ms. Baca for an extended period of time and knew the history of Ms. Baca's concerns about her neighbors. Ms. Baca wanted Officer T. to talk to her neighbor because her neighbor harassed her.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Baca. Ms. Baca stated in her interview Officer T. left her house quickly. Ms. Baca believed Officer T. did not go to the neighbor's house as she requested. Ms. Baca stated Officer T. refused to go to the neighbor's house. Ms. Baca stated

Letter to Ms. Baca

Officer T. told her to talk to Detective T.. Ms. Baca stated Officer T. spoke to a different neighbor and then left. Ms. Baca was irritated by Officer T.'s lack of response so she complained to Sergeant L.. Ms. Baca claimed Sergeant L. told her she had better stop bothering his CIT detectives. Ms. Baca stated Sergeant L. called her a liar. Ms. Baca stated Sergeant L. said he was going to "do something" to her, which she took as a threat. Ms. Baca stated Sergeant L. hung up on her.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER T.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Computer-Aided Dispatch Report, and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Sandra Baca, Officer T. and Sergeant L..

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure General Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer T.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Baca asked Officer T. to talk to her neighbor, Ms. Sanford, about Ms. Baca's on-going issues with her neighbor. Officer T. left her home quickly and it was her belief Officer T. did not attempt to talk to Ms. Sanford. She wanted Officer T. to relay a message to Ms. Sanford to quit bothering her. She found out later Officer T. did attempt to go to Ms. Sanford's house. Despite admitting her original belief was incorrect, Ms. Baca insisted she still had complaint against Officer T.. However, Ms. Baca could not adequately express a complaint against Officer T.. Ms. Baca then said that she asked Officer T. to go to Ms. Sanford's house, but Officer T. refused. Officer T. told her to talk to Detective T. because Officer T. knew nothing about the case. Ms. Baca said Officer T. acted as if he did not want to talk to her and ran off right away. Officer T. spoke to a different neighbor, but she could not hear what was said.

There was no lapel video of the contact between Officer T. and the citizens he contacted. Ms. Baca claimed her complaint with Officer T. was that he refused to talk to her neighbor even though she also admitted he tried.

I find Officer T.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure General Order 1-39-2(B) regarding Officer T.'s conduct, which states:

All sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a dispatched call for service, arrest warrant, search warrant service or traffic stop. Personnel will activate the recorder prior to arriving at the call or prior to citizen contact on non-dispatched events (within the safety parameters of 1-39-1B) and will record the entirety of citizen contact. Uniformed civilian personnel issued digital recorders will also comply with this section. The recordings will be saved for no less than 120 days.

Officer T. stated he believed he recorded his contact, but could not locate his video on Evidence.com. Officer T. stated he had been having some camera difficulties.

I find the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer T. was SUSTAINED, which means the alleged misconduct did occur.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING SERGEANT L.'S CONDUCT

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure General Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Sergeant L.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Baca claimed Sergeant L. told her to stop bothering his CIT detectives. Ms. Baca stated Sergeant L. called her a liar for accusing Officer T. of not talking to her neighbor when Officer T. tried. Ms. Baca claimed Sergeant L. threatened her by saying he was going to "do something". Ms. Baca stated Sergeant L. hung up on her.

There was no recording of the phone conversation between them. Ms. Baca claimed Sergeant L. was aggressive. Sergeant L. denied the allegation.

I find the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Sergeant L. was NOT SUSTAINED, which means the investigation was unable to determine whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure General Order 1-39-2(B) regarding Sergeant L.'s conduct, which states:

All sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a dispatched call for service, arrest warrant, search warrant service or traffic stop. Personnel will activate the recorder prior to arriving at the call or prior to citizen contact on non-dispatched events (within the safety parameters of 1-39-1B) and will record the entirety of citizen contact. Uniformed civilian personnel issued digital recorders will also comply with this section. The recordings will be saved for no less than 120 days.

Sergeant L. did not record his phone conversation with Ms. Baca. Sergeant L. stated he did not really have the means to record the phone conversation because he was in his car. Sergeant L. explained as a general rule he did not record follow-up calls to citizens about other officers. Sergeant L. interpreted contact in the policy to mean face-to-face contact not phone calls. However, Sergeant L. knew from prior experience Ms. Baca was not a typical citizen call-back, as Ms. Baca has made numerous other contacts with police about her concerns about her neighbor. Sergeant L. should have used his lapel recorder to record the conversation while on speaker phone.

I find the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Sergeant L. was SUSTAINED, which means the alleged misconduct did occur.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Officer T.'s and Sergeant L.'s Internal Affairs personnel file.

You have the right to appeal this decision. Section 9-4-1-9(A) of the Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Re: CPC #037-15

Dear Mrs. Brue:

The complaint you filed against Police Service Aide S. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on March 17, 2015 for an incident which occurred on March 13, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Police Service Aide involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Brynn Brue complained that on March 13, 2015 she received a parking ticket on her windshield and it was issued by Police Service Aide (PSA) S.. Ms. Brue alleged that PSA S. broke her windshield wiper when he left the ticket. She did not notice the wiper blade was broken until it started raining and when she turned on her wipers, one of them scratched her windshield. She alleged that she almost wrecked because of the PSA's negligence. Ms. Brue wrote that it was highly upsetting that the PSA was so irresponsible with other people's property. She wrote that it was unprofessional and that she expected the matter to be dealt with.

I. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING PSA S.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Citizen Police Complaint, an interview with Mrs. Brue and her husband, and an interview with PSA S..

- A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 2-02-2(B) regarding PSA S.'s conduct, which states:

Damage to Civilian Property

When sworn personnel damage civilian property in the course of their duties:

- a. The supervisor in charge will ensure photographs are taken of the damage that was caused.
- b. The scene will not be left until detailed photographs of the damage have been taken.
- c. The incident will be documented detailing the exact damage and a copy shall be forwarded to the Risk Management Division.
- d. The supervisor shall provide Risk Management's contact information to the property owner.

Ms. Brue alleged that PSA S. broke her windshield wiper when he left a parking ticket under it. She did not notice the wiper blade was broken until it started raining a few days later and when she turned on her wipers, one of them scratched her windshield. She alleged that she almost wrecked because of the PSA's negligence. Ms. Brue wrote that it was highly upsetting that the PSA was so irresponsible with other people's property. She wrote that it was unprofessional and that she expected the matter to be dealt with.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Brue. Ms. Brue admitted that it was a few days after being ticketed that she noticed the damage. Prior to being ticketed, it had been a couple of months since her husband, who is a mechanic, had checked the condition of the wiper blades on her car. Ms. Brue admitted that she parks her car in areas where other people have access to it, but she said that it was highly unlikely that anyone else could have damaged the wiper blade. When Ms. Brue was asked what proof she had that PSA S. damaged her wiper blade, she said that she had none. Ms. Brue said that she was not seeking restitution or damages but she did want someone to speak with the PSA about being more careful when leaving citations on people's windows.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed PSA S.. PSA S. could not remember ticketing Ms. Brue's car or the circumstances surrounding it. PSA S. said that around the time that this incident occurred he did remember ticketing a car that had a broken windshield wiper on it. The car, he thought, was silver in color. (Ms. Brue's car is gold.) PSA S. said that he went to place the ticket under the windshield wiper and the windshield wiper was already broken. He put the windshield wiper back on as best he could and then he left the ticket under the wiper blade. PSA S. denied breaking the wiper blade. PSA S. said that if he had broken the wiper blade he would have notified his supervisor and documented it, but since the blade was broken before he placed the ticket on the windshield, he felt that there was no need to document the incident.

Ms. Brue said that she suspected that PSA S. was the one who broke her wiper blade. She admitted that he had no proof of that and she admitted that the car had been parked in other areas where anyone would have had access to her car. PSA S. said that while he did not remember ticketing Ms. Brue's car specifically, he did remember that around the date and time of Ms. Brue being ticketed, he did ticket a car with a broken windshield wiper blade on it. PSA S. said that he did not break the wiper blade.

The CPOA finds with regards to the allegation made by Mrs. Brue about PSA S.'s conduct that the allegation was NOT SUSTAINED, was unable to determine by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of PSA S.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Ben A. Montoya Jr.
[REDACTED]
Albuquerque, NM 87114

Re: CPC # 039-15

Dear Mr. Montoya:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on March 25, 2015, for an incident, which started on February 23, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ben Montoya complained about the nature and quality of Detective G.'s investigation into crimes involving Mr. Montoya's his sister, Ms. Licon. Mr. Montoya complained that Detective G. was incompetent, inconsistent, biased, and intimidating. Mr. Montoya wrote Detective G. disregarded historical information about Mr. Licon and safety concerns articulated by his sister. Mr. Montoya also wrote Detective G. disregarded articulated safety concerns for his niece, the daughter of Mr. and Ms. Licon. Mr. Montoya alleged that Detective G. ignored evidence Ms. Licon provided of abuse and coercion of his niece. Mr. Montoya wrote Detective G. disregarded the death threats Mr. Licon made against his sister. Mr. Montoya wrote Detective G. did not collect evidence offered to prove ownership of the motorcycle. Mr. Montoya wrote Detective G.'s report was full of inaccuracies. Mr. Montoya wrote Detective G. threatened and intimidated that she would file charges against Mr. Montoya.

Letter to Mr. Montoya

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Mr. Montoya. Mr. Montoya reiterated much of his written complaint in his interview. Mr. Montoya stated the paperwork his sister attempted to provide showed clear ownership of the motorcycle in dispute belonged to Ms. Licon. Mr. Montoya stated Detective G. ignored the domestic violence history and threats Mr. Licon made towards Ms. Licon. Mr. Montoya stated Detective G. ignored the intimidation and coercion of a minor child by Mr. Licon. Mr. Montoya stated Detective G. threatened him with arrest and defamed him by calling him a criminal. Mr. Montoya stated Detective G.'s report had numerous inaccuracies. Mr. Montoya stated Detective G. treated his sister rudely.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING DETECTIVE G.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Computer-Aided Dispatch Report (CAD), Albuquerque Police Report, Minute Order signed by a Judge, Arrest Warrant, Detective G.'s lapel video, Detective G.'s audio recordings, and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Mr. Montoya and Detective G..

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Detective G.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Montoya stated Detective G. treated his sister rudely. Mr. Montoya claimed Detective G. intimidated him by threatening him with criminal charges when she called him on the phone. Mr. Montoya stated Detective G. seemed to update Mr. Licon on her activities because Mr. Licon sent several demanding and threatening text messages supposedly with Detective G.'s backing.

Detective G. recorded her phone conversations with Ms. Licon. Ms. Licon declined to participate in the investigative process. The recordings showed Detective G. treated Ms. Licon professionally. Detective G. did not have her phone conversation recorded with Mr. Montoya. Mr. Montoya stated Detective G. was cordial, but direct with him. Mr. Licon sending texts of his own was outside of Detective G.'s control. The overall investigation supports Detective G.'s version of events, but there is not enough evidence to support the clear and convincing standard for the entire conduct allegation

The CPOA finds Detective G.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

Letter to Mr. Montoya

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedural Order 2-24-4(F)(1), (2), (4), (8), (9), (10), (12), & (13) regarding Detective G.'s conduct, which states:

Steps to be followed in conducting follow up investigations: 1. Review and analyze all previous reports. 2. Conduct additional interviews and interrogations, when necessary. 4. Seek additional information from officers, informants, etc. 8. Collect physical evidence. 9. Identify and apprehend the suspect(s). 10. Check criminal histories. 12. Prepare cases for court presentations and assist in the prosecutions. 13. Notify victims of the status of their case.

Mr. Montoya claimed Detective G. filed false charges against his sister because Detective G. refused to accept documentation his sister offered nor did Detective G. interpret things correctly. Mr. Montoya claimed the original field officer determined his sister was the rightful owner of the motorcycle at issue. Detective G. did not consider Mr. Licon's domestic violence history and ignored threats Mr. Licon made towards Ms. Licon. Detective G. did not look into the fact the Licon's daughter was intimidated, coerced to lie to police, and mistreated. Detective G.'s report was conflicting and inaccurate in several ways. Mr. Montoya stated Detective G. did not attempt to collect physical evidence.

Ms. Licon declined to participate in the investigative process. Mr. Montoya stated his sister was awarded the motorcycle in the original divorce decree and that the term reserved meant that fact stayed the same. However, a Judge signed a Minute Order in September 2014, which said the property was reserved. Detective G. understood this meant the property was not to be transferred to Ms. Licon and was the property of Mr. Licon. The assistant District Attorney supported this interpretation as did the Judge since the arrest warrant was granted. The original field officer did not write in his report that Ms. Licon was the rightful property owner of the motorcycle, and there was the issue of additional missing property. The phone recordings showed Detective G. offered to meet Ms. Licon in person for an interview, but Ms. Licon declined. The phone recordings showed Ms. Licon did not provide documentation to support her position. Detective G. looked at past calls for service and reports. During the phone conversations, Ms. Licon did not provide specific information about threats just vague references to what friends told her. The phone recording showed Detective G. advised Ms. Licon to call police when she received a threat, which Ms. Licon indicated she appreciated the advice and understood. Detective G. considered Ms. Licon's claim that her daughter was coerced and mistreated. Detective G. saw no evidence that the Licons' daughter was abused, intimidated, or mistreated while Detective G. interacted with the girl at Mr. Licon's home. The message Ms. Licon played, in Detective G.'s opinion, did not go beyond a parent angrily scolding a child, and further supported the belief that Ms. Licon had the garage code. The phone recordings showed Ms. Licon said she had already taken the appropriate steps to report her concerns about her daughter. The original field officer attempted to collect physical evidence, such as dusting for fingerprints, but there was nothing to be collected. Mr. Montoya said his statements about inaccurate reporting came from a handwritten report, but did not provide that report to support his claim. The only report obtained from records was a typed report. Mr. Montoya claimed Detective G. confused the time of the tow in her report. A call placed to the towing company confirmed Detective G. accurately documented the information in her report. Detective G. followed policy in her investigation, there is clear and convincing evidence that the alleged misconduct of performing a poor, one-sided investigation did not occur

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Detective G. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Detective G.'s Internal Affairs personnel file.

Re: CPC #041-15

Dear Ms. Davis:

The complaint you filed against Officer M. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on March 26, 2015, for an incident which occurred February 16, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Patricia Davis complained that on February 13, 2015 at about 12:00 AM, she was standing between her son, Brian Hayden, and her daughter, Nicole Hayden, who were in a verbal argument, when she was accidentally hit by Nicole Hayden. Ms. Davis complained a criminal complaint against her daughter, which was filed by APD Officer M. was incomplete and inaccurate and completed without Ms. Davis' input. Ms. Davis complained Nicole was described by Officer M. as intoxicated and aggressive and that her actions were intentional. Ms. Davis complained that the two witnesses to the incident, Brian Hayden, and his girlfriend, Sara Sydow, told Ms. Davis they did not tell Officer M. that Nicole was intoxicated or aggressive. Ms. Davis complained she was never contacted and/or questioned by Officer M. via telephone or in person. Ms. Davis requested a review of this incident and asked to be interviewed. Ms. Davis complained she called the substation to speak with Officer M. and left her name and phone number but Officer M. did not return her call.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER M.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, lapel videos, and interviews with the Complainant, a witness and Officer M..

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-24-3 (A)(5)(b) regarding Officer M.'s conduct, which states:

A. Preliminary Investigations

5. Steps to be followed in conducting preliminary investigations that may include but are not limited to:

b. Locate, identify, and interview witnesses, victims and suspect(s).

Ms. Davis complained Officer M. did not contact her to question her regarding the events that took place during the incident.

The CPOA Investigator reviewed Officer M.'s lapel video and the interview with Officer M. and determined that Officer M. attempted to call Ms. Davis, but did not leave a message. Ms. Davis said she did not receive a call from Officer M.. Ms. Davis admitted that she received a call from an unknown number and the caller did not leave a message. Ms. Davis also stated that due to her cellular service provider, not all phone calls are received.

The CPOA Investigator reviewed Officer M.'s lapel video and interviews and determined Officer M.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-24-3 (A)(5)(f) regarding Officer M.'s conduct which states:

A. Preliminary Investigations

5. Steps to be followed in conducting preliminary investigations that may include but are not limited to:

f. Report the incident fully and accurately.

Ms. Davis complained Officer M.'s report was inaccurate and incomplete because Officer M. described Ms. Davis' daughter, Nicole Hayden, as having been intoxicated and aggressive during the incident, which Ms. Davis denies.

The CPOA Investigator reviewed Officer M.'s lapel video, interviews and report and determined Officer M. contacted Ms. Davis' son, Brian Hayden, and his girlfriend, Sara Sydow, who both witnessed Nicole Hayden strike Ms. Davis and both reported that Nicole was intoxicated and aggressive.

The CPOA Investigator reviewed Officer M.'s lapel video and interviews and determined Officer M.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the incident that occurred was lawful or proper.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer M.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

If you have a computer available, we would greatly appreciate your completing our client survey form at <http://www.cabq.gov/iro/survey> .

Albuquerque, NM 87104

Re: CPC #044-15

Dear Mr. Martinez:

The complaint you filed against Detective P. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on March 28, 2015, for an incident which occurred March 27, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the APD Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. Martinez said that on March 27, 2015, Detective P. investigated an alleged child abuse involving Mr. Martinez's and a child he shares with Ms. Yvette Chacon. Mr. Martinez complained the child received multiple bruises while in the care of Ms. Chacon. Mr. Martinez said Detective P. saw the child's injuries and recommended Mr. Martinez take the child to University of New Mexico Hospital (UNMH) for evaluation and Mr. Martinez complied. Mr. Martinez complained that despite UNMH Pediatric Emergency Room doctor's suspicions that the child's injuries were uncommon and concerning, Detective P. allowed the child to be released back to the care of Ms. Chacon. Mr. Martinez complained Detective P. treated him poorly. Mr. Martinez complained Detective P. did not follow protocol when he did not inform Mr. Martinez the child was being released from the hospital and Detective P.'s report was inaccurate because Detective P.'s report said there were no signs of abuse, which was in conflict with the UNMH doctor's findings.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING DETECTIVE P.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, lapel video and interviews with Mr. Martinez, Children Youth and Families Department (CYFD) Investigator Andrea Hill, UNMH Child Abuse Response Team (CART) physician Dr. Shalon Nienow, and Detective P.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-4-1 (F) regarding Detective P.'s conduct, which states:

F. Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Martinez complained Detective P. treated him poorly. Mr. Martinez complained Detective P. brought up a pending Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) charge against Mr. Martinez and used this against Mr. Martinez when deciding who would have custody of the Chacon-Martinez child. Mr. Martinez complained he was bullied into a safety plan for the child when Detective P. forced Mr. Martinez to agree the child would be cared for by Mr. Martinez's mother and sister, or otherwise placed in foster care.

The interviews with CYFD Investigator Hill and Detective P. revealed Detective P. raised his voice and was firm with Mr. Martinez when Detective P. had to repeatedly tell Mr. Martinez the child could not go home with him due to a court order. The interviews revealed Detective P. was respectful to Mr. Martinez and told Mr. Martinez he was a good father, despite Mr. Martinez yelling and cursing at Detective P. The interviews with Ms. Hill and Detective P. showed Detective P. did not treat Mr. Martinez poorly, as alleged.

The interviews with Ms. Hill and Detective P. revealed Detective P. asked Mr. Martinez about his pending DWI charge and his DWI history. This information was, in part, used in Ms. Hill's and Detective P.'s decision to place the child with Ms. Chacon, or Mr. Martinez's mother and sister. Ms. Hill said due to Mr. Martinez's DWI history, he was not considered a safety monitor for the child. Ms. Hill said safety monitors have to pass CYFD background checks and Mr. Martinez would not pass a CYFD background due to his DWI history. Ms. Hill said the court-ordered custody agreement was put in place because of Mr. Martinez's pending DWI charge and his DWI history. Ms. Hill said this issue was discussed with Mr. Martinez. The interviews with Ms. Hill and Detective P. revealed that, in addition to Mr. Martinez's DWI history, a court-ordered custody agreement regarding the Chacon-Martinez child would not allow Mr. Martinez custody of the child the night of the incident because his scheduled time with the child was between 9:00 AM – 5:00 PM that day.

There is lapel video of Detective P.'s initial contact with Mr. Martinez at the hospital but no lapel video of their second interaction to substantiate or refute Mr. Martinez's allegations that Detective P. treated Mr. Martinez poorly or bullied Mr. Martinez into a safety plan for the Chacon-Martinez child.

The CPOA finds Detective P.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, because the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-24-3 (A)(5)(f) regarding Detective P.'s conduct, which states:

A. Preliminary Investigations

5. Steps to be followed in conducting preliminary investigations that may include but are not limited to:

f. Report the incident fully and accurately.

Mr. Martinez complained Detective P.'s report was inaccurate because Detective P.'s report stated there were no signs of abuse, which was in conflict with the University of New Mexico Hospital (UNMH) doctor's findings.

Interviews with Detective P., Ms. Hill and Dr. Shalon Nienow revealed these individuals agreed the child had several bruises, which caused concern; however Dr. Nienow was unable to definitively determine whether the bruises were the result of child abuse or a sign the child was not properly supervised. Dr. Nienow's findings, in addition to the child's inability to self-report what happened, and a lack of witnesses to the actions which caused the injuries, did not allow Detective P. to meet the three criteria necessary to classify the incident(s) which caused the injuries as child abuse. The interviews revealed Detective P.'s report had yet to be completed at the time of this investigation so Mr. Martinez would not have been able to review Detective P.'s report. Regardless, the investigation revealed Detective P. did not deny the child had injuries and he based his decisions regarding the custody of the child on Dr. Nienow's findings, which were unable to definitely determine intentional abuse. Therefore, Mr. Martinez's allegation of an inaccurate report cannot be substantiated.

The CPOA finds Detective P.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate Albuquerque Police Department policies, procedures or training.

C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-33-2 (D)(1)(c) regarding Detective P.'s conduct, which states:

D. Taking Protective Custody of a Child

1. When responding to any form of child abuse, the officer must determine if the child should be removed from the environment for the child's

Letter to Mr. Martinez

safety. Pursuant to New Mexico Statute 32A-3B-3, an officer may take a child into protective custody when the officer had reasonable grounds to believe the child:

c. Is in danger from surroundings and removal from those surroundings is necessary.

Mr. Martinez complained Detective P. put the Chacon-Martinez child in harm's way by allowing the child to return to Ms. Chacon who had custody of the child when the injuries occurred.

Interviews with Detective P., Ms. Hill and Dr. Nienow revealed these individuals agreed the child had several bruises, which caused concern; however Dr. Nienow was unable to definitively determine whether the bruises were the result of child abuse or a sign the child was not properly supervised. Dr. Nienow's findings, in addition to the child's inability to self-report what happened, and a lack of witnesses to the actions which caused the injuries, did not allow Detective P. to meet the three criteria necessary to classify the incident(s) which caused the injuries as child abuse. Interviews with Detective P. and Ms. Hill revealed the child was most likely not being properly supervised by the babysitter hired by Ms. Chacon, who was Ms. Chacon's sister's boyfriend.

Interviews with Detective P. and Ms. Hill revealed once they learned of the legal custody order in place regarding the Chacon-Martinez child, in addition to learning Mr. Martinez had a DWI case pending against him and multiple DWI charges in his driving history, Mr. Martinez was no longer considered a safety monitor for the child. Ms. Hill said safety monitors have to pass CYFD background checks and Mr. Martinez would not pass a CYFD background. Ms. Hill said the custody order was put in place because of Mr. Martinez's multiple DWI convictions and pending DWI case. With this information, Ms. Hill and Det. Padilla and Mr. Martinez discussed a safety plan for the child, which included the child staying with Ms. Chacon on the days Ms. Chacon was able to watch the child and not leave the child with a babysitter, and the child staying with Mr. Martinez on the days stated in the court order. The days Ms. Chacon was not able to watch the child, the child would stay with someone mutually agreed upon by Mr. Martinez and Ms. Chacon, who was also approved by CYFD. The two people eventually approved were Mr. Martinez's mother and sister. Ms. Hill and Detective P. felt comfortable sending the child home with Ms. Chacon because Ms. Chacon was not the concern; the babysitter was. The investigation revealed Detective P. did not place the Chacon-Martinez child in harm's way by sending the child home with Ms. Chacon, as alleged in Mr. Martinez's complaint.

The CPOA finds Detective P.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate Albuquerque Police Department policies, procedures or training.

M006478

D) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-39-1 (A), and Department Special Order 12-26 regarding Detective P.'s conduct, which state, respectively:

1-39-1 USE OF TAPE/DIGITAL RECORDERS

[6] A. Personnel will use issued tape/digital recorders to document the incidents listed below.

It will be the responsibility of the primary officer to ensure that the incident will be recorded in its entirety. If at any time the primary and secondary officer(s) should become separated, it will be the responsibility of the secondary officer(s) to record all their contact and/or actions during that incident. In such incidents where the primary officer tags a recording and secondary officer(s) also have a recording: all recordings will be tagged into evidence. If the primary officer tags a complete recording or there is an outside source recording tagged into evidence and no secondary recording exist; this shall serve as meeting the requirements for this section.

DEPARTMENT SPECIAL ORDER 12-26

Effective immediately, all sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a dispatched call for service, arrest warrant, search warrant or traffic stop. The recordings will be saved for no less than 120 days. Personnel will refer to the instructional video on PowerDMS for storing instructions. Failure to record a contact under the listed specifications may result in discipline.

Detective P. recorded his initial contact with Mr. Martinez in the hospital but did not record any subsequent contacts with Mr. Martinez. Detective P. is required to record his contacts in entirety.

The CPOA finds Detective P.'s conduct to be a SUSTAINED violation not based on the original complaint regarding a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence, that misconduct did occur that was not alleged in the original complaint but that was discovered during the misconduct investigation.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Detective P.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Albuquerque, NM 87112

Dear Ms. Haque:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on March 30, 2015 for an incident which occurred on March 27, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Sabina Haque, a 48-year old woman, has had an ongoing dispute with her next-door neighbor, who is the same age. Ms. Haque's neighbor only speaks Spanish and yells things at her that she does not understand. Ms. Haque stated her neighbor has stomped around in front of her apartment and kicked her apartment door. Officers received calls about the dispute on March 27, 2015 from both Ms. Haque and her neighbor.

Ms. Haque wrote that she called police that day because her neighbor stomped around her apartment door and kicked her door. Ms. Haque wrote her neighbor ranted something in Spanish. Ms. Haque wrote she pushed her neighbor away in self-defense after her neighbor got in her face. Ms. Haque wrote she held a steam cleaner in between them as a shield. Ms.

Haque told all of this to the responding officers. Ms. Haque stated that after officers spoke to her neighbor, Officer D. accused her of threatening her neighbor with the steam cleaner, which she denied. Ms. Haque wrote Officer D. twisted her words and said she was the one stomping around. Ms. Haque wrote she told Officer D. she was scared, but Officer D. accused her of being angry instead. Ms. Haque complained Officer D. yelled at her the whole time and would not let her get a word in edgewise. Ms. Haque wrote Officer M. said nothing and did not stop Officer D.. Ms. Haque did not think her neighbor acted scared despite Officer D.'s accusations. Ms. Haque wrote Officer D. was disrespectful and intimidating. Ms. Haque wrote a supplemental statement to say she had medical proof showing she could not be the one stomping around.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Haque. Ms. Haque stated in her interview that the officers were listening to her when they first spoke to her, but Officer D.'s attitude changed after the officers spoke to her neighbor. Ms. Haque stated Officer D. yelled at her the whole time and she found that to be intimidating and disrespectful. Ms. Haque stated Officer D. put words in her mouth several times. Ms. Haque admitted she pushed her neighbor when he got in her face. Ms. Haque stated when she went in her apartment for something she retrieved her stun gun as well. Ms. Haque admitted she showed it to the neighbor to show him she was not afraid to use it if needed. Ms. Haque stated Officer D. was being a bully and yelled at her over and over. Ms. Haque stated she became frustrated and left because the situation was going nowhere.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER S.' CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Computer-Aided Dispatch Report, Albuquerque Police Report, Officer D.'s lapel video, Officer M.'s lapel video, and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Sabina Haque, Officer D. and Officer M..

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer D.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Officer M. was the primary officer, and Officer D. was the secondary. Ms. Haque complained about Officer D.'s conduct. Ms. Haque felt Officer D. had made up his mind about the type of person she was after talking to her neighbor. Ms. Haque claimed Officer D. yelled at her and she found that behavior to be intimidating and disrespectful. Ms. Haque stated Officer D. interjected when she tried to tell her side of the story. Officer D. put words in her mouth and told her what her feelings were. Ms. Haque claimed Officer D. was a bully.

Officer D. understood from the neighbor that Ms. Haque kicked the neighbor, threatened to hit him with a vacuum cleaner and then walked back into her apartment and made threatening gestures with a stun gun. Officer D. also understood from the apartment manager that Ms. Haque wrote a threatening note saying someone would get hurt. Officer D. felt Ms. Haque was argumentative with Officer M. so he stepped in the conversation between Ms. Haque and Officer M.. Officer D. told Ms. Haque she was lucky she was not going to jail and was the primary aggressor. Officer D. agreed he told Ms. Haque that she was not in fear because her actions demonstrated otherwise. Officer D. stated Ms. Haque was not listening, so his tone was stern. Officer D. stated Ms. Haque was interrupting him because things were not going her way and she was not happy with what officers had to say.

The lapel video showed Ms. Haque admitted to kicking her neighbor, holding the vacuum and stun gun and writing the note, but claimed her actions were justified. The lapel video showed Officer M. started to explain how Ms. Haque's actions were perceived when Officer D. interjected. Officer D. was stern and scolding with Ms. Haque. The video showed Officer D.'s statements were factually valid, but the manner he delivered the information was the issue. The video showed Ms. Haque did not listen to the information because she was still coming from the position that she was in the right and not enough explanation had occurred. Officer D. perceived Ms. Haque as more argumentative than the lapel video showed. Officer M., as the primary officer, would have preferred to handle the situation her way.

The CPOA finds Officer D.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the alleged misconduct did occur.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Officer D.'s Internal Affairs personnel file.

You have the right to appeal this decision. Section 9-4-1-9(A) of the Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

If you have a computer available, we would greatly appreciate your completing our client survey form at <http://www.cabq.gov/iro/survey> .

Taffy Burch

[REDACTED]
Albuquerque, NM 87108

Re: CPC #046-15

Dear Mrs. Burch:

The complaint you filed against Officer A. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on March 31, 2015 for an incident which occurred on March 13, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Police Officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Taffy Torres Burch wrote in her complaint that on March 13, 2015 at about 1:15 pm, she called the Albuquerque Police Department as she and her husband had been trying to resolve a dog and neighbor problem. Officer A. responded to the call. Mrs. Torres wrote that she also wanted to ask the responding officer what the procedure was to contact her adult son. Mrs. Burch wrote that Officer A. was unprofessional and disrespectful. Mrs. Burch wrote that Officer A. eventually refused to speak with Mrs. Torres and instead, took her husband outside where Officer A. spoke to her husband in a loud voice; so loud that her neighbors heard what he was saying. Mrs. Burch stated that wanted Officer A. reprimanded for his unprofessional behavior.

I. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER A.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Citizen Police Complaint, an interview with Mr. and Mrs. Burch, and an interview with Officer A.. The CPOA Investigator also reviewed the Computer Assisted Dispatch (CAD) report and Officer A.'s lapel video recording of the contact.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer A.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mrs. Burch wrote in her complaint that on March 13, 2015 at about 1:15 pm, she called the Albuquerque Police Department as she and her husband had been trying to resolve a dog and neighbor problem. Officer A. responded to the call. Mrs. Torres wrote that she also wanted to ask the responding officer what the procedure was to contact her adult son. Mrs. Burch wrote that Officer A. was unprofessional and disrespectful. Officer A. eventually refused to speak with Mrs. Torres and instead, took her husband outside where Officer A. spoke to her husband in a loud voice; so loud that her neighbors heard what he was saying. Mrs. Burch wanted Officer A. reprimanded for his unprofessional behavior.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Mr. and Mrs. Burch over the phone as they now live in Alamogordo, NM. Mrs. Burch repeated what was in her written complaint. Mr. Burch said that when he went outside to speak with Officer A. that Officer A. was rude with him also.

The Computer Assisted Dispatch (CAD) report for the incident on March 13, 2015 showed that Mr. Burch did not call the police to complain about a dog and neighbor problem as Mrs. Burch wrote in her complaint. The report showed that Mr. Burch called the police. Mr. Burch told the police that he was calling on behalf of his wife, Taffy Burch. Mr. Burch said that his wife wanted to press charges on her son in reference to an event that took place on September 25, 2014. Mr. Burch reported that his wife's 34 year-old son lived in Texas. Mr. Burch requested that a police officer contact him. Officer A. responded to the call at 1:12 PM. He arrived at 1:39 PM and he cleared the call at 2:07 PM. There is no indication on the call that Mr. and Mrs. Burch wanted to resolve a dog and neighbor problem.

Officer A. recorded the contact with Mr. and Mrs. Burch in its entirety on lapel camera video. The video showed Officer A. arrived and made contact with Mr. Burch, who showed Officer A. into the home. Mrs. Burch was seated on a couch and the officer stayed standing near the front door as Mr. Burch took a seat on the couch as well. The Burch's told Officer A. that on September 25, 2014 they had contacted Officer W. and they filed a report that Mrs. Burch's son had gained entry to their storage shed and her son had stolen some property. Mrs. Burch's son had evidently called Mrs. Burch and told her that he had the property. The Burch's explained that at the time that they made the report with Officer W., they did not want to pursue charges against Mrs. Burch's son. Mrs. Burch told Officer A. that the reason that they contacted APD was because she had changed her mind and now she did want to press charges on her son. Mrs. Burch said that she wanted her son picked up. Officer A. seemed a bit confused at first and requested more information. When Mrs. Burch told Officer A. that she wanted to file a report, he told her that a report had already been filed on the incident. Officer A. did speak loudly and at one point Mrs. Burch told Officer A., "Please don't yell." Officer A. said, "I'm not. I'm just talking." Officer A. asked for more facts surrounding the theft of the property and he told Mrs. Burch that they could not go to Texas and arrest her son because that was out of APD's jurisdiction. When Officer A. learned more about the alleged theft, he told Mrs. Burch that if she wanted to pursue the matter that she should get an Attorney and file against her son in Civil Court. Mrs. Burch appeared to get frustrated at that and asked, "So a patrolman can't do nothing?" Officer A. said that a patrolman had already filed a report on the theft. Mrs. Burch then changed her story and told Officer A. that when Officer W. came out to take a report, it had nothing to do with the theft of her property but it had to do with a problem with the neighbor and his dog.

Mrs. Burch then asked if Officer A. could call another officer out to come and talk to them. Officer A. said, "Ma'am, I'm trying to explain to you. You handed me this paper telling me that this officer took a report reference your stolen..." Mrs. Burch said, "Please don't yell at me." Officer A. said, "I'm not yelling at you ma'am. Okay?" Mrs. Burch then said, "It's okay. Forget it. May I have your badge number? May I have your badge number and your name?" Officer A. gave Mrs. Burch the information. Mrs. Burch said, "That's fine. That's all we need."

Mr. Burch then engaged Officer A. in further conversation. The Burch's told Officer A. about a female officer who had come out to their house some time ago and that the female officer was so kind that they made a good report on her. The lapel video showed that Officer A. then called dispatch to determine who had been out to the address in the past. The dispatcher responded that the police had been to the Burch's home on the March, 5, 2015; March, 7, 2015; March, 8, 2015; and March 9, 2015 for various calls.

Mr. Burch proceeded to tell Officer A. about their experience with the female officer. Mr. Burch said that the female officer had determined that there was no use in tracking Mrs. Burch's son down because he did not want to be found and didn't want anything to do with the Burch's. Mr. Burch said that Mrs. Burch was very sick and could die at any time and that Mrs. Burch's son needs to know that. Officer A. pointed out that her son had expressed no desire to be in contact with Mrs. Burch and as an adult, her son has that right.

Mrs. Burch said again, "It's okay. I appreciate you coming by." Officer A. said in response, "Okay. Thank you ma'am." Officer A. then told Mr. Burch that he would finish talking to him.

Mr. Burch asked, "There's nothing else we can do or what? Do I have to go travel to Texas and slam him or what?" Officer A. explained that Texas was out of APD's jurisdiction. Mrs.

Burch then said, "That's fine. We're done." Officer A. said, "Okay, I understand. I'm done talking to you, I'm talking to him now." In frustration at being interrupted while speaking with Mr. Burch, Officer A. asked Mr. Burch to step outside where he could speak to Mr. Burch without being interrupted by Mrs. Burch. Mr. Burch agreed to go outside. Officer A. said, "Since she keeps reiterating that we're done, that's fine. We can be done with her. I'll talk to you outside. That's fine."

Mr. Burch said, "I'm just trying to help and I'm getting slammed." Officer A. asked Mr. Burch for clarification as to exactly what was reported to Officer W.. Mr. Burch told Officer A. that Officer W. took a report on the theft of Mrs. Burch's items that were taken by her son.

Officer A. told Mr. Burch that since a report had already been made on that theft, that the police department would not write another report on the same incident. Officer A. told Mr. Burch that if Mrs. Burch felt that her son stole the items, then she should take him to court. Officer A. then explained the civil court process to Mr. Burch. Mr. Burch again asked Officer A. if he should go to Texas and slam Mrs. Burch's son. Officer A. asked, "Will slamming him get your stuff back?" Mr. Burch responded, "No." Officer A. asked, "Well then what's the point in that?" Officer A. told Mr. Burch that they needed to go to court on the matter. The conversation closed with Mr. Burch shaking Officer A.'s hand saying, "You're alright bröther. Have a good day."

The CPOA Investigator also interviewed Officer A.. Officer A. denied the allegations that Mrs. Burch made against him.

The lapel video showed that Officer A. was, at times, loud and abrupt. Officer A. though, does, in general, speak loudly. Officer A. doesn't yell but the volume of his voice is above that of most people during a conversation. The lapel video showed that even though Officer A. was loud and abrupt, his actions with Mr. and Mrs. Burch did not rise to a level of a violation of this SOP.

The CPOA finds with regards to the allegation made by Mrs. Burch about Officer A.'s conduct that the allegation was EXONERATED, because the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged conduct did occur, but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer A.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Wendy McCarthy

Carson City, NV 89706

Re: CPC #047-15

Dear Ms. McCarthy:

The complaint you filed against Detective M. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on April 1, 2015, for an incident which occurred February 26, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the APD Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Wendy McCarthy said that on February 26, 2015, her son, Robert Bartley, was shot and killed. Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Detective M. was assigned to investigate the case. Ms. McCarthy complained Detective M. lied to her because when he initially contacted her to report her son, Robert, was shot and killed, Detective M. told her Robert was holding a screw driver when the homeowner confronted him and shot and killed Robert. Ms. McCarthy said in her face-to-face interview with Detective M. on March 2, 2015, Detective M. retracted his statement about Robert holding a screw driver and instead said Robert was holding a knife and lunged at the home owner before the home owner shot and killed him. Ms. McCarthy complained Detective M. told her and her family he would contact them, individually, for their statements but Detective M. never called her or her family members. Ms. McCarthy told Detective M. Alfred Baca, Robert Bartley's, drug dealer and the homeowner who shot Robert knew one another and collaborated in Robert's death. Ms. McCarthy complained Detective M. and APD did nothing with the information because Alfred Baca's brother is a retired APD officer. Ms. McCarthy also alleged Detective M. failed to respond to the two emails she sent and said she did not receive any of Robert Bartley's personal property.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING DETECTIVE M.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, telephone recordings and interviews with Ms. McCarthy and Detective M.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-4-1 (F) regarding Detective M.'s conduct, which states:

F. Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. McCarthy complained Detective (Detective) M. lied to her because when he initially contacted her to report her son, Robert Bartley, was shot and killed he told her Robert was holding a screw driver when the homeowner confronted him and shot and killed Robert. Ms. McCarthy said in her face-to-face interview with Detective M. on March 2, 2015, Detective M. retracted his statement about Robert holding a screw driver and instead said Robert was holding a knife and lunged at the home owner before the home owner shot and killed Robert.

Interviews with Ms. McCarthy and Detective M. revealed Detective M. contacted Ms. McCarthy via telephone the evening of February 26, 2015. Ms. McCarthy was upset when Detective M. gave her the basics of the investigation, which Detective M. said included initial reports that the homeowner who shot Robert thought Robert was holding a knife. Detective M. said after crime scene processing was completed it was revealed Robert was holding a large screw driver and not a knife. Detective M. said when Ms. McCarthy learned this she seemed to be in shock and denial about it and was not happy about the fact her son was shot because he was holding a screw driver. The interviews also revealed that due to the fluidity of homicide investigations, it is not uncommon for information given during initial briefings to change once crime scene processing has been completed and all evidence has been identified.

The CPOA finds Detective M.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged misconduct did occur but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-24-3 (B)(5)(d) regarding Detective M.'s conduct, which states:

Letter to Ms. McCarthy

DATE

Page 3

B. Follow-Up Investigations

5. Steps to be considered when conducting follow up investigations:

d. Seek additional information from officers, informants, etc.

Ms. McCarthy complained Detective (Detective) M. told her and her family they would be contacted, individually, for their statements but Detective M. never called her or her family members.

Interviews with Ms. McCarthy and Detective M. and recorded telephone conversations between Detective M. and Ms. McCarthy, and Detective M. and Ms. McCarthy's daughter, Patricia Bartley, revealed Detective M. spoke to Ms. McCarthy and her family members during the investigation. The interviews and recorded conversation also revealed on March 25, 2015 Detective M. told Ms. McCarthy the investigation was done and there was nothing more to investigate so the investigation was forwarded to the District Attorney's Office. Despite forwarding the investigation to the District Attorney's Office, Detective M. still conducted follow-ups on leads related to the original investigation, such as the lead regarding Alfred Baca and his connection to the homeowner who shot Robert Bartley. Detective M. investigated the allegation and did not find a connection between Alfred Baca and the homeowner. The interviews and recordings revealed Detective M. sought additional information from Ms. McCarthy and her family and conducted a thorough investigation into Robert Bartley's death.

The CPOA finds Detective M.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by clear and convincing evidence, that the alleged misconduct did not occur or did not involve the subject officer.

Ms. McCarthy also alleged Detective M. failed to respond to the two emails she sent. Detective M. did not respond to Ms. McCarthy's emails however this is not a violation of any APD Standard Operating Procedures. Ms. McCarthy alleged she did not receive any of Robert Bartley's personal property. Detective M. could not recall Ms. McCarthy asking for Robert Bartley's personal items. Regardless, in a homicide investigation personal items would not be returned because they are considered evidence.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Detective M.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re: CPC #049-15

Dear Mrs. Bernier:

The complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on April 2, 2015 regarding an alleged incident that occurred on March 18, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA investigated your complaint. The CPOA made a finding, based on the information you provided, of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Cynthia Bernier wrote that her son entered the Loves Gas Station on March 18, 2015. Mrs. Bernier wrote that once her son entered, a cashier said hello to him and in a low voice he stated "hello". Mrs. Bernier writes two police officers, one white and one hispanic were at the Subway restaurant inside the Loves. Mrs. Bernier writes the white officer got in her sons face and yelled at him, telling her son to respond to the cashier with a courteous hello. Mrs. Bernier wrote her son and the officer got into an argument and the officer stated that her son could go to jail for obstruction of justice. Mrs. Bernier wrote the Hispanic officer then told the white officer to sit down. Mrs. Bernier wrote that her son or any member of the public should not have to put up with the attitude displayed by this police officer. Ms. Bernier wrote that her son has had problems with the police before and did not want to file a complaint, therefore Mrs. Bernier filed the complaint on behalf of her son.

II. INVESTIGATION

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS) and the Citizen Police Complaint.

The CPOA Investigator reviewed the complaint Mrs. Bernier submitted. The Investigator contacted the Manager at the Loves location Mrs. Bernier referred to and scheduled a time to view video recordings from the date in question. The Investigator and the manager observed the video. The Investigator observed two unidentified police officers enter the Loves Gas station. The Investigator watched the entire video and the two unidentified police officers only have contact with each other and the cashier at the Subway restaurant. The Investigator observed a male who worked for UPS as Mrs. Bernier states her son does. The male UPS worker walked in to the Loves Gas Station, selected a couple of drinks from a cooler, paid. The video showed that the only person the male spoke to was the security guard located in the Loves Gas Station.

The Investigator requested a Albuquerque Police Unit History from the date and time Mrs. Bernier specified in her complaint. No Albuquerque Police officers were logged out at the location on that date and time.

The Investigator spoke with Mrs. Bernier on April 28, 2015. The Investigator informed Mrs. Bernier of the findings in his preliminary investigation. The Investigator asked Mrs. Bernier if she would give him Mrs. Bernier's son's information to further investigate and identify the officers, however Mrs. Bernier stated her son would not speak with the Investigator.

III. CONCLUSION

The CPOA has made the decision to ADMINISTRATIVELY CLOSE your complaint, due to not being able to identify any Albuquerque Police Officer related to this incident and not having enough information to further the investigation.

Administratively closed complaints may be re-opened if additional information becomes available. Please contact the CPOA in regards to your Civilian Police Complaint if you can provide further details and wish to have the complaint re-opened.

Roger Zion

Re: CPC #051-15

Dear Mr. Zion:

The complaint you filed against Officer L. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on April 11, 2015 regarding an incident that occurred on April 11, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Roger Zion complained that on April 11, 2015 at about 10:30 pm, he was driving in the area of San Bernadino/Academy and Tramway and on I-40 Westbound when he witnessed Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officer L. speeding at 70 mph or more without his emergency lights and siren engaged. Mr. Zion alleged that Officer L. was weaving in and out of traffic without using turn signals. Mr. Zion said he sped up in an effort to catch up to Officer L. when Officer L. pulled him over near I-40 and Carnuel and cited Mr. Zion for speeding. Mr. Zion complained that Carnuel is out of APD's jurisdiction.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER L.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, lapel video and interviews with Mr. Zion and Officer L.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-19-2 (J)(3) regarding Officer L.'s conduct, which states:

J. Assigned Take-Home Vehicle Program

3. All employees assigned an APD vehicle will exercise good judgment in utilizing it, and will not drive or use the vehicle so as to cause unfavorable comment, or reflect discredit on the Department. When practical all employees will not use their radio or MDT while operating an APD vehicle. Officers will pull over before using an MDT except in emergency situations.

Mr. Zion complained he was driving in the area of San Bernadino/Academy and Tramway and on I-40 Westbound when he witnessed Officer L. speeding at 70 mph or more without using emergency lights and siren and that Officer L. drove erratically and did not use turn signals. Mr. Zion said he sped up in an effort to catch up to Officer L. when Officer L. pulled him over at Carnuel and cited Mr. Zion for speeding. Mr. Zion complained that Carnuel is out of APD's jurisdiction.

The interviews and lapel video revealed that Officer L. followed Mr. Zion, who was travelling 78 mph in a 65 mph zone, for the purpose of pacing Mr. Zion's speed after Mr. Zion passed Officer L.'s vehicle on the freeway. Officer L. was on his way home at the end of his shift. Officer L. felt he had to pull over Mr. Zion because his traffic violation was so blatant. Carnuel is within APD's jurisdiction. The interviews revealed Officer L. did not drive erratically and used turn signals when necessary. The lapel video showed Mr. Zion asked Officer L. if Officer L. came out of Academy to enter onto Tramway, to which Officer L. replied no. Officer L. believed that either Mr. Zion mistook Officer L. for another officer or Mr. Zion was attempting to get out of the traffic ticket. Officer L.'s lapel video supported Officer L.'s statement that he was speeding in order to issue Mr. Zion a ticket.

The CPOA finds Officer L.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by clear and convincing evidence, that the alleged misconduct did not occur or did not involve the subject officer.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer L.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re: CPC # 052-15- Anonymous Complaint

A complaint about two unidentified officers of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on April 12, 2015 regarding unidentified dates.

I. THE COMPLAINT

An anonymous complaint was submitted via email April 12, 2015 alleging two different officers engaged in behaviors which set bad examples. The first allegation was an officer, possibly a lieutenant, hung in and around Knockouts on Central. The complainant claimed this occurred on Fridays and Saturdays and he was very friendly with the females. The second allegation was a sergeant remained home during work hours instead of being out in the field. The complainant offered no information such as names, dates or specific times this occurred, or other identifiers of the Sergeant involved.

II. INVESTIGATION BY INDEPENDENT REVIEW INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed the anonymous complaint and researched the matter. The CPOA Investigator could not determine the identity of the complained about officers with the information provided.

The CPOA Investigator contacted the General Manager of Knockouts to try to determine if there was any merit to the one complaint. Ms. Flores stated officers frequently park in front of her establishment in the median during the weekend, so several officers are in the general area. Ms. Flores stated all the officers have been professional and friendly to her and her staff. Ms. Flores stated she is unaware of any officer coming into her business unless she has a call for service. Ms. Flores knew there was no officer she recognized as a frequent customer of her business and certainly not while on duty. Ms. Flores had no complaints about officers.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

This case should be administratively closed based on the lack of information provided. The CPOA will administratively close this complaint and no further investigation by our office will occur unless additional information is provided.

Dear Mrs. Nodal:

The complaint you filed against Officer W. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on May 14, 2015 regarding an incident that occurred on April 4, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Carmella Nodal wrote that on Saturday April 4, 2015 her apartment caught on fire. Ms. Nodal was not home at the time and as she had arrived she saw the building on fire. Ms. Nodal stated she was very emotional and had realized her daughters' dog was in the backyard. Ms. Nodal stated there was a female officer on scene, later identified as Officer W., who was rude and yelling at her. Ms. Nodal stated she yelled back at the officer. Ms. Nodal alleged that officers apprehended, choked, slammed her up against the officers' car and thrown in the backseat. Ms. Nodal stated she told the officer that her family's dog was in the backyard and stated Officer W. said she was not going to tell the fire department because Ms. Nodal was "being an asshole." Ms. Nodal stated the Sergeant on scene came to the vehicle to ask Ms. Nodal questions. Ms. Nodal stated during that time Officer W. told Ms. Nodal's daughter that Ms. Nodal needs to learn manners and respect. Ms. Nodal stated in her complaint that prior to this incident she had respect for the Albuquerque Police Department. Ms. Nodal stated the handcuffs the officer placed on her were so tight it caused her fingers to stay numb for days and Ms. Nodal has carpal tunnel syndrome. Ms. Nodal wrote her back aches on and off due to the incident and Officer W. showed no compassion. Ms. Nodal stated the Sergeant let her out of the vehicle and informed her there were no charges against Ms. Nodal. Ms. Nodal stated when the Sergeant let her out, Officer W. laughed at her and taunted her saying "I will charge you for denting my car." Ms. Nodal wrote that if the officer hadn't slammed Ms. Nodal against the car, there would not be a dent. Ms. Nodal wrote her emotions were running high due to the fire and knowing the dog was still in the yard, however, Officer W. had no compassion and fears running into this officer out in the streets. Ms. Nodal stated she has nightmares about Officer W..

Several attempts via telephone were made by the Investigator to contact Ms. Nodal for a statement and interview. The Investigator also sent Ms. Nodal a certified letter, which was signed for. Ms. Nodal did not make contact with the Investigator. The investigation was based upon Ms. Nodal's written complaint.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER W.'s CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, Albuquerque Police Department report # 15-0029451, lapel video of Officer W. and the interviews of Officer W. and Sergeant W.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer W.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel should conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Nodal wrote in her complaint Officer Wright yelled, screamed and berated her during an incident.

Lapel video showed Officer W. was chasing down Ms. Nodal as she was running towards a structure fire. Ms. Nodal was cursing and yelling at Officer W. as Officer W. was attempting to stop Ms. Nodal from entering the fire scene. Lapel video showed that although Ms. Nodal was using profanity towards Officer W., Officer W. stated "You're going in handcuffs if you don't knock your shit off". Officer W. then stated "If I let you go are you going to knock your shit off"? After Officer W. placed Ms. Nodal in handcuffs and placed her in the backseat of the police vehicle Officer W. asked Ms. Nodal about her dog. Ms. Nodal once again used profanity towards Officer W., at which time Officer W. responded with "okay, I won't tell them about your dog, that's fine".

Letter to Ms. Nodal

The CPOA find Officer W.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged misconduct did occur.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-4 (P) regarding Officer W.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall not use coarse, violent, profane or insolent language or gestures.

Ms. Nodal wrote in her complaint that Officer W. cursed at her during the incident including telling Ms. Nodal she was being an asshole.

Officer W., during the incident did use profanity in her speech in an attempt to use verbal control over Ms. Nodal. The lapel video did not show Officer W. stating Ms. Nodal was "being an asshole", however Officer W. did use profanity.

The CPOA find Officer W.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged misconduct did occur.

C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-52-3 (A) regarding Officer W.'s conduct, which states:

Officers may use force when objectively reasonable based on the totality of the circumstances. The objectives for which force may be appropriate include:

- To effect a lawful arrest or detention of a person
- To gain control of a combative prisoner
- To defend an officer or member of the public from the physical acts of another

Ms. Nodal wrote in her complaint that Officer W. apprehended her, choked her, slammed her up against Officer W.'s vehicle and threw her in the backseat. Ms. Nodal stated the handcuffs were placed so tight that it caused Ms. Nodal's fingers to stay numb for days.

The investigation and lapel video showed Ms. Nodal was not choked or slammed up against the car by Officer W.. The lapel video showed Officer W. chasing down Ms. Nodal as she tried to run into the scene of a structure fire. Ms. Nodal was continually cursing and broke free, resisting Officer W.'s attempts to keep her safe. At one point, Ms. Nodal assaults Officer W. by reaching up and pushing her in the chest. Ms. Nodal's husband also intervenes and is the person who grabs Ms. Nodal by the waist and head, pushing her into Officer W.'s vehicle.

M006505

Letter to Ms. Nodal

Officer W. does detain Ms. Nodal for her safety and places her in the back of the police vehicle. Officer W. does not throw Ms. Nodal in the back of the car as Ms. Nodal stated in her complaint.

The CPOA find Officer W.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate APD policies, procedures or training.

D) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-39-1 (A) regarding Officer W.'s conduct, which states:

It will be the responsibility of the primary officer to ensure that the incident will be recorded in its entirety...

Lapel video of Officer W. shows the initial part of the incident in which Ms. Nodal describes in her complaint. However during review of Officer W.'s lapel video, the entire contact during the incident are not recorded.

The CPOA find Officer W.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED VIOLATION NOT BASED ON ORIGINAL COMPLAINT, where the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence, that misconduct did occur that was not alleged in the original complaint but that was discovered during the misconduct investigation.

Re: CPC # 054-15

Dear Mr. O'Malley:

The complaint you filed against Officer R. and Officer G. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on April 20, 2015, regarding an incident that occurred about two months ago.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. O'Malley wrote in his complaint that he felt that he was given a hard time by APD Officer R. and APD Officer G.. Mr. O'Malley alleged that both officers had teased him about having sex with a female APD officer. Mr. O'Malley is assigned a Detective with the Crisis Intervention Team to personally assist Mr. O'Malley and his interactions with APD.

II. INVESTIGATION BY THE CIVILIAN POLICE OVERSIGHT INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed Mr. O'Malley's complaint and researched the matter to obtain additional information about the incident. Before the Investigator could look further into the complaint, Mr. O'Malley called the Investigator on May 4, 2015, and requested to withdraw his complaint. Mr. O'Malley told the Investigator that the matter you complained of was not a big deal and that he knew that both officers were good officers. Mr. O'Malley told the Investigator that the officers had given him a little bit of a hard time when they teased him about the matter, but that at this point he just wanted to withdraw the complaint. The Investigator told Mr. O'Malley that the CPOA office would be willing to conduct an investigation into his complaint and speak with Officer R. and Officer G. about their actions. Mr. O'Malley stated that the investigation would not be necessary and that he just wanted to withdraw your complaint. The Investigator explained to Mr. O'Malley that the CPOA would re-open the matter in the future if Mr. O'Malley changed his mind.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

Mr. O'Malley's complaint contained an allegation of a minor policy violation by Officer R and Officer G. The CPOA Investigator explained to Mr. O'Malley that the office was willing to conduct a thorough investigation into the matter. Mr. O'Malley stated that he did not wish for that to happen and merely wanted to withdraw his complaint. The Acting Executive Director reviewed the complaint. Because the complaint only contained an allegation of a minor policy violation by Officer R and Officer G., and Mr. O'Malley requested to withdraw his complaint from being investigated any further, the CPOA will administratively close this matter. No further investigation will occur at this time. Should you encounter a similar situation in the future, or wish to report observed misconduct by APD personnel, please do not hesitate to file a complaint with the Agency in the future.

The complaint Michelle Evans filed against Officer G. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on April 21, 2015 regarding an incident that occurred on April 21, 2015. In her complaint, Ms. Evans provided her phone number, but failed to provide her email or mailing address.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Evans complained that on April 21, 2015, at approximately 3:45 PM, Officer G. was at Mountain Mahogany Community School when a football Ms. Evans' 10-year-old child and another child were playing with landed close to Officer G.'s children. Ms. Evans complained Officer G. stepped on the football and told the children he was a cop and to stop putting his children's lives in danger.

II. INVESTIGATION BY CPOA INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed Ms. Evans complaint. On May 1, 2015, while the CPOA Investigator was working towards a resolution, Ms. Evans contacted the CPOA office and asked to withdraw her complaint for personal reasons and said no further investigation would be necessary. The Investigator attempted to contact Ms. Evans with several phone calls to get Ms. Evans' address so the CPOA Office could email or mail her with the notification of the outcome of this case. After informing the Investigator that she wished to withdraw her complaint, Ms. Evans never returned any of the Investigator's phone calls. The Investigator's efforts through searching for Ms. Evans's address through the internet were also unsuccessful.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

Ms. Evan's indicated no further investigation into the matter was necessary and requested to withdraw her complaint, citing personal reasons. I am requesting that the Police Oversight Board inactivate this complaint and no further investigation occur.

Alicia Silva

████████████████████
Albuquerque, NM 87105

Re: CPC # 056-15

Dear Ms. Silva:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on April 22, 2015, for an incident, which occurred on March 31, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Alicia Silva wrote in her complaint on March 31, 2015, she filed a police report with Officer E.. Ms. Silva had called the police to report incidents of alleged child abuse against her ex-husband. Ms. Silva complained that when she obtained the police report, she noticed Officer E. omitted key details from the police report. Ms. Silva wrote one of the details was that her ex-husband struck her daughter in the back with a textbook he threw at her. The other was her ex-husband prevented her daughter from using her phone to call for help.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Silva. Ms. Silva repeated her written complaint. Ms. Silva wanted it documented that her ex-husband had thrown a book, which struck her daughter in the back. She also felt the fact her ex-husband denied her daughter the use of her phone to call for help was very important to be documented. In her opinion, Officer E. glossed over the "dangerous parts." She believed Officer E. should take her statement and not edit it to what he felt was important and what was not. Ms. Silva felt she expressed the importance of these details by providing Officer E. context about previous situations.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER E.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Computer-Aided Dispatch Report (CAD), Albuquerque Police Report, Officer E.'s lapel video, and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Ms. Silva and Officer E..

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure Order 2-24-3(F)(5) regarding Officer E.'s conduct, which states:

Steps to be followed in conducting preliminary investigations: 5. Report the incident fully and accurately.

Ms. Silva was upset because Officer E. excluded the two main points she wanted included in the police report. Ms. Silva understood that her ex-husband threw a book and their daughter, striking her in the back. Ms. Silva agreed she learned the book incident was more accidental than intentional, but she still felt Officer E. should have been notated it. Ms. Silva also understood her ex-husband prevented her daughter from calling for help by preventing her daughter from using her phone. Ms. Silva believed she informed Officer E. about the past where her ex-husband had already been counseled by CYFD over denying her children the ability to call for help. In Ms. Silva's opinion, Officer E. glossed over the "dangerous parts." Ms. Silva believed she gave Officer E. enough history to put the incident in context.

Officer E.'s lapel video showed Ms. Silva provided some history of her relationship with her ex-husband. Ms. Silva explained to Officer E. that she wanted a police report potentially to get a restraining order for her children. The video showed Ms. Silva said she believed her ex-husband committed criminal acts because he would not let anyone use the phone and hit their daughter with the book. Officer E. reviewed the required elements for potential charges. In order for assault or battery to be charged, Ms. Silva's daughter would have had to perceive a threat and she knew nothing about the book until her brother told her.

Officer E. did not include the alleged book-throwing or telephone incident Ms. Silva mentioned because they did not rise to the level of charges. Prior to writing his police report, Officer E. interviewed Ms. Silva's children, ages 15 and 13 years old, Mr. Silva and Ms. Silva. Officer E.'s understood that Mr. Silva took his daughter's phone, not to deny Ms. Silva's daughter to call for help, but to remove the distraction of the phone, as the phone had initiated to the argument between Mr. Silva and his daughter. After speaking with the children, Officer E. found that Mr. Silva's throwing of the book did not rise to a level of a crime. The 13 year-old son had told Officer E. that his father threw a book at his sister, but that the sister did not see the book or know that her father had thrown the book. In order to be a crime, the daughter would have had to been in fear of being hit with the book. Because the daughter did not know the book was thrown at her, an element of the crime was missing. Officer E. wrote in his report that he was forwarding his report to the Children, Youth, and Families Department (CYFD) for review. Officer E. also indicated in his report that he had recorded the interviews, including his phone interview with Mr. Silva. The lapel video would be available to CYFD staff to review for possible action.

Letter to Ms. Silva

Officer E. agreed if he had realized the importance of those two items to Ms. Silva, he would have included them, but it would not have changed the outcome of whether there was any probable cause to charge Mr. Silva with a crime.

The CPOA finds Officer E.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the alleged conduct did occur, but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Officer E.'s Internal Affairs personnel files.

You have the right to appeal this decision. Section 9-4-1-9(A) of the Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Re: CPC # 057-15

Dear Mr. Garner:

The complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on April 22, 2015 for an incident which occurred in 2008. Your complaint was assigned to Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator for review.

I. THE COMPLAINT

You complained that an Albuquerque Police Department Officer in 2008 refused to read you Miranda Rights, violently took you by force and conducted an illegal search. You stated the Officer took your license and searched your body. You stated when you asked the Officer to read you Miranda Rights, the Officer violently forced you into his car. You stated the Officer continued to let you know that he was on break and if you wanted it done the hard way, he could take you downtown.

You stated in your complaint that the Officer took you to UNM Hospital and that you were released because you had your own residency at the time. You stated you left Albuquerque out of fright for your own body and rights being taken advantage of in a sadistic way. You stated you fear the police and believe the police would like to take advantage of you. You wrote you feel physical and psychological aggression against you, if you returned to Albuquerque to visit your parents. You wrote you wanted all information on this Officer and wanted to know the integrity of his actions.

You wrote this Officer tossed you out of the car on the side of the road after protesting that you wanted your cell phone back. You stated the Officer was rude and offensive and found no report that this Officer took you for a ride.

M006514

II. INVESTIGATION BY CPOA INVESTIGATOR

A CPOA Investigator reviewed your complaint. The CPOA Investigator contacted the Albuquerque Police Department Records Division and had every police report, utilizing your name and address, pulled to determine the officer involved in this incident. The CPOA Investigator found no police reports were made in 2008 regarding you as you alleged.

The CPOA Investigator contacted you via telephone and scheduled an interview with you. On May 1, 2015, the CPOA Investigator interviewed you in person at the office of the CPOA Investigator. You reiterated what was in your complaint and stated you thought the alleged misconduct occurred in 2008. The CPOA Investigator reviewed each police report involving you, including APD # 12-0080317, 12-94344, 13-15985, 13-18473 and 14-94657. The CPOA Investigator confirmed that none of the police reports issued involving you were in correspond to the allegations in your complaint. The CPOA Investigator asked you if UNM Hospital may have some record as well and you stated UNM Hospital lost your records, too. The CPOA Investigator asked you if your mother, you listed as a witness, may be able to provide any further information and you stated she would not because she does not recollect the events indicating a specific officer.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

You made allegations for events which occurred in 2008. A review of all the available evidence showed that no Albuquerque Police Officer could be identified in reference to your complaint. The CPOA Investigator explained to you during the interview the steps taken to attempt to investigate your complaint; you agreed your complaint should be administratively closed due to the lack of evidence to determine which, if any, Albuquerque Police Officer was involved with you during 2008. Therefore, the CPOA finds that your case should be administratively closed, as no APD Officer can be identified.

Re: CPC #058-14

Dear Mr. Tutar:

The complaint you filed against Officer S. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on March 14, 2014 regarding an incident that occurred on January 14, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. Tutar wrote that on that he had walked into the Circle K store. Mr. Tutar wrote that he was issued a criminal trespass notification by Officer S. Mr. Tutar stated he attempted to explain to Officer S. that he had requested police presence. Mr. Tutar wrote he obtained a copy of the police report and Officer S. indicated in that report that the clerk from the Circle K called the police. Mr. Tutar wrote he explained to Officer S. that he was held inside the Circle K by the clerk, against his will. Mr. Tutar wrote that Officer S. informed Mr. Tutar that it was their right as the store to not let Mr. Tutar leave and that Officer S. was not going to take legal action against the store. Mr. Tutar stated the clerk at the store admitted to Officer S. that he did lock the door and keep Mr. Tutar inside. Mr. Tutar felt the Officer should have taken legal action against Circle K for holding Mr. Tutar against his will.

M006516

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER L.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, the Criminal Trespass notification and Albuquerque Police Report and interviews with Mr. Tutar and Officer S.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-02-2 (B) (1) regarding Officer S.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the Ordinances of the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce. Officer shall:

1. Take appropriate action and render assistance in any instance coming to their attention whether on or off duty.

Mr. Tutar complained that he was locked inside the Circle K store by the clerk. Mr. Tutar complained that he wanted to have Officer S. file charges against the clerk for false imprisonment. When Mr. Tutar arrived on January 14, 2014, he was once again told he should not be in the store. When Mr. Tutar began to argue with the clerk and refused to leave, the clerk contacted the Albuquerque Police to issue a criminal trespass and locked the door on Mr. Tutar to await police arrival. The investigation revealed that Mr. Tutar was locked in the store due to previously being told by management not to return to that location.

Mr. Tutar did exit the store prior to police arrival on scene and waited on the property. Officer S. arrived and made contact with the clerk and Mr. Tutar. Mr. Tutar was issued a criminal trespass notification, which he signed. Mr. Tutar informed Officer S. that he wanted criminal charges brought against the clerk for locking him in the store against his will.

Officer S.'s interview showed it had only been a few minutes that Mr. Tutar was locked in and then exited. The CAD Report supports this fact due to the initial call to dispatch being received at 7:28pm and Officer S. arriving on scene at 7:35pm. Mr. Tutar admitted he was outside waiting for police to arrive and there was only an elapsed time of 7 minutes between the call and Officer S.'s arrival. Officer S. determined he did not feel the store clerk was conducting any criminal behavior and was only attempting to detain Mr. Tutar until police could arrive. As a sworn Albuquerque Police Officer, Officer S. was faced with a situation where discretion can be exercised. Officer S. evaluated the circumstances, considered the available resources and relied on his training in making an appropriate decision.

The CPOA find Officer S.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate APD policies, procedures or training.

Letter to Mr. Tutar

Re: CPC #058-15

Dear Mr. Rojas:

The complaint you filed against Officer B., and Sergeant C., of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on April 23, 2015 regarding an incident that occurred on October 31, 2013. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Miguel Rojas wrote in his complaint that on October 31, 2013 at around 3:00 AM, he was headed East on Central when he noticed a vehicle behind him with no lights on. Mr. Rojas stated that he turned and the vehicle followed him. He made a few more turns and then the following vehicle's emergency lights came on. Mr. Rojas realized the following vehicle was a police car. Mr. Rojas stopped and had contact with APD Officer B.. Mr. Rojas said that Officer B. accused him of speeding and almost causing a "big accident", none of which was true. Officer B., a DWI officer, asked Mr. Rojas if he had been drinking and Mr. Rojas did not answer. APD Sergeant C. was called to the scene. Mr. Rojas alleged that the officers violated his civil rights. According to Mr. Rojas, when he questioned Officer B. about his driving his police car with no headlights on, Officer B. did not want to hear it. Mr. Rojas wrote that Sergeant C. was nice at first but then threatened Mr. Rojas with bodily harm, if he didn't comply in getting out of the car. Mr. Rojas got out of the car and Officer B. continued his DWI investigation. Mr. Rojas asked for a higher ranking officer than Sergeant C. to come to the scene but his request was refused. Mr. Rojas then decided not to comply with any of the requests made by Officer B. and Sergeant C. related to the DWI investigation. Mr. Rojas wrote that he would have never had to make so many turns if Officer B. had not been following him with his lights off.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER B.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, the Albuquerque Police Department Reports in the case, The Computer Assisted Dispatch (CADS) Reports, a review of Court Records, an interview with Mr. Rojas, and interviews with Officer B., and Sergeant C.. Both officer's lapel video recordings of the incident were also reviewed.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-02-2-B 2 regarding Officer B.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce. Officers shall make only those arrests, searches, and seizures which they know or should know are legal and in accordance with departmental procedures.

Mr. Rojas said that Officer B. accused him of speeding and almost causing a "big accident", none of which was true. Mr. Rojas alleged that the officers violated his civil rights. When Mr. Rojas questioned Officer B. about his driving his police car with no headlights on, Officer B. did not want to hear it. Mr. Rojas felt that Officer B. had no business stopping him, especially because Officer B. had his headlights off at the time. Furthermore, Mr. Rojas said that he was only driving the way he was because he thought he was being followed by someone with their headlights off and he was simply trying to get out of the way of that car.

Mr. Rojas was represented by a lawyer throughout the criminal proceedings. Mr. Rojas said that at each stage of the proceedings, his lawyer raised these same issues with the Court. Metro Court Judge Linda Rogers granted a motion to suppress the evidence in the case and found that there was no probable cause to make the arrest. The District Attorney then dismissed the case in Metro Court but refiled it in District Court. There, another Judge overturned Judge Rogers ruling finding Mr. Rojas to not be credible. That District Court Judge that there was reasonable suspicion and probable cause for the arrest and Mr. Rojas would have to stand trial on the charges. Mr. Rojas stood trial before another District Court Judge and a Jury and Mr. Rojas was convicted, beyond all reasonable doubt, of the crimes charged.

Mr. Rojas said that he could not tell who was behind him with their headlights off. The evidence suggests that he could. The area between First Street and Second Street on Central is extremely well lit at night. Furthermore, since Officer B.'s headlights were off, there would have been no headlight glare in Mr. Rojas's rearview mirror, so he would have been able to clearly see that the car behind him was a police car.

Letter to Mr. Rojas

Based on a preponderance of the evidence and based on the District Court ruling and Jury Conviction, the stop and arrest were legal and in accordance with department procedure. There was no civil rights violation.

The CPOA finds Officer B.'s conduct to be EXONERATED, as the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-1 F regarding Officer B.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Rojas said that Officer B. lied consistently throughout the incident and throughout the Court proceedings. When asked specifically what Officer B. lied about, Mr. Rojas said that the near accident did not happen and that he was not speeding or driving carelessly. Mr. Rojas said that anyone with commonsense could see that Officer B. lied.

The officer's lapel videos were reviewed. The lapel videos showed that Officer B. asked Mr. Rojas why he was driving around the block in the manner that he was and Mr. Rojas said that he was just looking for a friend. Mr. Rojas, at the scene, never told Officer B. that he was trying to get out of the way of a vehicle that was following him with no headlights. While the video did show that Mr. Rojas denied speeding or almost causing an accident, Officer B. maintained that Mr. Rojas did. A Jury found that Mr. Rojas committed the violations.

The lapel video also showed that Officer B. was polite, professional, and restrained in dealing with an uncooperative Mr. Rojas.

Mr. Rojas was unable to provide, and the investigation was unable to come up with, any proof that Officer B. lied.

The CPOA finds Officer B.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED, as the investigation determined by clear and convincing evidence that the alleged misconduct did not occur.

C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-19-2 J 3 regarding Officer B.'s conduct, which states:

All employees assigned an APD vehicle will exercise good judgement in utilizing it, and will not drive or use the vehicle so as to cause unfavorable comment, or reflect discredit on the department.

Letter to Mr. Rojas

Mr. Rojas claimed that Officer B. was operating his vehicle at night without headlights and because of that, the traffic stop was illegal. Officer B. wrote in his police report, over one and a half years ago, that somehow his headlights did get turned off and were turned off at the time of the traffic stop. That did not make the stop illegal. Furthermore, New Mexico State Law 66-7-6, allows for police officers in an authorized emergency vehicle, while in pursuit of a suspected violator, to be exempt from provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code. There is no proof that Officer B. intentionally turned off his headlights, but even if he did, he was actively engaged in pursuing Mr. Rojas, a suspected violator of the law. Officer B.'s actions were lawful.

The CPOA finds Officer B.'s conduct to be EXONERATED, as the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING SERGEANT C.'S CONDUCT

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-1 F regarding Sergeant C.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Rojas wrote that Sergeant C. was nice at first but then threatened Mr. Rojas with bodily harm, if he didn't comply in getting out of the car. Mr. Rojas asked for a higher ranking officer than Sergeant C. to come to the scene but his request was refused.

Sergeant C. was the ranking officer on scene. There is no Standard Operating Procedure that requires a Sergeant to call a higher ranking officer to the scene if requested by a person who has been detained during a traffic stop. Sergeant C. was called to the scene to deal with an argumentative and uncooperative Mr. Rojas.

Sergeant C.'s lapel video was reviewed. Sergeant C. was polite, professional, and restrained in his dealings with Mr. Rojas. The lapel video showed that Mr. Rojas was never threatened with bodily harm by either officer. The lapel video showed that after several minutes of Mr. Rojas refusing to get out of the car, Sergeant C. said, "The next step is we are going to extract you out of the car. I don't want it to come to that. I've asked you how many times to get out of the car?" The video showed Mr. Rojas did get out of the car after that statement was made. There was no threat of bodily harm to Mr. Rojas.

The CPOA finds Sergeant C.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED, as the investigation determined by clear and convincing evidence that the alleged misconduct did not occur.

Re: CPC # 059-15

Dear Ms. Powell:

The complaint you filed against an unidentified employee of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on April 28, 2015, regarding an incident which occurred on April 28, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Powell complained that on April 28, 2015 between 10:00 am and noon, she called the APD Northeast (NE) area substation to inquire about the process of obtaining a police report. Ms. Powell stated that the female APD employee who answered the phone was rude. Ms. Powell said she had no idea how to get the report and would have appreciated a little courtesy.

II. INVESTIGATION BY INDEPENDENT REVIEW INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed Ms. Powell's complaint and researched the matter so that the Agency could obtain more information about the incident. The Investigator spoke with the NE area Commander, Commander R., and the identity of the individual APD NE substation employee in question could not be determined.

The CPOA Investigator spoke with Ms. Powell on the phone on May 19, 2015. Ms. Powell explained she eventually obtained the information she needed but thought the employee should have been more cordial. Ms. Powell wanted to advise the employee's supervisor of her behavior and lack of customer service. Ms. Powell agreed that she would be satisfied to have this complaint handled informally by the supervisor rather than having it investigated formally. The CPOA Investigator said she would contact a supervisor at the NE area substation to speak with all the employees at the NE substation who answer the phone and reiterate the importance of providing good customer service. The CPOA Investigator explained the NE area substation supervisor would contact Ms. Powell so that she could discuss her concerns directly with the Supervisor.

On May 19, 2015, the CPOA Investigator received notification from Commander R. stating he contacted Ms. Powell and discussed her complaint with her. Commander R. explained to Ms. Powell that he would speak with all the front office personnel about their need to be courteous and professional with everyone, including members of the public. Commander Remiker said Ms. Powell was upset we were making a big issue out of her complaint and said she did not want to pursue it formally.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

This complaint was handled informally in a successful manner. It was sent to the NE area Commander for review and action. Commander Remiker discussed Ms. Powell's concerns with the front office staff. Ms. Powell's complaint was informally resolved. Therefore, the CPOA will administratively close this complaint and no further investigation by our office will occur.

Ms. Leslie Carrillo

Albuquerque, NM 87108

Re: CPC #060-14

Dear Ms. Carrillo:

The complaint you filed against Detective S., Detective L., and Detective P., of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on March 20, 2014 regarding an incident that occurred on March 13, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Leslie Carrillo and Chris Carrillo filed separate complaints over the same incident. Ms. Carrillo complained that on March 13, 2015 at about 10:30 AM, members of the Albuquerque Police Department served a search warrant at her home. Ms. Carrillo owns Carrillo Signs. Their sign shop is located on the same premises as their home and their home is attached to the shop and the home is used to conduct business and maintain business records. Ms. Carrillo responded to the knocking at the door and when she opened the door she was pulled out very roughly by her arm and was handcuffed by Detective L.. Ms. Carrillo alleged that Detective P. yelled at Ms. Carrillo in a rude manner, "Your house is disgusting." Ms. Carrillo stated that she repeatedly asked to see the Search Warrant but none of the officers would show it to her. Ms. Carrillo wrote in her complaint that the Detective who was handling the case, Detective S., questioned her about recent contract with a man named Neal Greenbaum.

M006526

Ms. Carrillo told Detective S. that Mr. Greenbaum had recently breached a contract with them for some work that he was having done on a sign. Ms. Carrillo believed that anything that occurred between her company and Mr. Greenbaum was a civil matter. Ms. Carrillo later learned that she was accused of forging a sign permit. Ms. Carrillo alleged that Detective S. obtained a Search Warrant for Carrillo's Signs and Carrillo's Signs does not own the property or their house. She wrote that she and her husband own the house. Ms. Carrillo said that Detective S. only had arrest warrants for her and Mr. Carrillo and that Detective S. did not have a search warrant for their house. She complained that the search of their home was not proper or authorized. Cash was seized from Ms. Carrillo and that impacted her by her gas being turned off, and not being able to buy food for herself, or her dogs. Ms. Carrillo went on to allege that Detective S. contacted the media and since then they have been unable to work within the City of Albuquerque because they cannot get permits to do the work. Ms. Carrillo believed that Detective S. and Mr. Greenbaum had some kind of relationship and that was why Detective S. did what he did. She said that APD has no jurisdiction to investigate a forged sign permit and she demanded that any charges against her be dropped.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING DETECTIVE S.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, the Albuquerque Police Department Reports in the case, The Computer Assisted Dispatch (CADS) Reports, lapel camera video, an interview with Ms. Carrillo, and interviews with Detective S., Detective L., and Detective P.. The Affidavit for a Search Warrant, the Search Warrant, the Return and Inventory, the alleged forged permit, and the Affidavits for Arrest and Arrest warrants were reviewed.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-02-2 B 2 regarding Detective S.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce. Officers shall make only those arrests, searches, and seizures which they know or should know are legal and in accordance with departmental procedures.

Ms. Carrillo alleged that Detective S. obtained a Search Warrant for Carrillo's Signs and Carrillo's Signs does not own the property or their house. She wrote that she and her husband own the house. Ms. Carrillo said that Detective S. only had arrest warrants for her and Mr. Carrillo and that Detective S. did not have a search warrant for their house. She complained that the search of their home was not proper or authorized. Cash was seized from Ms. Carrillo and that impacted her by her gas being turned off, and not being able to buy food for herself, or her dogs.

The investigation showed that Detective S. had a valid Search Warrant for the premises in which Carrillo's Signs is located. The investigation showed that Mr. and Mrs. Carrillo run their business out of their home located on the same property. Furthermore, the home is attached to the workshop where the signs are made. A Judge found that probable cause existed and the Judge authorized the search of the premises. The search of the home was proper and authorized. The investigation showed that the cash that was seized was returned only days later and that one of the detectives who was at the scene bought a large bag of dog food and left that behind so that the dogs would have food to eat.

Letter to Ms. Carrillo

The CPOA finds Detective S.'s conduct to be EXONERATED, as the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate any APD policies, procedures, or training.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-1 F regarding Detective S.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Carrillo went on to allege that Detective S. contacted the media and since then they have been unable to work within the City of Albuquerque because they cannot get permits to do the work.

There was no proof that Detective S. ever contacted the Media about this incident. The evidence suggested that the Media picked up on this incident from reviewing the affidavits and the warrants that are public record and filed in court. The media routinely examines documents filed by officers in court. No evidence was found during the investigation that could prove that Detective S. or any other Detective for that matter contacted the media. On the news reports that were reviewed no APD sources were interviewed or commented on the story.

Ms. Carrillo also alleged that she repeatedly asked to see the Search Warrant and the officers denied showing it to her. All of the lapel camera footage was reviewed and of the Detectives interviewed, all said that Ms. Carrillo never asked to see a copy of the Warrant. One detective said that Ms. Carrillo asked repeatedly what was going on and he told her but there is no evidence to support that Ms. Carrillo asked to see the Search Warrant repeatedly as she alleged.

The CPOA finds Detective S.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED, as the investigation determined by clear and convincing evidence that the alleged misconduct did not occur or did not involve the subject officer.

C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-4 N regarding Detective S.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel will not act officiously or permit personal feelings, animosities, or friendship to influence their decisions.

M006528

Letter to Ms. Carrillo

DATE

Ms. Carrillo believed that Detective S. and Mr. Greenbaum had some kind of relationship and that was why Detective S. did what he did.

The investigation revealed that Detective S. had no personal relationship with the original complainant, Neal Greenbaum, as Ms. Carrillo alleged. Mr. Greenbaum also denied any personal relationship with Detective S.s. There was no proof that was offered by Ms. Carrillo to support her claim. The investigation revealed that Mr. Greenbaum contacted Detective S. because he believed that Mr. and Mrs. Carrillo had forged a City of Albuquerque work permit and that Mr. Greenbaum had been a victim of fraud by the Carrillos. Detective S. was assigned to the White Collar Crimes Unit when contacted by Mr. Greenbaum and Detective S. conducted the investigation because he was authorized to do so both by law and by his assignment to investigate the very crimes that Mr. and Mrs. Carrillo were accused of committing.

The CPOA finds Detective S.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED, as the investigation determined by clear and convincing evidence that the alleged misconduct did not occur or did not involve the subject officer.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING DETECTIVE L.'S CONDUCT

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-52-3 A regarding Detective L.'s conduct, which states:

Officers may use force when objectively reasonable based on a totality of the circumstances. The objectives for which force may be appropriate include: To effect the lawful arrest or detention of a person.

Ms. Carrillo alleged that when she opened the door she was pulled out very roughly by her arm and was handcuffed by Detective L..

The lapel camera footage of the initial contact and entry to the premises was reviewed. The lapel camera footage showed that Ms. Carrillo was not pulled out roughly but that she was merely escorted from where she was standing by Detective L.. There was no use of force in effecting the arrest of Ms. Carrillo.

The CPOA finds Detective L.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED, as the investigation determined by clear and convincing evidence that the alleged misconduct did not occur or did not involve the subject officer.

IV. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING DETECTIVE P.'S CONDUCT

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-1 F regarding Detective P.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Carrillo alleged that Detective P. came out of the Carrillo home and rudely yelled at Ms. Carrillo that her house was disgusting

The investigation and the lapel videos taken upon entering the house showed that the house was filthy and that there was dog feces and urine throughout the Carrillo home. There were piles of clothes, a soiled mattress, exposed wires and the house reeked of urine. The investigation showed that Detective P. stepped in a pile of dog feces when she exited the home and that when she went outside and was cleaning her shoes, she said loudly that the house was disgusting. She did not direct that comment at Ms. Carrillo but Ms. Carrillo was close enough to Detective P. that she heard the comment. The evidence showed that the house was filthy. The Detective's proclamation that it does not violate policy of procedure.

The CPOA finds Detective P.'s conduct to be EXONERATED, as the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate any APD policies, procedures, or training.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Detective S.'s, Detective L.'s, and Detective P.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Re: CPC # 060-15

Dear Mr. Niemyjski:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on May 1, 2015, for an incident, which occurred on April 29, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The Acting Executive Director made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. Niemyjski wrote Officer C. approached him and blocked his way. Mr. Niemyjski wrote Officer C. asked him why he was there. Mr. Niemyjski alleged that Officer C. told him not to come back or he would be arrested. Mr. Niemyjski wrote he asked Officer C. to move his car so that he could leave. Mr. Niemyjski wrote he asked for Officer C.'s name and badge number. Mr. Niemyjski alleged that Officer C. said his name was "Josh" and that was all he needed to know. Mr. Niemyjski wrote he had a right to be there.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Mr. Niemyjski. Mr. Niemyjski restated stated Officer C. confronted him in the parking lot of the old Baptist Church. Mr. Niemyjski stated Officer C. was confrontational and said not to lie to him. Mr. Niemyjski stated he had a right to be there and was insulted by the implication he would lie. Mr. Niemyjski told Officer C. to move his car, which irritated Officer C.. Officer C. told him not to come back. Mr. Niemyjski stated he asked Officer C. his name and Officer C. told him his name was "Josh" and he would not provide any further information.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER C.'S CONDUCT

The CPOA Acting Executive Director reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Computer-Aided Dispatch Report (CAD), and the CPOA Investigator's interviews of Mr. Niemyjski, Officer C., and Delaney Woodward, the Mayor's Policy and Program Advisor.

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-02-2(B)(2) regarding Officer C.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall familiarize themselves with and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the Ordinances of the City of Albuquerque, which they are required to enforce. Officers shall 2. Make only those arrests, searches, and seizures, which they know or should know, are legal and in accordance with departmental procedures.

Mr. Niemyjski stated he went to a presentation by Mayor Berry. Mr. Niemyjski claimed he did not bother anyone, but city employees were not happy to see him at the event. Officer C. confronted him and parked his unmarked car behind him. Mr. Niemyjski told Officer C. he had a right to be there. Officer C. had no business approaching him.

Ms. Woodward stated she called Officer C. to escort Mr. Niemyjski from the property. Mr. Niemyjski was being disruptive and the event was only for APS students. Ms. Woodward wanted to make sure the environment was safe for the children. Mr. Niemyjski agreed Officer C. did not block his vehicle in and he could have left. Mr. Niemyjski agreed Officer C. did not prevent him from leaving. Even if the contact was not consensual, Officer C. had a legitimate law enforcement concern to contact Mr. Niemyjski.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer C. was UNFOUNDED, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1(F) regarding Officer C.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Niemyjski stated Officer C.'s behavior was confrontational. Officer C. told him not to lie. Officer C.'s assumption he would be untruthful irritated him. Officer C. threatened if he

M006533

Letter to Mr. Niemyjski

DATE

returned he would be arrested. Officer C. became angry when Mr. Niemyjski told him to move his car. Officer C.'s manner was confrontational and authoritarian, which only escalated things.

There was no recording as Officer C. is assigned to a special detail that does not have lapel cameras as part of their equipment. Mr. Niemyjski said Officer C. was confrontational and Officer C. denied it.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer C. was NOT SUSTAINED, which means the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

(C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-02-3A regarding Officer C.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall cordially furnish their name and employee number to any person requesting such information when they are on duty or while acting in an official capacity except (exceptions did not apply in this case).

Mr. Niemyjski asked Officer C. for his name and badge number. Mr. Niemyjski claimed Officer C. refused to provide the information and then said all Mr. Niemyjski needed to know was that his first name was "Josh." He had a difficult time figuring out the full name of the officer.

Mr. Niemyjski said Officer C. would not provide the requested information and then provided misleading information. Officer C. denied the allegation. There was no recording, as Officer C. does not have an assigned lapel camera.

The CPOA finds the allegation of a violation of this SOP against Officer C. was NOT SUSTAINED, which means the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Officer C.'s Internal Affairs personnel file.

You have the right to appeal this decision. Section 9-4-1-9(A) of the Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re: CPC #061-15

Dear Mrs. Stephens:

The complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on May 4, 2015 regarding an alleged incident that occurred on May 4, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA investigated your complaint. The CPOA made a finding, based on the information you provided, of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Margaret Stephens wrote that while driving on San Antonio Blvd. at approximately 10:45 am, she observed a marked Albuquerque Police Department Vehicle pass her. Mrs. Stephens wrote she attempted to catch up to the officer but there was no point. Mrs. Stephens wrote the officer was doing 50 miles per hour.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING APD'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS) and the Citizen Police Complaint.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-19-2 (J) (3) regarding Officer R.'s conduct, which states:

Letter to Mrs. Stephens

All employees assigned an APD vehicle will exercise good judgment in utilizing it, and will not drive or use the vehicle so as to cause unfavorable comment, or reflect discredit on the Department. When practical all employees will not use their radio or MDT while operating an APD vehicle.

The CPOA Investigator reviewed the information Mrs. Stephens submitted, which included the APD vehicle number. The Investigator was able to determine Officer R. was driving the APD vehicle on the date and time Mrs. Stephens wrote about. The Investigator conducted a preliminary investigation into the unit history of Officer R. for May 4, 2015 at approximately 10:45am as Mrs. Stephens stated in her complaint. The Computer Aided Dispatch Report (CAD) showed Officer R. was responding to an auto burglary in progress during the time Mrs. Stephens observed the vehicle.

The Investigator spoke with Mrs. Stephens on July 28, 2015. The Investigator informed Mrs. Stephens of the findings in his preliminary investigation. Mrs. Stephens stated she was satisfied with the investigation and would like the complaint closed.

The CPOA has made the decision to ADMINISTRATIVELY CLOSE your complaint, due to no Albuquerque Police Standard Operating Procedures being violated and after discussing the matter with the Investigator, Mrs. Stephens agreed and was thankful for the research.

Administratively closed complaints may be re-opened if additional information becomes available. Please contact the CPOA in regards to your Civilian Police Complaint if you can provide further details and wish to have the complaint re-opened.

If you have a computer available, we would greatly appreciate your completing our client survey form at <http://www.cabq.gov/iro/survey> .

Jacob Zamora

Albuquerque, NM 87105

Re: CPC #063-14

Dear Mr. Zamora:

The complaint you filed against Officer D. the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on March 21, 2014 regarding an incident that occurred on March 10, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator and a contract independent investigator were assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Jacob Zamora, a loss prevention manager at a Kmart store, complained that Officer D. failed to file a criminal summons on Deidra Fredericks, a shoplifter in his Kmart. The contract investigator contacted various K-mart security, used public data bases, and sent an email to the email address listed in the complaint, in order to attempt to locate Mr. Zamora, but was unable to locate Mr. Zamora for any follow up information.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER B.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures

Letter to Mr. Zamora

DATE

Page 2

(SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, the Albuquerque Police Department Report in the case, an interview with Officer D. and APD Records Employee F..

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-02-2-B 1 regarding Officer B.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall take appropriate action in any instance coming to their attention.

Mr. Zamora alleged that Officer D. failed to file a criminal summons for a shoplifter at his store. The contract investigator reviewed police report 14-0681-061 written by Officer D. In his report he indicated he issued a criminal summons.

The contract investigator contacted APD Records supervisor, Employee F.. Employee F. said APD does not have a tracking system for the summons, and that infrequently the public safety aides drop off summons to the wrong department within APD and they are misplaced. Employee F. explained that the summons are not entered into a data base at APD, so there is no tracking system to prove or disprove whether Officer D. entered the summons paperwork.

The contract investigator contacted Officer D.. Officer D. recalled the shoplifting incident in March of 2014. He recalled issuing a criminal summons to Donna Fredericks, the shoplifter. Officer D. said his protocol is to turn in all criminal summons paperwork in the substation and he doesn't know the process for the paperwork arriving in APD Records Metropolitan Court liaison unit. He recalled that in the past criminal summons he has issued have been lost and he refiled them. He noted that had he been called he would have refiled the charges.

The CPOA finds Officer B.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED, as the investigation was unable to determine by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged conduct occurred.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer D.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Albuquerque, NM 87109

Re: CPC #063-15

Dear Ms. Anderson:

The complaint you filed against Officer C. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on May 6, 2015, for an incident which occurred March 14, 2013. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Anderson said that on March 14, 2013, Officer C. and other APD Officers responded to her residence. Ms. Anderson was subsequently arrested. Ms. Anderson said that APD collected a brown backpack as evidence pursuant to her arrest. Ms. Anderson complained that according to Officer C.'s report her brown backpack was collected, tagged and booked into APD Property and Evidence. However, when Ms. Anderson's attorney went to retrieve the backpack it was not in APD Property and Evidence. Ms. Anderson alleged the backpack was stolen.

Letter to Ms. Anderson

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER C.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, Officer's reports and interviews with the Complainant and Officer C..

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-08-2 (A)(1) regarding Officer C.'s conduct, which states:

A. Evidence/Property/Found Item Accountability

- 1. Officers collecting evidence, property, or found items are responsible for the custody of these items until they have been turned into the Evidence Room or substation using the Officer Input Module (OIM) evidence accounting tracking system. A supervisor's signature and completed log sheet is required to authorize the use of hard copy evidence tags for exigent/unusual circumstances like OIM system outages.

A review of the report written by Officer C. showed Officer C. wrote that he had tagged the backpack into evidence along with a metal baseball bat, a hammer, a flashlight and a pair of gloves. ON May 29, 2015, the CPOA Investigator contacted APD Evidence Division. Evidence staff indicated that work gloves, a flashlight, a metal baseball bat, and a hammer were checked into evidence in this case. All of these items were returned to Ms. Anderson. There was no record that a backpack was checked into evidence in this case.

Field Investigator O.'s report indicated that Officer C.'s Field Training Officer R. advised Field Investigator O. that Officer R. would collect the backpack and bat. The interview with Officer C. revealed Officer C. could not recall the events from more than two years ago about who collected the backpack and other items, and/or if anyone booked the backpack into APD Property and Evidence. The interview with Officer C. revealed that Officer C. was in his second week of training with Officer R. who dictated what Officer C. wrote in his report. Additionally, as an Field Training Officer, Officer R. was responsible for ensuring those actions took place and was accountable for Officer C.'s actions or inactions, as it were. Officer R. is no longer an APD employee and therefore, was not targeted in this investigation. Had Officer R. still been with APD, she would have investigated and would have been held accountable for Officer C.'s actions according to Standard Operating Procedure 3-18-2 (D) Supervisor's Duties and Responsibilities.

The CPOA finds Officer C.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, because the investigation was unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-39-1 (A), and Department Special Order 12-26, which state:

M006544

Letter to Ms. Anderson

1-39-1 USE OF TAPE/DIGITAL RECORDERS

[6] A. Personnel will use issued tape/digital recorders to document the incidents listed below.

It will be the responsibility of the primary officer to ensure that the incident will be recorded in its entirety. If at any time the primary and secondary officer(s) should become separated, it will be the responsibility of the secondary officer(s) to record all their contact and/or actions during that incident. In such incidents where the primary officer tags a recording and secondary officer(s) also have a recording: all recordings will be tagged into evidence. If the primary officer tags a complete recording or there is an outside source recording tagged into evidence and no secondary recording exist; this shall serve as meeting the requirements for this section.

DEPARTMENT SPECIAL ORDER 12-26

Effective immediately, all sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a dispatched call for service, arrest warrant, search warrant or traffic stop. The recordings will be saved for no less than 120 days. Personnel will refer to the instructional video on PowerDMS for storing instructions. Failure to record a contact under the listed specifications may result in discipline.

The interview with Officer C. and reports written by Officer C. and OFFICER R. revealed Officer C.'s lapel camera fell off of his shirt as he sprinted towards Ms. Anderson who was swinging a metal baseball bat at her neighbor. After Officer C.'s lapel camera fell to the ground, OFFICER R. drove over the camera with her vehicle as she followed Officer C. As a result, Officer C. did not have lapel video of the incident due to Officer R. destroying the lapel video in an effort to assist Officer C.. Officer C. indicated the events surrounding the lapel camera in his police report as required.

The CPOA finds Officer C.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged misconduct did occur but did not violate APD policies, procedures or training.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer C.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Please promptly communicate your desire to appeal in a signed writing to the undersigned. Include your CPC number.

Re: CPC # 065-13

Dear Mr. Rupp:

The complaint you filed against Officer W. was received in our office on April 10, 2013, regarding an incident that occurred on April 10, 2013.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. Rupp complained that on April 10, 2013, a police officer cut him off on the freeway just before the I-40 exit, nearly causing an accident. Mr. Rupp stated that he had to swerve into another lane to avoid hitting the officer. Mr. Rupp stated that it is a police officer's responsibility to drive like a reasonable adult and not cause accidents.

II. INVESTIGATION BY INDEPENDENT REVIEW INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) employee was assigned to follow up on this case. The Investigator reviewed Mr. Rupp's complaint and researched the matter so that we could obtain more information about the incident. The original CPOA investigator indicated that Officer W.'s supervisor spoke to and counseled Officer W. about his driving behavior and that the complaint was resolved informally in a satisfactory manner.

In April 2015, the CPOA employee assigned to follow up on this matter attempted to contact Mr. Rupp at the provided phone number and email address with no success. The CPOA employee learned that Officer W. is no longer an Albuquerque Police Department officer.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

Because Officer W. is no longer an APD employee, the CPOA lacks jurisdiction to further investigate this complaint, which appears to have been handled informally some time ago. Further, the CPOA was unable to contact Mr. Rupp to follow up on the complaint. Therefore, the CPOA will administratively close this complaint and no further investigation by our office will occur.

Albuquerque, NM 87120

Re: CPC # 065-15

Dear Ms. Orozco:

The Complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on May 8, 2015, for an incident, which occurred on March 26, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the officer involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Ms. Orozco wrote Ms. Hernandez attacked her and injured her. Ms. Orozco wrote Officer M. was impatient and pressured her to speak louder, but she could not due to her injuries. Ms. Orozco wanted to press charges against Ms. Hernandez. Ms. Orozco wrote Officer M. did not try to understand the situation based on the police report. Ms. Orozco wrote Officer M. was racist thinking that she could not speak English.

The CPOA Investigator interviewed Ms. Orozco. Ms. Orozco repeated that Officer M. was impatient with her and did not listen to her. Ms. Orozco stated Officer M. became irritated with her because her injuries prevented her from speaking loudly. Ms. Orozco stated Officer M. was racists because Officer M. assumed her inability to speak was due to a language barrier. Ms. Orozco stated Officer M. did not pay attention to her. Ms. Orozco accused Officer M. of being very rude. Ms. Orozco stated the report was inaccurate.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER M.'S CONDUCT

The investigation included review of the Complaint, SOPs, Computer-Aided Dispatch Report (CAD), the Police Report, Officer M.'s lapel video, Officer C.'s lapel video, Sgt. D.'s lapel video and interviews of Elsa Orozco, Adriel Orozco, and Officer M..

(A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedural Order 2-24-3F1-2, 4-5 regarding Officer M.'s conduct, which states:

Steps to be followed in conducting preliminary investigations: 1. Observe all conditions, events, and remarks. 2. Locate, identify, and interview witnesses, victims, and suspect(s). 4. Effect the arrest of the suspect. 5. Report the incident fully and accurately.

Ms. Orozco stated Officer M. did not give her the opportunity to explain everything fully. Ms. Orozco stated Officer M. did not listen to her or pay attention to her. Ms. Orozco felt if Officer M. had listened to her Officer M. would have found Ms. Hernandez at fault. Ms. Orozco said there were untrue statements in the police report. Ms. Orozco stated Ms. Hernandez deserved to be punished. Ms. Orozco stated Officer M. was supposed to come to her house to get a better statement, but never did. Mr. Orozco also stated Officer M. did not allow his mother to explain things fully. Mr. Orozco stated Officer M. should have understood his mother's injuries prevented his mother from giving a proper statement. Mr. Orozco stated Officer M.'s report was inaccurate because Officer M. misquoted a statement. Mr. Orozco stated the report was prejudicial against his mother.

The lapel video showed Officer M. spoke to a witness, Mr. Gomez, Ms. Orozco, and Ms. Orozco's opponent, Ms. Hernandez. Mr. Orozco was not present during the altercation. The lapel video also showed Officer M. asked the woman with Ms. Orozco, Ms. Marquez, if she saw anything, but Ms. Marquez claimed she did not. The lapel video showed Ms. Marquez also said the owner of the booth was not present during the altercation. The lapel video showed Officer M. attempted to see if there was surveillance video, but surveillance video did not show anything. The lapel video showed Officer M. asked another unidentified woman if she saw anything, but that person did not have anything to contribute. The lapel video showed Officer M. allowed Ms. Orozco to say what she wanted and injected at times to ask clarifying questions. The lapel video showed Officer M. asked why Ms. Orozco and Ms. Hernandez fought. Ms. Orozco only said they had issues, which prompted Officer M. to encourage her to be more specific since she would obtain Ms. Hernandez's version. The lapel video showed Ms. Orozco's son interrupted his mother's narrative with concerns over Mr. Gomez hearing her statement, but Ms. Orozco continued explaining her story. The lapel video showed Officer M. explained both parties could be charged. Officer M. used discretion and did not file charges on either party even though one witness named Ms. Orozco as the aggressor. The report reflected essentially, what the different parties told Officer M.. Ms. Orozco's written statement did not differ greatly from what Officer M. received at the scene. The fact that Ms. Orozco did not agree with the outcome is outside of the issue of Officer M.'s compliance with the SOP.

Letter to Ms. Orozco

The CPOA finds Officer M.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

(B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-04-1F regarding Officer M.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Orozco claimed Officer M. was very rude and treated her in a demeaning way. Ms. Orozco stated Officer M. was very impatient with her and kept yelling at her to speak louder. Ms. Orozco had difficulty speaking due to her injuries and Officer M. would not accommodate her by getting closer. Mr. Orozco also claimed Officer M. would not accommodate his mother and acted in a dominating manner. Mr. Orozco said Officer M. asked repetitive questions. Mr. Orozco complained Officer M. told him not to get involved. Mr. Orozco stated Officer M. blamed his mother for the altercation.

The video showed Officer M. allowed Ms. Orozco to tell her side of the story with minimal interruption. Officer M. asked clarifying questions when she did interject. The video showed Officer M. asked Ms. Orozco to speak up, but did not shout at her. It would be a safety issue for Officer M. to kneel down by Ms. Orozco. The video showed Mr. Orozco interrupted on occasions and Officer M. responded, sometimes sternly, but professionally. The video showed Officer M. suggested Ms. Orozco avoid conflicts by avoiding the business since this was an ongoing conflict. The conduct did not occur as described or was not a violation.

The CPOA finds Officer M.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the alleged conduct did occur, but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.

(C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating General Order 1-03-2C regarding Officer M.'s conduct, which states:

Department personnel will provide the same level of police service to every citizen regardless of their race, color, national origin or ancestry, citizenship status, language spoken, religion, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, disability or economic status.

Ms. Orozco claimed Officer M. was racist because Officer M. assumed she could not speak English well. Ms. Orozco stated there was no language barrier and she continued to speak in

M006551

Letter to Ms. Orozco

DATE

English even after Officer M. spoke in Spanish. Ms. Orozco stated Officer M. did not pay attention to her even though she was the victim.

The lapel video showed someone initiated speaking Spanish. Officer M. politely offered to communicate in Spanish. Ms. Orozco became more talkative in Spanish. The lapel video refuted Ms. Orozco's claim that she never spoke to Officer M. in Spanish. The lapel video showed Officer M. attempted to accommodate Ms. Orozco in whatever means she was comfortable with to get the information. The lapel video showed Officer M. did not make an assumption about Ms. Orozco's ability to communicate.

The CPOA finds Officer M.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the alleged misconduct did not occur.

Your complaint and these findings will be placed in Officer M.'s Internal Affairs personnel file.

You have the right to appeal this decision. Section 9-4-1-9(A) of the Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of the respective letters. Re: CPC #066-14

Dear Ms. Velarde:

The complaint you filed against Officer M. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on March 26, 2014 regarding a traffic accident that occurred on February 1, 2014. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator and an independent contract investigator were assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Natasha Roybal Velarde wrote in her complaint that on February 1, 2014 her wife, Regina Roybal, was involved in an accident at Tramway and Central with Officer M.. According to the complaint, Officer M. was off-duty and in his personally owned vehicle. Ms. Velarde alleged that Officer M. exited his vehicle and began yelling and cursing at Ms. Velarde. Eventually, he calmed down and both parties drove their vehicles to the side of the road. Ms. Velarde alleged that Officer M. told her that there were no on-duty police officers available to take the report and advised her to go to the station. Ms. Velarde stated that first went home to retrieve her insurance card and then drove to the station to fill out the report. When Ms. Velarde received the report for the insurance claim she discovered that Officer M. had filled out a report in which he faulted Regina Roybal for the accident. Natasha Velarde alleged that the Officer was neither unbiased nor truthful. Natasha Velarde has not been able get her vehicle fixed through the insurance company as a result of the report.

II. INVESTIGATION

The contract independent investigator fully and impartially investigated this complaint, including reviewing the APD Police Report, the Computer Aided Dispatch Report (CAD), interviewing Natasha Roybal Velarde and Regina Roybal. The investigation revealed that Officer M. did write the police report, as Ms. Velarde alleged, in violation of APD Standard Operating Procedures. Officer M. is no longer employed with the Albuquerque Police Department.

III. CONCLUSION

Under City Ordinance, the CPOA only has jurisdiction to make findings regarding current APD employees. Because Officer M. no longer works for APD, the CPOA is precluded from making findings in this case. Thus, the CPOA will be administratively closing your complaint without further investigation. However, this complaint and the investigation will remain in Officer M.'s Internal Affairs personnel record should Officer M. seek employment with APD in the future.

Thank you for participating in the process of civilian oversight of the police, ensuring officers and personnel of the APD are held accountable, and improving the process.

Re: CPC #066-15

Dear Mr. Encinias:

The complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on May 11, 2015 regarding an alleged incident that occurred between the dates of February 12, 2015 through April 30, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA investigated your complaint. The CPOA made a finding, based on the information you provided, of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Adonus Encinias wrote that Detective L. and other undercover officers were working on an alleged attempted murder investigation regarding his sister Britney Encinias. Mr. Encinias wrote that his mother informed Detective L. that his sister did not reside at the listed address. Mr. Encinias wrote that since that time undercover officers have been driving up and down his street harassing Mr. Encinias and his family. Mr. Encinias wrote he wanted the continued harassment to stop and for the officers to leave his family alone.

II. INVESTIGATION

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), interview of Detective L. and the Citizen Police Complaint.

The CPOA Investigator reviewed the complaint Mr. Encinias submitted. The Investigator contacted Officer L. Officer L. did in fact contact Mr. Encinias' mother while conducting a homicide investigation. The investigation showed that was the only time Detective L. was at the Encinias residence. The investigation showed other agencies including the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Department and Probation and Parole were conducting investigations as well.

The Investigator contacted Mr. Encinias via telephone and email to schedule an appointment to discuss the complaint. Mr. Encinias scheduled an appointment with the Investigator on June 16, 2015. Mr. Encinias did not show up or call to reschedule the appointment. The Investigator sent a certified letter to Mr. Encinias on July 25, 2015 informing Mr. Encinias to contact our office. The certified letter was signed for and received on July 28, 2015. Mr. Encinias has never contacted our office. Without further information from Mr. Encinias, the Investigator cannot proceed with the investigation into the complaint.

III. CONCLUSION

The CPOA has made the decision to ADMINISTRATIVELY CLOSE your complaint, due to no SOP violations occurring by any member of the Albuquerque Police Department and a lack of any further information from Mr. Encinias in regards to his complaint.

Administratively closed complaints may be re-opened if additional information becomes available. Please contact the CPOA in regards to your Civilian Police Complaint if you can provide further details and wish to have the complaint re-opened.

Lee Laney
[REDACTED]
Albuquerque, NM 87102

Re:    CPC # 067-15

Dear Mr. Laney:

The complaint you filed against an unidentified officer of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on May 14, 2015, regarding an incident that occurred May 13, 2015.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Mr. Laney wrote that on May 13, 2015 at about 4:00 PM, he was leaving a friend's house near Comanche Street and Washington Street NE, when he observed a young man holding onto the side of a car as it turned onto Comanche and sped off. Mr. Laney was concerned about what he saw and felt that he should report it to the police. On Washington Street, he saw a police car so he waved at the officer to get the officer's attention. Mr. Laney wrote that the officer stopped and Mr. Laney approached the car. Mr. Laney said that he leaned in through the open window of the police car to inform the officer of what he had observed and he was immediately yelled at by the officer. Mr. Laney alleged that the officer told Mr. Laney not to hit the officer's car. Mr. Laney wrote that the officer was rude and he felt threatened by the officer. Mr. Laney said that he was yelled at as if he were some sort of hooligan throwing rocks. Mr. Laney alleged that after the officer allowed Mr. Laney to finish what he was saying, the officer gave him a dirty look and sped off down the road. Mr. Laney wrote that he expected the officer to thank him, not berate him or yell at him, or shoot him dirty looks as if Mr. Laney was interfering with the officer's day. Mr. Laney was startled by the officer's response and he did not get the name or the badge number of the officer or the number on the car that the officer was driving. Mr. Laney closed his complaint by writing that he does not hate the police and he appreciates the job that the police do. He wrote, "Thanks for being out there and protecting us. Now train your officers better."

II. INVESTIGATION BY THE CIVILIAN POLICE OVERSIGHT INVESTIGATOR

A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator reviewed Mr. Laney's complaint and researched the matter so that we could obtain more information about the incident. The Investigator contacted the Research and Recording Unit of the Albuquerque Police Department and had the Coordinator there conduct a search of police activity in the area on the date and time of the complaint. The APD Coordinator researched the police activity in both sectors that covered

Letter to Mr. Laney

that area for the entire day in hopes of discovering whether or not the officer called out or logged out on his computer that he had been flagged down by a citizen. Unfortunately, the search did not reveal who the offending officer may have been.

In an effort to obtain more information, the CPOA Investigator contacted Mr. Laney on May 18, 2015 and spoke with him over the phone. Mr. Laney told the Investigator about the incident. Mr. Laney gave the best description he could give of the officer, that the officer was in his early to mid-30's and probably Hispanic. Mr. Laney said that he thought that he may have startled the officer, but was surprised of the reaction from the officer. Mr. Laney told the Investigator that he did not file the complaint to get anyone into any trouble. Mr. Laney just wanted to make someone aware of what took place and his unpleasant experience with an APD Officer. The Investigator explained Mr. Laney that he would forward your complaint to Commander Remiker of the Northeast Area Command where the incident took place, so that Commander Remiker could address the complaint in general with his staff. The Investigator then sent the complaint along with Mr. Laney's concerns to Commander Remiker.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

The CPOA office attempted to identify the officer involved, but was unsuccessful. Mr. Laney stated that he did not want the officer to get into trouble but hoped that someone would address the officer's behavior and the situation that occurred. The CPOA Office sent Mr. Laney's complaint to the Northeast Area Commander so that he would be aware of the incident and so that he could address the matter with his staff as a whole.

The Acting Executive Director reviewed the complaint and investigation. Because the complaint only contained an allegation of a minor policy violation by the officer and the fact that the CPOA was unable to identify the officer involved in the incident, the CPOA will administratively close this complaint. No further investigation will occur. Should you encounter a similar situation in the future, or wish to report observed misconduct by APD personnel, please do not hesitate to file a complaint with the Agency.

Denali Brooke

Re: CPC #068-15

Dear Ms. Brooke:

The complaint you filed against Officer L. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on May 14, 2015, for an incident which occurred May 11, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the APD Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Denali Brooke said that on May 11, 2015, at approximately 2:45 PM, she was at the Frontier Restaurant located at 2400 Central Avenue SE, Albuquerque, NM 87106 and witnessed Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officer L. and Albuquerque Fire Department (AFD) personnel respond to the bus stop in front of the restaurant in reference to a male subject who fell from the bench onto the ground. Ms. Brooke said two AFD fire fighters attended to the subject and one of them stood on the subject's shin and became aggressive with the subject. Ms. Brooke complained the fire fighters and Officer L. laughed at and provoked the subject while in contact with the subject. Ms. Brooke said Officer L. told her that the subject fights with first responders all the time, to which she responded this time the man was provoked. Ms. Brooke complained that Officer L. told her the subject kicked the fire fighter first, to which she responded, "So? That doesn't give the fireman the right to take out some kind of vengeance on the man. Can't you take a hit once in a while?" Ms. Brooke said Officer L. told her he didn't get paid to take a hit or to get kicked. Ms. Brooke complained that Officer L.'s response was inappropriate. Ms. Brooke complained the subject/patient was not properly restrained. Ms. Brooke complained the subject/patient was provoked and probably harmed. Ms. Brooke alleged the first responders on scene were not fit for public service or were experiencing burn out. Ms. Brooke alleged the first responders needed training on how to treat the public and how to properly restrain disruptive patients.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER L.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, lapel video, the police report and interviews with Ms. Brooke and Officer L.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-4-1 (F) regarding Officer L.'s conduct, which states:

F. Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Brooke complained that Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officer L. laughed at and provoked the subject while in contact with the subject. Ms. Brooke said Officer L. told her that the subject fights with first responders all the time, to which she responded this time the subject was provoked. Ms. Brooke complained that Officer L. told her the subject kicked the fire fighter first, to which she responded, "So? That doesn't give the fireman the right to take out some kind of vengeance on the man. Can't you take a hit once in a while?" Ms. Brooke said Officer L. told her he didn't get paid to take a hit or to get kicked. Ms. Brooke complained that Officer L.'s response was inappropriate. Ms. Brooke complained the subject/patient was not properly restrained. Ms. Brooke complained the subject/patient was provoked and probably harmed. Ms. Brooke alleged the first responders on scene were not fit for public service or were experiencing burn out. Ms. Brooke alleged the first responders needed training on how to treat the public and how to properly restrain disruptive patients.

The interviews, lapel video and report revealed Ms. Brooke was inside the restaurant when Officer L. and AFD fire fighters arrived at the bus stop to assist an intoxicated and unconscious male subject. The lapel video showed that Ms. Brooke's view of the bus stop and actions of the fire fighters and the subject/patient were at least partially obstructed by the metal mesh walls of the bus stop shelter and the bus bench. Lapel video showed Officer L. and the fire fighters did not laugh at or provoke the subject/patient. Lapel video showed Ms. Brooke spoke to an AFD Lieutenant and not Officer L. when voicing her concerns about the fire fighter being inside the ambulance with the subject/patient. Lapel video showed the AFD Lieutenant and not Officer L. told Ms. Brooke that the subject/patient fights them all the time and that the subject/patient kicked the fire fighter first before the fire fighter stepped on the subject's/patient's foot or leg. The video showed Officer L. told Ms. Brooke, "It's not part of our job to get kicked, ma'am." The video also showed Ms. Brooke asked the AFD Lieutenant, "You guys can't take a hit once in a while?" to which Officer L. responded, "Really? What do you think they pay us to do? Take hits?" Ms. Brooke responded to Officer L. with, "Yes."

Letter to Ms. Brooke

The CPOA finds Officer L.'s conduct to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate Albuquerque Police Department policies, procedures or training.

The interviews revealed that when the incident became a medical call only and in an effort to protect the subject's/patient's medical information, Officer L. turned off his lapel camera. As a result, there is no video to show when or how the subject/patient was restrained however restraining the subject/patient was the responsibility of AFD and not Officer L.. Lapel video showed Officer L. was professional and courteous to all citizens he came into contact with while at the scene, to include Ms. Brooke, and he did not appear to be experiencing burnout or need additional training in how to treat the public, as Ms. Brooke alleged in her written complaint.

Additionally, Ms. Brooke was informed that the CPOA does not have jurisdiction to investigate complaints against AFD and was told how to file a complaint with AFD.

Your complaint and these findings are made part of Officer L.'s Internal Affairs records.

You have the right to appeal this decision. The Police Oversight Ordinance allows any person who has filed a citizen complaint and who is dissatisfied with the findings of the CPOA or the Chief to appeal that decision within 30 days of receipt of their respective letters. Re: CPC #069-14

Dear Mr. Griffith

The complaint you filed against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on March 30, 2014 regarding an incident that occurred that day. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator and a contract independent investigator were assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Logan Griffith wrote in his complaint that his sister was in her dorm room when APD used tear gas to deal with protesters nearby. His sister suffered burning of the eyes, throat and skin, and she had nothing to do with the protest. Mr. Griffith felt APD was overly aggressive in their response and did not consider the health and safety of the public.

II. INVESTIGATION

The contract investigator reviewed detailed news footage and blogs of the incident. The investigation indicated that tear gas was only deployed after over 8 hours of protests, which involving protestors blocking city streets, blocking the interstate freeway, acts of vandalism and graffiti. The tear gas used to clearing a major street, near your sister's dorm. Unfortunately, there were windy conditions that caused the tear gas to "float" into the nearby housing units.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING DETECTIVE O.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint and news media accounts and videos of the incident.

Letter to Mr. Griffith

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 2-52-2(C), Use of Non-Deadly Force:

"A level of force that is required to compel compliance, which is not intended to, and is not known to create a substantial likelihood of death or serious bodily injury.

The CPOA finds the conduct of the APD officers to use tear gas to be EXONERATED regarding the allegation of over aggressive action and lack of concern for the public. A preponderance of evidence showed that the conduct did occur but did not violate APD policies, procedures or training.

Josh Dixon

████████████████████
Albuquerque, NM 87109

Re: CPC #071-15

Dear Mr. Dixon:

The complaint you filed against Officer D. and Sergeant M. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received in our office on May 15, 2015 regarding an incident that occurred on May 9, 2015. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's (APOA) Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Josh Dixon wrote in his complaint that on May 9, 2015 at about 2:25 PM, he was driving South on Wyoming near Osuna when he was stopped by Officer D.. Mr. Dixon was on his way to his daughter's UNM graduation at the time. Officer D. was about to turn West onto Osuna towards the police substation located there. Mr. Dixon alleged that Officer D. who was immediately in front of Mr. Dixon, stopped suddenly, activated the emergency equipment on his police car, stepped out of the police car and approached Mr. Dixon. Mr. Dixon wrote that Officer D. asked Mr. Dixon loudly if Mr. Dixon was flipping him off. Mr. Dixon told Officer D. that he was not flipping off the officer, but he was flipping off the driver of a different car. Mr. Dixon explained to Officer D. that further back in traffic a car had swerved into his traffic lane. Mr. Dixon honked at the car and the other driver honked back and threw him the finger so he threw the finger back at the other driver. Officer D. must have seen Mr. Dixon when he flipped off the other driver. Officer D. then told Mr. Dixon, "You be careful bro." Officer D. then got back in his car and left.

Mr. Dixon wrote that even if the finger throwing was intended for the officer he was exercising his freedom of speech in doing so. When Mr. Dixon later spoke with Officer D.'s supervisor, Sergeant M. about the incident, she allegedly told him that when APD gets flipped off they think that someone needs help or the police are getting asked for help.

Mr. Dixon alleged that Officer D. was just trying to show APD's muscle and that he was never asked for ID or Registration. Mr. Dixon suspected that Officer D. did not record the encounter either as he was required by policy to do. Mr. Dixon alleged that Officer D. acted like a bully and that Officer D. had no right to stop and confront him. Mr. Dixon later said in a recorded interview that Sergeant M. was wrong in her assessment of what had occurred and that she was the least helpful of anyone that he dealt with throughout the complaint process. Mr. Dixon said that Sergeant M. never told him how to file a complaint or with whom to file a complaint. Mr. Dixon said that it was another female APD Sergeant who told him how to file a complaint.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER D.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS), the Citizen Police Complaint, the Albuquerque Police Department Report in the case, The Computer Assisted Dispatch (CADS) Report, two interviews of Mr. Dixon, an interview with Officer D. and an interview with Sergeant M.. A review of applicable case law was also conducted by the CPOA Investigator.

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-02-2 b 2 regarding Officer D.'s conduct, which states:

Officers shall familiarize themselves and have working knowledge of all laws of the State of New Mexico and the Ordinances of the City of Albuquerque which they are required to enforce. Officers shall make only those arrests, searches, and seizures which they know or should know are legal and in accordance with departmental procedures.

Mr. Dixon complained that Officer D. had no legal right to stop him even if Mr. Dixon did throw a finger at Officer D.. Mr. Dixon alleged that the stop and subsequent confrontation and detention were a violation of his right to free speech. The investigation revealed that Mr. Dixon was not flipping off Officer D., but was instead giving the finger to another motorist who had flipped off Mr. Dixon. Officer D. thought that the finger throwing was intended for him and he reacted to that by engaging his emergency equipment and stopping Mr. Dixon.

Officer D. wrote the following in a police report that was written within hours of the actual stop.

M006567

Letter to Mr. Dixon

On 05-29-15 I was traveling southbound on Wyoming in my fully marked police unit to turn West Bound onto Osuna. As I checked my rearview mirror I observed the driver behind me giving me the finger commonly known as a "Fuck You" gesture. I stopped my car in the slow lane and turned on my emergency equipment and walked back towards the male and his car. At that moment I did not turn on my camera as I was walking into oncoming traffic. I asked the male, "Are you flipping me off?" The male replied, "No I was flipping that guy off. I had my turn signal on and he wouldn't let me in. Why don't you go pull him over?"

It is well established in Court rulings that the act of flipping off or giving the finger to a police officer is constitutionally protected speech. For example, in a most recent 9th Circuit case the court said, "Police officers in particular may not exercise their authority for personal motives, particularly in response to real or perceived slights to their dignity."

The US Court of Appeals for the 2nd District recently ruled that the "ancient gesture of insult is not the basis for reasonable suspicion of a traffic violation or impending criminal activity."

The US Supreme Court ruled in 1971 the following, "The First Amendment protects a significant amount of verbal criticism and challenge directed at police officers. The freedom of individuals to oppose or challenge police action verbally without thereby risking arrest is one important characteristic by which we distinguish ourselves from a police state. Thus, while police, no less than anyone else, may resent having obscene words and gestures directed at them, they may not exercise the awesome power at their disposal to punish individuals for conduct that is not merely lawful, but protected by the First Amendment."

Officer D. stated in his police report that he stopped the complainant because the complainant gave Officer D. "the finger commonly known as a 'fuck you' gesture." It was clear from the report that Officer D. was insulted by the obscene gesture and he stopped Mr. Dixon because of that. The investigation revealed that Mr. Dixon did not do anything else to cause the officer concern that perhaps Mr. Dixon was not his the right mental state of mind to be operating a vehicle. There was no legitimate, articulable reason for Officer D. to have detained Mr. Dixon.

Officer D. did not have reasonable suspicion based on Mr. Dixon's actions that Officer D. did observe that Mr. Dixon had committed any crime or was engaged in any criminal activity. The investigation revealed that the stop was made because Officer D. felt slighted by Mr. Dixon's actions.

The CPOA finds Officer D.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means that the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged misconduct did occur.

B) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-1 F regarding Officer D.'s conduct, which states:

M006568

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Dixon alleged that Officer D. was just trying to show APD's muscle and that Mr. Dixon was never asked for ID or Registration. Mr. Dixon suspected that Officer D. did not record the encounter as Officer D. is required by policy to do. Mr. Dixon alleged that Officer D. acted like a bully.

As stated in the police report in this case, Officer D. did not record his encounter with Mr. Dixon. Mr. Dixon alleged that Officer D. acted like a bully. Officer D. denied the allegation. There was no lapel video of the encounter to determine independently how Officer D. acted.

The CPOA finds Officer D.'s conduct to be NOT SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, as the investigation was unable to determine by a preponderance of the evidence whether the alleged misconduct occurred.

C) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-39-2 (B) regarding Officer D.'s conduct, which states:

All sworn department personnel will record each and every contact with a citizen during their shift that is the result of a...traffic stop...Personnel will activate the recorder prior... to citizen contact...and will record the entirety of the citizen contact.

Mr. Dixon suspected that Officer D. did not record the encounter as Officer D. is required by policy to do. The investigation revealed that Officer D. did not record the encounter.

The CPOA finds Officer A.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means that the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged misconduct did occur.

III. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING Sergeant M.'S CONDUCT

A) The CPOA reviewed Standard Operating Procedure 1-04-1 F regarding Sergeant M.'s conduct, which states:

Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Mr. Dixon said that Sergeant M. was the least helpful of anyone that he contacted in his quest to file a complaint against Officer D.. Mr. Dixon further alleged that Sergeant M. acted as if the allegation that Mr. Dixon was making was not serious in nature and that she did not take the allegation seriously. Lastly he was concerned at the response that he was allegedly given by Sergeant M. that when a police officer is given the finger that it is a sign that the person doing so is actually requesting help from the officer or that they need something from the officer and that APD is going to stop and check it out.

In the 2nd Circuit ruling referenced above, the court said "Surely, no passenger planning some wrongful conduct toward another occupant of an automobile would call attention to himself by giving the finger to a police officer. And if there might be an automobile passenger somewhere who will give the finger to a police officer as an ill-advised signal for help, it is far more consistent with all citizen's protection against improper police apprehension to leave that highly unlikely signal without a response than to lend judicial approval to the stopping of every vehicle from which a passenger makes that gesture."

The investigation revealed that Sergeant M. was unaware of any court rulings regarding the giving of a finger to a police officer. She believed that Officer D. did not commit any misconduct.

Mr. Dixon alleged that Sergeant M. did not tell him how to file a complaint. Sergeant M. disputed that, but if she believed there was no misconduct, it is highly likely that she did not tell Mr. Dixon how to file a complaint.

Sergeant M.'s conduct as a Supervisor in this case was not conduct that reflected favorably on the department.

The CPOA finds Sergeant M.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means that the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged misconduct did occur.

B) The CPOA reviewed Administrative Order 3-18-2 D regarding Sergeant M.'s conduct, which states:

Supervisors shall be held accountable for the performance of personnel under their immediate control.

The investigation showed that Sergeant M. did not believe that Officer D. committed any misconduct even though she was aware that Officer D. did not record the encounter as he is required to do. The only action that Sergeant M. took was to write an internal memorandum and place it in her own file that she kept of Officer D..

Sergeant M. knew that Officer D. violated at least one policy during this incident and she took no action on the complaint or on the officer. As a supervisor, to condone an act of misconduct by a subordinate is unacceptable. Sergeant M., by the above referenced policy should be held accountable for Officer D.'s performance in this matter.

The CPOA finds Sergeant M.'s conduct to be SUSTAINED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means that the investigation determined, by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged misconduct did occur.

C) The CPOA reviewed Administrative Order 3-43-3 G regarding Sergeant M.'s conduct, which states in part:

Verbal citizen complaints will be accepted by the Albuquerque Police Department.

2. The individual receiving a verbal complaint or conducting a follow-up regarding a complaint must notify a citizen of his right to make a written complaint and explain the process for making a written complaint.

4. If a supervisor receives a verbal complaint, the supervisor is responsible for conducting a sufficient preliminary investigation to determine if the complaint merits documentation and/or further investigation.

6. If a verbal complaint alleges a violation of criminal law, a violation of a citizen's Constitutional Rights or a serious violation of department policy, then the individual handling the complaint must document the complaint. "Verbal Complaint Form" (PD-1113) will be used and a copy shall immediately be forwarded to Internal Affairs.

The Settlement Agreement/Consent Decree that the Albuquerque Police Department is under also addresses the things that a supervisor must do when they receive a complaint of misconduct by a citizen. The Consent Decree requires that all officers must report misconduct complaints directly to the Internal Affairs Bureau for investigation. It states, "Where alleged misconduct is reported to a supervisor, the supervisor shall immediately document and report this information to the Internal Affairs Bureau." The requirement is that the misconduct must be reported to IA by the end of the shift following the shift in which it was received.

The investigation could not determine whether or not Sergeant M. told Mr. Dixon that he had a right to file a written complaint. It is undisputed however, that she did not explain the process for making a written complaint.

The investigation showed that Sergeant M. met with Officer D. at Officer D.'s insistence and not because Sergeant M. received a complaint from Mr. Dixon. If Sergeant M. would have conducted a sufficient investigation into the complaint, she would have known that Officer D. violated policy in stopping and detaining Mr. Dixon. The investigation showed that Officer D. told Sergeant M. that he did not record the encounter, a violation of policy, but Sergeant M. concluded that no misconduct occurred.

The verbal complaint made by Mr. Dixon was that his constitutional right to free speech was violated. Sergeant M. was required by this policy to document the complaint and to immediately forward the complaint to Internal Affairs. Sergeant M. failed to do that.

The CPOA finds Sergeant M.'s conduct regarding a violation of this SOP to be SUSTAINED VIOLATION NOT BASED ON THE ORIGINAL COMPLAINT, because the investigation determined by a preponderance of the evidence that misconduct did occur that was not alleged in the original complaint but was discovered during the misconduct investigation.

Re: CPC #072-15

Dear Ms. Anderson:

The complaint you filed against Officer C. and Detective M. of the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) was received by our office on May 18, 2015, for an incident which occurred March 14, 2013. A Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) Investigator was assigned to investigate your Complaint. The Administrative Office of the CPOA thoroughly and impartially investigated your complaint. The CPOA made findings of whether the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers involved violated Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) based on a preponderance of the evidence. A preponderance of the evidence means that one side has a greater weight of evidence that is more credible and convincing than the other side. Another way of saying it is more than 50% of the credible evidence. If the credible evidence is 50-50, the proper finding is Not Sustained.

Because officers are compelled to cooperate in the investigation, the Albuquerque Police Officers' Association's Contract with the City of Albuquerque mandates that officers' statements not be made public. Below is a summary of the complaint, the CPOA's investigation and findings.

I. THE COMPLAINT

Terry Anderson said that on March 14, 2013, Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Officers responded to her residence and arrested Ms. Anderson. Ms. Anderson complained that APD Officer C. Detective M. put handcuffs on her so tightly they broke her right wrist. Ms. Anderson complained she told the two officers multiple times to loosen the handcuffs but they did not and instead just laughed at her and told her she was okay. Ms. Anderson said her broken wrist was placed in a cast at the Metropolitan Detention Center (MDC) and then re-cast a few days later at University of New Mexico Hospital (UNMH). Ms. Anderson complained the visit to UNMH to re-cast her arm was a complete waste of time because they didn't do anything to fix the break and now she only has partial use of her wrist and is disabled for the rest of her life. Ms. Anderson complained her wrist needs surgery and it is the fault of APD and she wants damages.

II. FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS REGARDING APPLICABLE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES REGARDING OFFICER C.'S CONDUCT

The Acting Executive Director of the CPOA reviewed the investigation conducted by the CPOA Investigator, which included a review of the applicable SOPs, the Complaint, lapel video, Officer's reports and interviews with the Complainant, Detective M. and Officer C..

A) Did Officer C. comply with Albuquerque Police Department (APD) General Order 2-52-3 (A)? General Order 2-52-3 (A) states:

A. Officers may use force when objectively reasonable based on a totality of the circumstances. The objectives for which force may be appropriate include:

- To effect a lawful arrest or detention of a person.
- To gain control of a combative prisoner
- Prevent and/or terminate the commission of a crime.
- To intervene in a suicide or self-inflicted injury
- To defend an officer or member of the public from the physical acts of another.

Ms. Anderson said Officer C. and other APD Officers responded to her home on March 14, 2013, and arrested her for various crimes. Ms. Anderson complained that Officer C. placed handcuffs on her wrists so tightly her right wrist was broken.

A review of lapel videos and reports written by Officer C., former APD Officer R. and Detective M. showed Detective M. and Officer C. handcuffed Ms. Anderson and took her into custody after Ms. Anderson was tased by Officers C. and R. for swinging a baseball bat at her neighbor and at Officer C.. This evidence also showed Officers C. and R. and Detective M. checked and adjusted Ms. Anderson's handcuffs to ensure they were not too tight. Additionally, Albuquerque Fire Department rescue arrived on scene to check Ms. Anderson's vital signs, and remove taser prongs from her prior to Ms. Anderson being placed in a police car and transported from the scene. The evidence showed Ms. Anderson did not complain to the rescue personnel that her wrist was broken. Had Ms. Anderson done so, the rescue personnel would have been obligated to take her to University of New Mexico Hospital (UNMH) for treatment prior to officers transporting her to the jail.

A CPOA Investigator contacted MDC medical personnel who verified that they would not have allowed Ms. Anderson to be booked into their facility with a broken wrist because all prisoners are required to pass a medical clearance before they are received into their facility. They said they would not have placed a cast on Ms. Anderson's wrist if it were broken because they don't have the needed supplies or expertise on hand to do so.

The investigation revealed Officer C. took the necessary steps to ensure Ms. Anderson's handcuffs were checked and were not too tight after Ms. Anderson complained to him. Additionally, the investigation revealed that due to the nature of the call, where it was reported Ms. Anderson was breaking windows with a hammer and baseball bats, Ms. Anderson may have caused the injury to her wrist by her own actions. Lastly, without medical records it cannot be determined if or when Ms. Anderson's wrist was actually broken.

The CPOA finds Officer C.'s conduct to be UNFOUNDED regarding the allegation of a violation of this SOP, which means the investigation determined, by clear and convincing evidence, that the alleged misconduct did not occur or did not involve the subject officer.

B) Did Officer C. comply with Albuquerque Police Department (APD) General Order 1-4-1 (F)? General Order 1-4-1 (F) states:

F. Personnel shall conduct themselves both on and off-duty in such a manner as to reflect most favorably on the department.

Ms. Anderson complained that Officer C. laughed at her and said she was okay when she told him her wrist hurt.
